ATHY DISTRICT MODEL SCHOOL.

Carton, Maynooth, November 19, 1848.

GENTLEMEN,—I enclose a map in which I have coloured the part that my father proposes to give for the site of the model school at Athy.

I am, gentlemen, your obedient servant,
(Signed), KILDARE.

The Secretaries, Office of Education.

ATHY MODEL AGRICULTURAL SCHOOL.

17, Synnott-place, December 6, 1848.

GENTLEMEN,—I beg to state that I have not yet seen a more eligible site for a model agricultural school than that which is now proposed by his Grace the Duke of Leinster at Athy, and which, agreeably to your instructions, I visited yesterday.

The town of Athy contains a population of between four and five thousand, and the site of the proposed agricultural school immediately adjoins it. The ground which has been allotted by his Grace for the model farm is bounded on the east by the public road leading from Athy to Kildare, and on the west by the Athy and Kilcullen public roads.

On the accompanying map lately transmitted to you by the Marquess of Kildare, the site of the model farm is coloured red, and contains, as I was informed by Mr. Henry, the land surveyor, about fifteen statute acres inclusive of a strip of ground which lies on the side of the road to Kildare. This piece of ground is at present occupied by the neighbouring farmers for depositing the manure purchased from the people of the town, is a great nuisance, and will continue to be so unless it be made a part of the farm, by removing the present crooked mearing fence, and erecting a boundary wall by the side of the public road. I was accompanied to the proposed model farm by Mr. Henry and Mr. Graham, the District Inspector. The latter gentleman introduced me subsequently to the Rev. Mr. Keating, and the Rev. Messrs. Lawlor, P.P., and Greene, P.P., and likewise to several of the most influential gentlemen of the neighbourhood, all of whom expressed a great desire for the establishment of an agricultural school at Athy, and promised to give it their cordial co-operation.

The National schools nearest to Athy are the Kilabbin and Old Grange—each about five miles distant.

I am, gentlemen, your obedient servant,
THOMAS KIRKPATRICK, A.I.

B.O. 7/12/48.

Education Office, December 14, 1848.

MY LORD,—The Commissioners of National Education having had before them the Agricultural Inspector's report upon the sites at Athy proposed for the establishment of a model agricultural school, they direct us to inquire whether it is your Grace's wish to establish on the land in question a district model school, with an agricultural department attached, or merely a model agricultural school.*

Your Grace will observe that in the former case the Commissioners undertake the entire cost of the erection of the buildings, and support of the school—paying a fair rent for the land. The Commissioners claim the entire management of such schools.

In the case of model agricultural schools there must be a local contribution of at least £150 towards the buildings, &c.; and the local managers are also required to contribute towards the maintenance of the school. The Commissioners will pay a fair rent for the land.

In both cases the leases are to be made to the Commissioners in their corporate capacity.

Should your Grace require further information on the subject, before deciding which description of school you wish to establish at Athy, we shall be most happy to afford it.

We have the honour to be your Grace's very obedient servants,

(Signed), MAURICE CROSS, JAMES KELLY, } Secretaries.

To His Grace the Duke of Leinster, Carton, Maynooth.

Carton, Maynooth, December 15, 1848.

GENTLEMEN,—I have received your letter of the 14 December, 1848. I wish to establish at Athy a district model school, with an agricultural department attached. I will give a lease of 61 years at a nominal rent of £1 a year of the ground as submitted to the Commissioners of National Education by Lord Kildare.

I am your obedient servant,
(Signed), LEINSTER.

GENTLEMEN,—We beg leave to annex for the information of the Commissioners of National Education, a copy of a letter we have received from Mr. Trench, agent to his Grace the Duke of Leinster. We have further to state that we have had an interview with Mr. Trench upon the subject, and that when instructed by your Board to do so we are in a position to carry out their instructions.

We have the honour to be, gentlemen,
Your obedient servants,

Gentlemen,—I beg to state, for the information of the Commissioners of National Education, that his Grace the Duke of Leinster proposes, in conformity with his Grace's leasing powers, to make a lease of 5 acres (statute) to the Commissioners of the plot of ground at Athy on which it is proposed to erect the house and offices for the district model school, and for the term of 99 years.

The Duke also proposes to give a lease of 31 years of the remaining land.

I am, gentlemen, your obedient servant,

Bailieborough District Model School.

1336, P.

Bailieborough School, County of Cavan.

Gentlemen,—I trust the Board of Education are inclined to take a favourable view of the application I made sometime ago to them, to place one of their model schools at Bailieborough. I stated briefly at that time the circumstances of the district, which I shall not trouble you by now repeating, but I beg leave to repeat the offer of a proper site, and of every facility in my power to afford.

Should it be thought a feasible or advantageous arrangement to take the school-house I have lately completed, and by adding to it, or raising the roof, adapt it for a model school, I shall be ready to have it conveyed to the Board, and add a subscription in aid of the additional building required.

I have the honour to be your obedient servant,
(Signed), John Young.

Sir,—We have had the honour to lay before the Commissioners of National Education your note of the 16th inst., with reference to your offer of a site at Bailieborough for the erection of a district model school.†

In reply, we are directed to inform you that a Committee of the Board is now sitting for the consideration of the reports of the Superintendents upon the sites most eligible in their respective districts for the establishment of such schools, and your note has been referred to the members of that Committee, who have been directed to report to the Board on all applications of this description.

We have the honour to be, sir, your obedient servants,

John Young, esq., m.p., Treasury, Whitehall, London.

3070, P.

Corryglass, Bailieborough,
July 6, 1846.

Gentlemen,—I see by a provincial newspaper that the Commissioners of Education have decided on Virginia as the site for the model school of this district. This I learn with regret. Bailieborough, I am decidedly of opinion, would, on public grounds, be a much more eligible one. It is a more populous and much more thriving town than Virginia.

If mixed education be the object of the Board, Bailieborough is the proper site. According to the Census of 1834, the proportion of Episcopalians, Presbyterians, and Roman Catholics, was as follows:—Of Episcopalians, in the parish of Bailieborough, upwards of 1,000; of Presbyterians, members of my congregation, 1,540; Presbyterians, members of Mr. Bell's congregation, 520—in all, 2,060; and of Roman Catholics, nearly 5,000.

No other town in the county could, I presume, present the same advantage for a mixed education. Besides, the parishes immediately adjoining Bailieborough are densely populated, and no lake of three miles in extent on the one side of the town, as at Virginia, to intercept the approach of the children to the school. The voice of 2,000 Presbyterians should not be disregarded; and in reference to myself, though I write in my individual capacity, and not as Moderator of the Synod of Dublin, I beg to state I have always been the friend of the Board, and, in point of fact, I have, in the face of much opposition, established four schools in the district.

Moreover, Bailieborough is a town of much more extensive trade than Virginia. The place where baronial meetings assemble, where a farming society meets, where quarter sessions are held, and where, therefore, the model school would be brought more into notice than at Virginia.

I trust, therefore, that the Board, keeping the public interest in view, will fix on Bailieborough as the most eligible site for the model school for the district.

I am, your obedient servant,
(Signed), Patrick White.

To the Secretaries, Board of Education.

(Letters of Mr. John Young, m.p., dated March 16, 1846, and Rev. Patrick White, dated July 6, 1846, &c., having been laid before the Commissioners).

Extract from Minutes of the Board of National Education, dated July 17, 1846.

Ordered, "That from the information laid before the Commissioners, they are of opinion that Bailieborough is a good locality for the purpose, and direct that Mr. E. Butler be instructed to make a special report thereon as to situation, tenure, quantity of land, &c., and also on the other sites offered in the county of Cavan."

Education Office, July 25, 1846.

Sir,—We are directed by the Commissioners of National Education to inform you that it is their desire that you proceed forthwith to Cavan, for the purpose of inspecting the proposed sites for district model schools, in accordance with your letter of general instructions. You are to call upon the respective parties referred to in the accompanying documents, and to report to the Board, with the least possible delay, the full result of your inquiries.

You are also to proceed to Bailieborough, in the county of Cavan, and report upon the eligibility of the site proposed for a district model school in that locality.

E. Butler, esq.

Letter from Inspector Butler, dated July 30, 1846.

Education Office, July 30, 1846.

Gentlemen,—In pursuance of the instructions contained in your letter of the 25th inst., I proceeded without delay to Cavan, and visited on Monday the sites proposed in that town for the erection of a district model school. On Tuesday I went to Bailieborough, and spent the day collecting information as to site offered in that neighbourhood, and waiting on the parties interested. As my time has been too limited to allow of my preparing a full report, I beg to state here briefly the general result of my inquiries—the details will be given in the report, which will be ready for the meeting of the Board on next Thursday.

On comparing the proposals on which I was directed to report, I have no hesitation in recommending as the most eligible in every way, the site offered by Mr. Young in Bailieborough. This is a small country town of about 12,000 inhabitants, and may be classed among those in which a school of the kind, described in the sixth paragraph of the plan of district model school, should be erected.

Adjoining the town any quantity of land under twenty-five Irish acres, can be obtained; and I understand that not only would the terms be most reasonable, but Mr. Young would contribute something towards the erection of the school. Children of all religious denominations would attend, and the interests of the school would be warmly promoted by the parish priest, Rev. P. N. O'Reilly, and by the Rev. S. White, Presbyterian minister. I was also informed that the rector, the Rev. Mr. Beresford, visits the National school in Bailieborough, and would perhaps take more interest in an agricultural model school.

There are no National schools within two miles of the town, and the only one likely to be interfered with is the Bailieborough National school.

However, Mr. Young, the patron, would, I am told, close this, if it were deemed requisite, so that all the children might attend the model school. I beg further to add that, in my opinion, the agricultural school would be well suited to the circumstances of the county Cavan, where the farms are in general small, ranging from five to twenty, or thirty acres, the population dense, and the agriculture in a very backward condition. It may perhaps be well to mention, that in the two neighbouring districts (18 and 19) the model schools about to be erected will be town schools.

With reference to the Cavan sites, I have to state, that the one proposed by Dr. Halpin would not be desirable, as it is nearly one mile from the town.

Mr. Bell's proposal would not, I fear, be advantageous, though the site is in the best street in Cavan, and of sufficient extent; but the house could not, without great expense, be rendered suitable for the purposes of the Commissioners; besides, in consequence of Mr. Bell's absence I could not learn the terms on which he offers to dispose of the premises.

The site offered by Mr. Moore is also in the town, but owing to that gentleman's absence I could not ascertain its exact dimensions, nor the tenure by which it is held, or the terms on which he proposes to grant it to the Commissioners; moreover, Dr. Browne, the Roman Catholic bishop of the diocese, though otherwise in favour of the erection of a model school in Cavan, is apprehensive lest it should interfere with the school which he has lately built in the town, and which was last year put under the Board.

This school, which is calculated for 400 children, has not been attended on an average by more than 60 males, and 50 females.

I remain, gentlemen, your obedient servant,

(Signed), Edward Butler.

Letter 50, 1846.

Bailieborough District Model School.

Report on the Bailieboro' proposed Model School Site.

Dublin, August 5, 1846.

Gentlemen,—I visited Bailieboro' on Tuesday, 28th ultimo, in order to inquire as directed by your letter of the 25th into the eligibility of the site proposed in that locality for the erection of a district model school.

The grantor is J. Young, esq., M.P. for the county of Cavan. His address is Bailieboro' Castle, Bailieboro'; or 19, Chesham-place, London.

The Rev. P. White, of Corglass, Bailieboro', Presbyterian minister, and the Rev. P. N. O'Reilly, P.P., Bailieboro', are the principals of the other parties interested in the establishment of this school; at the suggestion of Mr. White, I called upon Mr. Chambers, who lives at Bailieboro', and represents there Mr. Young's agent, and from him I obtained most of the local information I required.

It may be inferred from this, that the model school will not interfere with existing educational establishments, and there is every reason to expect that it will be attended by a sufficient number of the children of the humbler classes; indeed Mr. Chambers mentioned 500 as the number likely to attend the model school; and the parish priest is of opinion that the present National school in Bailieboro' should not be closed when the model school comes into operation, as there is quite sufficient population for both schools.

Mr. White and Mr. O'Reilly told me that no contributions could be expected from the members of their respective congregations; and Mr. Chambers expressed the same opinion with respect to the inhabitants generally. Mr. White and Mr. Chambers think it probable that Mr. Young will himself contribute towards the erection of the premises.

The rector of the parish, the Rev. Mr. Beresford, was not at home when I called. I learned that he has visited the National school on two or three occasions, and that his parishioners would feel much satisfaction in seeing a model school established in the neighbourhood, particularly if an agricultural department is attached to it. Mr. O'Reilly and Mr. White seem most anxious on the subject, and if the school were established would neglect no means in their power to promote its efficiency.

In conclusion, I beg to recommend that Mr. Young's offer be accepted, and that Bailieboro' be selected as the site for a model school. Mr. Young's proposal is in every respect most advantageous, and the site and locality perfectly suitable.

In addition to the details already given, I have to state that in Bailieboro' the model schools will be countenanced and supported by persons of all religious denominations, and will be attended by children of every persuasion; and that the circumstances of the county Cavan, with a dense population, and small farms, varying from five to twenty or thirty acres wretchedly cultivated, seem in a peculiar manner to call for the establishment of an agricultural district model school.

I remain, gentlemen, your obedient servant,

Ed. Butler.

Education Office, Dublin, August 15, 1846.

Sir,—The Commissioners of National Education having had before them your proposition respecting the establishment of a district model school at Bailieboro', direct us to request, previous to their coming to a final decision on the matter, that you will have the goodness to state the precise terms as to tenure, &c., upon which you propose to make a lease of the site for such a school.

The Commissioners refer to a plot of ground described to them as being a quarter of a mile to the north-east of Bailieboro', in the townland of Corkish, parish of Bailieboro', containing about fifteen acres, divided into two fields, at present in the occupation of Mr. Maherty.

We have the honour to be, sir,

Your obedient servants,

EXTRACT from MINUTES of the BOARD of NATIONAL EDUCATION, dated October 8, 1846.

The Secretary lays before the Board the letter of Mr. John Young, M.P., and the report of Mr. Kavanagh, Superintendent of District 13, respecting the establishment of district model school at Bailieboro', county Cavan.

Ordered, that Mr. Young be informed that the Commissioners having fully considered the foregoing documents, they are of opinion that the school-house in Bailieboro', which is his property, is not suited to the purposes of a district model school, and that the land annexed to it is not sufficient in extent for an agricultural model farm. That it would not be desirable to erect a district model school on the ground offered by him at a quarter of a mile from the town—first, on account of its distance, and secondly, that the tenure, viz., three lives and thirty-one years, is not sufficient to warrant them in expending a sum of £800 to £1,000; but being desirous to promote his benevolent views by every means in their power, the Commissioners are willing to make a grant of £200 towards the erection of a teacher's residence, and the requisite farm-buildings and offices, on the site proposed contiguous to the town, for an agricultural model school, upon the following conditions:—

1st. That the expenditure upon the whole work be at least £300.

2nd. That a satisfactory lease be given for three lives and thirty-one years.

3rd. That at least eight acres of land be appropriated to the farm, rent free, but that only such portion of it as may be required for the teacher's house, farm-buildings, and other offices, be conveyed to the Commissioners in their corporate capacity; and that for such portion the Commissioners will agree to pay a fair rent.

4th. That the school-house, &c., in Bailieboro' shall be the elementary school in connexion with the farm, and that, in consideration of it also being conveyed to the Board free of rent, and upon a satisfactory lease—the full grant of £200 will be made for the other purposes already specified.

EXTRACTS from MINUTES of the BOARD of NATIONAL EDUCATION, dated March 4, 1847.

Read letter (1300, R.) dated 2nd March, 1847, from John Young, esq., M.P., offering a new site in Bailieboro', county Cavan, for a district model school.

Ordered, that Mr. Kavanagh, the Superintendent of the district, be directed to report on the eligibility of the proposed site, with as little delay as possible.

Copy of LETTER of INSPECTOR KAVANAGH, No. 8, District 13, 1847.

District 13, Virginia,

March 10, 1847.

GENTLEMEN,—In reply to your letter of 6th inst., I beg to submit the following report on the proposed site at Bailieboro' for the district model school.

Reply to the usual queries:—

1. The property on which the site is situated is held in trust. Sir William Young is the reputed landlord. See a letter from Mr. Young, explanatory of the circumstances. The other interested parties are Rev. P. O'Reilly, P.P.; Rev. Messrs. Bell and White, Presbyterian ministers; and the respectable shopkeepers of the town.

There is no locality in the district in which the population, with regard to religion, is so mixed, and all, both clergy and laity, with the single exception of the rector, are most favourable to the establishment of a model school. Mr. Young's influence in the county, and his residence near the site, would attract marked attention to the school, and mitigate the opposition which it might otherwise have to encounter.

The town has the disadvantage of not being a thoroughfare, and to render the model school really serviceable, the Superintendent should reside there, and the Commissioners form a new district having as its centre the town. At present Bailieboro' is on the verge of this district.

Mr. Young is more desirous for the establishment of the model school than he is for the agricultural school, and if offered the alternative of either would accept the former. He is anxious, however, that both, if possible, be combined.

As no site has been offered in Cavan, and as serious difficulties there exist against the establishment of a model school, and as Mr. Young appears so sincerely interested in the success of the National system, I beg to recommend the Board to accept the proposed site and terms in Bailieboro', and commence the erection of the model school this summer.

I remain, gentlemen, your very obedient servant,

JAMES W. KAVANAGH.

The Secretaries, Education Office,

Education Office, March 18, 1847.

SIR,—Your report of the 10th instant, upon the site for a school offered by Mr. Young, having been laid before the Board, we are directed to inform you that it does not contain a distinct answer to the last paragraph of our letter of the 6th, in which you were called on "to state whether the site proposed would be best suited for a district model school, with an agricultural department attached to it, or for a model agricultural school combined merely with an elementary National school." There is an important distinction between the two descriptions of school: in the latter case the Commissioners grant £200 on an expenditure of £300; in the other, they build the whole at their own expense.

We are to request that you will now state explicitly if you recommend that there should be a district model school on the proposed site, comprising an elementary school for boys and for girls, a teacher's residence, and accommodation for boarding a limited number of teachers in training, with a farm attached, and suitable farm buildings; and in that case, for what purposes could the existing school-house, if conveyed to the Board, be made available, until it be deemed expedient to use it for an infant school? If, on the other hand, you recommend the establishment of a model agricultural school, is it your opinion that the existing school-house ought to be the elementary National school, and that the farm-building only should be erected on the new site?

As it is not at present intended that the Superintendent should reside at the model school, and as, by the redistribution of the districts, Bailieboro' is not the centre of a district, do you recommend that the Commissioners should establish on the proposed site a district model school?

Upon the whole, and taking into consideration all the circumstances of the case, is it your opinion that the Commissioners should at once decide upon accepting Mr. Young's offer?

We are, sir, your obedient servants,

(Signed), MAURICE CROSS, JAMES KELLY, } Secretaries.

EXTRACTS from MINUTES of the BOARD of NATIONAL EDUCATION, dated March 25, 1847.

Read letter from Mr. J. W. Kavanagh, recommending that the new site proposed by Mr. Young, M.P., for a district model school at Bailieboro', county Cavan, be taken on the terms proposed—viz., a lease of sixty-one years, at £2 per acre, for the purposes of a model farm, in connexion with the proposed school; that in consideration of the shortness of the lease, the present National schools in Bailieboro', erected by Mr. Young at an expense of about £600, be conveyed to the Commissioners, and employed as a residence for the teacher or teachers of the district school; and the candidate masters who may be admitted for training—Mr. Young undertaking to spend at least £100 in ornamenting the new building.

Ballymena District Model School.

BALLYMENA DISTRICT MODEL SCHOOL.

Education Office, September 23, 1846.

GENTLEMEN,—I beg to state for the information of the Board, that a site can be procured in Ballymena for a district model school from Sir Robert Adair, the proprietor of the surrounding estate.

The proposed spot is on the north side of the road from Ballymena to Ballymoney—half an acre—not at present enclosed, on the outskirts of the town, just beyond the new court-house; lease, 91 years; rent, £5 per annum, with a probability of a reduced offer if the Board be anxious on the subject. The situation appears in all respects excellent, and the precise boundaries could be fixed and decided on by the local Superintendent, and the agent to the property, John Dickey, esq., Ballymena. There are no sewers, but every facility for making them, as also for erecting the necessary buildings at a reasonable cost.

Ballymena is a populous commercial town, very central in the district, and surrounded by a dense population. No better place could be chosen.

In the town there are three National schools, viz., Grey's Free School, the Ballymena Female, and the Poor Law Union. The first of these, with a large endowment (£90 per annum, I believe), is by no means so effective as it should be. The other schools for the poor are—a parochial school under the Church Education Society, a school under the Methodist Conference, and about half a dozen under private individuals. There is also a Diocesan school for those of a more respectable grade. There are very many small National schools within three miles around the town, but none of them could interfere in any way with the proposed district school.

I would have stated these particulars before this in writing, but was under the impression that the six sites to which alone the Commissioners had determined to direct their attention for the present year were available.

I remain, gentlemen, your very obedient servant,

THOMAS J. ROBERTSON.

The Secretaries, Education Office.

EXTRACT from the MINUTE of the BOARD of October 3, 1846.

Ordered, that Mr. Robertson's letter be referred to the Superintendent of the district for a more detailed report.

Belfast, December 5, 1846.

GENTLEMEN,—In obedience to your letter of the 9th of October, I last week, before leaving Ballymena, made all the necessary inquiries regarding the site for a district model school offered by Sir Robert Adair, and, as the result, beg to submit the following as my report upon the entire case:—

For clearness I think it best to adopt the order pointed out by you in your letter of instructions addressed to the Chief Inspectors, and I shall, therefore, in what follows, reply seriatim to the different points of inquiry indicated by you.

1. The party offering the site is Sir Robert Shafto Adair, bart., whose residence for the most part is, I believe, St. James's-square, London; and the only other parties particularly interested are the Rev. Henry Jackson Dobbin, Presbyterian minister; Rev. D. Megarry, P.P.; Rev. A. Patterson, Presbyterian minister; and John Dickey, esq., agent to the grantor, all of Ballymena. These have all expressed themselves favourable to the plan, and are prepared to give it every support in their power.

2. The ground for the site comprises but half an acre, and immediately adjoins the town; it is not enclosed, but forms part of a field at present held by Dr. Young of the same town, and is bounded on the south side by the new line of road leading to Coleraine.

3. Sir Robert Adair holds in fee, but by a deed of settlement entered into by him, his leasing power is limited to a term of 99 years, for which period all that he can grant, he offers to give a lease to the Board at the rent of £5 per annum.

4. The property of which the proposed site forms a part is in no way connected with any religious body or place of worship.

5. The ground being of a loose sandy texture, is perfectly dry, but not enclosed except it may be said to be so by the fences of the field including it; and there are not as yet any sewers or drains, though such could be easily and readily made, as the ground slopes downwards to a small stream or mill-race, which passes it on the north side. The situation seems to me a perfectly healthy one, and the neighbourhood free from everything that could render it at all ineligible for the purpose contemplated.

6. There are ten National schools within three miles of the proposed site, viz.:—Carninney, Laymore, Ballymena male, Ballymena female, Ballee, Tillygarley, Bridge End, Sheddings, Crebilly, and the Ballymena Poor Law; and of these only two, the Crebilly and Ballymena female have been built by aid from the Board. The two first, the Carninney and Laymore schools might be affected in their attendance by the erection of the model school on the present site; but this I should reckon of little consequence, particularly as regards the latter, which, judging from its present declining state, must, I think, eventually, and at no very distant period either, go down at any rate; and the first would, I believe, under its present teacher, be quite able to sustain itself. The Ballymena male and female schools would, I believe, be beneficially affected rather than otherwise by the establishment of the proposed model school, and the rest would, in my opinion, continue, so far forth as its action could be concerned just as they are.

7. The other educational institutions in the neighbourhood are the Diocesan seminary, the male and female parochial schools under the Church Education Society, a Methodist school, and four or five private schools of a very poor description. The first, as intended for a different class of pupils, could not possibly interfere with this; and the others, were they even more extensive and more efficient than they are, —and the truth is they are neither extensive nor efficient—could not, I think, be held to render its establishment less desirable.

8. From all that I have heard I do not think that anything in the way of local contribution could be looked for, except that as hinted to me by his agent, Mr. Dickey. Sir Robert Adair might, perhaps, if permitted by you to see and revise your plans, contribute some little to provide an ornamented design.

9. I have spoken to many on the subject of establishing a model school here, and no one interested in the cause of education with whom I have conversed has expressed himself otherwise than most favourable to such a project.

10. The neighbourhood abounds with ample facilities for procuring at a moderate cost, and of a good quality, all the necessary building materials. Lime and sand can be readily had, and stone of a very superior kind may be obtained, I have been told, at a very cheap rate, and there are two extensive "contractors" in the town—men of skill and capital—who have been engaged on some of the first works in the county, and either of whom could execute any work committed to them economically and well.

11 and 12. An infant school will not be required, as it is intended, I believe, to establish one in connexion with Guy's Free National school; but industrial education might advantageously be provided for.

The ground being only half an acre in extent, is of course quite insufficient for agricultural purposes, nor do I think that more at any reasonable rate could be conveniently obtained in the same neighbourhood.

The site, on the whole, appears to me a most eligible one. Ballymena, the town immediately adjoining it, is, as the name itself implies, the central town of the county, the resort of all the adjoining country, possessed of a trade every day improving, and having a large and increasing population.

I remain, &c.,

(Signed), William M'Creedy, Superintendent.

Extracts from Minutes of the Board, dated December 24, 1846.

Read letter from Mr. T. J. Robertson, recommending the proposed site for a district model school at Ballymena, county Antrim, as favourably reported on by Mr. M'Creedy, the Superintendent of that district.

Ordered, that the site referred to in Mr. T. J. Robertson's letter be approved, and that the necessary documents be forwarded to Sir R. S. Adair, the proprietor of the ground, with a copy of the plan upon which it is proposed that the district model schools shall be conducted.

Extract from Head and District Inspector's Report on Ballymena District Model School, dated May 18, 1850.

"We beg to add, for the information of the Commissioners, to whom, we have no doubt, it will prove most gratifying, as affording satisfactory evidence of the general approval given to their institution, that at the close of the business on Saturday, in a meeting constituted, by calling William Gibson, esq., J.P., to the chair, the following resolutions, moved by the Rev. H. J. Dobbin, D.D., and seconded by the Rev. J. Lynch, P.P., were passed with acclamation :—

"Resolved—I. Having enjoyed the privilege of witnessing the examination of the pupils of the Ballymena National district model schools at the close of the first year's operations, we feel ourselves called on to express the unmingled satisfaction which we have felt. The orderly deportment, the happy, cheerful looks, and the extreme cleanliness of the pupils, as well as the remarkable accuracy and extent of the information displayed by them, furnish most gratifying evidence of the excellence of the system pursued in the establishment, and of the great ability, unrivalled perseverance, and the discriminating kindness of the several teachers.

"II. That we have had great delight in finding that the admirable plans of the Board to elevate and improve the education of the country by the establishment of district model schools, have been so heartily embraced by the people of this neighbourhood, as evidenced by the large and increasing attendance of pupils, and the crowded assemblage of the friends of education at these examinations."

Ballymoney Model Agricultural (or Minor Model) National School.

To the Commissioners of National Education, Dublin.

Ballymoney, December 4, 1850.

Gentlemen,—I am directed by the Commissioners of the town of Ballymoney, to transmit to you the enclosed copy of a resolution come to by that Board at their last meeting, relative to the proposed agricultural model school for this locality.

As we have already received the promise of liberal subscriptions from some of the landowners in the neighbourhood, and the inhabitants of the town, we doubt not but, should you accede to our request, that we shall, in a short period be enabled to lodge the sum specified (£400) to your credit. One of our body (and a liberal contributor to the scheme, William Francis Green, esq.) is at present in Dublin, and will be glad to give you any further information.

I am, &c., &c.,

(Signed), David Wilson,

Secretary Ballymoney Town Commissioners.

Enclosure.

At a meeting of the Town Commissioners of Ballymoney, held in the Town-hall, on Monday, 2nd December, 1850,—William M'Intyre, esq., Chairman of the Commissioners, in the chair,—the following resolutions were unanimously adopted :—

That in consequence of the resignation of John J. Burnett, esq., late agent on the Antrim estates, unavoidable delay has taken place in carrying forward the proposed agricultural model school at Ballymoney; but Lord Antrim having requested the Town Commissioners to take up the subject, it is now unanimously resolved—

That an application be made to the Commissioners of Education, pressing the matter on their immediate attention, and requesting the necessary correspondence to be conducted in future with this Board, who hereby pledge themselves to co-operate with the Commissioners in carrying out an object so desirable for this locality.

That application be made to the Commissioners of Education in the event of £400 being raised and placed in the bank to their credit, if they will carry out the building as proposed without delay.

(Signed),

W. M'Intyre, Chairman of Commissioners,

David Wilson, Secretary.

Education Office, December 16, 1850.

Sir,—We are to acknowledge the receipt of your communication of the 4th instant, enclosing a copy of a resolution of the Commissioners of the town of Ballymoney with reference to the establishment of a model agricultural school in that locality.

In reply we are to state that since the correspondence was commenced with Mr. J. Burnett on this subject, the arrangements for establishing and carrying on such schools have been considerably altered. These arrangements are set forth in the Sixteenth Annual Report of the Commissioners of National Education, page 26, &c., a copy of which is enclosed. You will please to submit this report to the Town Commissioners, and to inform us if they are prepared to comply with the conditions to which we have called attention—whether the ground is the same as that formerly proposed; what quantity of land can be given, and at what rent? You will also please to state whether it is contemplated to have a female school attached, bearing in mind that such an arrangement would considerably increase the expenditure, and require a much larger amount of local contribution.

We are, sir, your obedient servants,

(Signed), Maurice Cross, James Kelly, } Secretaries.

David Wilson, esq.,

Secretary Town Commissioners, Ballymoney.

To the Secretaries, National Education Office, Dublin.

Ballymoney January 20, 1851.

Gentlemen,—I am directed by the Commissioners of the town of Ballymoney, to acknowledge receipt of your favour of the 16th December, covering copy of sixteenth annual report.

The arrangement stated in the report for the regulation of the proposed model agricultural school here, the Commissioners by a unanimous vote formally approved. With respect to the land the site is the same as that originally proposed by Mr. Burnett, and we understand there will be no difficulty in getting such quantity as may be required and at a fair rent.

We believe that a female school is as desirable, as much required, and would prove as useful as a male.

The Commissioners would beg to direct your attention to the miserable apartment in which the National school is at present held in this town, and the very inadequate accommodation it is calculated to afford to the very large number of scholars that are in attendance, as well as the general character its appearance is calculated to convey, and refer to the enclosed certificate as to the last Christmas examination.

With respect to the funds, I am further directed to say that it has been with very great difficulty that we have been enabled to obtain the promise of the sum of £400; that in the present circumstances of the country we have no prospect of being able to obtain further subscriptions. That we are prepared to raise and lodge the above sum to the credit of the Commissioners; and that we do hope, considering the early application which was made for this school and the great want of such in the neighbourhood, that the Board will not hesitate to make such a grant as will secure to the important town of Ballymoney and its neighbourhood the advantage of having two large school-rooms in addition to the necessary farm buildings. Waiting your reply,

I have the honour, &c., &c.,

(Signed), David Wilson, Secretary Town Commissioners.

Examination of the Ballymoney National School.

We, the undersigned, having been present at the examination of the above school, held previous to the Christmas (1850) vacation, have pleasure in certifying that in the various branches, including reading, writing, spelling, English grammar, arithmetic, geography, &c., the pupils acquitted themselves in a manner not only satisfactory to us, but creditable to themselves.

The good order and general decorum which reigned in this large school of 133 scholars, is highly creditable alike to Mr. Johnson and his pupils.

Education Office, January 29, 1851.

Sir,—The Commissioners of National Education understand from your letter of the 20th inst., that the Town Commissioners of Ballymoney are willing to comply with the conditions for the establishment and management of model agricultural schools as laid down in the 16th report of the Board, and also to subscribe a sum of £400 towards the building, as the utmost amount of local contribution which can be raised. We are now to inform you, that the Commissioners of National Education agree to pay a moderate yearly rent for 20 statute acres of land, on the site already approved of, and on a satisfactory lease.*

You will therefore please to state if the land can be procured and the lowest amount of rent; also, if a lease can be obtained for the term already specified by Mr. Burnett, viz., 31 years or longer. We are further to inform you that the erection of the suitable farm buildings with one school-room only will cost from £800 to £900, in addition to which there will be furniture, stock, implements, &c., to be provided. Under these circumstances the Commissioners cannot undertake to build 2 school-rooms, but will erect a school-room for 120 children, the area of which will afford accommodation for about 150 pupils if necessary.

Ballymoney Model Agricultural School, County Antrim.

Ballymoney, February 25, 1851.

Gentlemen,—Since I last had the honour of addressing you, the Committee of the Commissioners for the town of Ballymoney have seen Mr. Bankhead, the lately appointed agent of the Earl of Antrim, and in reference to the inquiries contained in your favour of the 29th January, I am directed to state that he "agrees to grant a lease for thirty-one years of twenty statute acres of land upon the site originally proposed and approved of, at the same rent as at present paid by the tenants in possession, say two pounds ten shillings per statute acre."

We hope this will be satisfactory, and upon your saying so we shall at once proceed to collect the subscriptions promised, so as to be prepared to lodge the £400 to your credit.

We do hope that you will build two school-rooms for us, as the wants of the locality absolutely require this accommodation, and the house in which the National school is at present held (with 133 pupils) is alike discreditable to the town and the Board.

I have the honour to remain, gentlemen,

Ordered, that Dr. Kirkpatrick be directed to report whether or not the rent mentioned by Mr. Wilson is in his opinion too high.

In reply we are to state that it is not the practice of the Commissioners to receive deputations to them as a Board. We shall, however, lay your letter before the Commissioners at their meeting to-morrow, Friday, and shall communicate their decision on the point on the following day.

Sir,—We have laid before the Commissioners of National Education at their meeting yesterday, your letter of the 11th instant, enclosing copy of the report of the meeting in reference to the establishment of a model agricultural school in Ballymoney, and requesting to know on what day it would be convenient for the Commissioners to receive a deputation of the committee, &c.*

We have already, in our letter of the 13th instant, stated what is the usual practice of the Board with respect to deputations. We are now directed to inform you that the Commissioners do not feel themselves warranted in the present instance in departing from the general rule, especially as they have already refused several similar applications.

We are further directed to say that if the other parties who are interested in promoting the establishment of a model agricultural school will state in writing what are their views, every attention shall be paid to their communication; or should any member of the committee have occasion to visit Dublin, the Resident Commissioner or the Secretaries will be happy to confer with him, and afford him every information in their power.

The Commissioners observing that so many influential persons are desirous of co-operating in carrying out the object of the meeting, and that the school is to be close to the town, have yielded to the earnest solicitations of the parties on the subject of the erection of an apartment for female children, and have agreed that a girls' school shall form a part of the proposed arrangements.

National Board, shall therefore be directed in due course to visit and examine the site and farm. But before they do so you will please to furnish an accurate map of the ground, showing the precise quantity of land and the dimensions thereof. The map must be accompanied by a statement of the nature and term of lease, and of the lowest rent per statute acre at which it will be let to the Commissioners in their corporate capacity.

Should the site be approved and all the circumstances of the case, as to the lease, rent, &c., be found satisfactory, the Commissioners will require before any steps be taken by them towards preparing plans, &c., that the local contribution of £400 shall be lodged in the Bank of Ireland to the credit of the Board of National Education, after which no time shall be lost in making all the other arrangements.

We are, sir, &c., &c.,

James Cramsie, esq., Ballymoney.

Ballymoney Model Agricultural National School, County Antrim.

17, Synnott-place, April 23, 1852.

Gentlemen,—In accordance with your instructions Mr. Darley and I proceeded to Ballymoney on the 30th ultimo, and selected suitable sites for the school and farm buildings.

The portion of ground which I recommend to be leased by the Commissioners for the school-farm, is included within the lines marked with red ink on the accompanying map. Ballymoney Model Agricultural (or Minor Model) National School.

I am, gentlemen, &c., &c.,

(Signed), Thomas Kirkpatrick, Agricultural Inspector.

The Secretaries, Education Office.

The ground marked on the map does not include the site for the school-house, it being nearer the town.

Extract from the Minutes of the Board of National Education, dated April 23, 1852.

Read letter No. 674 from the Agricultural Inspector (dated 23rd April, 1852), stating that he has selected suitable sites for a literary school and farm offices at Ballymoney, on land offered for the purpose by the agent of Lord Antrim, in 1214/52, and other communications. Read also letter 229, from the architect, stating that he considers the proposed sites in every way eligible.

Ordered, that the sites reported on by Dr. Kirkpatrick and Mr. Darley, consisting of twenty-two acres, two roods, and seventeen perches, be approved; that the lease of the school buildings be for sixty-one years, and for the farm thirty-one years, at a rent of per acre, and that care be taken that the buildings be erected on the plot to be leased for sixty-one years.

Ordered, also, that directions be given for the preparation of the necessary legal documents, and for plans and specifications for the school-house and farm-buildings.

Belfast District Model School.

Extract from Minutes of Board, dated February 25, 1853.

Read letter from the architect and one from the District Inspector (Mr. D. L. Blakely), reporting unfavourably on the site offered by the Harbour Commissioners for a district model school with a maritime department in the town of Belfast.

Ordered, that these documents be forwarded to James Gibson, esq., commissioned for any observations he may deem it necessary to make thereon.

Extract from Minutes of Board, dated June 17, 1853.

Read letter from Mr. E. Butler, Head Inspector, informing the Commissioners in reply to Secretaries' letter of the 26th ultimo, that having visited Belfast for the purpose of selecting a site for a district model school, he is of opinion that the neighbourhood of the Falls-road would be the most suitable locality, and that the maritime department, which the Commissioners propose to establish, should be a separate building near the quay, and, if possible, in connexion with the "Sailors' Home," or "Seaman's Friend Society."

Ordered, that the Commissioners approve of a site for a district model school being selected in the neighbourhood of the Falls-road; and Mr. Butler and Mr. Blakely are to inspect and report on any suitable site that can be procured, giving particulars as to rent, tenure, extent of ground, &c. Mr. Butler is likewise to put himself in communication with the Belfast Harbour Commissioners with a view of ascertaining upon what terms a site can be procured for a maritime school merely, both daily and evening, and he is to report how this arrangement can best be carried out.

Ordered, further, that Mr. Darley be directed to visit and report upon the sites which may be selected by Mr. Butler.

Extract from Minutes of Board, dated August 19, 1853.

Read letter from the architect reporting that he has inspected a plot of ground on the Falls-road, Belfast, the property of Mr. J. Alexander, consisting of nearly two statute acres, and that he considers it in every respect a most eligible site for a district model school. Mr. Darley states that a lease for any term that may be agreed upon can be given at an annual rent of about £94.

The architect further reports that he has also inspected a plot of ground, the property of the Corporation, in Pilot-street, which he is of opinion would be a suitable site for a maritime school.

The Secretary lays before the Board the reports of the Head and District Inspectors, together with the other correspondence connected with the case.

Ordered, that Mr. D. Blakely, District Inspector, be informed that the Commissioners are willing to take the plot of ground on the Falls-road, at a rent not exceeding £40 per annum; and as they understand that there are several proprietors of mills in the locality who are willing to subscribe a liberal sum for the purpose of fining down the rent demanded to the amount which the Commissioners propose to pay, they direct that he (Mr. B.) will put himself in communication with those parties and ascertain the precise sum they are disposed to contribute, and the conditions.

Mr. Blakely is to inform them that the proposed school must be under the entire control of the Commissioners, and be conducted under the same regulations as the district model schools already established.

The Inspector is further to make inquiries relating to the site for the proposed maritime school as to rent, tenure, &c., and report the result for the information of the Board.

Belfast, August 31, 1853.

Gentlemen,—I beg leave to state that in accordance with the instructions contained in your communication of the 23rd inst., respecting the site for a model school on the Falls-road, I had an interview with the principal mill-owners in the neighbourhood on Monday last.

Belfast District Model School.

In the enclosed letters, signed John Campbell, the views and intentions of these gentlemen are fully conveyed, and I would beg leave most earnestly to recommend them to the favourable consideration of the Board.

The house referred to can be had at a fair valuation, probably £250.

As regards the site for a maritime school in Pilot-street, I had an interview with Mr. Getty, who promised to bring the matter under the consideration of the Harbour Commissioners.

I remain, &c.,

D. L. Blakely, District Inspector.

The Secretaries, &c.

Belfast, August 31, 1853.

David Blakely, Esq.—With regard to the views of the Education Board which you communicated to us on Saturday, I have been deputed to convey to you the feelings of those likely to co-operate in the matter.

Taking into account the desirable locality of the proposed site that the streets round it are all formed, that the expense of foundation will be almost nothing, and the rate at which the surrounding ground lets, we do not consider Mr. Alexander is asking more than a fair rent. We would respectfully suggest that the Commissioners should not compare the value of this site with what has been done in Waterford, Limerick, &c., as owing to the rapid rise and probable future extension of the town, land is much more valuable here than in the other places referred to; besides Belfast will furnish pupils for such an institution in much greater numbers than these other places, and being the chief town of the province, an establishment here is more likely to be visited, and to serve the purpose of a "model school" than those placed in second class towns.

The seven firms who propose to aid in the matter employ nearly 4,000 workers, and though among them we find many dwelling who belong to other establishments, yet we feel that ours would be the principal gainers, and therefore think it would not benefit the present scheme to look for assistance from any greater number, as other proprietors would either limit their contributions in proportion to the expected advantages, or they would give more liberally with the understanding that we should reciprocate at a future day, which would have a tendency to make it in some degree hold back now.

We therefore propose to raise such a sum as will fine down the rent to £60, and as this will require somewhere about £800, we think the Commissioners should not object to pay the rent named, say £60.

In addition we beg to say that some months ago there would not have been the same cordial unanimity amongst us in the matter, but late proceedings having shown that the system is likely to be carried out in its original purity of "united secular and separate religious instruction," we all now join heartily in assisting a system which we feel confident will be productive of much good to our country.

As we have determined to have a school for our people, we are anxious to know as soon as possible from the Board whether they or we are to be the builders of it.

I am, &c.,

(Signed), John Campbell.

Extract from Minutes of Board, dated September 2, 1853.

Ordered, that the Commissioners approve of the arrangement proposed by Mr. Campbell in his letter to Mr. Blakely, for fining down the rent to the amount above stated (£60), but on the distinct stipulation that the Commissioners shall obtain possession of the site free of the incumbrance of the house already erected upon it; that the school shall be open to all the children of the locality who shall be willing to attend it; that no distinct privileges be guaranteed to the parties agreeing to subscribe in consideration of their contributions, and that the proposed school shall be conducted in strict accordance with the regulations laid down for the management of district model schools.

Letter from J. Alexander, esq., dated November 25, 1853.

This document is missing. It is described in the books of the office as follows:—That his brother will give a lease of about an acre for the site of a district model school at £60 per annum.

Extract from Minutes of Board, dated December 2, 1853.

Ordered, that Mr. Alexander be informed that the Commissioners accept his terms for the plot in question —namely, £60 per annum, on the understanding that it consists of nearly two statute acres, as reported by their architect, and not of one statute acre or thereabouts, as stated in his (Mr. Alexander's) letter of the 25th ult., and also provided the solicitors be enabled to make a satisfactory report with regard to his leasing powers, &c.

Belfast, July 26, 1854.

Right Hon. A. Macdonnell.

Dear Sir,—I received on Saturday last a front elevation and ground plan of the model school, Belfast, together with a letter from the President of the Queen's College, who informs me therein, on the authority of Mr. Darley, that the Messrs. Alexander have not as yet been enabled to give a proper title to the site. I immediately put myself in communication with Mr. John Chartres and some of the other gentlemen who purchased this site or fined down the rent for the Commissioners.

The state of the case is found to be, that any delay that exists on that score is owing to the Incumbered Estates Court, which alone can change the tenure of this place from a lease of lives renewable for ever into a fee-farm. Mr. Chartres waited on the Messrs. Alexander, who, on the 24th inst., wrote me the letter herewith sent,* which I hope will be sufficient to satisfy your mind and that of the other Commissioners.

Many thousands of pounds have been spent, and many more are in progress of being spent here on buildings erected on sites circumstanced exactly as this site is, and the possessors consider themselves perfectly secure. Doctor Longfield will probably, if consulted, give you full information.

About an hour ago a messenger brought me a letter from Mr. Chartres, which I also enclose herewith, from which you will perceive that he and the parties who subscribed the purchase-money are not well pleased by the delay which has taken place. Indeed I very sincerely wish that the building was commenced, seeing that the title is indisputably good, as I learn from all parties here, and as I presume Mr. Crampton, solicitor of the Messrs. Alexander, has proved to our solicitor before this date. I am verily tormented by Mr. Chartres and others upon the matter.

I have the honour, &c.,

(Signed), ✠ C. Denvir.

As I may be out through the diocese when Mr. Darley calls for the plan, I will leave it for him in care of Rev. John M'Erlane at my own house.

Right Rev. Dr. Denvir.

My dear Sir,—My neighbours as well as myself feel very much annoyed at the delay of the Board in commencing the erection of the model school. I am half inclined to think if we had thought there would have been so much time lost we would have had a school of our own up before this time. I trust and hope you will use all possible means in your power to urge the Board not to waste the summer before they begin, as building at this season can be got on with so much better than in winter. I hope you will excuse me for the urgency with which I write, but the immense population we have about us, who want proper school accommodation, will plead my excuse.

I remain, my dear Doctor, with much respect,

Your obedient servant,

Education Office, August 2, 1854.

My Lord,—Your letter of the 26th ult., addressed to the Resident Commissioner, together with the enclosures, having been laid before the Board on Friday last, we are now to acquaint your Lordship that the Commissioners are willing to take a lease of lives renewable for ever of the land intended for a district model farm, Belfast, until such time as a fee-farm grant can be obtained, and instructions shall be given to the solicitors of the Board to prepare such a lease without delay.*

We are further to state that the plans are in an advanced state of progress, and advertisements for tenders to execute the works will be issued in the course of a few days.

Education Office, August 2, 1854.

Sir,—With reference to your letter addressed to Right Rev. Bishop Denvir on the subject of the intended district model agricultural school, Belfast, we are to inform you that the delay which has taken place with respect to the buildings is not to be attributed to the Commissioners of National Education, who are most anxious for the commencement of the works, but to the fact that the Messrs. Alexander promised a fee-farm grant of the site, instead of a lease of lives renewable for ever; and the Commissioners naturally preferred the superior title, and waited only to have the legal document prepared.† Belfast District Model School.

As the Commissioners have now been informed that some time will necessarily elapse before the fee-farm grant can be obtained, they have resolved to accept in the meantime a lease of lives renewable for ever; and instructions have been given to the solicitors to lose no time in preparing such a lease.

The plans are nearly completed, and advertisements for proposals to execute the works will be issued in a few days, and we hope that in a short time the buildings will be commenced.

Extract from the Minutes of the Board of National Education, dated August 25, 1854.

Read letter from the architect, informing the Commissioners that the plans, &c., of the Belfast District Model School are nearly complete, and that advertisements, calling for tenders for the execution of the works, may now be issued.

Ordered, that in accordance with this intimation, advertisements calling for proposals for the building of the school be inserted in the public journals, so soon as the lease shall have been signed.

Extract from Minutes of the Board of National Education, dated September 26, 1854.

The Secretary informs the Board that the difficulties regarding the lease of the Belfast District Model School are now removed, and that the deed will soon be executed.

Ordered, that the usual advertisements for proposals be now inserted in the Dublin and in the local papers.

Extract from the Minutes of the Board of National Education, dated October 13, 1854.

Read letter from Messrs. Geale and Dwyer, forwarding for execution on the part of the Commissioners the counterpart lease of the Belfast District Model School.

Carrickfergus Minor Model School.

Extract from Minutes of the Board, dated August 8, 1856.

The Secretary submits the report of the Committee appointed by minute of the Board of the 18th April last, to select the localities in which a limited number of ordinary National schools should be erected at the sole expense, and be conducted under the exclusive control of the Commissioners (Carrickfergus included amongst the sites recommended).

Ordered that the Commissioners approve of the above report.

Letter 61, District 5.

Carrickfergus, November 28, 1856.

Gentlemen,—In compliance with the directions received this morning to proceed to the site for building a model school in Scotch Quarter, in order to ascertain whether it were practicable to procure an entrance, and as the people who occupy the cottages in front, hold by prescription, and could not be removed without their consent, I consulted those whom I found on the premises as to the amount of money that would induce them to give up peaceable possession of the cottages, stating why my request was made. All seemed well pleased with the prospect of getting a model school, but, after a considerable deliberation, they concluded by saying, that scarcely any amount of money could induce them to leave their cottages, in which most of them have been brought up, and which they can now look on as their own property.

I am of opinion that it would be altogether hopeless to procure a suitable entrance to this site.

As the present National school is most conveniently located for the accommodation of the population, I considered it advisable to step the distance between it and Scotch Quarter proposed site, and found it 678 yards.

I next measured the distance between it and Captain Bowie's field, and found it 664 yards, so that it is not less central for the population of the town than the other.

* Date of Board's Minute, 28th July, 1854.

† Board's Minute, dated 28 July, 1854.

Carrickfergus Minor Model School.

Bowie's field is exactly 110 steps from the last dwelling house in Irish Quarter.

I have made a rough sketch of the town of Carrickfergus, by which you will the more easily perceive the facilities of getting to Bowie's field.

You will see that the great bulk of the population lies between Joymount Corner and the Belfast-road, or Windmill Hill.

You will also perceive that all the streets open into Irish Quarter, of which the Belfast-road is a continuation; and as the Ballymena railway removes most of the Belfast traffic from this road, there is the more security for the children's safety passing to and from the model school.

There is no vested house in the Belfast direction; there is one assigned to the Commissioners of Education at Kilroot, about one and a half miles from Scotch Quarter.

In reference to the facility of re-entering Scotch Quarter, the only street is Joymount Corner, which is a constant thoroughfare for all the North, viz., Larne, Glenarm, &c., so that vehicles of different kinds are passing at almost every hour.

Considering all the circumstances, I think Bowie's field the most desirable.

1. The facility of approach with little risk of injury.

2. The greater proximity to the present school, which is proved to be well located.

3. Its being a greater distance from any vested school.

4. And last, though not least, its being available at once.

I am, gentlemen, your obedient servant,

The Secretaries, Education Office.

Carrickfergus, May 21, 1857.

Gentlemen,—When the teacher of the National school was in Dublin a few days ago, he was told that it would be desirable to have a representation from the Committee of the suitability of the situation for the proposed model school which I have so often pressed on the Board.

I now enclose one signed unanimously by the Committee, and I hope that it will induce the Board to take steps to have the work set about at once.

Captain Bowie, the proprietor of the place, is the Inspecting Commander of Coastguard at Arklow, and his agent is William Burleigh, esq., of this town.

I have the honour to be, gentlemen, your faithful servant,

Thomas Birnie, Mayor.

The Secretaries, Education Office.

Carrickfergus, Antrim.

National School, Carrickfergus, May 19, 1857.

The Committee of this school having understood that the Commissioners of Education wish for an expression of their opinion relative to the sites proposed for the erection of a model school at Carrickfergus, beg leave to state that they are unanimously of opinion that the only available situation, and a most eligible one, is in a field the property of Captain Bowie, R.N., adjoining the ship-yard, which, being within a very convenient distance of the part of Carrickfergus inhabited by the great majority of the children most likely to attend the school, and being quite close to the sea, is eminently qualified as well for a maritime as a general school. And as it is bounded on one side by the sea, and another by the public road, an ornamental building, such as the proposed one will probably be, will be seen to great advantage.

The terms on which this piece of ground can be obtained, having been already submitted to the Board and approved by them, the Committee beg to express their hope that no avoidable delay will be allowed to occur, as the present school-house is in a most dilapidated and precarious state.

Carrickfergus, May 13, 1857.

Sir,—In compliance with your request I send you the following comparative distances for the information of the Commissioners regarding the proposed sites for the Carrickfergus National Model School:—

	Yards.
From Mrs. Legg's house to Lancastn. National School, . .	1,053
From Mrs. Legg's house to Castle Gate, ...	839
From Bowie's field to Lancastn. National School, . .	659
From Bowie's field to Castle Gate, .	695

From Mrs. Legg's house to the Court-house the street is built only on the one side, and in that distance (585 yards) there are fourteen houses inhabited by gentlemen who would not likely avail themselves of a National school for the education of their families, besides two meeting-houses and one mill.

I consider the population available for a model school on the east or Scotch quarter side of the Court-house, when compared with that on the west of it, would be about 1 to 4.

I am, sir, your obedient servant,

John M'N. Stevenson.

Wm. M'Cready, esq., Dublin.

Extract from Minutes of the Board, dated December 12, 1856.

Read letter from Mr. Nesbitt, Inspector, District 5, respecting a site for the intended model school at Carrickfergus.

Inspector recommends a plot, the property of Captain Bowie, and states his reasons for so doing; and the Committee approve the recommendation.

Ordered, that before the Commissioners decide on the above site, and that on the Scotch Quarter, inquiry be made by the Inspector to ascertain whether an entrance can be made to the school on the latter site without removing the cottages in front; also, as to whether there are facilities for drawing in the materials.

Extract from the Minutes of the Board of National Education, dated February 6, 1857.

Read letter from Mr. R. Nesbitt, Inspector, District 5, stating, with reference to the site for the intended maritime school at Carrickfergus, that he has ascertained that only one of the proprietors of the cabins in the Scotch Quarter is willing to sell his lot (for which he demands £100), and it is badly located, and not affording sufficient space.

Extract from Minute of the Board, dated June 5, 1857.

The Commissioners resume the consideration of the report of Mr. Nesbitt, District Inspector, in reference to the sites proposed for the minor model school in Carrickfergus, and also have before them the letter of T. M. Birnie, esq., dated 21st May, 1857, expressing the unanimous opinion of the Committee of the Carrickfergus National School in favour of a site the property of Captain Bowie, R.N., adjoining the ship-yard, containing about two Irish acres, and already recommended by the architect in his report of the 5th September, 1856.

The Secretary acquaints the Commissioners that, on the occasion of his visit to Belfast, he inspected the site referred to, accompanied by Mr. Darley, architect, and that he (Secretary) considers it extremely eligible, keeping in view the fact that no other site can be obtained in a central situation. Carrickfergus Minor Model School.

Ordered, that Mr. Birnie be informed that the Commissioners having had before them his letter, and the Secretary having expressed his opinion to the Board regarding the eligibility of the site therein referred to, they agree to take one and a half acres, statute measure, of Captain Bowie's field, at a rent of £16 per acre, per annum.

March 24, 1846.

Gentlemen,—Having had a conversation with one of your Inspectors on the subject of the proposed National model school, I am anxious to recommend Clonmel as a good central position for one of those establishments. It combines many advantages which, should the Board consider advisable, I would have much pleasure in communicating to them personally any day they may think fit to appoint.

We are further to state that the Resident Commissioner will feel great pleasure in having an interview with you, respecting your application, at any time you will have the kindness to appoint.

Sir,—The Commissioners of National Education being now engaged in selecting suitable sites for the intended district model National schools, have directed their officer, Mr. Thomas J. Robertson, to wait upon you on the 15th instant (if it suit your convenience), to examine the site proposed by you for one of the above institutions, and to report thereon to the Board.

The favour of an immediate reply upon the subject will much oblige.

John Bagwell, esq., Clonmel.

Extracts from Report of Mr. Robertson, Inspector, 38/1846.

Education Office, June 24, 1846.

Gentlemen,—In accordance with your instructions, I waited on J. Bagwell, of Marlfield, esq., on the 15th instant, and, accompanied by him, visited the sites on his property in Clonmel, which he offers to lease to the Commissioners of Education for the purposes of a district model school.

Having made all the requisite inquiries, I forward herewith full answers to the several queries contained in your letter of instructions, bearing date 21st May, 1846.

No. 1. [name of grantor, &c.] the grantor in this instance is John Bagwell, of Marlfield, esq., Clonmel. I was informed that the Rev. Mr. Baldwin, one of the Catholic clergymen of Clonmel, and the Mayor, Charles Bianconi, esq., are decidedly favourable to the proposed establishment. These gentlemen were, however, unfortunately, in Dublin at the period of my visit to Clonmel.

No. 6. The only National schools sufficiently near to be taken into consideration are those in the town of Clonmel—namely, the Poor Law Union school, and the Irishtown National school, neither of them vested in trustees for the Commissioners of Education, and the latter exclusively a male school. The superiority of the instruction intended to be given in the district model school will probably induce many of the people to give it a preference; but as the number to be admitted to the latter is limited and the population is very large, there is no reason to suppose that the establishment of it can eventually interfere with the attendance at the National school already in existence. I have elsewhere stated that it is quite unnecessary to include the Poor Law Union National schools in these considerations.

No. 7. The other educational establishments in Clonmel are a large classical endowed school for the children of the higher orders. The parochial schools, nearly exclusively Protestant, under the Protestant clergyman in connexion with the Church Education Society, consisting of a male, female, and infant school; total number on the books 174. The Clonmel day school (also Protestant) under the "Incorporated Society," 21 on the books. The parochial schools are for the children of the poor, the day school embraces those of a somewhat higher grade, terms 5s. per quarter for each child. There is also a female school, under the patronage of the Society of Friends, and very many private schools.

Besides the above schools, the Rev. Mr. Burke, P.P. of one of the parishes into which Clonmel is divided, has erected a very large school-house for males, capable of accommodating upwards of 500 boys. He has also commenced a school-house for females, in connexion with the "Sisters of Mercy." The male school is to be in charge of the "Christian Brothers." These schools are in the vicinity of the proposed sites; and as they will probably accommodate 1,000 children, they will be likely to interfere very considerably with the attendance at the proposed district model school.

No. 8. So far as I have been able to ascertain, I am of opinion that no local contribution will be made towards the erection of the premises; several persons whom I would have wished to consult on this and other points were unfortunately absent at the period of my visit.

. . . . . .

No. 9. The supporters of the National system in Clonmel and its neighbourhood will doubtless approve of the proposed establishment. The grantor, Mr. Bagwell, is in favour of it—a considerable portion of the town stands on his property. The Rev. Mr. Palliser, the Protestant clergyman in charge of the parish, though in connexion with the church Education Society, conceives that the proposed school would be productive of great benefit to the town. Charles Bianconi, esq., the mayor, was unfortunately absent, as was also the Rev. Mr. Baldwin, P.P. of St. Mary's, one of the two parishes in which Clonmel is situated. Both these gentlemen are, I believe, decidedly favourable—the latter is patron of a National school in the town. The Rev. Mr. Burke, P.P. of SS. Peter and Paul's, the parish in which the ground I recommend is situated, has, as I have already stated, erected one large school-house, and is commencing another. This gentleman, who has never, I believe, been a warm advocate of the National system, is opposed to the establishment of a district model school in Clonmel, lest it should in any way interfere with the schools alluded to under his peculiar patronage. He appears dissatisfied with the exclusive control to be exercised by the Board in the sole management of the district model schools, and expressed himself in strong terms against the principle of investing National school-houses (in general) in the Board in their corporate capacity instead of in trustees. Clonmel is decidedly the capital of the district, a large borough town, returning a member to Parliament, situated in a wealthy neighbourhood, and, in a commercial point of view, one of the best inland towns in Ireland. Taking into view all the general circumstances of the case, there can be no doubt that the model school for this district should be in Clonmel. There is however a particular point, as I have already stated, which might impede the efficiency of the establishment, I allude to the opposition of the Rev. Mr. Burke, on the grounds I have previously described. Mr. Burke stated that had he not built school-houses he would not interfere, but that, under the existing circumstances, preferring that the children of his flock should attend the schools under his own management; he would, of course, adopt such measures to procure that attendance as he might deem expedient. In part, Mr. Burke expressed his expectation that his school would materially interfere with the attendance at the National school in Clonmel already in existence.

* Board's Minute, dated 26th of March, 1846.

I regret much that I had no opportunity of consulting the Rev. Mr. Baldwin or Mr. Bianconi, whose intimate acquaintance with the town would have enabled them to afford me valuable information. After, however, deep consideration of the subject, I cannot avoid arriving at the conclusion that a really well conducted district model school in Clonmel would in all probability eventually command the attendance necessary to render it perfectly effective.

I remain, gentlemen, your obedient servant,

(Signed), THOMAS J. ROBERTSON.

To the Secretaries, Education Office,
Marlboro'-street, Dublin.

Received 9/7/1846.

GENTLEMEN,—I have lately had a conversation with the Rev. Mr. Baldwin, P.P. (in whose parish is the ground which your Inspector seemed to think the most eligible for National model schools), and the Reverend gentleman expressed great anxiety that Clonmel should be made the station for those schools. I named a rent of £20 per annum, about half the value, in hope to induce your Board to make an establishment here. Mr. Baldwin has a National school under his own eye, and he is also a patron of the one here.

I am, gentlemen, yours truly,

(Signed), JOHN BAGWELL.

Marlfield, Clonmel.

EXTRACT from the MINUTES of the BOARD of NATIONAL EDUCATION, dated 21 January, 1847.

The Secretary lays before the Commissioners papers connected with the application of John Bagwell, esq., for the establishment of a district model school on his property at Clonmel.

Ordered, that Mr. Quinlan, Superintendent of District 26, be directed to report on the proposed site, and especially as regards the probable effect of the Rev. Mr. Burke's school on the proposed establishment.

LETTER from Mr. QUINLAN, Inspector, No. 5 District, 26, 1847.

Cappoquin, February 20, 1847.

GENTLEMEN,—I herewith transmit to you the accompanying sketch, which gives at a view the situation of the site I have selected, and venture respectfully to recommend for the contemplated model school. Mr. Robertson did not see this site, but the sketch will enable him to form an accurate idea of its position, which, in my humble opinion, renders it in every point of view eligible. The site between the Cashel and Fethard roads is objectionable, because of its being not only in the parish of the Rev. Mr. Burke, but in immediate contiguity with his new school: and the field near the Fever Hospital is ineligible from its proximity to that institution. That on the old Fethard road is from its position entirely out of the question.

Answers to queries in your letter of the 27th ult.:—Query 1. I answer in the affirmative. The locality is desirable, but in the town, if possible. For, relatively, Clonmel is far and away the leading town of my district; and absolutely it is in every point of view one of great consideration. I need scarcely notice its advantageous geographical position on one of the two great lines connecting Dublin with the metropolis of the south; nor of its being, so to speak, the root whence have sprung the extensive branches of Mr. Bianconi's useful establishment, which present daily, nay hourly, opportunities of proceeding to, or returning from, the out stations of the district; and those facilities, great as they now are, will in a short time be considerably increased by the railways which are to diverge to Waterford, Limerick, Thurles, &c. Neither must I omit to notice the rising commercial enterprise of this town, nor its rapidly progressing intellectual importance, with which is commensurate its new Mechanics' Institute, having a library of over 1,500 volumes of the most approved and useful works, and affording from the lectures there delivered by professors of eminence in their respective walks, peculiar facilities for improvement in almost every department of literature and science. These are the considerations which, to my mind, lead inevitably to the conclusion that Clonmel is not only the town in this district in which the model school should be erected, but that it is of all others the best calculated for being its official centre and the residence of its superintendent.

Query 2. No one of the three which Mr. Robertson viewed.

Query 3. Yes; that of which a sketch is herewith transmitted.

Query 4. The opposition of the Rev. Mr. Burke cannot avail if the school be erected on the site I have selected, which is in St. Mary's parish—the Rev. John Baldwin, P.P. Neither could the Rev. Mr. Burke offer any opposition; for if he did, he would, if I mistake not, involve himself in a breach of clerical discipline. To my knowledge the Board has not a more strenuous supporter than Mr. Baldwin—himself the patron of four National schools in his parish, in which, therefore, so far as he is concerned it cannot be inexpedient to establish a district model school. The Rev. gentleman accompanied myself and Mr. Bagwell to view the different sites.

Hoping this report may prove satisfactory, I have the honour to be, &c.,

Your obedient servant,

PATRICK QUINLAN.

Clonmel District Model National School.

EXTRACT from the MINUTES of the BOARD of NATIONAL EDUCATION, dated March 4, 1847.

Read letter from Mr. P. Quinlan, Superintendent of District 26, recommending a new site at Clonmel, county Tipperary, for a district model school.

Ordered, that Mr. Thomas J. Robertson be directed to report thereon, for the information of the Commissioners.

Education Office, March 10, 1847.

GENTLEMEN,—On Monday, the 8th instant, in accordance with your instructions, I visited the newly-proposed site in Clonmel for a district model school, and proceed to furnish replies to the queries on this subject contained in your letter of instructions, bearing date the 21st May, 1846.

No. 1.—The grantor is John Bagwell of Marlfield, Clonmel, esq. The Rev. J. Baldwin, P.P. of St. Mary's, Clonmel, will support the proposed establishment. There are many other persons in the town also decidedly favourable to it. . . . . .

No. 9.—The supporters of the National system in Clonmel and its neighbourhood will doubtless approve of the proposed establishment. The grantor, Mr. Bagwell, is in favour of it, as is also the Rev. Mr. Baldwin. Charles Bianconi, esq., who has considerable influence in the town, is, I believe, very anxious for its success. The Protestant rector, Rev. Mr. Palliser, though in connexion with the Church Education Society, stated in conversation with me, when I visited Clonmel in June last, that he considered the proposed school likely to be productive of great benefit to the town. The Rev. Dr. Burke, P.P. St. Peter's, will not support the proposed school, but rather oppose it. The site is not, however, in his parish. I do not, under the circumstances, think his presumed hostility of sufficient importance to induce the Commissioners to reject the proposal.

No. 10.—From the vicinity of the quarries, the commercial importance of the town, and its intercourse with other places, there is every facility for procuring the necessary building materials at a reasonable cost.

Nos. 11 and 12.—The population of Clonmel was 13,400 by the census of 1841, and it has probably considerably increased since. I think there is but little opportunity at present for the addition of industrial instruction to the usual branches, and there might be a danger of degrading the ultimate success of the whole by attempting too much; I would, therefore, at present, recommend merely a literary establishment for males, females, and infants, on which any additional species of education can be easily ingrafted as opportunity may arise. Even at the commencement, as the site consists of more than three acres, some attempt might be made at giving instruction in the management of "kitchen gardens," or some such branch of horticulture; but I would at present let this be merely a secondary object. Mr. Bagwell has in his hands five or six acres of land adjoining the site which he would give for a model farm, at six pounds per acre.

The town of Clonmel, though on the borders of a district, is of such importance from its size, wealth, population, and internal commerce, that I have no hesitation in recommending it as a suitable locality for a district model school. The circumstance of its not being central at present is not, I conceive, of much moment; as it is not improbable that a re-arrangement of the districts will be found necessary in the course of the next three years, or perhaps less, either in consequence of the increase in the number of schools, or of the superintendents, and it may then be found possible to make such an arrangement as will render Clonmel more central.

Upon the whole I can now recommend this case to the favourable consideration of the Commissioners, and I trust that no unfavourable circumstances will arise to delay the final arrangement.

I remain, gentlemen, your very obedient servant,
THOS. J. ROBERTSON.

Education Office, Dublin,
March 16, 1847.

SIR,—The Commissioners of National Education having had before them the report of their officers as to the eligibility of the ground offered by you in Clonmel for the erection of a district model school,* direct us to inform you that they approve of the proposed site on condition that you can convey the ground to the Commissioners, in their corporate capacity, on a satisfactory lease of at least ninety-nine years from this date, at an annual rent of twenty pounds for the whole plot, which contains three acres, one rood, and ten perches, and is described as being bounded on the east by a lane leading to a farm and separating the site from the grounds of the lunatic asylum, on the south by a new road now about to be opened from the asylum to Dispensary-street, and on the other two sides by fields.

We enclose a sheet of queries to be filled by you and returned to this office, in order that the necessary leases may be prepared.

The Commissioners will confine themselves, for the present, to a mere literary school, after the establishment of which the grounds may be used for instruction in gardening, &c., provided the Board approve of such an arrangement.

Marlfield, Clonmel, March 21, 1847.

GENTLEMEN,—I return you the printed form filled up. As to an abstract of the title I hold my property under, I have only to say that such a demand is quite out of the usual course. The Government, the county, and private individuals have laid out hundreds of thousands without making such a request. My estate is fee-simple, and has been in my family for many generations. You will perceive that the new road is taken from the original quantity of land, leaving a small frontage to the road marked No. 1, which would be of no use to the school. I have a farm adjoining of thirteen acres, which would make a beautiful model farm, and which the Commissioners could have for the mere value, if let to a solvent tenant. I will continue to hold the ground, hoping the Board may be induced to establish one, which would be of the greatest possible utility to this part of the county.

I have the honour to be, gentlemen,

SIR,—With reference to your letter of the 21st ult., we are directed to request you will have the goodness to state, for the information of the Commissioners of National Education, what reduction you propose to make in the amount of the rent should they accede to your proposal not to include in the plot for the district model school premises that portion of ground on the south of the new road, which would reduce the whole by about one acre.

use for the purpose of a model school. The rent proposed by me was with reference to the site and the quantity of ground, and is a very low rent indeed, being one of the most eligible spots in Clonmel for building. I much regret that the Commissioners should make any difference about it; but sooner than see an establishment of such importance placed in an improper locality, I would further reduce the rent if they thought it just to ask me to do so.

Education Office, May 1, 1847.

SIR,—Having laid your note before the Commissioners of National Education, they direct us to state that, as the portion of ground offered by you for the purposes of a district model school at Clonmel is to be reduced in quantity by nearly one acre, the Commissioners do not feel themselves warranted in paying the same amount of rent which they were willing to give for the plot of ground originally offered by you.*

The Commissioners, therefore, request that you will have the goodness to state what reduction you will make in the rent in consequence of the reduction in the quantity of ground.

GENTLEMEN,—I beg you will inform your Board that I will reduce the rent of the proposed site for model schools to £16 per annum, promising only that the road along the lunatic asylum wall is left sufficiently broad. I much wish to have a definite answer at their convenience.

Letter 8, 1849, from Head Inspector PATTEN.

Clonmel, May 5, 1849.

GENTLEMEN,—I have now to inform you that we have visited all the schools in this town and neighbourhood, of every denomination, and have also examined the several classes in many of them. We have visited and held conferences with all the clergymen of the several denominations in this town; and I have much pleasure in stating, that from all, with the single exception of the Rector, the Rev. Mr. Palliser, whom we saw to-day, and who states that he will remain neutral, we have had the most distinct assurances of co-operation and support in the working of the model school here. The most respectable and influential of the laity have been visited and have expressed themselves ready to co-operate and support the school in every way in their power. I may mention the names of some of them—Capt. B. Osborne, Mr Bagwell, Col. Phipps, &c. We now intend visiting some of the best schools in the adjoining district for the purpose of selecting a teacher.

Head Inspector KAVANAGH's Letter, 25, 1848.

Clonmel, May 4, 1849.

GENTLEMEN,—I perceive from a letter of yours to Dr. Patten that he has had permission to resume his examinations, and for this purpose he intends leaving this on Wednesday next.

We have called on Dean Burke and the Rev. Mr. Baldwin, Catholic pastors; Reverend Mr. Palliser, Protestant Rector; Reverend Mr. Dill, Presbyterian, and Reverend Mr. Orr, Unitarian minister, and Mr. Bagwell, Captain Bernal Osborne, and Colonel Phipps. Two of those gentlemen have appointed to meet us on to-morrow. So far as we have gone we have had the warmest assurances of the support and co-operation of all classes, and we hope that the few upon whom we are yet to call will evince dispositions equally friendly. We have also visited, and in most cases examined, every school, National and otherwise, in and around the town. These duties have occupied the entire of our time since Tuesday.

We intend visiting two of the best conducted schools in this district on Monday and Tuesday, with a view to the recommendation of candidates for the tenderships; but it will be necessary for me to proceed to adjoining districts for a similar purpose during the remainder of the next week. It will, therefore, be out of my power to attend at the office or to make up any report of the proceedings earlier than the 14th or 15th instant. . . .

COLERAINE DISTRICT MODEL SCHOOL.

Letter from District Inspector, Mr. Clarke, addressed to the Secretaries, bearing date 31st January, 1846, is missing. The abstract of the letter entered in the books of the office is as follows:—

"Inspector recommends Coleraine as the most suitable locality for the establishment of the district model school, and forwards communication addressed to him by C. J. Knox, esq., agent to the Honorable Company of Clothworkers of London, containing copy of a resolution agreed to by a committee of that body, to the following effect:—

"They resolve to recommend to the Court to grant a lease, in perpetuity, of half an acre of land, for the object described, at a nominal rent, subject to the possession thereof being resumed by the Company on its ceasing to be appropriated for the purpose of the school."

* Board's Minute, dated April 22, 1847.

Coleraine District Model School.

EXTRACTS from REPORT, No. 43, 1846, of Mr. ROBERTSON, Inspector.

Londonderry, July 6, 1846.

GENTLEMEN,—I arrived in Coleraine on the 30th ult., and on the following days made all the necessary inquiries regarding the eligibility of the site proposed for the model school of that district (No. 3).

In consequence of the absence from home of Mr. Charles J. Knox, agent for the estate of the Clothworkers' Company, by whom the site is promised, I was unable to prepare my report at an earlier period; but having succeeded in obtaining an interview with that gentleman on Saturday, the 4th inst., I proceed to forward, for the information of the Commissioners of National Education, full replies to the several queries set forth in my letter of instructions.

No. 1. The persons most interested in the establishment of the proposed school, and who (in their corporate capacity) are also the grantors, are the Worshipful the Clothmakers' Company of London, represented in Coleraine by their agent, Charles J. Knox, esq. This body has endowed with small sums annually a number of schools in and about Coleraine, many of which are National.

I am of opinion that the proposed model school will not affect the Coleraine National Schools much, but that it will materially interfere with the attendance at the Killowen-street schools, which are in the same portion of the town, much nearer, and in which the male teacher is not a person whose abilities and information are of a character to insure a large attendance.

Coleraine contains a population of near 7,000 inhabitants. It is divided into two portions by the river Bann, which runs through it from south to north. About two-thirds of the inhabitants (upwards of 4,000), are located in the eastern division. The educational establishments not National are, an infant school, with an attendance of about 80, and the large free school (separate male and female departments), with an annual endowment of £150—a good residence, &c., from the Irish Society, by whom the house was built—the attendance here is about 300 of both sexes. In the western division of the town in which the site is, there are three schools besides Killowen-street National, two of them under the Protestant rector, and all receiving several endowments from the Clothworkers' Company; the attendance at each of these schools varies from about 20 to 50. The population of this western division amounts to nearly 3,000, and of these a much greater proportion than on the other side of the river are of a grade likely to attend a National school. None of these schools is of a superior description; and even in the Irish Society's large school, so liberally endowed, and under a teacher apparently highly qualified, the course of instruction is by no means so extensive as I have witnessed in many National schools.

Under these circumstances I am of opinion that the district model school, if established in Coleraine, under first-rate teachers, will command a sufficient attendance.

From the inquiries I have made, I am under the impression that the establishment of the district model school in Coleraine will meet with the approval of most of the parties in the neighbourhood interested in the education of the poor, particularly Mr. Knox, the agent of the Clothworkers' Company, on whose property the whole of the western division of Coleraine is situated.

Under these circumstances, I have no hesitation in recommending Coleraine as the most suitable locality in district 3, for the establishment of the model school.

I remain, gentlemen,

Your very obedient servant,

We enclose the lease queries which you will have the goodness to fill up, sign, and return to this office; together with a full abstract of title, and all other information connected therewith, which may enable the law adviser of the Board to have the requisite lease prepared.

Ordered, that a letter be written to Charles Knox, esq., the agent to the Clothworkers' Company, stating that the architect of the Board reports that the site selected at Coleraine for the erection of a district model school is very objectionable upon several grounds; but as Mr. Knox pointed out another locality much more eligible, the Commissioners request he will be so good as to ascertain if the Clothworkers' Company will cancel the lease already executed to them, and grant a lease of the other plot pointed out to Mr. Darley on similar terms?

EXTRACT from MINUTES of the BOARD of NATIONAL EDUCATION, dated August 26, 1847.

Read letter dated 21st August, 1847, from Robert B. Towse, esq. (Clerk of Clothworkers' Company), forwarding to the Commissioners forms of surrender of the old lease of the first site chosen at Coleraine for a district model school, and agreeing on the part of the Clothworkers' Company to grant a lease of the new site approved of by F. Darley, esq., architect to the Board.

Ordered, that Mr. Towse be requested to transmit the form of a new lease for the approval of the Commissioners.

EXTRACT from MINUTES of BOARD of NATIONAL EDUCATION, dated September 10, 1847.

Office of National Education,
January 26, 1858.

Sir,—We have had the honour to lay before the Commissioners of National Education your letter of the 5th instant,* requesting to be informed what may be the proper course to pursue in order to obtain a district model school for the city of Cork.

In reply we are directed to state that in the estimate for the year 1858–9, the Commissioners have applied for the funds necessary to establish a district model school in the county Down, a free grant of land for the purpose having been made by the Marquess of Londonderry. Under these circumstances the Commissioners could not undertake the erection of another school of this description during the present year. In the meantime, however, without giving any pledge as to their final decision, the Commissioners would be happy to receive a memorial in favour of the project, numerously and influentially signed by persons of different religious denominations, and stating whether a suitable site could be obtained in a central part of the city, consisting of not less than one acre (Irish) of ground, on moderate terms and on a long lease.

We have the honour, &c., &c.,

The Mayor, &c., &c., Cork.

Received in office, 20th July, '59.

To the Commissioners of National Education in Ireland.

My Lords and Gentlemen,—We, the undersigned citizens of Cork, beg most respectfully to call your attention to the fact that no model school has as yet been established in the city of Cork—that the city of Cork being the second city in Ireland, with a population of over one hundred thousand inhabitants, and the capital of a great and flourishing county, has claims that ought not to be overlooked to the establishment of such an institution. That the establishment of such an institution is not only necessary to supply the wants of the poor population of the city of Cork, but also expedient as a means of exhibiting in so conspicuous a position, a true model of the system of instruction which Her Majesty has authorized the Commissioners to provide for the people of Ireland. That there can be no reasonable doubt that the people of Cork would most gladly avail themselves of the advantages that such an institution would place within their reach; and that the presence in Cork of such a model school would greatly tend to remove mistakes, prejudices, and misapprehensions with respect to the National system of education, and to recommend the principles, and extend the application of that system throughout the south of Ireland.

We therefore pray that the Commissioners will take steps for the founding of a model school in the city of Cork.

Cork proposed District Model School.

Office of National Education,
2 August, 1859.

My Lord,—We have had the honour to lay before the Commissioners of National Education the memorial forwarded by your lordship, praying for the establishment of a District Model School in the city of Cork.†

The Commissioners feel much gratification at receiving a memorial praying for the establishment of a Model School in the city of Cork, as numerously signed by persons of influence, and of different religious denominations.

The Commissioners entertain the application favourably, but no provision for the erection of the building having been made in the estimates for the current year, they can at present do no more than make the preliminary inquiries as to a suitable site, &c., and for this purpose the Head and District Inspectors shall be furnished with the necessary instructions. The Commissioners will include in the estimate for the year 1860–61, a sum sufficient for the establishment of the proposed District Model School.

We have the honour to be, your lordship's very obedient servants,
(Signed), Maurice Cross, James Kelly, } Secretaries.

To the Right Hon. Lord Fermoy, &c., &c., Trabolgan, Cloyne.

Explanatory Memorandum.

Up to March, 1860 (and occasionally afterwards), the correspondence merely consisted of letters to the Inspectors, the Board of Works, &c., as to the relative merits of the sites proposed, and the terms asked for each, and their reports in reply; also of correspondence with the Board's Solicitor, as to title, legal difficulties, &c.

Extract from the Minutes of the Board of National Education, dated 30 March, 1868.

Read letter from Secretary to Board of Works, stating that the Lords of Her Majesty's Treasury have requested that additional information be afforded them, regarding the sum of £2,000, applied for in the estimate for 1860–61, towards building a District Model School in Cork, and expressing the desire of the Board of Works to be furnished by the Commissioners with such particulars on the subject as will satisfy their lordships as to the necessity for this vote.

Ordered that the Board of Works be informed that the establishment of District Model Schools forms part of the plan of the Commissioners for improving the education of the people; that the Commissioners received a communication from the Mayor of Cork, dated 5th January, 1858, requesting to be informed of the proper course to be pursued, in order to obtain a District Model School for that city, and that in reply it was intimated to him, that although the Commissioners could not give any pledge as to their ultimate decision, they would be happy to receive a memorial in favour of the project from the inhabitants.

* Board's Minute dated 15th January, 1858.

† Board's Minute, dated 29th July, 1859.

Accordingly, in the month of August, 1859, the Commissioners received through Lord Fermoy a memorial signed by a number of influential persons of various religious persuasions, praying for the establishment of a District Model School in Cork, to which they gave a favourable answer, and that it was in conformity with the promise made to the memorialists that they called on the Board of Works to include in the estimate of that department for 1860-61 a sum necessary for carrying on the works of the proposed school.

Extract from the Minutes of the Board of National Education, dated 14 June, 1861.

The Commissioners proceed to consider the question as to the site to be selected for the purposes of the intended Model School at Cork, and have before them a report from Dr. Newell, Head Inspector, and also a report from Mr. Sheridan, Head Inspector, with regard to the plot which in their opinion should be preferred.

Ordered that the site marked "K" in the ordnance maps of Cork, and "a a a, ab," on the maps of the plot, which is situated opposite Anglesea Bridge, and contains over two acres of ground, be taken from Mr. Wise at a yearly rent of £90, on a lease of 200 years, provided the architect to the Board of Works report favourably of it as a building site, and that there be no peculiar difficulty in obtaining foundations.

Ordered further that the Board of Works be requested to cause their architect to furnish an immediate report as to the eligibility of the plot in question, especially as to the nature of the foundations and the additional cost, if any, which would be incurred, in respect of foundations, by building on that site.

Extract from Minutes of the Board of National Education, dated 21 June, 1861.

The Secretary informs the Commissioners that he has received a report from the architect to the Board of Works stating, that the site approved for the purposes of the Cork Model National School is similarly circumstanced with all others in that city as to foundations, and that there would not be any additional expenditure required in this case beyond any other site, namely, about £500.

The Secretary also states that in accordance with the Board's order of the 14th inst., he has written to Mr. Greene, agent to Mr. Wise, accepting his proposal on the part of the Board.

Extract from the Minutes of the Board of National Education, dated 14 March, 1862.

The Secretary refers to the Minutes of the Board of the 14th and 21st June, 1861, regarding the site of the intended District Model National School at Cork, and he reads a letter addressed to J. M. Green, esq., on the 19th June, 1861, agreeing to take from Mr. Wise a plot of ground at a yearly rent of £90, on a lease for 200 years, the Secretary also reads a letter from the Board of Works sending report from the architect, to the effect that this site is open to the objection as to foundations, &c., which is common to all sites on the flat of the city, but the expense of extra foundations will probably not exceed £500. The Secretary also reads report of Head Inspector Sheridan, dated 1st March, 1862, on the arrangement proposed by Mr. Greene to meet a certain difficulty which had arisen respecting a passage dividing the ground originally taken into two plots as reported by Mr. Geale in a verbal communication with Mr. Kelly. Cork District Model School.

Ordered, that the Commissioners approve of the arrangement submitted by Mr. Greene, and recommended by Head Inspector Sheridan, and agree to take the whole of the plot not tinted red on the map accompanying the Head Inspector's report, including the plot marked "A" now in the possession of Mr. Sutton, at an additional rent of £15, making the whole rent £105 a year instead of £90—the term of lease to be as before, viz., 200 years.

Read Mr. T. J. Robertson's report on the site for the district model school at Dunmanway, county Cork.

Ordered, that it be approved.

Dunmanway, June 29, 1846.

Sirs,—I beg leave to state, for the information of the Board of National Education, that Thomas J. Robertson, esq., Chief Superintendent of National schools, called on me on the 11th instant, respecting the establishment of a model and agricultural school in the town of Dunmanway, and county of Cork. Such an establishment has my unqualified approbation, and I will cordially co-operate in its promotion, as far as lies in my power. I beg leave further to state that I hold a farm of about twenty-five acres, for and during the term of three lives, and nine hundred and ninty-nine years in reversion, at the yearly rent of thirty-five pounds sterling; my farm bounds Sackville-street, the most central, retired, and healthy part of the town; two acres are building ground, fronting Sackville-street, the remaining twenty-three acres are immediately to the rere of the building ground. I respectfully refer the Board for information as to site and quality of ground, to Mr. Robertson, Chief Superintendent, and Mr. Butler, Local Inspector. The owners of the fee-simple are satisfied to secure the Board of Education that the quantity of land required by the Board shall only be subject to the stipulated rent. The two acres intended for building ground and three acres to the rere. Yearly rent twenty-five pounds sterling.

I have the honour to be, gentlemen,

Your most obedient humble servant,

James Doheny, p.p.

Dunmanway, July 2, 1846.

Sirs,—I beg leave to state, for the information of the Board of National Education, that Mr. Robertson, Chief Superintendent of National Schools, called on me as parish priest on the 11th ultimo, at Dunmanway, in order to ascertain my feelings in reference to the building of a model school at Dunmanway. Such an undertaking has my unqualified approbation; and I will feel great satisfaction in co-operating in its furtherance as far as lies in my power. On the occasion referred to, I called his attention to two sites—one at an extremity of my farm, the other containing about ¾ of an acre in Sackville-street, decidedly the most central and eligible site in the whole neighbourhood. At the time referred to I was so circumstanced that I could not give more than the three-quarters of an acre in Sackville-street. I am now in a position of giving any quantity of ground which may be required, immediately to the rere of Sackville-street; the owners in fee-simple will confirm my lease of three lives and 999 years in reversion, and will guarantee that the building and premises will be only subject to the rent agreed on between the Board of National Education and me. I beg leave here to call the attention of the Board to the fact that a considerable portion of the lot of ground adjoining Sackville-street is building ground, the yearly rent of five acres, including building ground, twenty-five pounds sterling. I do most respectfully suggest to the Board to send Mr. Robertson, or some other officer, to Dunmanway, to make further inquiries, and report the result to the Board of Education.

I have the honour to be, gentlemen,
Your most obedient humble servant,
James Doheny, p.p.

To the Secretaries of National Education.

Board's Order, 2 July, 1846, on above Letter.

Transmit Rev. J. Doheny's letters 2914 P, and 2974 P, and also Mr. T. J. Robertson's report on Dunmanway proposed sites for model school to Mr. J. R. Butler, Superintendent, District 28.

Request of him to read the documents attentively; let him then examine both the proposed sites, viz., that offered by the Rev. Mr. Doheny, and that of which Mr. Bryan is proprietor; let him then report to the Board which of the two he deems most suited to the purpose, as regards terms, situation, quantity of land, and all the other points referred to in Mr. Robertson's report. Mr. Butler is to bear in mind that Mr. Robertson's report is to be considered a confidential communication.

His report must be up before next board day.

Let him return the documents.

Education Office, August 15, 1846.

Sir,—The Commissioners of National Education have had before them your proposal respecting a site for a district model school at Dunmanway.*

Before coming to a final decision on the case the Commissioners request to know whether or not you will let the ground, consisting of two fields, containing in all about 5½ acres, having a frontage in Sackville-street, in the town of Dunmanway, at a rent of £5 a year for the building acre, and £3 a year per acre for the remainder of the ground, on a lease of three lives and 999 years in reversion.

The favour of an early and definite reply is requested.

We are, &c.,
(Signed), Maurice Cross,
James Kelly.

Dunmanway, August 21, 1846.

Gentlemen,—Your favour of the 15th inst., only reached me at a late hour last night on my return from Cork, where I had been since last Monday, this I trust will account for not replying to your letter in due time. I send enclosed a map of the intended site for a district model school at Dunmanway. I beg leave to inform the Commissioners of National Education that I have been offered during the last fortnight £14 a year for the field in the front of Sackville-street, containing one acre, three roods, and six perches, for the purpose of building houses at each side of the entire length of the field at £12 a year, and Rev. Meade's lot at £3 5*s.* an acre by the year, being the rent he has satisfactorily paid me these twelve years past. I am now in a position to give possession immediately of both lots, and a lease of three lives and 999 years in reversion. Should not my proposal meet the approbation of the Commissioners of National Education, I will feel greatly obliged by a line to that effect at your earliest convenience, as I promised to give an answer to another applicant, as soon as I possibly could.

I remain, gentlemen, your very obedient servant,
James Doheny, p.p.

Education Office, August 29, 1846.

Sir,—The Commissioners of National Education have under consideration the terms proposed in your letter of the 21st inst., for the ground at Dunmanway, for the purpose of a district model school.

The Commissioners direct us to state that they have been offered ground equally eligible on much lower terms. They will, however, agree to pay a rent of £20 per annum, for the two fields at present occupied by Rev. Mr. Meade, containing about three acres three roods, and the field having a front towards Sackville-street, containing about one acre, three roods, ten perches, provided the titles be satisfactory, and the Misses Cox give the necessary consent.

We are, sir, your obedient servants,

Rev. J. Doheny, Dunmanway.

Dunmanway, August 31, 1846.

Gentlemen,—I have the honour of acknowledging the receipt of your letter of the 29th inst., in reference to the terms offered by the Commissioners of National Education, namely, £20 per annum, for the purposes of a district model school at Dunmanway, for the two fields at present occupied by the Rev Mr. Meade, containing about three acres and three roods, and the field having a front in Sackville-street, containing about one acre, three roods, and ten perches, statute measure, provided the title and the Misses Cox give the necessary guarantee. With respect to title and guarantee there is and will be no difficulty. With respect to the annual rent, I feel anxiously disposed to make sacrifices, and meet the wishes of the Commissioners of National Education. With this view, I beg leave to state that I am to give the Rev. Mr. Meade the two best fields in my possession in lieu of the two fields he at present occupies, and that attended with much inconvenience to myself; he has been a most unexceptionable tenant, and would prefer to hold his old lot, had I not been anxious to meet the views of the Commissioners. I am prepared to make a sacrifice of £4 per annum. Should the Commissioners then deem it advisable to give me for the lots already mentioned £22 per annum, I will cheerfully close with them and give immediate possession. In case these terms be not accepted by the Commissioners I trust and hope you will have the kindness to apprise me at your earliest convenience, in order that I may close a bargain for the building lot with a person to whom I am pledged in case it did not suit the views of the Commissioners.

I am, gentlemen, your very humble and obedient servant,
James Doheny, p.p.

To the Secretaries.

* Date of Board's Minute, 13 August, '46.

I have surveyed for the Rev. Mr. Doheny a field fronting Sackville-street, in the town of Dunmanway, and find it contains, in front 122½ feet; in the rere 170 feet; and in depth 490 feet; containing in area in English statute measure one acre, three roods, and ten perches.

Education Office, September 4, 1846.

SIR,—Having laid before the Commissioners of National Education your letter of the 31st ultimo, respecting the ground at Dunmanway for a district model school, we are directed to state that the Commissioners made the proposition as to rent as stated in our letter of the 28th ultimo after a full consideration, and that having offered the highest amount which they could, consistently with their general regulations, they do not feel warranted in altering their decision.

We are, therefore, to request you will have the goodness to state, definitively and without delay, whether you will accept the terms set forth in our last.

We are, sir, your obedient servants,

Dunmanway, September 6, 1846.

GENTLEMEN,—In reply to your letter of the 4th instant, received this evening, respecting the ground at Dunmanway for a district model school, I beg leave to state, for the information of the Commissioners of National Education, that in my last letter I have made sacrifices and subjected myself to personal inconvenience with the sole view of meeting the views of the Commissioners; I again repeat that I am prepared to give them the ground in question according to the terms proposed in my letter of the 31st ultimo. This answer is definite and without delay.

May I take the liberty of requesting a line in reply, as I am pledged with respect to the building-ground, in the event that it does not suit the views of the Commissioners?

I am, gentlemen, your obedient humble servant,

JAMES DOHENY, P.P.

SIR,—We are directed by the Commissioners of National Education to inform you, in reply to your letter of the 6th instant, that they regret they cannot accede to the terms proposed in your letter of the 31st ultimo, for the purchase of the ground intended for the erection of a district model school at Dunmanway, in the county of Cork; this being their final decision, we are further directed to state that they consider the correspondence with reference thereto at an end.

Dunmanway, September 15, 1846.

GENTLEMEN,—I have been favoured with the receipt of your letter of the 11th instant, "stating the final decision of the Board of National Education in reference to the terms proposed in my letter of the 31st ultimo, for the purchase of the ground intended for the erection of a district model school at Dunmanway, in the county of Cork." In reply I beg leave to say that, on mature consideration of the vast advantages likely to result to the youth of the entire district from such an institution, and my most anxious wish to have it in Dunmanway, I am prepared to accede to the terms offered by the Commissioners in your letter of the 29th ultimo, namely, a rent of £20 per annum for the two fields at present occupied by the Rev. Mr. Meade, containing about three acres three roods, and the field having a front in Sackville-street, containing about one acre, three roods, and ten perches; I am also prepared to give the required guarantee. In conclusion, I beg leave to say that should any other site be deemed more eligible, and terms more favourable than those now proposed, I shall feel most happy and not the slightest disappointment. Dunmanway District Model School.

I have the honour to be, gentlemen,

Your most obedient humble servant,

JAMES DOHENY, P.P.

The Secretaries, Education Office, Dublin.

Education Office, September 18, 1846.

SIR,—The Commissioners of National Education have had before them your letter of the 15th inst., stating that you are prepared to accede to the terms offered by them in our letter of the 29th ultimo.*

In reply, we are directed to acquaint you that the Commissioners cannot at present renew the negotiation with you respecting a site at Dunmanway for a district model school, being in communication on the same subject with another party.

We are, sir, your obedient servants,

MAURICE CROSS, JAMES KELLY, } Secretaries.

Rev. James Doheny, P.P., Dunmanway.

Dunmanway, October 5, 1846.

GENTLEMEN,—A report has reached me, that Mr. Thomas Bryan, of Prospect Hill, near Dunmanway, has been in communication with the Board of National Education in reference to sites for a district agricultural model school at Dunmanway. As Roman Catholic pastor of this parish nearly twenty-nine years, I may be permitted to add, that I must necessarily be well acquainted with every locality in this district, and feel a deep interest for the welfare of the rising generation. May I then take the liberty of suggesting that the proposed sites are not the most eligible? In the town of Dunmanway alone there is a population of nearly 4,000 persons, with a dense population in the outskirts wretchedly poor; it appears to me that a central site would be most desirable, whereas the proposed sites are altogether some distance from the town, and entirely out of the reach of the children living in the east and north-east of the parish; indeed the intended sites are more than a mile from one part of the town. Under these circumstances I must respectfully suggest, that the consideration of these matters be referred to Mr. Butler, the local Superintendent of National schools, or some officer connected with the Board of Education; in conclusion, I beg leave to say that a sense of public duty, and the deep and lively interest I feel for the welfare of the inhabitants of the adjoining districts, induce me alone to put forward very respectfully these honest and disinterested suggestions.

I have the honour to be, gentlemen, your most obedient humble servant,

JAMES DOHENY, P.P.

To the Board of National Education,
Marlborough-street, Dublin.

NOTING ON ABOVE.

Mr. Bryan's site adjoins last house on the west side of the town, and is, therefore, not in the centre. Mr. Doheny's site is in the centre of the town, and therefore nearer to the eastern outskirts, from which Mr. Bryan's is probably nearly a mile distant. Mr. Doheny's being more central, I would take it for choice, but Mr. Bryan's is not a bad site.

THOMAS J. ROBERTSON, Inspector.

* Board's Minute, dated 17th September, 1846.

Dunmanway District Model School.

Education Office, October 13, 1846.

Sir,—Having laid your letter of the 5th inst. before the Commissioners of National Education, we are directed to remind you that the Board were willing to accept the site offered by you for the purpose of erecting a district model National school at Dunmanway on terms which after full consideration they deemed sufficient, and it was not until those terms were refused by you, that the Commissioners adopted the site offered by Mr. Bryan, which was favourably reported on by the officers appointed to examine it.

The Commissioners of National Education cannot, therefore, alter their decision at present regarding the site for the above purpose, offered by you; but should any impediment arise to prevent them from concluding the agreement with Mr. Bryan, the Commissioners will then be happy to re-open a negotiation with you.

Gentlemen,—In this case the necessary steps in investigating title have been taken, and the deed of conveyance prepared and approved of on Mr. Bryan's part; but we have delayed concluding the matter in consequence of a suggestion from this gentleman as to certain alterations in the exact boundaries originally intended, and which he states would be for the advantage of the Commissioners. We requested him to put his proposal in writing, and we now enclose a copy of his reply.

The matter shall be at once completed upon our receiving the instructions of the Commissioners in reference to this point.

We have the honour to be, gentlemen,

Your obedient servants,

The Secretaries of the Commissioners of National Education.

Education Office, April 10, 1847.

Gentlemen,—We have laid before the Commissioners of National Education your letter of the 26th ult., enclosing a copy of a letter from Mr. Bryan on the subject of a plot of ground at Dunmanway for the establishment of a district model school.

The Commissioners agree to the proposal contained in the letter of Mr. Bryan, understanding from it that the plot of ground will contain 5 acres, or thereabouts; that the road will form the northern boundary and the river the southern boundary, so as to include Ryan's holding.

We return the lease queries, and we enclose a sketch of the ground, which the Provincial Inspector who reported on the site considered more accurate than the map set forth in the "lease queries."

Workhouse, Wexford, 8 January, 1856.

Gentlemen,—I have been directed by the Board of Guardians of this union to transmit to you, to be laid before the Commissioners of National Education, the annexed copy of resolutions passed by the Guardians at their meeting, held on the 5th instant.

I have the honour, &c.,

(Signed) Thomas Prendergast, Clerk of the Union.

Copy of Resolutions referred to.

Proposed by Sir Francis Le Hunte, J.P., and seconded by John Walsh, esq., and unanimously passed—

That having found great difficulty in procuring properly qualified teachers to conduct the workhouse schools, and understanding that the same want is general throughout the county, we are of opinion that it is very desirable that the Commissioners of National Education should establish for this district a Model School, such as those instituted with such advantage in other cities and towns of the kingdom, for the purpose of training young persons as teachers; with land attached to give instruction in the principles and practice of the improved systems of training; and with a nautical department for the port of Wexford, to teach the course prescribed by the Merchant Seaman's Act, for masters of vessels.

Moved by Sir F. Le Hunte, J.P., and seconded by J. Walsh, esq., J.P., and unanimously passed—

That the best thanks of the Board be given to H. P. Clarke, esq., Inspector of National schools for the Wexford district, for the information so kindly afforded by him upon which the foregoing resolution was founded; and also for the uniform attention he has shown to this Board since his appointment to the district, and for the assistance he has rendered from time to time in the selection of teachers for the schools of this workhouse.

Resolved, that a copy of the foregoing resolutions be forwarded to the Commissioners of National Education by the Clerk of the Union.

To the Right Honorable and Honorable the Commissioners of National Education.*

My Lords and Gentlemen,—We, the undersigned clergy, gentry, landholders, merchants, and traders of the county Wexford, being aware of the advantages that would be conferred on our county by the establishment of a district model school, such as have been instituted in other cities and towns of the kingdom by your Board, request that you may be pleased to take measures, at as early a date as possible, to erect one of these institutions for the Wexford district. We are aware that the difficulty of obtaining properly qualified teachers to conduct the workhouse schools is felt very sensibly by the Board of Poor Law Guardians and also by the patrons of schools generally throughout the county—an evil which would be entirely obviated by the arrangements of your Board in the model schools for training young persons of both sexes for such situations. We are also of opinion that land should be attached to the establishment for the purpose of giving instruction to the pupils in the principles and practice of the most improved systems of farming; and that a nautical department for the ports of the county Wexford should be attached to teach the course prescribed under the Merchant Seaman's Act, for masters and mates of vessels, &c.

Education Office,
Feb. 27, 1856.

Sir,—We have laid before the Commissioners of National Education your letter of the 8th ultimo,* transmitting a copy of a Resolution of the Board of Guardians of the above union, praying for the establishment of a district model school at Wexford.

The Commissioners have also had before them the report of the Inspector of the district, to whom the application was referred for the usual information.

From his report it appears that the educational wants of the locality are already well supplied by the existing National and other schools, the managers of which could scarcely be expected to give the proposed model school their cordial support.

Under the circumstances the Commissioners must decline the application, not being prepared to incur so large an expenditure in establishing a school, the success of which appears so uncertain.

You are requested to lay this letter before the Board of Guardians at their next meeting.

We are, sir, your obedient servants,

(Signed) Maurice Cross, James Kelly, } Secretaries.

The Clerk of the Poor Law Union,
Wexford.

Extract from the Minutes of the Board of National Education, dated May 9, 1856.

Read letter (District 40) from Mr. H. P. Clarke, District Inspector, reporting favourably of Enniscorthy as an eligible locality in which to establish a district model school, and stating the Earl of Portsmouth, the lord of the soil, is prepared to grant a lease of a suitable site on very reasonable terms.

Ordered, that Mr. Clarke be directed to obtain from the Earl of Portsmouth's agent an abstract of his lordship's leasing powers.

Extract from the Minutes of the Board of National Education, dated August 8, 1856.

The Secretary lays before the Board the Correspondence with Mr. H. P. Clarke, District Inspector, respecting the establishment of a district model school at Enniscorthy, county Wexford.

Ordered, that the Board approve of the building of a district model literary school, consisting of male, female, and infants' departments, in the town of Enniscorthy, and that the offer of a site by the Earl of Portsmouth be accepted, subject to the architect's approval of its eligibility as regards building purposes.

Ordered, that the District Inspector be informed of the foregoing minute, and that he be directed to acquaint Lord Portsmouth's agent that no steps can be taken towards the commencement of the works until the lease shall have been executed.

Ordered further, that instructions be given to the architect to visit and report upon the site specified in Mr. Clarke's report, viz., that adjoining the town on the New Ross road. Enniscorthy District Model School.

Ordered further, that the secretary be directed to acquaint the Mayor of Wexford and the Chairman of the Board of Guardians, of the foregoing minute deciding upon the erection of a district model school at Enniscorthy.

Extract from the Minutes of the Board of National Education, dated September 19, 1856.

Read letter from Mr. J. W. Kavanagh, Head Inspector, stating that in his opinon, and for reasons which he mentions, the success of the model school which the Commissioners have resolved on establishing at Enniscorthy (by B. O., 8, 8, 56), is very doubtful, and depends upon such a variety of circumstances that he suggests the matter should be reconsidered by the Commissioners.†

Ordered, that Mr. Kavanagh be informed that the Commissioners have attentively perused his letter, but that they cannot now recede from their engagements, having accepted Lord Portsmouth's offer of a site, and also pledged themselves to several influential persons who have expressed an interest in the undertaking.

Extract from the Minutes of the Board, dated 26 June, 1857.

Read letter from Mr. Darley, architect, reporting that having examined the plot of ground, containing two Irish acres, proposed as the site of the intended Model School in Enniscorthy, he considers it in every respect most eligible for building purposes.

Ordered, that the site referred to be approved, subject to a satisfactory report being received from Mr. Darley, as regards the foundations of the proposed building.

Extract from the Minutes of the Board of National Education, dated 18 September, 1857.

Ordered, that the site conditionally approved by minute of the 26th June last, be now finally sanctioned, subject to the extra expense as stated in the architect's report; that Messrs. Geale and Dwyer be requested to take steps for the preparation of the lease on the terms and tenure already agreed upon; and that the Board of Works be informed that on the execution of the lease, the Commissioners will call upon them to prepare the plans, &c., of the proposed building.

Extract from the Minutes of the Board of National Education, dated 11 December, 1857.

Read letter from Mr. H. P. Clarke, Sub-Inspector, acquainting the Commissioners that the Rector of Enniscorthy, the Very Rev. the Dean of Emly, will not offer any opposition to the establishment of the Enniscorthy District Model School, but that he does not, as yet, feel himself in a position to make any promise as to whether he will attend to give religious instruction to the pupils of his persuasion.

The Secretary receives no instruction.

Extract from the Minutes of the Board of National Education, dated 19 February, 1858.

Read letter from Messrs. Geale and Dwyer, reporting that the lease of the site of the Enniscorthy District Model School is now ready for execution by the grantor, the Earl of Portsmouth, and enclosing copy of a communication from Mr. Ellis, his lordship's agent, promising to get his signature to the deed in June next, at which time he (Mr. E.) usually goes over to England on business of this nature, adding that, in the meantime, the Commissioners may act as if the instrument were perfected.

Ordered, that Messrs. Geale and Dwyer be informed that the Commissioners cannot take any steps towards commencing the erection of the buildings until the lease shall have been executed; but, in the meantime, there will be no objection to give directions for the preparation of the plans.

Ordered also, that the Board of Works be requested to prepare the necessary plans, in accordance with the views of the Commissioners, as expressed in their minute of the 18th September, 1857, and Secretaries' letter of the 26th of the same month.

Extract from the Minutes of the Board of National Education, dated 13 August, 1858.

Read letter from Messrs. Geale and Dwyer, forwarding the lease and counterpart of the site of the proposed district model school at Enniscorthy, for execution on the part of the Commissioners.

The Commissioners approve of the deeds, and their corporate seal is affixed thereto.

Extract from the Minutes of the Board of National Education, dated 17 June, 1859.

Ordered, that the plans [of Enniscorthy District Model School] with the alterations suggested by the Head and District Inspectors be approved.

Cost, £5,000.

Extract from the Minutes of the Board of National Education, dated 2 December, 1859.

Read letter from the Secretary to the Board of Works, intimating that the tender of Mr. Pat Kerr, of No. 95, Leinster-road, has been accepted for the erection of the district model school at Enniscorthy—amount, £4,842.

Saint Peter's College, Wexford,
December 14, 1859.

Gentlemen,—I find that the contract for the erection of a model school in Enniscorthy has been concluded, and that the necessary preparations are being made for carrying it into execution.

It is now more than two years since the Inspector of National schools in this district waited on me, apparently with the view of ascertaining my sentiments on this subject.

I then informed him that I was decidedly opposed to the establishment of a model school in Enniscorthy, and that, were it established, I should feel myself called on to exert all the authority and influence I possessed to prevent the Catholic children of the town and neighbourhood from frequenting it.

My signature attached not long since to the pastoral address of the Roman Catholic Archbishops and Bishops to the Roman Catholic clergymen and people of Ireland, furnishes unequivocal proof that my sentiments on the subject remain unchanged.

Lest, however, my silence on this present occasion might be construed into something like acquiescence in this project, I now formally protest against the introduction into this diocese of an institution long since repudiated by myself and lately so emphatically condemned by the united Catholic episcopacy.

I never can approve of an educational establishment whose constitution, rejecting all episcopal control, necessarily endangers the faith of the Catholic children who may resort to it.

However high-minded and honorable the officials connected with the contemplated model school of Enniscorthy may be, I cannot abandon to their safe keeping the sacred deposit, for the custody of which I am myself responsible, and which I am bound to guard with a jealous vigilance and a watchful care.

Allow me to say that ample provision is already made for the educational wants of the Catholic youth of Enniscorthy.

In a town containing a population of about 6,000 Catholics, there are, besides three private Catholic schools, four public schools for gratuitous education—three in actual operation—a fourth nearly completed, and to be opened next March.

Two religious communities have charge of the education of the female children, the male children are educated by the Christian Brothers, whose superior system of education and efficiency as teachers is sufficiently guaranteed by authentic testimony of recent date, which the Commissioners will not dispute.

I object, therefore, to the establishment of a model school in Enniscorthy as a wanton waste of public money—as an act of defiance to the Catholic bishop of the diocese, and the clergy and people who share his sentiments, and a premeditated aggression on the jurisdiction and authority that rightfully belongs to him.

I look upon it as an attempt to impose on the Catholic people of Enniscorthy, a degrading and demoralizing intellectual servitude by forcing on them a system of education incompatible with Catholic discipline, and dangerous to Catholic faith.

It is painful to me to pen these lines. Contention of any kind is uncongenial to my feelings, but I cannot renounce my office—I cannot forget my right—identified with my duty of protecting, to the utmost of my power, the faith and morals of the Catholic youth intrusted to my pastoral care.

Gentlemen, I have the honour to remain your obedient servant,

8,127/59. Office of National Education,
January 21, 1860.

My Lord,—Having laid before the Board of National Education your letter of the 14th December last,* we are directed to state that the Commissioners have read with concern that communication, and to express their regret that the proposed establishment of a district model school at Enniscorthy has not the advantage of your concurrence.

The Commissioners arrived at the conclusion that it was their duty to establish such a school in the county Wexford, in consequence of resolutions forwarded to them which were passed unanimously at a meeting of the Board of Guardians of the Wexford Poor Law Union, praying the Commissioners to found a model school for the benefit of the district; and the Commissioners selected Enniscorthy, on the strong recommendation of the Inspectors, after due inquiry, as the most eligible locality for the erection of the buildings.

The Commissioners accordingly made all the preliminary arrangements for the purpose, having obtained the sanction of the Lords of Her Majesty's Treasury and Parliament for the requisite expenditure.

In the establishment of such schools the Commissioners have regarded the general duties attached to their position as trustees of the funds devoted by Parliament to the education of Her Majesty's subjects in Ireland of all religious denominations, and they have erected and established such institutions in various important towns, notwithstanding the want of concurrence of prelates and clergy of the Established Church; and with all respect for your position, the Commissioners must decline entering into any discussion or controversy on the matters propounded in your letter, protesting however, as they do, in the strongest terms against the imputations that their establishment of this school is designed "to impose on the Catholic people of Enniscorthy a degrading and demoralizing intellectual servitude."

We have the honour, &c.,

* Board's Minute, dated January 20, 1860.

1,163/60.

St. Peter's College, Wexford,
February 4, 1860.

GENTLEMEN,—I am in receipt of your letter dated January 21st, and I beg to say that almost continual absence from home, since then, has alone prevented an earlier acknowledgment of it.

The Commissioners, I find, decline entering into any discussion or controversy on the matters propounded in my letter of the 14th December last. I rejoice that our inclinations on that point are happily in perfect accordance. I have no ambition whatever to gratify in that way, nor can I discover any grounds for discussion or controversy in that plain statement of facts which my letter contained, or in the inferences evidently deduced from them.

The Commissioners protest in the strongest terms against the imputation that their establishment of a model school in Enniscorthy is designed to impose on the Catholic people of that town a degrading and demoralizing intellectual servitude. The word "designed" does not properly convey my meaning. It has been used by the Commissioners, not by me. What I did impute to them before, and impute at present, is an attempt to impose on the Catholic people of Enniscorthy what I believe, and, in my opinion, the Commissioners ought to believe, to be correctly designated a degrading and demoralizing servitude, for what else is it to force on them a system of education uncongenial to their feelings and at variance with their religious principles and convictions?

The Commissioners state that such institutions have been established in various towns notwithstanding the want of concurrence of prelates and clergy of the Established Church. It is not for me to determine what amount of deference is due by the Commissioners to the prelates and clergy of the Established Church, or whether the slight shown to a Catholic bishop and his clergy is counterbalanced by equal disregard exhibited towards them. I plead only for the rights of the Catholic clergy and people of this diocese, and I maintain that the Commissioners, as discharging a public trust and dispensing the public money, whatever consideration they may extend to others, are bound to respect the wishes and feelings of the vast majority of its population.

But the irresistibly cogent reasons which have induced the Commissioners to erect a model school in Enniscorthy, are first certain resolutions forwarded to them from the Board of Guardians of the Wexford Poor Law Union praying for the establishment of such a school for benefit of the district; and secondly, a strong recommendation from the Local Inspector of National schools to choose Enniscorthy as the most eligible locality for the erection of the buildings.

There is an apparent dexterity here in linking together cause and effect, which seems not quite consistent with candour. The Commissioners omit to mention the date of these resolutions, the individual who suggested them, and the reply given at the time to the request of the Wexford Poor Law Guardians. The facts are simply as follow:—So far back as 1855 the establishment of a model school in the town of Wexford was introduced to the notice of the Guardians by the Inspector of the district. In a subsequent meeting of the Board on the 5th January, 1856, in conformity with the strong recommendation of the Inspector, who was present on the occasion, the resolutions referred to were drawn up, and an order given that they should be communicated to the Commissioners of National Education. It should be borne in mind that these resolutions were framed and forwarded at a time when the model schools were not formally condemned by the united Catholic episcopacy of Ireland, when the attention of the Catholic laity of the county Wexford was not directed to their peculiarly objectionable characters and constitutions, and before the National system of education generally presented to the public eye the decided sectarian complexion by which it is at present signalized.

On the 27th of the following month a letter was addressed to the Guardians by the Secretaries of the Board, stating that the Commissioners had before them the resolutions of the Board of Guardians praying for the establishment of a district model school at Wexford, and also the report of the Inspector of the district to whom the application was referred for the usual information, that from his report it appeared that the educational want of the locality was already well supplied by the existing National and other schools, the managers of which could scarcely be expected to give the proposed model school their cordial support, and that under these circumstances the Commissioners declined the application, not being prepared to incur so large an expenditure in establishing a school the success of which appeared so uncertain. Enniscorthy District Model School.

We have now before us the strange eventful history of the resolutions of the Wexford Board of Poor Law Guardians. In the month of January, 1856, the Local Inspector urges on the Board the expediency of having a model school established in the town of Wexford, proving from figures that its educational wants were by no means adequately supplied. The Board accordingly frames and orders to be forwarded a resolution praying for its establishment. In the following February the Commissioners decline to accede to the request of the Board on the ground that, according to the report of the same Inspector, the educational wants of the locality were already well supplied. But after the lapse of nearly four years this same resolution of the Wexford Board of Guardians praying for the establishment of a model school in the town of Wexford furnishes to the Commissioners, on the report again of the same Inspector, a conclusive reason for establishing such a school in Enniscorthy, where neither the Board of Guardians, nor any individual Guardian, nor any Catholic inhabitant of the locality, nor as far as I know, any Protestant, applied for its establishment. After the Catholic bishop of the diocese had repeatedly declared his decided opposition to such a school, the educational wants of the locality being as I have shown in my former letter abundantly supplied by the existing National and other schools, the managers of which may be expected not only not to give the proposed model school their cordial support, but on the contrary, to offer it steadily and perseveringly their hearty determined opposition—such a course of proceeding requires no commentary.

Let me at parting assure the Commissioners that this vigorous display of disregard for the just wishes and demands of the Catholic prelates will not in the slightest degree intimidate or disconcert them—that it is unwise and impolitic in a public body, depending for its support on public confidence, ostentatiously to defy those whom the people love and venerate—that I myself and the Catholic clergy of Enniscorthy have had more than one proof of the submission and docility of its faithful people—that the proposed model school, with all its attractions, will not lure them from their fidelity to their pastors—and that with the Divine blessing not one Catholic child shall ever cross its threshold.

Enniskillen District Model School.

Enniskillen District Model School.

Belleisle, Lisbellaw, Enniskillen,
August 28, 1857.

Sir,—With great pleasure I enclose to you a memorial from residents in town of Enniskillen, and in county of Fermanagh, requesting the Commissioners of National Education to establish in Enniskillen one of their district model schools.

My father, the Rev. J. G. Porter, would have been this week in Dublin, on his return from the baths of Aix-la-Chapelle, and would have in person presented this memorial to your Board, but I fear he has been detained in England, and to prevent delay, send the memorial at once to your office.

It is unnecessary for me to show either the great local advantage of this school to Enniskillen, or the benefits that the 140 small National schools now in Fermanagh would derive from its establishment in their leading central town, both in public opinion of their system, and as a standard and example to raise the quality of their teachers, houses, rooms, fittings-up, &c.

The signatures attached, their number, and from men of all creeds and ranks, and of the highest character, show the most promising, and general wish henceforward to make the best use of the system of education which for twenty-five years every government in Ireland has promoted and supported in the most steady and liberal manner.

Your obedient servant,

T. G. Porter.

Secretaries, National Education
Commissioners.

We, the undersigned residents of the town of Enniskillen and county Fermanagh, request the Commissioners of National Education in Ireland to establish a head or district school here, both for its local use to the children of the town, and as an example of the best advantages of the National system to the 140 National schools in this county :—

Extract from Minutes of the Board, dated
4 September, 1857.

Mr. Porter to be informed (with reference to his letter of the 28th August, '57) that the Commissioners are much gratified at receiving a memorial from so many respectable inhabitants of Enniskillen on the subject—that they have taken steps to build three additional model schools—viz., at Derry, N. T. Ards, and Enniscorthy; that they have applied to Parliament for the requisite funds to carry out the object, and that until the period shall have arrived for submitting to Parliament their estimate for the year 1858–9—it will not be in their power to make any augmentation in the number of this class of schools. But they have given instruction to the secretaries that this memorial shall be again laid before them at the proper time.

Extracts from Minutes of the Board, dated
20 November, 1857.

District Inspector to obtain information on the following points :—

I. The number of inhabitants in Enniskillen, of the different religious denominations.

II. The number of children likely to attend a district model school, if established.

III. The state of public opinion in Enniskillen and its neighbourhood, regarding the expediency of establishing the proposed school.

IV. The probability of obtaining an eligible site at a moderate rent.

Enniskillen, December 12, 1857.

Gentlemen,—In reply to your letter of the 1st instant, in reference to a memorial from the residents of this town and neighbourhood, praying for the establishment of a model school at Enniskillen,

I beg to state—I. That, according to the Census return, there were 5,949 inhabitants in Enniskillen in the year 1851, and the population has been increasing; of the above number about 2,000 are Roman Catholics, the remainder are Protestants—above 1,000 being of the Methodist connexion. Presbyterians are not numerous.

II. There is here the endowed school of Portora, which is principally devoted to the education of the sons of the gentry. To meet the wants of a mercantile education a branch school from Portora has been opened in town. This arrangement has not been at all satisfactory to the inhabitants, nor has it succeeded; and there is a want felt of a suitable provision for a good English education. The proposed school would be expected to supply this want, and from all the information I have been able to obtain, I believe such a school might open with about 100 pupils. This attendance might go on increasing until it would reach 300,—say 200 males, and 100 females.

III. The names appended to the memorial may well be taken as representing the state of public opinion in Enniskillen and its neighbourhood, regarding the expediency of establishing the proposed school. On it are the names of a respectable middle class, representing the different political and religious sections of the community; and I have much confidence in saying such a school would be very popular, and esteemed a great privilege.

IV. Three different sites have been brought under my consideration, which would be all more or less eligible.

1. In the south-east end of the town there is a tenement on the main street, 75 feet in front, and extending about 100 feet to the rere. The town Corporation are the proprietors in fee, but a lease of 75 years would be given by the occupying tenant on reasonable terms. The objection to this site is, that it is at the end of, rather than in, the town, which might prevent the regular attendance of many children. It is also in the neighbourhood of the public gas works.

2. In the centre of the town is a tenement 53 feet in front, and extending 166 ft. to the rere. The main street is on the front, and in the rere is one leading to the poor class of houses. These premises could be had on a lease renewable for ever—the present lives being respectively 17 and 15 years. The objection here is a cellar extending 10 feet across the front, the right of access to which is leased off.

3. A few perches from the above, and having the same desirable qualifications of proximity to the public thoroughfare, and ready access to the houses of the poorer class, is another tenement about 60 feet in front, 70 do. in the rere, and about 200 do. in depth. A lease in perpetuity could be had of this, and, I believe, on reasonable terms.

I beg to recommend the application to the favourable consideration of the Commissioners, and the site last described as being the most suitable.

I am, gentlemen, your obedient servant,
James Brown, District Inspector, No. 12.

The Secretaries, &c., &c.

Extract from Minutes of the Board, dated February
26, 1858.

The Commissioners consider the plot of ground recommended as not at all of sufficient extent; and that, as no other suitable site appears to be available, the question of establishing a district model school in Enniskillen be deferred for the present.

Belleisle, October 24, 1859.

Sir,—I beg to request the attention of the Commissioners to the well-signed memorial for a model National school in Enniskillen, which I had the honour to forward to them in August, 1857; also to their letter to me, September 14, 1857, and June 1, 1858, that this memorial would be again considered by them in this year, 1859, though their funds, allotted to this special class of school for 1857 and 1858, had been already engaged for other places.

As to getting the best site I would suggest that the most prudent course would be, for the Board, by public advertisement in the local newspapers, stating the minimum one required, and within what distance of the town, to request tenders to be sent to your local Inspector.

Your obedient servant,
J. G. V. Porter.

Sir,—We have laid before the Commissioners of National Education your letter of the 24th ult., calling attention to a memorial forwarded to them by you some time ago, on behalf of the establishment of a district model school in the town of Enniskillen.*

We are directed to state that, when the Commissioners last had the memorial before them, they took into consideration, as you are aware, whether Sligo or Enniskillen should be selected as the most eligible locality for the erection of a district model school; you are also aware that, for various reasons, the Board decided in favour of Sligo.

We are further directed to inform you, that the Commissioners are not at present prepared to add to the number of district model schools; at the same time this decision is not to be understood as precluding them from considering the claims of Enniskillen at some future period.

Belleisle, December 31, 1859.

Sir,—I have the honour to send you, to be laid before the Commissioners of National Education, another memorial from residents in the town of Enniskillen and county of Fermanagh, praying for the establishment of a model National school at Enniskillen, the numerous signatures to which, from men of all our different creeds, and chosen by public votes to fill our highest local civic offices, will fully show the general and reasonable desire for the establishment of this public institution, as soon as possible, at Enniskillen, and the great wish to that effect has not been changed since the former memorial in August, 1857.

I will merely take the liberty to add that if it is given to any town to claim one of these excellent institutes, from the liberal grant of Parliament, I think few towns in Ireland can put forward stronger reasons, either from its own wants, or from the great prospective advantage to the National system, likely to arise from this example in so central and stirring a town, the social and commercial capital of the north-west of Ireland, and where, hitherto, public opinion has been supposed to be adverse to your Board.

It will be a great pleasure to me if in any or by any trouble I can promote this good purpose. Enniskillen District Model School.

In reply we are directed to refer you to our last letter on this subject, dated 8th November last, in which you were informed that the Commissioners were not then prepared to add to the number of their district model schools, but that this decision was not to be understood as precluding them from considering the claims of Enniskillen at some future period.

The Commissioners further direct us to acquaint you, that they have no funds at their disposal which would enable them to accede to the prayer of the memorial, and erect a district model school at Enniskillen during the present year, but that should they determine upon adding to the number of these institutions at a future period, they will be happy to consider the claims of Enniskillen as well as those which may be put forward from other localities.

PROPOSED MODEL SCHOOL AT ENNISKILLEN.

Belleisle, October 11, 1860.

SIR,—I beg to enclose to you a copy of my letter of September 22nd to Mr. Cardwell, and both of which please to send back to the Secretaries of the National Education Board, and his letter of October 9th, referring me to you for an answer, which I now ask.

ENNISKILLEN MODEL NATIONAL SCHOOL.

Belleisle, Lisbellaw, September 22, 1860.

SIR,—So far back as 1857, and again in 1859, I had the honour to forward to the National Education Board a strong memorial from the Town Commissioners, residents, &c., of all creeds in Enniskillen for the establishment there of a model National school, both for the benefit of the children of a populous and rising town, and as a good example to the numerous small National schools (more than 140) scattered over this county (Fermanagh).

This most fair application has been twice postponed, owing to financial reasons, and to the Board's prior engagements to other towns; but Mr. Macdonnell, who knows all the circumstances of the case, and how useful a model school in so great and stirring a centre of public opinion as Enniskillen, would be to the National system under his care, has the kindness to tell me that the time has now come when its establishment may be included by you in your estimates for next year, and I trust you may enable me to give this favourable answer to the memorialists.

Office of National Education,
November 2, 1860.

SIR,—We are directed to state that the Commissioners of National Education have resolved to apply to the Board of Public Works to include in their estimate for 1861-2 a sum towards the erection of a district model school in Enniskillen; but we are to add that no steps can be taken with regard to leasing a site, or to the preparation of the plans, until the Government shall have sanctioned the establishment of such schools, and the Parliament shall have voted the necessary funds during the ensuing session.*

Enniskillen, September 24, 1861.

At a meeting of the Town Commissioners convened by summons to take into consideration some matters relative to the new National model school, for which a grant has been given by the Commissioners of National Education, a large number of the Town Commissioners, with the Chairman, were present,—the following resolution was proposed by Dr. Mahood, and seconded by Mr. James Creden,—

That the Town Commissioners of Enniskillen feel themselves in duty bound to express their gratitude to the Commissioners of National Education for the very liberal spirit with which the Commissioners have met the requirements of this town and neighbourhood in granting a district school equal to the wants of the people, and that the Town Commissioners will in every way co-operate with the Commissioners of National Education in obtaining a proper site for the proposed district school.

EXTRACT from MINUTES of the BOARD, dated February 14, 1862.

The Secretary informs the Commissioners that provision has been made in this year's estimate for the erection of a district model school in Enniskillen, and that instructions were some time since forwarded to the Head and District Inspectors to proceed to visit such sites as may be deemed eligible in the town or immediate neighbourhood, and to make a full report as to the suitability of each, and the terms on which it may be offered.

ENNISKILLEN DISTRICT MODEL SCHOOL.—REPORT on SITE.

Enniskillen, February 1, 1862.

GENTLEMEN,—With reference to your letter of the 13th September last, relative to the site for the Enniskillen model school, we beg to submit this report.

In the course of our inquiry we have had from time to time four different sites brought under notice, on two of which reports have already been sent forward by the Head Inspector. One being a site in the middle of the town, offered by Mr. B. Gamble, the extent of which was utterly insufficient; the other a site offered by John Collum, esq., in reply to local advertisements. The letter containing this offer is dated October 21—it was sent forward to the office with a letter from the Head Inspector, dated January 17, in reply to the official letter then received—this site we cannot recommend.

It now remains to consider the eligibility of the two remaining sites, each of which has advantages which the other does not possess.

The first of these, and that one which we regard as the most advantageous, is on the road leading to Dublin, very near the railway station, and only four or five minutes' walk from that end of the town. A lease will be given in perpetuity by the Hon. Mr. Corry, at the yearly rent of ten pounds per statute acre. We append a portion of the correspondence with reference to the site. Mr. Corry's letter marked (1), and the letter making the offer and stating the conditions from his agent, Mr. Dane, marked (2).

Another site offered by the Town Commissioners of Enniskillen on the eminence known as Forthill. This would be more central, and the building would occupy a more commanding position, but there are drawbacks of a serious nature which lead us to the conclusion that the site on Mr. Corry's ground is to be preferred.

The space of ground available on the Forthill is limited in area, and the whole extent available is estimated at about one statute acre and a quarter. The rent proposed to be charged for this is £15 per annum.

But it is believed that a short Act of Parliament would be required in order to enable the Commissioners to give a lease in perpetuity, as their powers in this respect are limited by Charter.

Moreover, the difficulty of bringing building materials to this site would greatly increase the cost of the building, while the circumstance that a steep hill has to be ascended takes away considerably from the apparent advantage of a central position.

We append two resolutions on this subject, passed unanimously by the Town Commissioners, with the letters from the Chairman forwarded to the District Inspector. The last of these is dated January 24; they are marked (3) and (4) respectively.†

Considering the legal and architectural difficulties connected with the Forthill site, and also taking into account the steep ascent and descent, with the probability of the space available being inadequate, we beg to recommend that the site on Mr. Corry's ground be selected, and that steps be taken as early as possible for having the works proceeded with.

A letter has been addressed to the District Inspector on the subject of the extent of accommodation which in the opinion of the writer (the Rev. Dr. Magee) should be provided. We beg to append the letter, which is marked (5).

We have the honour to be, gentlemen, your very obedient servants,

W. A. Hunter, Head Inspector,
James Brown, District Inspector, No. 13.

The Secretaries, Education Office.

Charter Hill, September 21, 1861.

James Brown, esq.

Sir,—As I understand that the model school about to be built in Enniskillen is calculated to accommodate not more than 350 pupils, I beg to draw your attention to the desirableness of building upon a somewhat larger scale.

The number of children on the rolls of the parochial school is 150, infant school 80—total, 230; of these, the average attendance might be calculated at 150 at least. It nearly amounts to that at present, although the parochial schools are only recently re-organized, and far from being as full as they might be.

The number of Roman Catholic inhabitants of Enniskillen being equal to that of the Protestants, gives 150 near for them—total 300.

To these must be added all those boys, sons of shopkeepers and others, now attending Portora Royal School as day boys, but whose parents all contemplate sending them to the model school.

Say for these 40, and you have a total of at least 340 pupils who may reasonably be expected to enter the model school at once. But allowing a margin of 40 for possible errors in my calculation, and you have at least 300 pupils nearly for the model school on the day of its completion.

This, however leaves out of consideration the pupils who would certainly be attracted from the neighbouring country districts, and allows nothing, too, for the growth of population and the increase of the town—an increase which the very existence of a good model school would itself tend in some degree to promote.

I am convinced, therefore, that if the proposed model school be built for only 350 scholars, that in a very short time it will be found too small for the requirements of the place, and the Commissioners would then be called on to enlarge it at a much greater cost than the necessary additions could now be made for in the course of the original buildings.

But there is another reason why it seems to us very important that ample room should be supplied from the first.

It is that there is a danger in all model schools of the children of the poorer class being crowded out by those of the middle class, and so a great State provision for the education of all being perverted into an exclusive privilege for those who least need State aid. I greatly fear that if the schools be not built on a tolerably liberal scale here, that this would be the certain result.

There being, I understand, a fixed ratio between the three grades of payments in the model school, I have no doubt that all the first and second-class graduates would be filled at once by the children of the shopkeepers, and even the better class, whose parents are keenly alive to the benefits of a good education.

The poorer class would, for many reasons, be slower to avail themselves of educational advantages, and their space would, most probably, be not filled-up at first, and would, therefore, be appropriated to the other two.

The result would be that the school would, from the first, assume the character of an exclusively middle-class seminary. The poor finding themselves, when they did come, greatly in the minority, would gradually withdraw—if they did not find themselves almost entirely excluded almost from the first. Enniskillen District Model School.

The practical result would be a great abuse of the money of the State—a select school for the children of the middle classes—and none, or hardly any of the poorer classes (for whose benefit surely the State grant was mainly intended) able to avail themselves of it. I confess I feel most keenly anxious that this evil should be prevented, and I am convinced it can duly be so by building the school on a scale large enough to allow room for the poor to come in, as they will come more slowly than the others.

For all these reasons I am convinced that the scale of the proposed schools is too small, and that schools for 400 or 450 are absolutely necessary to the success of the effort about to be made to raise the standard of education in this place.

I do most earnestly hope for the success of that effort. No pains on my part shall be wanting to promote it; but I am convinced that the efficiency of the schools depends mainly upon their being built on a large and liberal scale, sufficiently so to provide for the wants of a place so important, and a population so intelligent and so eager for education as that of Enniskillen.

I am, sir, your obedient servant,
N. C. Magee.

Extract from the Minutes of the Board, dated February 14, 1862.

Ordered, that the Commissioners take three statute acres of Mr. Corry's land for the purpose of the intended model National school, at the yearly rent of £10 per statute acre, and on a lease in perpetuity, provided the Board of Works report that the plot is eligible for building purposes, and that the arrangement of the three acres, as to the extent of frontage, depth, &c., will render the soil suitable for the purposes of the school.

Extract from Minutes of the Board, dated March 14, 1862.

Read letter dated 12th March, 1862, from the Board of Works, transmitting copy of architect's report in regard to the three acres of land at Enniskillen agreed to be taken from the Honorable Mr. Corry by Board's Order, 14th February, 1862, for the purpose of the intended district model National school in that town; and stating, with reference to the Secretaries' letter of the 19th February, 1862, asking to know his opinion as to its eligibility as a building site, and the manner in which the three acres should be placed so as to give the required frontage, &c., that having inspected the whole land offered by Mr. Corry for selection, he has chosen the part presenting the least number of difficulties, and which he has indicated in red ink on the Ordnance map accompanying his report, lying about the angle between the Castlecoole and Lisnaskea roads.

Ordered, that the Commissioners will take the plot indicated on the map, at the yearly rent of £10 per statute acre; and that application be made to Mr. Dane, Mr. Corry's agent, to ascertain whether, in addition, the Board can obtain the ground included in the triangle formed by the plot marked in red, and the meeting of the Castlecoole and Lisnaskea roads, on the side next Enniskillen, at the same rent of £10 the statute acre; and if so, he is to be requested to send up an accurate map of the whole, showing the exact quantity of ground in both plots, with the dimensions and boundaries.

Extract from Minutes of the Board, dated 22 May, 1862.

Read letter dated 25th March, 1862, from W. A. Dane, esq., stating in reply to Board's order of the 14th March, that Mr. Corry is willing to give the additional land for the Enniskillen Model School which is included in the triangle formed by the plot marked in red, and the meeting of the Castlecoole and Lisnaskea roads, at a rent of £10 per statute acre, but on condition that steps be taken to secure proper drainage as pointed out in Mr. Dane's letter; and also, that the Commissioners shall make a road from the Dublin road to the Castlecoole road.

Read also letter from the Board of Works dated the 7th May, 1862, stating in reply to inquiry as to the advisability of agreeing to the above conditions and the probable cost of the drainage and road, that they see no objection to the condition that steps be taken to secure proper drainage through the school land, for the lands adjoining now provided for by the existing open drains, which should be covered in at a cost of about £300. But that as regards the proposed road they see no reason why the expense should be borne by the Commissioners of National Education, for the following amongst other reasons, viz., that by making a gate on the school land boundary, all purposes would be answered so far as regards the convenience of those attending the schools.

Ordered, that the Commissioners will agree to the condition regarding the drainage as set forth above; but they decline to be at the expense of making the proposed road, as it is not required for the purpose of the projected model school.

Extract from Minute of the Board dated 20 June, 1862.

Read letter dated 30th May, 1862, from W. A Dane, esq., agent to the Honorable H. Corry, proprietor of the ground proposed to be taken for the Enniskillen Model School, stating in reply to the Board's order of the 22nd May, that he is satisfied to abandon the project of making a road from the Dublin to the Castlecoole road, the drainage of the adjoining land to be carried into effect as already agreed to.

Ordered, that the Commissioners will now take from the Honorable Mr. Corry the entire of the ground comprising the portion agreed on by Board's order of the 14th March, and the additional plot included in the triangle between the Castlecoole and Lisnaskea roads, as referred to in that minute; the whole site containing six acres three roods and twenty-three perches English measure, as shown on the map and survey sent in Mr. Dane's letter on a lease in perpetuity, at a rent of £10 per acre.

Ordered also, that the map be sent to Messrs. Geale and Dwyer, with instructions to communicate with Mr. Dane, with a view to preparing the lease of the plot for execution (if approved), with as little delay as possible.

Received 16th May, 1865.

To the Honorable the Board of Commissioners of National Education, Ireland.

Galway District Model School.

5,869, X.

My dear Macdonnell,—I send you a letter from the active and intelligent m.p. for Galway. I will candidly tell you that I counselled the application, and I hope it will be favourably received on Thursday. I think the capital of the west is entitled to a model school.

Yours truly,
(Signed), Thomas Redington.

Right Honorable A. Macdonnell.

Knockbane, Galway,
September 3, 1849.

My dear Sir,—Knowing the deep interest you feel for the improvements of this country in general, I wish through you to bring under the consideration of the Board of Commissioners of National Education, of which you are a member, the subject of the establishment of a district model school at Galway.

Finding a great anxiety to exist amongst all classes in the locality for the establishment of such an institution, I now consider it my duty, as one of the representatives of the town of Galway, to submit our claim to the favourable consideration of the Commissioners; and fully acquainted, as you are with the requirements of this district, I feel I cannot place its advocacy in more appropriate or abler hands.

There can be no difficulty in providing a suitable site, as many such offer in the neighbourhood of the new college, and it will afford me great pleasure to aid in every way that the Commissioners may think my services of use in promoting the most desirable object.

Pray pardon the liberty I take in thus troubling you, and soliciting your kind advocacy in our behalf.

I am, my dear sir, yours most truly,
A. O'Flaherty, m.p.

Sir Thomas N. Redington.

Education Office,
September 11, 1849.

Sir,—Your letter of the 3rd instant, addressed to Sir Thomas Redington, with reference to the establishment of a district model school at Galway, having been laid before the Commissioners of National Education, we are directed to reply as follows* :—

* Board's Minute, dated September 6, 1849.

The Commissioners, out of the parliamentary grant for the present year, have funds for the erection of only two district model schools, and the site of one has already been fixed upon and the lease executed.

The Commissioners will be happy to consider your application, for which we send the terms on which it is to be made.

You will please to state the precise situation of the ground upon which you propose the buildings should be erected and the nature of the lease, bearing in mind that, as the expenditure will be considerable, the Commissioners will require a long term of years.

As the Commissioners won't require more than three acres of land in addition to the ground necessary for the buildings, the rent should be merely nominal.

The propriety of establishing an agricultural department must be a matter for further consideration.

As soon as you return to us the forms of application, duly filled, we shall direct the Inspector of the district to visit and report, and when all the circumstances of the case are fully before them, the Commissioners will lose no time in coming to a decision.

We have the honour to be, sir,

Your obedient servants,

(Signed), MAURICE CROSS,
JAMES KELLY.

A. O'Flaherty, esq., M.P., Knockbane, Galway.

Galway, February 14, 1850.

GENTLEMEN,—We arrived here on Monday and proceeded at once to make inquiries in accordance with the instructions we received on the 26th ultimo regarding the sites that might be proposed for the erection of a district model school in the town of Galway, and have been engaged in this business until the present day.

The gentlemen for whom we were favoured with letters of introduction by Sir Thomas N. Redington, K.C.B., received us in the kindest manner, and gave us every information in their power.

The first site, marked No. 1, on the accompanying map, opposite the College gate, and adjoining the canal which is now in progress under the Board of Works, is much too low, and would not be in any way a desirable building site, as many difficulties would attend the providing of proper sewerage.

The next plot of ground pointed out to us (No. 2) would be very eligible as a building site, but the school, if erected on it, would be almost completely masked by the College, behind which the plot lies, and from which it is separated by the Connemara-road; and we conceive its great proximity to this establishment would render it rather objectionable in consequence of the noise of the children during play hours.

The field belongs to M. J. Blake, esq., M.P., who, we were informed by Mr. Blakeny, would in all likelihood be willing to leave the necessary complement of land to the Commissioners at a fair yearly rent, or to sell it to them on the same terms as he obtained for the workhouse site, his tenure having been fee-simple.

Adjoining this field of Mr. Blake, and upon the same line of road, is one (No. 3) belonging to Mr. Dudley Persse, which, in consequence of the swampy nature of the ground, could not be recommended to the Commissioners for building site.

We examined another field (No. 4) offered by Mr. Thomas Persse, near Newcastle, less objectionable for building, but too far from the town to admit of its being considered as suitable for a district model school.

The Rev. Mr. Darcy drew our attention to a field (No. 5) on the Shantallow-road, the property of Lord Fitzgerald, although in many respects eligible as a building site, and one which might recommend itself to the Commissioners, in case none better could be obtained, yet we are of opinion that the approaches to it are very objectionable, and such as would be very likely to prevent the visits of many persons to the schools; at the same time we beg leave to state that we were informed many of the wretched cabins in the neighbourhood, which form the chief objection to the plot, will in all probability be removed before long. Galway District Model School.

On the east side of the town we have inspected several fields, none of which we think desirable. They are too distant from the town, or without convenient or seemly approaches, and in many instances not suitable as building sites.

After a close inspection of the town and its immediate vicinity, and after consulting with various parties well acquainted with the localities, we have come to the conclusion that the plot of ground marked No. 6, 7, and 8, adjoining the workhouse premises, and which is the property of the Rev. Mr. Maclachlan, is the most eligible site for the proposed district model school.

It is within a moderate distance of the centre of the town (not half a statute mile from the church of Saint Nicholas), and easily accessible from the populous parts of Galway, by the Presentation-road from Dominick-street and the West-bridge, and by the Newcastle-road from the Beggars'-bridge.

It is on a high dry bank, with a granite substratum. It contains about two Irish acres, and there is reason to suppose that water can be obtained at a moderate depth.

As regards the drainage, though there is a good fall, some difficulty may be experienced in discharging the sewers, as the canal now in progress cuts off all communication with the river; however, we conceive that at the worst the inconvenience can be remedied by a properly formed cess-pool, which would not require to be cleaned out more than once in two years.

The only other objection that would be urged against the site, is its proximity to the temporary burial ground for the paupers, which lies within the workhouse premises, and close to the wall that separates them from the proposed site.

But it would appear from Mr. Kirwan's note, which we enclose, and his opinion on this point has been confirmed by Mr. O'Flaherty, that the guardians are about to change the burying ground and remove it entirely from the workhouse, and that no more interments will be permitted in the present spot.

We do not consider that this objection should weigh with the Commissioners as the extent of ground proposed will enable the buildings to be erected in such a position that in point of fact no inconvenience could under any circumstances arise.

Besides, we are given to understand that it is in contemplation to make a new road along the boundary wall, which if executed would separate completely the workhouse premises from the model school site.

The Rev. Mr. Darcy, trustee and agent for the Rev. Mr. Maclachlan, has written to him to inform him of all the circumstances connected with these fields, and of the intention of the Commissioners regarding the model school, and has requested him to state with as little delay as possible, the terms upon which he would let the plot to the Board.

As to the title there can be no difficulty, as it has been satisfactorily made out in the case of the Queen's College, which has been built upon the same property.

We have much pleasure in adding that every facility was afforded us in our inquiries by the gentlemen for whom we had letters of introduction, as well as by other local parties of all denominations with whom we communicated.

They all expressed their readiness to co-operate with the Commissioners and promote their views in the establishment of a district model school, and we feel persuaded that not only have they a great desire to see such an establishment erected in the town of Galway, but will take a lively interest in its welfare when once in operation.

We have the honour to be, gentlemen,

Your obedient servants,

(Signed), FREDERICK DARLEY, Architect.

P.S.—The plan referred to in this letter is not ready, and will be forwarded with the least possible delay.

Galway District Model School.

LETTER from the Rev. RICHARD KIRWAN to EDWARD BUTLER, Esq., Head Inspector of National Schools.

Fort Eyre, Galway, February, 1850.

DEAR SIR,—I feel that I should not be acting fairly by you, if I did not mention a circumstance which quite escaped my memory yesterday, namely, that the present burial ground of the workhouse is very close to the field (Mr. Maclachlan's) which we thought would be such a desirable site for the model school; but the Board of Guardians are endeavouring to obtain a burial ground for the interment of the paupers at a greater distance from the workhouse, and they have a committee formed to carry out their intentions.

I trust, therefore, that the reasonable objection which might be stated against the site from its proximity to the burial ground may very shortly be removed, and I will call the attention of the Board of Guardians at their next meeting to the circumstance, and urge them to take immediate steps to provide another place of interment for the paupers.

I beg to assure you that my services are at your command, should you require them, in any matter connected with the model school; and a letter addressed to me at Fort Eyre, Galway, shall have my immediate attention.

Dear sir, yours truly,

RICHARD KIRWAN.

——Butler, esq., &c., &c.

1,280, Y.

Galway, February 19, 1850.

SIR,—I have had a letter from Mr. Maclachlan respecting the site for the proposed model school selected by Messrs Darley and Butler, containing two acres and a rood, or thereabouts; and I am authorized to say the Commissioners can have it for such terms as may be agreed on, at the acreable rent of ten pounds sterling.

I beg to add, that when it is considered that the ground which bounds the plot in question on the north, was taken at £12 per acre, and a site between it and the river, deemed by Mr. Darley very much inferior, produced £13 10*s.*, that Mr. Skilling, the Professor of Agriculture in the Queen's College, valued the ground at from £8 to £10 per acre, and that in point of fact it is building ground, very likely to be set within a short term as such, for a rent calculated on a frontage per the running foot, and that it is besides admitted to be the very best site to be had here for the model school, that Mr. Maclachlan must be considered as really making some sacrifice for the sake of the object, in offering the ground at the price.

I have the honour to be, &c.,

(Signed), JOHN D'ARCY.

The Secretary, National Board of Education.

Education Office, March 4, 1850.

SIR,—The Commissioners of National Education have had before them your letter of the 19th ult., offering a site for the erection of the district model school at Galway. They have also had before them a report on the site in question from their architect, and one of the Inspectors, with a letter from A. O'Flaherty, esq., Chairman of the Board of Guardians, stating that in future the ground adjoining the proposed site, is not to be used as a place of interment.*

The Commissioners now direct us to state that they are willing to take the ground referred to, consisting of two acres, one rood, and twenty-three perches, Irish, at the rate of £9 per acre, on a lease of 999 years.

The favour of an early reply is requested.

We are, sir, your obedient servants,

Rev. John D'Arcy, Galway.

Galway, March 12, 1850.

GENTLEMEN,—In reference to your letter of the 4th inst., proposing to take the site selected for the district model school by Mr. Darley, consisting of two acres, one rood, and twenty-three perches, at £9 per acre, on a lease of 999 years, I am authorised by Major-General Maclachlan, to whom I submitted the proposition, to say that he accepts it, and that you can have possession of the ground on the terms.

I remain, gentlemen,

Your very obedient servant,

KILKENNY DISTRICT MODEL SCHOOL.

Kilkenny District Model School.

Assembly Rooms, Tholsel, Kilkenny, November 24, 1849.

GENTLEMEN,—As Mayor of Kilkenny, I have been instructed to communicate with you with a view to obtaining information for the Corporation of Kilkenny upon the subject of National education, in as far as relates to the establishment of model schools.

The Corporation were desirous to have a model school established in this town or its neighbourhood, and having offered a piece of ground for that purpose, had further adopted a memorial to the Commissioners of National Education, praying for such a model school. But the Corporation having since learned, through the Dean of Ossory, that it was within the power of the Board to establish also an agricultural model school, which would be also one for the purposes of National education, both being united under one name, and that what was required for such a school was a suitable piece of ground, extending to fifteen or twenty acres, at a rent of fifty or sixty shillings an acre, and a lease to the Commissioners.

Now, inasmuch as such a school would be infinitely more valuable than what they first contemplated when they asked merely a "National model school," I am directed to ask of you all the particulars in relation to both, and whether Kilkenny would stand a chance of such a model agricultural school, and what are the steps necessary to be taken to obtain it from the Commissioners.

Your reply at your earliest convenience will greatly oblige the Corporation, and, gentlemen, your obedient servant, (Signed), ROBERT CANE, Mayor of Kilkenny.

Education Office, December 7, 1849.

SIR,—We are to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 24th ult., and have to acquaint you, in reply, that the Commissioners of National Education have funds for the erection of only two district model schools during the present year. The site for one is already fixed in the county Kildare, and the lease executed. The other will most probably be built in a western county.

With regard to model agricultural schools, we are to state that the Commissioners having incurred liabilities to a considerable amount for the building of such schools, they are reluctantly compelled to discontinue asking grants for schools of that description until the buildings, towards the erection of which aid has been already granted, shall have been completed, and the schools in operation. We shall, however, take a note of your application.

We are, &c.,

R. Cane, esq., Mayor, Kilkenny.

Kilkenny, December 27, 1849.

Gentlemen,—I have laid your letter of the 7th inst. before the Borough Council, and, inasmuch as it holds no near prospect of a model agricultural school for this district, I am directed to forward to you for presentation to the Education Board the accompanying memorial for a model National school. The memorial has been adopted since September last, but was held over in the hope that we might succeed in obtaining a model agricultural school.

You will please to lay it before the next Board, and to inform me of the result.

Sir,—We have laid before the Commissioners of National Education your letter of the 27th ultimo, enclosing a memorial from the Mayor and Town Council of the borough of Kilkenny, praying the National Board to establish a district model school in Kilkenny.*

We are now directed to request you will state, for the information of the Commissioners, the precise nature of the site which can be granted for such a purpose, the quantity of ground, and the particulars as to lease, rent (if any), &c., &c.

We have the honour to remain, sir, your very obedient servants,

Robert Cane, esq., Mayor, Kilkenny.

To the Commissioners of National Education in Ireland.

The Memorial of the Mayor and Town Council of the Borough of Kilkenny in Council assembled, Showeth,—That three years back a deputation of the citizens of Kilkenny held communication with the Commissioners of National Education on the subject of having a district model school under the authority and in connexion with the Commissioners, established at Kilkenny, and that every consideration was then kindly promised for the application.

That since that application was preferred seven model schools have been erected or are in progress of erection. And that memorialists have learned from the Commissioners' letter of the 15th of August to the Mayor of Kilkenny, that two others are to be built in the course of the present year. One of these in the county of Kildare, and the site of the second not determined on.

That when application was first made on the part of Kilkenny, it might have been difficult to comply with the preliminary conditions required by the Commissioners, but that now no difficulty in that respect exists, as the Corporation has now power to appropriate the necessary land for the purpose.

That inasmuch as four of the schools in progress are situated in the north, two almost in the neighbourhood of Dublin, one in the extreme south, and one much further south than Kilkenny; the central position of the latter place putting out of view all other pretensions, renders it geographically adapted in an eminent degree for the diffusion of the great benefit derivable from such an establishment. Kilkenny District Model School.

That the Town Council of Kilkenny, anxious for the progress of National education, and anxious to secure its advantages to their locality, deem it an act of duty to urge on the Commissioners the claim and the fitness of Kilkenny for selection as a site for the second model school now to be erected. And the Council most earnestly pray that such may be the decision of the Commissioners.

Dated at Kilkenny, under the common seal, the 13th day of September, 1849.

(Signed), Robert Cane, Mayor.

1,476, Y.

Kilkenny, February 28, 1850.

Gentlemen,—By a resolution of the Town Council of the borough of Kilkenny, adopted at a meeting of that body held on Tuesday, the 26th inst., I have been empowered to reply to your letter 8,767, X., of date January 7th, and to offer such a site for the erection of a district model school at Kilkenny, as will, I have no doubt, prove on inspection to be eminently fit for the purpose.

The Corporation of Kilkenny could not sooner give a satisfactory reply, as the property on which the site is offered was not fully in possession until the present time.

I am authorized to offer for the erection of the above building, 1 acre 1 rood 32 perches and 23 yards at a place called the Lake, overlooking the river Nore, in an elevated and healthy situation, and commanding a pleasant prospect, at a nominal rent, and for such term as the Corporation is empowered by law to grant; and I am instructed to say that the Corporation will take any steps that may be deemed necessary to insure a proper and satisfactory tenure of the land hereby proposed to be given.

I have the honour &c.,

Sir,—We have had the honour to lay before the Commissioners of National Education your letter of the 28th ultimo, on the subject of the erecting of a district model school at Kilkenny on a site the property of the Corporation of that city.†

We are now directed to state, that the funds for such purposes at the disposal of the Commissioners, including the grant which may be made during the years 1850 and 1851, will not be more than sufficient to complete the district model schools now in progress, and to build two in addition, the sites for which have been already determined upon.

The application is therefore held over for consideration during the year commencing 1st April, 1851, provided the Commissioners shall have funds placed at their disposal by Parliament for the erection of district model schools.

† Date of Board's Minute, April 17, 1851.

8,075/51. Education Office, December 9, 1851.

Sir,—The Commissioners of National Education having had before them a favourable report from the Head Inspector and the Architect on the ground offered by you for the purposes of a district model school at Kilkenny,* we are directed to state that the Commissioners have already agreed to take sites at Limerick, Waterford, and elsewhere, containing more than double the quantity of land you offer for a rent not exceeding what you ask for one English acre.

As another site contiguous to your land has been offered at a rent equally moderate with the sites of Limerick, &c., the Commissioners request you will inform them whether you are disposed to make any and what reduction in the rent of the plot on the Ormond-road.

The Commissioners are of opinion that the buildings to be executed by them, on which a large sum will be expended, will materially improve the adjacent property.

Your answer is requested before the meeting of the Board on Friday next.

We are, &c.,

Patrick Waters, esq., Kilkenny.

8,671/51. Kilkenny, December 10, 1851.

Gentlemen,—I beg to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 9th instant, and to assure you the rent I named in my letter of the 7th of November is lower than I ever contemplated parting with my ground for, as I stated to you verbally here. I could have got £50 per annum a few years ago for it. I think you will agree with me that it is not to be classed, in point of building value, with an ordinary field out of the town, such as you allude to, and which, so far as a school is concerned, would be a most inconvenient distance for children in bad weather. My ground, as you are aware, has a considerable frontage, is situate in the healthiest and cleanest part of this town, and enclosed all round with high walls.

It is of great advantage to me as a garden and pleasure ground, the loss of which I would feel, particularly as it has been in my family for about forty years, and cost a great deal of money from that time.

I therefore beg respectfully to say that I am not disposed to make any reduction in the offer I make;

And am your obedient servant,
Patrick Waters.

Secretaries to National Education, Dublin.

8,671/51. Education Office, December 30, 1851.

Sir,—We are directed by the Commissioners of National Education to apologise for not having given an earlier reply to your letter of the 10th instant;† but they were not in a position to come to a decision on your proposal until they had concluded a negotiation with Mr. Smithwick regarding land for a model farm which is intended to be connected with the literary school. Kilkenny District Model School.

We are now, however, to acquaint you that the Commissioners agree to take the site offered by you on the terms specified in your note of the 7th November, 1851, namely, at a rent of £25 per annum on a lease of 500 years.

The Messrs. Geale and Dwyer, the Board's solicitors, shall be instructed to communicate with you on the subject of the lease.

Sir,—We are to acquaint you that the Commissioners of National Education have agreed to take the ground offered by P. Waters, esq., as a site for a district model school at Kilkenny.

We are to apologise for the delay in making this communication, but it was only at a meeting of the Board yesterday that the Commissioners were in a position to decide on the matter.

8,671/51. Education Office, December 31, 1851.

Gentlemen,—The Commissioners of National Education being about to establish a district model school in the city of Kilkenny, have agreed to take, for the purposes of the literary department, from Patrick Waters, esq., Kilkenny, a plot of ground on the Ormond-road, at the yearly rent of £25, on a lease of five hundred years.†

You will therefore lose no time in communicating with Mr. Waters, and obtaining all the necessary information for preparing the lease.

The Commissioners have also agreed to take land from R. Smithwick, esq., Kilkenny, for the purpose of a model farm; and as soon as we receive from the Agricultural Inspector a report of the exact quantity of land required, we shall write to you on the subject of a lease.

Education Office, February 25, 1851.

My Lord,—This letter will be presented to your lordship by Thomas Kirkpatrick, esq., M.D., Inspector of Agricultural Schools under the Board of National Education.

The Commissioners have resolved to erect two district model schools during the present year, and are desirous that one of them should be built in Limerick.

Understanding that your lordship is interested in this matter, the Commissioners will feel obliged if you can point out to Dr. Kirkpatrick any suitable plot of ground within the city, in as central a situation as possible, and containing at least one statute acre.

Dr. Kirkpatrick can then examine the site and ascertain upon what terms it is to be obtained, and report the result of his inquiries to the Board.

† Board's Minute of 9th Dec

* Board's Minute of 5th December, 1851.

Limerick District Model School.

Archdeacon Keatinge, Dr. Kirkpatrick, and Mr. Darley, I this day went to look at a suitable site for the district model school, and three having presented themselves to our notice, I beg to refer you to Mr. Darley or Dr. Kirkpatrick as to their eligibility.

The Archdeacon and myself will make inquiries as to the tenure and rent, and send you the result of an inquiry. You may assure the Commissioners that no exertions shall be wanting on our part to assist the Board in carrying out this kind intention.

I have only to add, that I hail with delight the prospect of having a good model school here, as a measure which will not only prove beneficial to the country around, but tend to remove those prejudices and objections which are so foolishly entertained.

I have the honour to be, gentlemen,

Your faithful and obedient servant,

WILLIAM LIMERICK.

Palace, Limerick, March 20, 1851.

SIRS,—In reference to your letter of the 25th of February, intimating the intention of the Commissioners of National Education to erect a model school in this district, provided a suitable plot of ground can be obtained, I have much pleasure in forwarding to the Board the accompanying map, from which it can be seen that a suitable site can be had at a fair value, already seen and approved of by Dr. Kirkpatrick and Mr. Darley.

The plot in question (No. 2), containing one acre and eleven perches, the property of the Rev. Joseph Gabbett, can be had on a lease of life renewable for ever, at a rent of £10 per acre per annum, and should the Board wish for a large quantity of land, the field adjoining (No. 3), containing two roods and thirty-six perches, belonging to his aunt, Miss Fitzgerald, can be had on the same terms. The Board will be informed by Dr. Kirkpatrick and Mr. Darley that the locality is an eligible one; near to the city, and on one of our most public and frequented walks.

A good school-house thus situated would have a handsome appearance, and its publicity would greatly tend to recommend the institution to notice and approbation.

In making this selection I have been cordially assisted by Archdeacon Keatinge, whose long acquaintance with the city and its requirements gives great weight to his opinions and concurrence.

I have the honour to be, gentlemen,

Your obedient and obliged servant,

WILLIAM LIMERICK.

Education Office, March 25, 1851.

MY LORD,—We have the honour to acknowledge the receipt of your lordship's letter of the 20th instant enclosing tracing of a plot of ground offered as a site for a district model school in Limerick.

Since the date of our last communication to your lordship, the Commissioners have been considering the propriety of annexing an agricultural department to the district model school; and should they decide upon carrying this important object into effect, they will require at least twenty statute acres of land for farm purposes. The land should be of tolerably good quality, in the immediate vicinity of the site of the proposed literary department, at a moderate rent, and on a long term.

As the buildings for the accommodation of the resident pupils are proposed to be erected on the farm, the land should be at a short distance from the literary school, for the convenience of both teachers and pupils.

Perhaps your lordship will have the goodness to confer with Archdeacon Keatinge and with the parties to whom he alluded, in his letters on the subject of a model agricultural school in the neighbourhood of Limerick, and to favour us with a reply at your earliest convenience.

We have the honour to be your lordship's most obedient servants,

M. CROSS, J. KELLY, } Secretaries.

DISTRICT 31.

Limerick, March 25, 1851.

GENTLEMEN,—With reference to the establishment of a district model school at Limerick, and the correspondence on the subject, I beg to inform you that Archdeacon Keatinge having stated to me that it is likely the site of the proposed building is to be selected on next Board day, and as no site has been as yet mentioned but that on the Military road leading from Richmond-place (to be seen by reference to the Ordnance Survey map of the city), it has occurred to me that it may not be out of place to remark that if the establishment be erected on that site it is very doubtful whether the schools will be attended by even a moderate number of pupils, the immediate neighbourhood being already supplied with well-endowed schools.

Within five minutes' walk of the proposed site there are the following schools, at which I found present on the same day the number of pupils attended:—

1. Pery-square female National school conducted by the Sisters of Mercy, 250. 2. Male school conducted by the Christian Brothers, 214. 3. Lemmy's male school, a Protestant foundation supported by a legacy fund, 96. 4. Lemmy's female school, 60. 5. Villier's male school (Henry-street), a Protestant school supported by legacy of the late Mrs. Villiers, 51. 6. Villier's female school, 36. Total of pupils, 707. All these schools are of a permanent character, and it is not likely that even the best conducted National school could successfully compete with them, if it were even desirable that it should. It is to be added that the site proposed to the Board consists of two acres, a portion of a lot of seven acres, five of which at the other side of the road and immediately opposite have been already leased to the Sisters of Charity for building thereon a very extensive new convent, which is to include an orphan asylum and school-rooms (four) for educating the poor, to which the nuns are bound by vow to devote themselves. They have paid £500 for Mr. Gabbett's interest in the ground, and I have seen the plans of the new buildings which are to be commenced very shortly.

The Rev. Mr. Moore, Rector of the Parish of St. Patrick, stopped me to-day in the street and introducing the subject of the district model school, and expressed it as his opinion that the proposed site was most ineligible if it be considered necessary to have a large attendance of pupils at this institution, stating that other sites can be easily obtained. He mentions, in particular, that sites of the most desirable character can be obtained at the opposite side of Limerick, either from a Mr. Harold, or one on the estate of Mr. Henry, for which the Duke of Leinster is trustee. In this neighbourhood there are but two schools, male and female, conducted by nuns and monks, and the population is of the humble classes, whilst that about the Military road is the most respectable part of the city.

Under these circumstances I would beg most strongly to recommend that the selection of a site should not take place until further inquiry.

I have the honour to remain, gentlemen, your obedient servant,

H. CLARKE, District Inspector.

To the SECRETARIES of the NATIONAL EDUCATION SCHOOLS.

Palace, Limerick, April 5, 1851.

GENTLEMEN,—I beg to acknowledge your letter of the 25th ult., inquiring whether a plot of land could be had in the vicinity of that land, which I marked out and forwarded (by map) to the Board as suitable for a model school.

I have now to inform the Board that there is every probability that a farm of about thirty-one acres will shortly be sold under the Incumbered Estates Act, distant from the school-plot about a quarter of a mile, and apparently well suited for the purpose of an agricultural school or farm.

Herewith I beg to forward a sketch of the whole, and it will be seen that there is an easy and almost direct communication between the plots marked two and three, bordered in dark pink, and the farm denoted by a border of the same colour.

A memorial has been forwarded to his Excellency the Lord Lieutenant from the gentry of the county and city of Limerick, for an appropriation of the "Reproduction Fund," at his Excellency's disposal, and should the prayer of the memorial be granted, part of the sum would go towards purchasing this small but well circumstanced estate, and should it at any time be thought desirable to enlarge the farm, I have no doubt that an addition might be rented or purchased of the land Corkanree (marked yellow) belonging to the Corporation of Limerick. I need not say what an inestimable blessing the two projected establishments, the educational and agricultural schools, would be to this part of the country, and I shall at all times give my most cordial co-operation. I am indebted to Archdeacon Keatinge for the accompanying tracing.

I have the honour to be, &c.,

W. Limerick.

Education Office, April 8, 1851.

My Lord,—We are directed by the Commissioners of National Education to acquaint your Lordship that they have received from the Inspector of the district a communication in which he gives it as his opinion that if the proposed district model school be erected on the site which has been pointed (viz., the plot on the Military-road), it is very doubtful whether the school will be attended by even a moderate number of pupils, the neighbourhood being already supplied with well-endowed schools. The Inspector states that the following schools are all within five minutes walk of the proposed site, and are numerously attended, viz., Pery-square female National school, Christian Brothers' boys' school, Lemmy's schools, Villier's schools. Total attendance 707 pupils. The Inspector observes that these schools are all of a permanent character, and that it is not likely the best conducted National school could successfully compete with them. The Inspector further obseves that the site is a portion of a lot of seven acres of ground, five of which on the opposite side of the road are already leased to the Sisters of Mercy for an extensive convent, which will include four school-rooms.

The Inspector adds, that he thinks a very eligible site can be procured at the opposite side of Limerick, either from Mr. Harold, or on the estate of Mr. Henry.

Having submitted to your Lordship the remarks of the Inspector, we are to request you will favour the Commissioners with your observations thereon.

We are also to acquaint your Lordship that the Commissioners have received a communication from Mr. Francis W. Russell in reference to the establishment of an extensive model agricultural school in the immediate vicinity of Limerick; this application which the Commissioners presume is the case in which Archdeacon Keatinge is interested, they are disposed to consider favourably. The Commissioners, therefore, before they can come to any final decision respecting the literary department, are anxious to be informed whether sixty or eighty statute acres of land suitably circumstanced, can be obtained, and they will feel obliged by any information from your Lordship on this subject. We are in communication with Mr. Russell, Lieut.-General Sir Richard Bourke, on the subject.

Your Lordship's letter of the 3rd inst. has been received. Limerick District Model School.

We have the honour to be, my Lord, your most obedient servants,

Maurice Cross, James Kelly, } Secretaries.

Clonmel, July 16, 1851.

Gentlemen,—We beg leave to submit for the consideration of the Commissioners the following report on the proposed sites for the district model schools intended to be erected in the city of Limerick.

On Saturday last we called on his lordship the Protestant bishop at his residence in the city, where we met, in addition to his lordship, Rev. Mr. Synan, Roman Catholic administrator of the parish in which the most eligible site is situated, and the Ven. Archdeacon Keatinge (Protestant). Neither Mr. Darley nor Dr. Kirkpatrick attended. His lordship pointed out, on the Ordnance map of the city, four or five sites which had been proposed; some of these were condemned by the architect as being unfit to build on, and the others were ineligible on various grounds. Within the city there does not appear to be a sufficient unoccupied area as a site for a model school, which would combine the advantages of centrality, sanitary fitness, and stability of foundation. For several months past active inquiry has been made by careful personal observation of the city and suburbs, and only one site has been proposed that at all deserves to be considered. The clergymen named accompanied us to the site in question.

It consists of two rectangular fields under crop, lying on the south-western road leading to Tralee, Tabert, &c., and immediately between the military barrack and the road. It is on a considerable elevation, and is wholly unobjectionable as a site for a public building. It contains about two statute acres, and Rev. Mr. Gabbett, the proprietor, can make any lease desired, at a rent of from £20 to £25 per annum. It is situated about one-fourth of a mile above the head of the best street in the city, and of which it commands an entire view. Except immediately at the terminus of the railway there is no road or point of the city so frequented, or in which country gentlemen and strangers would be so likely be attracted from its position alone to visit the model schools. The area is ample, rent moderate, title good, situation healthful and scenic, position public and open, and circumstances, as a building site, such as to command the approval of any architect.

We now beg to submit the question of its suitability for the special objects of a district model school. It is not central, or at all in the city, and the operative classes and humble traders, as well as the chief portion of the poor, live in the very opposite side of the town. No site, however, can be obtained which would have anything like geographical or social centrality, and, in point of fact, the question resolves itself into school or no school, as if this site be not adopted, there is no probability that a better one can be obtained. And although not central for the whole city, we have no doubt whatever that, erected on this site, the model schools would have an attendance of pupils three or four fold greater than that intended in the institution of this class already in operation, or at least greater than the numbers they were designed to accommodate. It is also to be noticed that it is in this direction (westward) the city is extending, and the opening of the new docks in the vicinity will draw a further tendency towards this point, and gradually lessen the want of centrality in the proposed site. A mixture of social grades in the pupils would also be more probable, as in the old or Irish quarter of the city the attendance would almost wholly consist of the unmixed poor. Respecting distance, the element of facility of access greatly diminishes this, as from the fine wide street, and wide footpath, the quarter or even half-mile would be more readily passed over than a short street or narrow lane crowded with cars and persons in the central part of the town. And all things considered, the proposed site is as central as that of the Newry or of the Clonmel Model Schools.

An objection of another character has been urged against the proposed site—the number of National and other schools in the vicinity. Suffice it to say, that the managers of the Lemmy schools (at least one of the principal of them), of the Villiers' National schools, and of the Pery-square National school, all of which are in the vicinity, are desirous to have the model school in the proposed locality. It is true that the Sisters of Mercy are about to establish an orphanage, to which a National school will be attached in the vicinity of the model school site; this, however, can in no way affect the attendance at the model school. There is ample room, and ample school population for all; and as the experience of the Clonmel school has proved, the probability is that all the National and other public schools will rather derive strength than decay from the opening of the model school.

A further consideration, well deserving of notice, we beg to submit for the attention of the Commissioners. About two and a quarter statute miles from the proposed site, and immediately adjoining Mungret Church, a farm of 140 acres is to be sold by the Incumbered Estates Court next month. One of us (Mr. Kavanagh) visited this farm, and there can be no doubt that it is admirably suited for the purpose of a model farm. Bishop Higgin, Sir R. Bourke (with whom we spoke on the subject), and the local gentry, propose to purchase this farm and establish a model agricultural school on it. They have the command £460, being a profit which the Limerick Cattle Show realized, and already they have applied to His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant for £4,350 balance remaining of the Limerick Reproductive Fund, to devote it to the purchase of the land. From the favourable answer of His Excellency, they are sanguine of success; and as the proposed site for the district model school is on the road to Mungret, and between it and the city, the farm would be available, if they succeed, for the instruction on Saturdays, &c., of the pupil-teachers in agriculture, as in Glasnevin and Dublin Model Schools, the distance in Limerick being less.

With respect to the religious relations involved in the question of the success of a model school in Limerick, we beg to state they are all satisfactory. Archdeacon Keatinge called on his lordship the Right Rev. Dr. Ryan, the Roman Catholic bishop, and his lordship expressed his entire concurrence in the proposed erection of the school, and his readiness to co-operate with the Protestant bishop in supporting it; and further, Bishop Ryan is parish priest of the mensal parish of St. Michael, in which the site lies, Rev. Mr. Synan being his lordship's administrator. His lordship, Bishop Higgin, and Mr. Synan both called on Mr. Kavanagh to fully state their relation to the moral and religious management of the model school according to the rules of the Board, and both expressed their entire approbation of the information supplied. The Protestant rector of the parish is not favourable to the National system, but his bishop states that both the rector and his curate will attend, under his lordship's direction, to give religious instruction to the pupils of their communion. Rev. Mr. Wilson, the Presbyterian minister, was absent last week from Limerick. We are fully aware, however, that the model school will have his hearty and active support.

In conclusion, we beg leave to recommend that, considering all the advantages and disadvantages of the proposed site, that the Commissioners adopt it, and erect thereon the district model school. We also beg to suggest that accommodation be provided in it for 250 boys, 150 girls, and 120 infants, and that provision be made in the domestic establishment for 20 pupil-teachers and 2 resident masters. The Protestant bishop particularly urges the introduction of maritime instruction and drawing as school branches; and the Chamber of Commerce purposes forwarding a memorial to the Board, praying the adoption of both subjects. We entirely concur in their views.

We have the honour to remain, gentlemen,

Your obedient servants,

JAMES W. KAVANAGH.
HENRY P. CLARKE.

EXTRACT from MINUTES of the BOARD, dated October 2, 1851.

Read letter from the Rev. J. Gabbett, offering to let a field consisting of about one English acre, on which it is proposed to erect a district model school at Limerick at a rent of £12 a year, clear of rates and taxes, and upon any lease which may be required.

Ordered, that the Rev. Mr. Gabbett be informed that the Commissioners understood from the report of their Inspector, that the site referred to in his letter contains about two English acres, and that he would let one of them at the rate of £12, and the other at the rate of £10 a year, and that the Commissioners are willing to accept his offer on those terms.

Palace, Limerick, September 16, 1851.

DEAR SIR,—Herewith I forward a memorial from the gentry and inhabitants of the county and city of Limerick, for the establishment of a model school, and agricultural school and farm, which I will thank you to have the goodness to submit to the Committee of the National Education Board. You will perceive that it is numerously and respectably signed; but it would have been more so, had not many of our influential and leading persons been out of the country.

I can personally testify to the anxious desire which universally prevails in favour of these desirable objects; and should our memorial meet the approbation of the Board, I would respectfully suggest that it should be forwarded, with such approbation, to His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant.

Believe me, dear sirs,

Your faithful and obedient servant,

WILLIAM LIMERICK.

Memorial, 6,727/51.

To the COMMISSIONERS of NATIONAL EDUCATION in IRELAND.

The MEMORIAL of the OWNERS and OCCUPIERS of LAND, and of other Inhabitants of the County and City of LIMERICK—

SHOWETH,—That your memorialists have been informed it is the intention of the Board of National Education in Ireland to establish a district model school in the city of Limerick.

That memorialists are of opinion it will conduce to the improvement of agriculture in their county to attach a model farm to the district school.

That they apprehend this useful object may be accomplished under the regulations of the Board for model farms, as set forth in the Sixteenth Report.

That the following brief outline of the arrangements required to be made is submitted by your memorialists, the consideration of the details can be entered upon if the outline is approved.

1st. That a sufficient quantity of land be purchased by trustees, for the county of Limerick, to be subsequently let to the Commissioners of National Education at a moderate rent. The rentcharge and half the poor-rate being paid by the trustees.

2nd. That a sum in aid of the cost of the required buildings, be paid to the Commissioners by the trustees.

3rd. That from the rent received by the trustees, payment be made to the Commissioners for the instruction and maintenance on the farm of a certain number of youths from the county and city of Limerick, at the rate of £7 10*s.* for each.

4th. That on the approval of this arrangement by the Commissioners of Education being intimated to memorialists, they will immediately bring it under the notice of the Lord Lieutenant, with a request to His Excellency to obtain from the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury the appropriation to the foregoing objects of the sum of £4,300, now in the Treasury to the credit of the county Limerick, and applicable to the management and improvement of agriculture in the said county, under the provisions of the Irish Reproductive Loan Act, 11 & 12 Vic., c. 115, s. 2.

That your memorialists beg leave further to state that on a late occasion, when Mr. Secretary Cross, and others of the principal officers of your Board, were in Limerick on a tour of duty, they were pleased to inspect, adjacent to the city, a property suitable for a model farm, which it is expected may be obtained on fair terms; respecting which they take the liberty of referring to those gentlemen.

My Lord,—We have the honour to acknowledge the receipt of your lordship's communication of the 16th instant, transmitting a memorial from the gentry and other inhabitants of the county and city of Limerick, respecting the establishment of a district model school with an agricultural department attached in that locality, and we are to inform your lordship, that having laid it before the Commissioners of National Education on yesterday, they have decided on taking it into consideration at a special meeting on Thursday next, when it will receive all the attention due to a memorial so numerously and influentially signed.

We have the honour to be your lordship's obedient servants,

Maurice Cross, James Kelly, } Secretaries.

The Right Reverend the Lord Bishop of Limerick, the Palace, Limerick.

Copy of Dr. K.'s Report 6727. B.O. 2/10/51.

Education Office, October 11, 1851.

My Lord,—We have had the honour of laying before the Commissioners of National Education in Ireland your lordship's letter of the 16th ult.,* accompanied by a testimonial from the nobility, gentry, clergy, and other inhabitants of the county and city of Limerick, signed by seven noblemen, nineteen clergymen of various religious persuasions, four members of Parliament, ten members of the Corporation of Limerick, eighteen magistrates, and eighty-nine others, requesting the Commissioners will attach a model farm to the proposed district school at Limerick, that they will contribute towards the erection of suitable farm buildings thereon, and that they will undertake the management of such farm on the conditions set forth in their 16th report, and on certain other conditions specified in the memorial. We have also submitted to the Commissioners a report from Dr. Kirkpatrick, Agricultural Inspector, and from Frederick Darley, esq., architect to the Board, recommending a site adjacent to the city of Limerick, which the memorialists expect they can purchase on fair terms out of the sum of £4,300, now in the Treasury to the credit of the county, and applicable to the management and improvement of agriculture in that district, under the provision of the Irish Reproductive Loan Fund Act, 11 & 12 Vic. sec. ii., cap 115.

The Commissioners having fully considered the various documents submitted to them, direct us to acquaint your lordship, that if the trustees alluded to in the memorial succeed in obtaining the sum of £4,300 from the Treasury, and in purchasing the fee-simple of the land recommended by the Agricultural Inspector, the Commissioners will be prepared to pay a rent of £100 a year for the land referred to, which is to be held by the Commissioners in their corporate capacity on a lease for a sufficient term, to be made on the usual form, and containing a clause of surrender.

On receiving £2,500 out of the sum of £4,300, which the memorialists expect to obtain from the Treasury, the Commissioners will, in addition thereto, contribute £3,000 for the erection of farm buildings, residence for agricultural pupils, &c., and will afterwards maintain the establishment on the conditions specified in their 16th Report, and provided that, from the rent for which the Commissioners will become responsible, the trustees will undertake to pay back to the Commissioners the same amount, namely £100 per annum towards the instruction and maintenance on the farm, of a certain number of youths from the county and city of Limerick, not exceeding twenty in number, at the rate of £7 10*s.* for each.

The Commissioners deem it unnecessary, in the present stage of the correspondence, to enter into more minute details of the conditions upon which they will make the necessary grants, and undertake the management of the model farm in connexion with the literary school about to be established in the city of Limerick. They will, however, be substantially in accordance with the regulations set forth in the 16th Report, pages 26 & 27.

The Commissioners are in communication with the Rev. Mr. Gabbet, with respect to the site for the literary school in the city, of which a favourable report has been made by Mr. Kavanagh, Head Inspector. They will be prepared at the proper time, to announce their arrangements with respect to the establishment of a maritime department in connexion with the literary school. It now remains for the local parties to make the necessary application to the Lords of Her Majesty's Treasury, respecting the allocation of the funds. Should a copy of the memorial be required, we shall have much pleasure in forwarding it.

We have the honour to be your lordship's obedient servants,

Right Reverend the Lord Bishop of Limerick.

LONDONDERRY DISTRICT MODEL SCHOOL.

Londonderry, December 2, 1854.

MY DEAR SIR,—I beg to send you a memorial addressed to the Commissioners of National Education for the establishment of a model school in this district. You will perceive attached to it the names of persons of various denominations, and, had I thought it necessary, I could easily have procured a great number of additional signatures.

Begging that you will have the goodness to have the memorial presented to the Commissioners on an early day.

I am, dear sir, very truly yours,
WILLIAM M'CLURE.

C. Graham, esq.

To the COMMISSIONERS of NATIONAL EDUCATION for IRELAND.

Londonderry, December, 1854.

MY LORDS AND GENTLEMEN,—We, the undersigned, (believing that the institution of a model school is necessary in each district to the full development of the system of National education) beg to call your attention to the fact that the city of Londonderry, though occupying an important and influential position in the north-west of Ireland, has hitherto been deprived of the advantages of such an institution. We, therefore, respectfully and earnestly request that you will, at your earliest convenience, adopt such measures as will secure the establishment of a district model school in this city.

Office of National Education, January 26, 1855.

SIR,—We have had the honour to lay before the Commissioners of National Education the memorial praying for the establishment of a district model school in the city of Londonderry.*

We are directed to acquaint the memorialists that the Commissioners approve of such a school being established in that locality, but they are not in a position to adopt any measures for the erection of the necessary buildings during the present year, even though a site in all respects satisfactory can be procured.

One of the Head Inspectors and the architect shall, however, be instructed to visit Derry, so soon as other duties will permit, in order to examine any sites which may be proposed.

We are, sir, your obedient servants,

(Signed), MAURICE CROSS, JAMES KELLY, } Secretaries.

Rev. William M'Clure, Londonderry.

Head Inspector KEENAN's Letter, No. 4, 1855.

Belfast, May 1, 1855.

GENTLEMEN,—In compliance with the instructions contained in your letter of the 31st January last, directing me to visit sites for the proposed model school at Derry. I beg to inform you that Mr. Darley and myself made arrangements to discharge this duty on the 24th ultimo. During our inspection of the site we were joined by the Rev. Mr. M'Clure who has taken a considerable interest in the establishment of the model school; and also by the Rev. Mr. Stubbs, rector of Moville, and Mr. Harlitt, executor to the owner of the property.

As I am given to understand that the Commissioners have already been made acquainted with the terms upon which the proposed site can be obtained, I need only here mention that, after carefully examining into its suitability as to drainage, supply of water, and position with regard to residence of the children who are likely to be hereafter pupils in the intended model school, I was perfectly satisfied that it is in almost every respect exactly the site on which the model school should be built. The situation is salubrious, in an elevated position, and within a very short distance of a populous part of the town. In addition, the town is increasing in the direction in question, which will bring the population immediately about the school.

I should mention that the old fever sheds of the County Infirmary, which at present are not in use nor likely to be in use again, unless during the prevalence of an epidemic, overlook a part of the proposed site; but there being four acres in it the school-house can be so far removed from these sheds that no objection on this ground can be entertained.

In conclusion, I have no doubt that the proposed site is the best that could be procured for the purpose in Londonderry or its immediate neighbourhood, and I beg to urge on the Board the propriety of taking steps to secure it at once.

Mr. Harlitt, Londonderry, is the person with whom you should communicate on the matter.

There is no vested school within a considerable distance of the site; the convent non-vested school is about 300 yards from it.

* Board's Minute, dated January 19, 1855.

Mr. Graham, District Inspector, who has taken great trouble in procuring this site, calculates that between boys, girls, and infants an average attendance of over 300 may be reasonably expected.

I have the honour to remain, gentlemen,

Your very obedient servant,

(Signed), PATRICK J. KEENAN.

The Secretaries, Education Office, Dublin.

EXTRACT from MINUTES of the BOARD, dated May 4, 1855.

Read letter from Mr. P. J. Keenan, Head Inspector, reporting favourably on the site proposed for the district model school in Derry, and stating that Mr. Darley, architect, concurs with him in thinking it the most eligible that can be procured.

Ordered, that the proposed site be approved, and that instructions be given to Messrs. Geale and Dwyer to prepare the lease on the terms specified in Mr. Harlitt's communication to the Inspector, viz., three statute acres, at a yearly rent of £55. Lease in perpetuity.

EXTRACT from MINUTES of the BOARD, dated May 25, 1855.

Read letter from Mr. C. Graham, District Inspector, forwarding a map of the land recently taken as a site for the Derry District Model School, and urging upon the Commissioners the propriety of including in the lease an additional half acre which is now available, and can be obtained for a rent of £5 per acre. Londonderry District Model School.

Read also, letter from the Lord Bishop of Derry, recommending that Mr. Graham's suggestions be adopted.

Ordered, that the additional land be taken at the rent stated, and that Messrs. Geale and Dwyer be directed to lose no time in preparing the lease of the entire plot, consisting of three and a half acres, including the portion now added.

EXTRACT from MINUTES of the BOARD, dated October 1, 1858.

Read letter dated 20th September, 1858, from the Bishop of Derry, calling attention to the fact that, although the Board have been under rent for the site for the model school at Derry since 1855, no steps have yet been taken towards the erection of the building; stating also, that the citizens of Derry feel much dissatisfied in consequence, and requesting that the Board of Works may be called on to proceed at once with the building.

Ordered, that a copy of the Bishop of Derry's letter be sent to the Board of Works, and that they be requested to state when the building of the model school will be commenced.

LURGAN MINOR MODEL SCHOOL. Lurgan Minor Model School.

To the COMMISSIONERS of NATIONAL EDUCATION.

Lurgan, August 2, 1858.

GENTLEMEN,—I am directed by Lord Lurgan to request that you will be so good as to take into your consideration the propriety of establishing one of your minor model schools in the town of Lurgan, the population of which is now almost 7,000.

It is a rapidly increasing and prosperous town, situated in the midst of a dense manufacturing population.

The only National model school at present here is one situated in a graveyard, and although well managed under the superintendence of our excellent parish priest, the Very Rev. Dr. O'Brien, it is quite too small for the increasing population.

Lord Lurgan is of opinion that the school ought to be made sufficient to accommodate 500 children, and thinks it would have a beneficial effect on the National schools in the neighbourhood.

I enclose copies of the last two annual reports of the Town Commissioners, which will show you the progress of this town.

I have the honour to be your humble servant,

JOHN HANCOCK.

LURGAN PROPOSED MINOR MODEL SCHOOL.

Office of National Education, August 14, 1858.

SIR,—We have laid before the Commissioners of National Education your letter of the 2nd instant, proposing the establishment of minor model schools in the town of Lurgan.

In reply we have to inform you that the Commissioners have no funds at their disposal during the present year for building any additional schools of this class, but that early in the ensuing year, and before sending in their estimate for the year 1859–60, the Commissioners will take into favourable consideration the application on behalf of the town of Lurgan. In the meantime the Inspector of the district shall be directed to confer with you respecting a suitable site and other preliminary arrangements.*

We have the honour to be, sir,

Your very obedient servants,

B.O. 6/8/58.

Education Office, August 16, 1858.

SIR,—An application has been made by Lord Lurgan, through John Hancock, esq., of Lurgan, to establish a minor model school in that town.*

The Commissioners of National Education having considered the matter, Mr. Hancock has been informed that they have no funds at their disposal during the present year for building any additional minor model schools; but that early in the ensuing year, and previous to sending in their annual estimate, they will take into favourable consideration Lord Lurgan's application.

In the meantime you are requested to confer with Mr. Hancock regarding a suitable site and other preliminary arrangements.

We are, sir, your obedient servants,

To James Patterson, esq.

Brownlow House, Lurgan, November 18, 1859.

SIRS,—As of course you are well aware the Commissioners of National Education have agreed to give Lurgan a minor model school, which is no doubt much required, and will be very useful; but still I fear hardly adequate to the educational demands of this town, whose population has nearly doubled since the last Census in 1851; and when I tell you that the surrounding country is inhabited by a dense population of the manufacturing class, who are now becoming, I am glad to say, well aware of the importance of a good sound secular education, you will, I trust, coincide with me that a first class model school is requisite. Most of the schools on my estate are under the National Board, and as I think you are aware my father was a warm supporter of this system of education, which has now worked so admirably for many years, and will, I trust, for a long time to come, notwithstanding the vigorous crusade that is being made against it.

I have the honour to be, yours very truly,

SIRS,—I have the honour to enclose a memorial from the inhabitants of Lurgan, which I shall feel obliged if you lay before the Commissioners of National Education at their next meeting. You will observe that it is signed by the clergy of all denominations, also by laymen of different politics.

I have the honour to remain, sirs,

Your obedient servant,

LURGAN.

To the COMMISSIONERS of NATIONAL EDUCATION.

The humble MEMORIAL of the INHABITANTS of the TOWN of LURGAN and its neighbourhood—

HUMBLY SHOWETH,—That your honourable Board has determined to erect a minor model school at Lurgan, and has selected an eligible site for the purpose in Brownlow-terrace.

That your memorialists are anxious to have a district model school erected at Lurgan instead of a minor one (the site being eligible for either), and would beg leave respectfully to submit the following statements to your consideration, as affording sufficient grounds to justify your Board in giving a favourable answer to this memorial:—

1. The town of Lurgan is situated in the centre of the linen trade, is the capital of a poor law union, and the second town in point of size in the county Armagh. The rural population in its vicinity are more or less occupied in manufacturing cambric, damask, and diaper.

2. The town is rapidly increasing its population, being nearly double what it was in 1851. There are upwards of fifty houses building here at present, and a circle round the town with a radius of two miles, gives a population of 22,000, whilst a four mile radius will give a population of 50,000.

3. The linen trade is gradually changing from hand-loom weaving to power-loom factories, the effect of which is to bring large masses of people together in towns.

4. The facilities afforded by Lord Lurgan granting perpetuity leases, together with the wealth and enterprize of the merchants in the town and neighbourhood, render it extremely probable that the town will continue to extend still more rapidly.

5. A manufacturing population requires and appreciates education more than an agricultural one, and would, therefore, be more likely to support a district model school.

6. The National system of education can be fairly tested here, as the population consists of different religious denominations, more than two-thirds being Protestants, and the remainder Roman Catholics.

7. The inhabitants of Lurgan have made great local exertions for the benefit of the working classes, they clothe 300 children attending a free school under Erasmus Smith's Board, and they have recently erected a Mechanics' Institute at a cost of £3,000, for the scientific, literary, and material improvement of the operative classes, without distinction of creed or party.

DEAR SIR,—I would feel obliged if you would bring before the Board of National Education my earnest hope that they will grant the petition of the memorial for Lurgan, district of Dromore, to build in this town a district model school. As Lurgan is situated in my diocese, I am well acquainted with the locality, and I know no place so gloriously situated for securing a flourishing and useful district model school. The signatures to the memorial will satisfy the Commissioners of the influential support such an institution would receive, and be a guarantee of its success.

I am, sir, yours very faithfully,

THOMAS DOWN AND CONNOR AND DROMORE.

M. Cross, esq.

LURGAN DISTRICT MODEL SCHOOL.

Office of National Education,
December 19, 1859.

MY LORD,—Referring to the memorial transmitted by your lordship to this office, we are directed to acquaint you and the memorialists that the Commissioners of National Education have received several applications prior to the date of the memorial, calling for the establishment of district model schools in very suitable localities, and that these applications claim their earliest attention.*

We are also to acquaint your lordship that no funds have been provided in the estimate for buildings, which would enable the Commissioners to comply with the prayer of the memorial.

If, however, it will meet the approval of your lordship and the persons who are locally interested, that the minor model school in Lurgan should afford a much larger amount of accommodation for pupils than is usual in that class of schools the Commissioners will be prepared to instruct the Board of Public Works to include in the estimate for 1860–61 a further sum, in addition to the sum provided in the estimate for 1859–60, to enable that Board to erect a building of larger dimensions than originally contemplated; and further the Commissioners will require the design of the building to be such as to admit of the erection of a training department, &c., for resident pupil teachers, so as to convert the institution, at some future period into a district model school, should the Commissioners deem such an arrangement expedient.

* Board's Minute, dated December 9, 1859.

As the estimates for the year 1860–61 are in course of preparation an early reply is very desirable.

We have the honour to be your lordships very obedient servants,

MAURICE CROSS, } Secretaries.

The Right Honorable Lord Lurgan, Brownlow House, Lurgan.

B.O. 9/12/50.

LURGAN MINOR MODEL SCHOOL.

Lurgan, December 23, 1859.

GENTLEMEN,—I am directed by Lord Lurgan to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 19th inst., and to request that you will convey to the Commissioners the thanks of the memorialists for the favourable consideration which has been shown to them.

His lordship regrets that the Commissioners were not enabled at once to comply with the request of the inhabitants of this rising town, but the memorialists will thankfully accept the terms offered by the Commissioners in the hope that ere long they will see the necessity of erecting a district model school at Lurgan.

I have the honour to be your obedient servant,

JOHN HANCOCK, Agent for Lord Lurgan.

The Secretaries of the National Board.

EXTRACT from the MINUTES of the BOARD, dated May 25, 1860.

ORDERED,—1. That the Commissioners approve of the statement of the Chiefs of Inspection as to the accommodation, &c., to be provided in the proposed school—a teacher's residence not to be included, apartments for a caretaker being deemed sufficient for the present.

2. That the Commissioners will take two statute acres of the site on Brownlow Terrace, approved of by Minute of the 4th of November last, on the terms stated by Mr. Hancock, viz., £14 10*s.* per acre, with lease for 1,000 years, and that directions be given to have the lease prepared without delay. Lurgan Minor Model School.

3. That the Board of Works be requested to prepare the necessary plans in accordance with the views set forth in the memorandum of the Chiefs of Inspection; and that on their completion they be submitted to the Commissioners, and to Mr. Hancock, for his own and Lord Lurgan's inspection.

EXTRACT from MINUTES of BOARD, dated September 14, 1860.

Read letter from E. Hornsby, esq., Secretary to the Board of Works, transmitting the plans of the intended minor model school at Lurgan for the inspection of the Commissioners, and also forwarding a report thereon from the architect in which he estimates the expense of the buildings at about £4,800.

Ordered, that the plans as now submitted be approved—estimated cost, £4,800.

EXTRACT from MINUTES of BOARD, dated May 31, 1861.

The Secretary submits the new lease of the site for the Lurgan Minor Model School, and the Commissioners affix thereto their Corporate Seal in the presence of Messrs. James Kelly and Charles Robertson as subscribing witnesses.

EXTRACT from MINUTES of the BOARD, dated August 9, 1861.

Read letter from the Board of Works stating that they have accepted the tender of Messrs. Carolin and Kerr, 93, Leinster-road, Rathmines, county Dublin, for the erection of the Lurgan Minor Model School-house. Amount of tender, £5,351 13*s.* 3*d.*

MONAGHAN MINOR MODEL SCHOOL.

Monaghan Minor Model School.

EXTRACTS from MINUTES of the BOARD, dated August 8, 1856.

The Secretary submits the report of the Committee appointed by Minute of the Board of the 18th April last, to select the localities in which a limited number of ordinary National schools should be erected at the sole expense, and be conducted under the exclusive control, of the Commissioners (Monaghan included amongst the sites recommended).

Ordered that the Commissioners approve of the above.

Education Office, March 3, 1857.

GENTLEMEN,—I return herewith the papers relative to the site of the Monaghan Minor Model School.

I visited in company with Mr. Darley, and we agreed upon a site, which will be very suitable as regards convenience of access from all parts of the town.

I beg leave to recommend that the Commissioners reconsider the case with the view of sanctioning the erection of a first class instead of a minor model in this locality.

In any event I think that school accommodation should be provided for 150 boys, 100 girls, and 100 infants, and that there should be a residence for the Head Master on the premises.

The population of Monaghan in 1851 was 3,484; the town has improved considerably since that time, and further progress may reasonably be expected.

Lord Rossmore's agent (R. Dolling, esq.) will undertake to obtain a lease of such portion as the Commissioners may require, for a term of ninety-nine years, at the annual rent of £5 per acre.

The extent of the site must depend upon the class of school to be erected; and the local parties are very desirous of having the matter arranged at the earliest convenient date.

I have the honour to remain, gentlemen, your obedient servant,

(Signed), W. A. HUNTER, Head Inspector.

To the Secretaries, Education Office.

EXTRACT from MINUTES of the BOARD, dated March 13, 1857.

Read letter from Head Inspector reporting that, in conjunction with the Architect, he visited and agreed on a site for the intended model school at Monaghan, which he suggests should be a first class instead of a minor model National school, containing accommodation for 150 boys, 100 girls, and 100 infants, and also a residence for the Head Master.

The Head Inspector further reports that a lease can be procured of such portion of the ground as the Commissioners may require, and which is conveniently situated for access from all parts of the town, for a term of ninety-nine years, at an annual rent of £5 per acre.

EXTRACT from MINUTES of the BOARD, dated March 13, 1857.

Ordered, that Mr. Hunter's suggestion that the intended school at Monaghan should be a first class model school be declined, the Commissioners not having funds at their disposal this year for the establishment of a greater number of model National schools than those already decided on, and for which they have estimated. And that a minor model National school be built on the plot proposed, containing the accommodation proposed by Mr. Hunter.

Ordered further, that the Secretaries be authorized to enter into negotiation for a suitable portion (containing at least one acre) of the land referred to, which the Commissioners agree to take on the tenure and at the rent named by Mr. Hunter.

Extracts from Minutes of the Board, dated July 17, 1857.

Read letter 23, D., 14, from Mr. S. Browne, District Inspector, reporting that on the 13th inst. he visited, in company with Mr. Clarendon, Surveyor of Buildings under the Board of Works, the site of the proposed minor model school at Monaghan, and after practical examination found it quite unsuitable for building purposes, but that another site can be obtained about thirty perches nearer town, containing about one acre two roods and two perches, and in every respect most desirable.

Read also a letter from Henry Rodgers, esq., agent to James Hamilton, esq., owner of the plot in question, offering a lease of the whole at a rent of £12 per annum.

Ordered, that the Commissioners approve of the site belonging to Mr. Hamilton, subject to a satisfactory report being received from the officer of the Board of Works as regards its eligibility for building, and that Messrs. Geale and Dwyer be instructed to make the preliminary inquiries as to title, &c., with a view to the preparation of the lease, which is to be for 999 years.

Extract from Minutes of the Board, dated July 24, 1857.

Read letter from the Board of Works transmitting a report from the Surveyor of Buildings approving of the site for the minor model school at Monaghan, and provisionally sanctioned by Minute passed at the last day of meeting.

Ordered, that the site referred to be now finally sanctioned, and that Messrs. Geale and Dwyer be instructed to take measures for the preparation of the lease on the terms and tenure already specified.

Newry District Model School.

To the Commissioners of National Education in Ireland.

We, the undersigned clergymen and ministers and members of different religious denominations in the town of Newry, having heard that you are about to build some model schools in country towns in Ireland, beg most respectfully and earnestly to request that you will take into your consideration to erect and establish one of these in the town of Newry.

This town is one of the most important in the county of Down—a thoroughfare to every part of the north of Ireland, and affords one of the very best localities for giving a full specimen of the working of the National system of education in a neighbourhood in which there are many persons who have a prejudice against that system, because they do not see it in full operation.

Should you accede to this application, we shall be ready on our parts to assist in every way that we can in the establishment and management of the school, and will at once form a local committee for that purpose.

Extract from Minutes of the Board, dated 25 September, 1845.

With reference to memorial of 3 September, 1845.

Memorialists to be informed that when the whole question regarding the establishment of district model schools shall have been fully matured, the Board will give every attention to their application.

Extract from Minutes of the Board, dated 29 January, 1846.

Read letter, dated 28th January, 1846, from the Rev. Daniel Bagot, addressed to the Resident Commissioner, with reference to the establishment of a model school at Newry; and recommending the site suggested by him and favourably reported upon by the Superintendent of the district, at the yearly rent of £12, provided that a satisfactory lease in perpetuity be granted; and upon the further condition that the whole of the purchase-money of the ground be raised by local subscription.

Ordered, that the Rev. Mr. Bagot's proposal be accepted on the above conditions.

Copy of Letter to the Resident Commissioner.

Newry, 4 February, 1846.

Dear Sir,—I am sincerely obliged to the Commissioners for the letter I received yesterday, saying that they would take the ground in Newry which I recommended for a district model school; and I have now the pleasure to state that in two hours on Monday and in three hours this day I got the sum of £190 in this town towards buying the interest in the lease of the ground, and I have now no doubt whatever of arranging the matter in a very few days—in this way, that I shall get the written consent of the owner of the ground to a certain sum for his interest in the lease and send that sum to you, so that you may take the lease in the regular way; and I hope the building may be commenced this spring.

I write this note to-night, because I think that the Board may be gratified at having so strong a proof before them to-morrow of this—that the entire of the middle and substantial classes in the country are in favour of your system.

I know of no more important step that has ever been taken since the establishment of the National system, than the erection of this model school in this important northern town—the best in which you could place a good specimen of the principles and working of that system. It will be "a temple to liberty of conscience." Newry District Model School.

I am, sir, your faithful and obedient servant,

Daniel Bagot, Vicar-Gen. of Newry.

Newry, 25 June, 1846.

Gentlemen,—In reply to your gratifying communication about the model school in Newry, I beg to say that there have been difficulties connected with the obtaining the ground I had formerly thought of, but Mr. Dickenson, who has property, is willing to lease to me very eligible ground for the purpose. I have heard that it was the intention of the Board to send down a gentleman from Dublin to inspect my proposed site.

It would be most desirable, in my opinion, that this should be done; and if so, if the gentleman who comes will come straight to my house I will go with him, show him the ground, and give him every necessary information.

I am, gentlemen, your faithful servant,

Daniel Bagot, Vicar of Newry.

The Secretaries, Education Office.

Coleraine, June 30, 1846.

Gentlemen,—Yesterday I carefully examined both the sites in Newry proposed for the district model school, namely, that in Catherine-street, originally selected for the purpose, and accepted by the Board, and the new one lately proposed by the Rev. Mr. Bagot, under the impression that the original one cannot be obtained.

Of these, the first mentioned is, in all respects, the better. It consists of nearly an Irish acre, very high ground overlooking the town, with a front in Catherine-street, in shape nearly square, and entirely enclosed by a stone wall ten feet high, which could not be built at an expense of less than £80. It is in the Armagh quarter of the town, not too near any school, remote from the National schools at present in Newry, close to a population in great want of such a school, and not more than fifteen minutes' walk from the most distant part of Newry. The situation is healthy; there are two corn mills near it, one of them formerly a distillery; these, however, cannot be in any way injurious. There are no sewers, but one can easily be constructed across Catherine-street, to an open sewer at the opposite side, which runs down by the canal, and thence into the river and the sea.

The new site is a portion of some land with a front in Cecil-street, a new, or rather intended street, running at the rere of the original site, and separated from it by a narrow field. This land lies very low, and the school-house would be scarcely seen in it. The railroad from Newry to Enniskillen is to run immediately in the rere of it, and the terminus will be in the vicinity of both sites. The original site is, as I have stated, far superior. The difficulty in obtaining it, to which Mr. Bagot alluded, was a hesitation in giving it up on the part of the immediate lessee, Mrs. Carlisle, of Waterford. This has now been obviated, as her consent has been obtained in writing. Mr. Bagot is also under the impression that the Board will not pay a higher annual rent than £12 10*s*. In this instance, the rent, including fees, is £18 7*s*. 6*d*., and it cannot be fined down, as the nature of the grantor's leasing powers (William Isaac Corry, of Ivy Lodge, esq., who is only tenant for life, the property being entailed) renders it necessary to set the lands at the rent which they are worth at the time.

A local contribution to the amount of £150 has been promised, and partly paid. I saw the names of the contributors as entered by each individual.

Mr. Bagot proposed to devote the interest of this sum to the payment of the rent; but that amount, with the £12 10*s*. to be paid by the Board, would not liquidate the entire, nor do I think the contributors would agree to it, as their object was to collect a sum for the purpose of beautifying the proposed building.

Even if the Board have come to the resolution of not paying a higher annual rent than £12 10*s.*, I would strongly recommend them to depart from it in this instance, as the property is well worth the rent asked, without considering the enclosing wall, which, at the usual rate of 3*s.* 6*d.* a perch, could not, I conceive, be built under £80.

The new site, which, as I have stated, is not so good, is dearer. The depth of it is about 180 feet; to enclose, therefore, half an acre, the front could not be less than 200 feet. The price is 1*s.* 8*d.* per foot, and the rent would, therefore, be for about half an acre of an inferior site unenclosed £16 13*s.* 4*d.* annually, while a better site, double the extent, enclosed with a wall ten feet high, can be obtained at an annual rent of £18 7*s.* 6*d.*, an increase of only £1 14*s.* 2*d.* Moreover, the contributions were obtained with a view to the original site, and might not be available for the new one.

As the original site has been already approved of by all parties, and accepted by the Board, and as it can evidently be obtained as readily as the new one, I do not deem it necessary to send a formal report upon the latter; and I trust the particulars I have stated will be sufficient to induce the Commissioners to accept the former, at proposed rent.

Both these sites are in the Armagh portion of the town of Newry, and consequently not in district 6, but in district 10.

This I do not consider an objection, as I think it would be an improvement to arrange that the former district should embrace the whole of the parish of Newry, that is, the Armagh portion of the town, in which at present there are not any National schools.

I remain, gentlemen, your very obedient servant,

(Signed), THOMAS J. ROBERTSON.

EXTRACT from MINUTES of the BOARD, dated July 17, 1846.

Read report of the Head Inspector on the site proposed by the Rev. D. Bagot for the erection of a model school at Newry.

Ordered, that the Commissioners approve of the site originally selected by him in Catherine-street; and understanding that the school will be supported by persons of all denominations and in such a populous town, they have agreed to pay the increased rent of £18 7*s.* 6*d.* per annum, instead of the £12 10*s.* at first proposed, subject, however, to the opinion of the law adviser of the Board, that a good and satisfactory title can be produced; and that Mr. Bagot be requested to furnish a full abstract of title.

EXTRACT from REPORT upon the NEWRY DISTRICT MODEL SCHOOL, by EDWARD BUTLER, esq., A.M., Head Inspector of NATIONAL SCHOOLS, dated June, 1850.

The first stone was laid on the 24th of January, 1848, by the late Earl of Gosford, in presence of a large concourse of persons from the surrounding country, among whom were clergymen of all religious persuasions, and many of the leading gentry and magistrates of the town and neighbourhood.

This ceremony was preceded by a meeting in the public room of the savings-bank, at which Lord Gosford presided, and where resolutions (see Appendix A) were passed favourable to the system of National education, and commendatory of the objects for which the Commissioners were establishing the district model schools. The resolutions were introduced to the meeting by the Right Rev. Dr. Blake, Roman Catholic Bishop of Dromore; Rev. D. Bagot, Vicar of Newry; Rev. J. Moran, Presbyterian Minister of the General Assembly; Rev. H. Alexander, Presbyterian Minister of the Remonstrant Synod; Chichester Fortescue, esq., M.P.; and Denis Caulfield Heron, esq.

EXTRACT from APPENDIX A, referred to above:

That we feel deeply grateful to the Commissioners of National Education for having resolved on building their first district model school in Newry; and we hail the cordial unanimity with which ministers and members of every religious denomination have this day met to celebrate this event, as in itself one of the best results of the establishment of the National system, and as affording the best proof that it is the only one which has been as yet devised calculated to prove acceptable to persons of all parties and denominations in Ireland.

Osborne, District Inspector, stating, with reference to the proposed District Model School at Newtownards, that the Marquess of Londonderry is prepared to grant, rent free, a site consisting of two statute acres, which has been already approved of by Mr. Darley, architect. Mr. Osborne adds, that if a greater quantity of land be required, it can be obtained from Lord Londonderry on equitable terms.

Read letter from Messrs. Geale and Dwyer, with reference to the lease of the Newtownards District Model School which is now in course of preparation, and stating that the solicitors of the Marquess of Londonderry, the grantor, have made some alterations in the draft deed, the most important of which are, that the lands shall be held "for the purposes of said Model School, and for no other use or purpose whatsoever;" and that the "building to be erected shall be used only as a District Model School."

Ordered, that the proposed amendments, &c., be agreed to, with the exception of those above quoted—Messrs. Geale and Dwyer, however, to be informed that the Commissioners are willing that a clause shall be inserted to the effect, that the land shall be held "for the purposes of a Model or other National School, under the control of the Commissioners of National Education."

NEWTOWNARDS DISTRICT MODEL SCHOOL.

Office of National Education,
December 13, 1858.

SIR,—We enclose a "notice" of a projected line of railway which we apprehend has reference to the district model school about to be erected at Newtownards, and are to request that instructions may be issued to the proper officer to inquire and report how far the site of the buildings is likely to be affected if the projected line be constructed.

This should be done at once, in order to afford time for any further proceedings to be taken before it may be too late.

EXTRACT from the MINUTES of the BOARD, dated 1st April, '59.

Read letter 24th March, '59, from Secretary to Board of Works with reference to previous correspondence respecting an apprehended encroachment of the Belfast and County Down Railway Company on the site of the Newtownards District Model School, and enclosing a report from the Board's solicitor on the subject, from which it appears that the bill to extend the time for the construction of the line of railway affecting the site has been withdrawn by the Company, whose powers under the existing Act will expire on the 31st July next. The solicitor further expresses an opinion that in the event of the Company commencing operations before that date, the site of the model school will be lost to the Commissioners; but that in the meantime the District Inspector might be directed to watch the proceedings and report if any steps should be taken towards the construction of the line.

Ordered, that instructions be given to the District Inspector to the effect recommended, and that the Marquess of Londonderry be apprized of the cause of delay in commencing the works of the model school.

Education Office, July 11, 1859.

SIR,—We are in receipt of a communication of the 5th instant from the Secretary to the Board of Works, enclosing a copy of a letter of the 1st instant from Mr. John Andrews, stating that the Belfast and County Down Railway extension line will occupy the entire site of the intended district model school at Newtownards, and offering another site for the proposed building.

You are requested to name as early a day as possible to meet the officer of the Board of Works with the view to the selection of another site for the school, allowing sufficient time to that gentleman to make his arrangements to meet you.

On your informing us of the day most convenient to you we will arrange the meeting.

EXTRACTS from MINUTES of the BOARD, dated August 12, 1859.

Read letter, dated 5th August, 1859, from the Board of Works, forwarding copy of a report from the Surveyor of Buildings, who states, that in company with Mr. Andrews, agent to Lord Londonderry, and with the Head and District Inspectors, he carefully examined four new sites (as described) for the proposed Model School at Newtownards, and that he recommends the third of these as the best which, all circumstances considered, can be obtained.

The plot is situated at the west end of the town, at the end of Mill-street, is said to be well adapted for carrying out Mr. Darly's plan; admits of good drainage, promises an abundant supply of good water, and has the advantage of commanding the best scenery in the locality.

Read also letters from the Head and District Inspectors concurring in the foregoing recommendation, and stating that the Marquess of Londonderry will give the ground in perpetuity free of rent.

Ordered, that the Commissioners approve of the site referred to, containing in front and in rere 379 feet respectively, and a depth from front to rere of 229 feet; and that the map be sent to Messrs. Geale and Dwyer, with instructions to lose no time in preparing the lease which is to be in perpetuity, &c., as above.

Ordered further, that the Board of Works be informed of this decision, and that the map has been sent to the solicitors to prepare the lease.

EXTRACTS from MINUTES of the BOARD, dated 21 October, 1859.

Read letter from Messrs. Geale and Dwyer, forwarding for execution on the part of the Commissioners, the lease (in duplicate) of the site of the proposed District Model School at Newtownards.

The Commissioners approve of the deed, and the corporate seal is affixed thereto.

Newtown-Stewart Minor Model School.

Newtown-Stewart Minor Model School.

4,926/53.

We, the undersigned, being the proprietor and principal inhabitants of Newtown-Stewart, desire the establishment of a district model school in this neighbourhood, and respectfully press the subject upon the attention of the Commissioners of National Education.

Some of the reasons which we hope may have weight in inducing the Commissioners to accede to our request are as follow :—

I. The destitute condition of the town in respect to means of education. For a place whose population approaches 2,000, and which is surrounded by a populous neighbourhood, there exist in operation but one small male, and one small female school. These are in connexion with the National system, and are not bad of their class, but the statement that the extreme size of each school-room is sixteen feet by seventeen, and that neither is capable of accommodating above fifty, or at most sixty scholars, makes it manifest that they are utterly inadequate as an educational provision for the wants of the place.

II. The situation of the town as being the natural centre of a considerable district, and of ready communication with the rest of Ireland.

On this point it is unnecessary for us to speak, as the Commissioners have themselves recognised the advantages possessed by the town in these respects, having already selected it as the centre of one of their large districts, and appointed it the place of residence of their Inspector.

III. The prevalence in this neighbourhood of a cordial feeling among all religious denominations, and a general willingness to co-operate in carrying out the benefits of the establishment we seek.

In proof of this it will be sufficient to draw the attention of the Commissioners to two particulars—

1. The Commissioners will find appended to this petition, the names of our only gentry, of all the clergy of all denominations, with one exception, that of the patron of the vested schools already referred to, and of all the leading inhabitants of the place.

2. The schools in the town as above alluded to, and those existing in the parish (and we believe in neighbouring parishes also), both those under the Board, and those of other societies, are actually attended by children of all denominations, and pretty much in the ratio these denominations bear to the population.

In this neighbourhood, therefore, if anywhere, united education is possible, and its benefits susceptible of easy and convenient illustration.

But of these and such like matters, which we would gladly urge in our own favour, the Commissioners alone are most competent to judge. In conclusion, therefore, we beg again to point their attention to our own weightiest reason which we have placed first, anxiously hoping that it may plead with them towards our obtaining a liberal measure of that friendly interference we so much require.

Education Office,

Sir,—We have laid before the Commissioners of National Education the memorial forwarded by you.*

The Commissioners are much gratified at receiving a memorial, so numerously and respectably signed by persons of various religious denominations residing in Newtown-Stewart, requesting that a district model school may be established in that locality, and they very much regret that it will not be in their power to comply with the application.

The Commissioners have resolved that in future the district model schools shall be erected in very large and populous towns or contiguous thereto; and we are further to observe, that the whole of the funds voted by Parliament for the establishment of district model schools, will be expended on the erection of those which are either in progress, or for which sites have already been procured.

The Commissioners, however, will be happy to grant aid either towards the establishment of an ordinary vested school, or towards the support of a non-vested school, provided all the circumstances of the case (whichever it may be) shall be deemed satisfactory when reported upon by the Inspector of the district.

In compliance with your request we enclose copy of the memorial (without the signatures), the original cannot be returned.

University Club,
Jan. 25, 1857.

Gentlemen,—As I understand that the Board contemplate the erection of minor model schools in the smaller towns, I beg respectfully to urge the claims of Newtown-Stewart to their early consideration.

The Board may recollect that a memorial, universally signed by the inhabitants, for a district model school, was forwarded to the Commissioners, some years since. At that time Newtown-Stewart was the centre of one of the Board's districts. It is not so any longer; so that whatever force our application may have derived from that circumstance is no longer applicable.

But all the other reasons urged in that paper are still in operation, I am sorry to say, with increasing force, so far as regards the need of such an institution. The children of the town are obliged to go one or two miles into the country to procure elementary education, and as to intermediate education, there are no means at all of procuring it within their reach.

I earnestly solicit that the Board will consider the case at once, remembering our priority of application, and that they will with as little delay as possible, supply the deficiency under which we labour.

The proprietor of the town is willing to give a lease, for any length of time, of suitable ground; so that there will be no impediment in that respect.

Should the Board desire the introduction of a classical education into the school, I will gladly bind myself to supply it until monitors have been educated able to teach all that is requisite.

In order to show the Board that the harmony among our various and mixed denominations still continues, and that Newtown-Stewart is a most favourable locality for exhibiting united education, I beg to enclose a list of the attendance in all the schools in the town, and in a circle of two miles round it. The same is the case in the whole neighbourhood; but this is the circle which would be immediately affected by the school.

The Board will remember that this is one of the districts selected by them, as illustrating the united education of the system when circumstances admitted.

This consideration will, doubtless, weigh with the Commissioners, as it does even with myself; but the great reason with us is our necessity, which, again, I respectfully and earnestly draw attention to and solicit its relief.

* Board's Minute, dated July 1, 1863.

I remain, gentlemen, your faithful servant,

NEWTOWN-STEWART PROPOSED MINOR MODEL SCHOOL.

Office of National Education,
February 6, 1857.

SIR,—We have laid before the Commissioners of National Education your letter of the 24th ult.* with reference to the establishment of a minor model school in the above town.

We are now to inform you that the Commissioners approve of the establishment of a school of that description in Newtown-Stewart, provided a suitable site can be procured on a satisfactory lease and at a moderate rent.

The Inspector of the district shall be directed to make the necessary inquiries on these points, and to report the result to the Board.

EXTRACT from the MINUTES of the BOARD, dated 29 May, 1857.

Ordered, that the report of Mr. A. O'Callaghan, District Inspector, on the various sites proposed for a minor model school at Newtown-Stewart, be postponed to the next day of meeting.

EXTRACT from the MINUTES of the BOARD of NATIONAL EDUCATION, dated 5 June, 1857.

Ordered, that the Secretary of the Board of Works be informed that the Commissioners have formed a favourable opinion of the site adjoining the parish church, and recommended by the District Inspector; but that before coming to a final decision they request that directions may be given to the clerk of works to visit the site referred to in company with the Inspector, and report as to its eligibility for building purposes, and also to state his opinion of the other sites which have been offered to the Board.

EXTRACT from the MINUTES of the BOARD, dated 24 July, 1857. Newtown-Stewart Minor Model School.

Read letter from Secretary to Board of Works forwarding a report from Mr. Clarendon, surveyor of buildings, to the effect that having visited and examined the various sites offered for a minor model school at Newtown-Stewart, he is of opinion that the site adjoining the church-yard is the most eligible, and that although its proximity to the latter is not far from objection, it is counterbalanced by the many advantages it possesses as regards centrality of situation and suitability for building purposes.

Ordered, that the Commissioners approve of the site in question, and of which they understand the proprietor, Mr. Baird, is willing to grant a lease of 99 years at a nominal rent; that the thanks of the Board be returned to that gentleman for his liberal offer, and Messrs. Geale and Dwyer be directed to make the usual preliminary inquiries with a view to the preparation of the necessary legal documents.

EXTRACT from the MINUTES of the BOARD, dated 23 October, 1857.

"Read letter from Messrs. Geale and Dwyer reporting that Mr. Baird, the proprietor of the site of the intended minor model school at Newtown-Stewart, declines to give a lease of it at a nominal rent, as the Commissioners were at first led to suppose was his intention, and that he expects a rent of £3 per annum for the plot, and also requires a clause to be inserted in the lease to the effect that the ground shall be used for, and as a school only, and not be hereafter applied to any other use."

Ordered, that Messrs. Geale and Dwyer be informed that the Commissioners will pay a rent of £3 a year for the entire plot on lease for 99 years, and that they also agree to the introduction of a covenant similar to that sanctioned in the case of the Newtownards District Model School on the last day of meeting, viz., that the land shall be held for the purposes of a model or other National school under the control of the Commissioners of National Education.

EXTRACT from the MINUTES of the BOARD of NATIONAL EDUCATION, dated March 13, 1858.

Read letter from Mr. A. O'Callaghan, District Inspector, dated 11th March, specifying the extent of accommodation, which, in his opinion, should be provided in the minor model school about to be erected at Newtown-Stewart.

Ordered, that the Board of Works be requested to prepare plans of a building, to consist of two school-rooms, each capable of accommodating 100 children—the girls' school-room to be fitted-up with a gallery, and otherwise adapted for the instruction of such infant children as may attend.

The plans should also include a commodious class-room, with gallery, the necessary offices, play-ground, enclosing-wall, &c., but a residence for the teacher is not deemed necessary.

The Secretary of the Board of Works is to be further informed that it is the desire of the Commissioners that the plans should be prepared with a due regard to economy, and that the building itself should be as plain and unassuming in appearance as may be consistent with the objects for which it is intended; also, that the Commissioners request the plans may be submitted for their approval, accompanied by an estimate of the probable cost of the building.

The Commissioners approve of the deed, and their corporate seal is affixed thereto.

EXTRACT from MINUTES of BOARD, dated October 1, 1858.

Read letter, No. 48, from Dr. Patten, Head Inspector, returning the plans for the Newtown-Stewart Minor Model School, and stating that the only alteration he recommends is a change of the privies of the infant school, as marked on the plan in pencilling. Also enclosing a letter addressed to him by the Rev. Dr. MacIvor, on the 1st September, stating that the architect whom he has consulted still adheres to his former opinion, that the school can be well and handsomely built for £750 without the infant school, or about £1,000 with it.

Ordered, that the plans be now approved, and that the attention of the Board of Works be directed to the change in the privies recommended. Also, that the statement contained in Dr. MacIvor's letter to the Head Inspector be brought under their notice.

Omagh Minor Model School.

OMAGH MINOR MODEL SCHOOL.

3,112/55. 8,602/55.

To the Right Honorable and Honorable the COMMISSIONERS of NATIONAL EDUCATION in IRELAND.

The MEMORIAL of the COMMISSIONERS of the TOWN of OMAGH, in the county of TYRONE—

SHOWETH, that Omagh occupies an important position as the Assize town of an extensive and wealthy county, and the centre of a wide and improving agricultural district, comprising a circle of market towns of minor importance.

That memorialists, as the legitimate guardians of the general interests of the town, view with deep regret the disadvantages under which it labours in comparison with other towns of the same class, from the want of any suitable well organized school for the education and training of the middle and lower classes of the community, and as a consequence of such educational destitutions, memorialists can, from personal experience, testify to the great difficulty of procuring in the town or district the services of intelligent, qualified young men in the capacity of clerks, and the higher classes of mechanics.

That the want above stated is more strongly felt each succeeding year, as the town increases in population, and advances in commercial prosperity, and as the industrial resources of the district are gradually developed.

That in consideration of the premises, memorialists respectfully solicit your honorable Board to supply the want so justly lamented, by extending to this locality a portion of the aids liberally placed at your disposal by a paternal Government for the purpose of improving the education, and of consequence advancing the prosperity, and promoting the peace, order, and happiness of the county, and memorialists are persuaded that these objects would to some extent be attained by the establishment at Omagh of a district model school, which would afford a useful, solid education to the sons of small farmers, traders, and artisans, and would also serve to train efficient teachers for the minor schools throughout the district.

Memorialists therefore pray your honorable Board to establish in or near the town of Omagh a district model school on a suitable scale; and for such favours memorialists and the community whom they represent will feel duly gratified.

Signed, on behalf and by directions of the Commissioners,

JOHN ALCORN, Chairman.

To the Honorable the COMMISSIONERS of NATIONAL EDUCATION in IRELAND.

The MEMORIAL of the GENTRY, CLERGY, MERCHANTS, and other inhabitants of the TOWN of OMAGH, and of the adjacent district—

SHOWETH, that Omagh, the Assize town of the county of Tyrone, is the centre of an exclusive agricultural district, and is not more than eight miles distant from any of the smaller towns, Newtownstewart, Gortin, Mountfield, Beragh, Sixmilecross, Seskanore, Fintona, Ballynabatty, Dromore, and Drumquin, and that the market held therein is one of the best in the north of Ireland.

That the population of the district comprises for the most part the middle and lower classes of farmers, who from want of means can only send their children for instruction to the National or other schools in their immediate neighbourhood.

That the teachers of the National schools in this district have not for the most part had sufficient experience in the improved system of teaching, are unable to impart to the children under their charge such a sound and advanced commercial education as would qualify them for the proper discharge of their future avocation, or as the progress of the times requires.

That there is no model school nearer than the town of Coleraine, which is distant fifty-two Irish miles from this town.

That the town of Omagh is the residence of T. M'Ilroy, esquire, your Inspector, and is one of the most central positions in Ulster for the establishment of a district model school of the first class. That such a school would, in the opinion of your memorialists, be very numerously attended by the children as well of the shopkeepers and artisans residing in the town of Omagh, as of the farmers in the vicinity; that much of the difficulty which has hitherto been experienced in procuring suitable teachers for the schools in the rural district would thereby in a short time be required, that general education would be extended, a spirit of improvement be manifested, and the desire for education be more generally felt in a district which has not hitherto obtained to its proper extent the great advantages of a system of education which would embrace all classes.

Memorialists therefore pray your honorable Board to establish in the town of Omagh a first class district model school.

Omagh Proposed District Model School.

Education Office, January 4, 1856.

Sir,—We have had the honour of laying before the Commissioners of National Education the memorial of the Commissioners of the town of Omagh, praying for the establishment of a district model National school in that locality.*

The Commissioners feel much gratified at receiving an application signed by so many influential persons of various religious denominations, and they are desirous to extend the benefits of the system of National education to Omagh and its vicinity.

The Commissioners, however, taking into consideration the limited number of the population of that town and neighbourhood — having other district model schools now in progress of erection—and having it in contemplation to establish such schools in localities where there is a much more numerous population, do not approve of establishing at Omagh a school which would combine all the advantages which schools of this class usually afford, and on the same extensive scale.

If a suitable site can be procured at Omagh, at a moderate rent, and on a satisfactory lease, the Commissioners will be prepared to erect and maintain, at their sole cost and to be under their exclusive management, a literary school for the accommodation of such number of children as may probably attend. The school to consist of three departments, viz.:—for boys, girls, and infants. Provision would also be made for giving instruction in the evening to adults and others who could not attend during the day. The course of instruction will be similar to that of model schools, including elementary drawing, singing, &c.; and in the female department needlework.

The Commissioners do not contemplate a boarding establishment for resident pupil teachers, but a sufficient number of paid monitors would be appointed, who would afterwards be eligible for training in other schools under the Board.

If a suitable site can be obtained, and if the proposed arrangement meet the views of the Town Commissioners and the other memorialists, the District Inspector and the Clerk of Works shall be directed to visit, make the necessary inquiries, and report the result to the Board.

We have the honour to be, &c.,

James Alcorn, esq., Chairman,
Town Commissioners, Omagh.

Omagh, February 27, 1856.

Gentlemen,—I propose to let on lease for 999 years whatever quantity of the lands known as Lisnamallard Holme, from Omagh bridge to Lisnamallard cross roads, with a frontage not exceeding 200 feet, as may be required for the proposed district model school, and which may be selected for that purpose by the Commissioners, at the yearly rent of £10 per statute acre.

Should the Commissioners adopt the site pointed out this day by Mr. J. Blacker Buchanan to Mr. Bermingham, namely, a plot of the aforesaid land on said Holme of Lisnamallard, now occupied as a haggard, and on which two small houses occupied by Mr. J. Doherty and William Forbes are situated, I will lease said site for 999 years at £7 10*s.* per statute acre, on my being paid £20 for the materials of said houses, and for having same thrown down immediately. Opposite this last-mentioned site is a field containing about three statute acres, which I will lease for same term at £6 per statute acre, if the entire field be taken. As there are no intermediate interests to be dealt with, possession of any of these sites can be given at once. Omagh Minor Model School.

I am, gentlemen, your most obedient servant,

Geo. Buchanan.

To the Commissioners of National Education.

P.S.—As I have received offers for portions of the ground proposed to be demised, for the purpose of building, I take the liberty of soliciting the Commissioners to inform me as soon as possible whether or not this proposal will be accepted, and if so, the particular portion and quantity of land which will be required for the site.

G. B.

Omagh, April 16, 1856.

Gentlemen,—Agreeably to your instructions of the 2nd inst., I visited, in company with Mr. M'Ilroy, the District Inspector, the several sites proposed by Mr. Bermingham as marked in red on the map enclosed.

After careful consideration I beg to recommend the sites (F) marked on the map in blue ink as the best that could be selected. This site was originally offered by Mr. Buchanan, and is situated in Lisnamallard and Holme, between the sites marked (D) and (E) on the map. The site marked (E) is, in my opinion, much too near the river, and is, in a sanitary point of view, as well as in other respects, unsuitable, while the sites marked (C) and (D) are too remote from the town. I do not recommend the sites marked (A) and (B) offered by Mr. Grier.

With reference to your inquiry regarding the number of children who would be likely to attend, I am of opinion, and the District Inspector agrees with me, that an attendance of 100 males, a like number of females, and about 80 infants may reasonably be expected.

As regards the accommodation required, I think that the school-rooms for boys and girls should each be, at least, forty feet by twenty feet, allowing eight square feet per child; the infant school-room should be in the same proportion. Two suitable class-rooms, one for boys and the other for girls, would likewise be requisite.

I am, gentlemen, &c.,

J. Patten, H.I.

Extract from the Minutes of the Board of National Education, dated 25th April, 1856.

Ordered, that this letter (Head Inspector Patten's) be referred to the sub-committee to report as to which of the sites proposed should be selected.

Extract from Minutes of the Board of National Education, 25th June, 1856.

In pursuance of the minute of the Board of the 25th April, the committee proceed to consider the question of the sites to be selected for the intended literary school at Omagh under the exclusive control of the Board.

Ordered, that the Board take both the sites laid down at E and F on the maps, provided the ground included, containing in front 400 feet (to be measured from the river), depth from front to rere 218 feet, can be had on a lease for 999 years, at a rent of 20 guineas a year; and that inquiry be made of Mr. Buchanan, the landlord, if he will accept these terms.

Ordered further, that the house be built in the middle of the united plots.

Extract from the Minutes of the Board of National Education, dated 19 September, 1856.

Read letter of the 2nd September, 1856, from George Buchanan, esq., stating that he will accept the offer made to him by order of the Board of the 27th June, respecting the site for the intended minor model school at Omagh, namely, that the Board will take both the sites laid down at E and F on the maps, containing in front 400 feet (to be measured from the river), depth from front to rere 218 feet, Mr. Buchanan making a satisfactory lease of the same for 999 years, at a rent of £21 a year.

Ordered, that the Messrs. Geale and Dwyer be instructed to put themselves in communication with Mr. Scott, 36, Nelson-street, solicitor to Mr. Buchanan, with a view to the preparation of the lease of the plot without delay.

Extract from the Minutes of the Board of National Education, dated 20 February, 1857.

Read letter from Messrs. Geale and Dwyer submitting the lease and counterpart of the site of Omagh Minor Model School for the corporate seal of the Board.

The Commissioners affix their seal to these deeds in presence of the Secretary and Mr. Charles Robertson.

Extract from the Minutes of the Board of National Education, dated 5 June, 1857.

Read letter from the Secretary to the Board of Works submitting plans prepared under the direction of the architect of that Board for the proposed minor model school at Omagh, and also transmitting a copy of the architect's report on the subject, from which it appears that the probable cost of erecting the buildings will be about £1,830, viz.:—

School Buildings, . . .	1,200	0	0
Fittings, Water Closets, &c., .	270	0	0
	£1,830	0	0

Ordered, that the plans be approved, and that the Board of Works be requested to take steps for the erection of the buildings.

Extract from the Minutes of the Board of National Education, dated 9th April, 1858.

Read letter from the Secretary to the Board of Works stating that the tenders received for the building of the Omagh Minor Model School, in accordance with the plans sanctioned by minute of the 5th June, 1857, were found to be so much beyond the funds available (the lowest proposal being £2,954 18*s.* 11*d.*) that it was deemed desirable to have the plans modified by reducing a portion of the ornamental work and other matters, and submitting the altered plans for the approval of the Commissioners, accompanied by the opinion of the architect that the execution of same will not amount to a greater sum than about £2,200 or £2,300.

Ordered, that the Secretary to the Board of Works be informed that the Commissioners do not object to the plans now submitted, understanding that they afford all the accommodation required by the letter of the Secretaries of the 9th April, 1857, and that the Board of Works recommend the elevation.

Extract from the Minutes of the Board of National Education, dated June 11, 1858.

Read letter from Ed. Hornsby, esq., Secretary to the Board of Works, stating, for the information of the Commissioners, that the tender of Mr. W. Scott for the erection of the Omagh Minor Model School has been accepted, amount £2,214 2*s.* 11*d.*, and that the usual deed of contract will be prepared without delay.

Omagh, February 9, 1860.

Sir,—As Secretary (hon.) of the meetings to establish a model school in Omagh, I venture again to trespass on your attention for the following reasons:—

Perhaps you are aware that the school has been opened and is found quite inadequate, for the boys especially; and I am aware that it is the intention of very many persons during the spring to send their children to it.

In addition to this, the working of it gives so much satisfaction to the respectable farmers and others around, that they are very anxious to support it.

Under these circumstances it is the wish of the large majority of the inhabitants that it should be at once altered into a district model school, and that the expectations formed of its success should not be destroyed by the want of accommodation.

As I said all along, the children of the rich farmers will flock into it, and the establishment of such institutions on a comprehensive basis will do more to disarm opposition than all other means.

As the spring is coming on, perhaps I might venture to ask, whether it will be necessary to call a meeting for that purpose, or whether Mr. Hunter, your Head Inspector, who concurs (as I understand) thoroughly in the opinion already expressed, should consult the wishes of the inhabitants, and ascertain the prospects of a greatly increased attendance as soon as the severe weather is over?

An early reply, stating the views and intentions of the Commissioners, is hoped for, in order that the Town Commissioners and others may take prompt and suitable measures to bring their wishes fully before your Board.

Your obedient servant,

Edward Greer, Hon. Sec.

Sir,—With reference to your letter of the 9th ult., representing the necessity of altering the above school into a district model school, we are to inform you that we referred to the Head Inspector on the subject, and that the following is an extract from his report:—

"I beg to state that I believe it would be premature to enlarge the school at present, considering that there is accommodation for some twenty or thirty boys in addition to the numbers already on the rolls."

We are to observe that whenever it shall appear that the premises in question require to be enlarged, the Commissioners will take the necessary steps for the purpose.

Omagh Minor Model School.

Omagh, March 6, 1860.

Sir,—In reply to your letter of the 5th March, I beg to say that I visited the boys' school this day, and found 123 boys there; that the school itself is overcrowded, and, in the opinion of many intelligent persons, not suited for more than 100; when the classes are up there is no passage past the desks for anyone, and that the general feeling is that no more should be admitted to it. The boys' gallery is utterly insufficient for the purpose. For this reason especially, and also because boys of small size are appointed as monitors, and consequently to teach others, much dissatisfaction is felt, and three or four children have been withdrawn.

Apparatus has been sent down, and no room can be had for it. I am aware that very many of the most respectable residents around purported to send their children in to Omagh in the opening of the spring, that they might attend on it; but these causes have operated most strongly against it, and will tend to impart the great confidence in it. For the corroboration of these facts, I beg to refer you to Mr. Alexander, manager of the Provincial Bank here, Dr. Fleming, and such other people of influence as have sent their children to it.

I feel assured that a reasonable compliance with the wishes of the inhabitants will be attended with the most happy results, and that the attendance will be increased one-third more at least, provided your Board could be induced to convert it at once into a district model school, and appoint suitable assistants, and enlarge the premises, so that the instruction might be easily imparted.

At any time three or four of the inhabitants most likely to form a proper estimate on the subject will attend at the school, and point out the present defects.

I am, sir, your obedient servant,

EDWARD GREER.

I should also add that the numerous visiters to it are fully of the same opinion, and leave the school with the same impressions.

SIR,—We have laid before the Commissioners of National Education the memorial forwarded by you on the 26th ult., from the clergy, gentry, merchants, and inhabitants, stating that the attendance at the above school is steadily increasing, and that the accommodation provided will soon be wholly inadequate to the wants of the pupils, and praying the Commissioners to raise the school to the rank of a district model school.†

We are directed to say, in reply, that the Commissioners have no funds at present at their disposal to enable them to comply with the prayer of the memorialists, and that the estimates for the year 1861–2 have already been prepared and sent forward to the Lords of Her Majesty's Treasury.

We are further directed to state, that should the school continue to flourish, the Commissioners will have no objection to reconsider the subject referred to in the memorial, when the estimates for the year 1862–3 are about to be prepared.

You will please communicate this decision to the memorialists.

Your obedient servants,

OMAGH MINOR MODEL SCHOOL.

Omagh, January 31, 1861.

SIRS,—I beg to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 22nd inst., referring to the memorial forwarded by me praying the Commissioners to raise the Omagh school to the rank of a district model school. In reply thereto I am directed to say that your memorialists deeply regret the refusal of the Commissioners to comply with the prayer of their memorial and they trust they will not be deemed obtrusive in asking them to reconsider their decision for the following reasons.

Firstly, your memorialists consider the school accommodation entirely inadequate to the wants of the pupils; in the male department there are at present 135 boys and teachers occupying a space of 12,160 cubic feet,

* Date of Board's Minute, March 16, 1860.

† Board's Minute, dated January 14, 1861.

Omagh Minor Model School.

giving an average of about 84 cubic feet to each person. That this space is insufficient for the healthful accommodation of the pupils, cannot perhaps be better shown than by stating that, even in our workhouses, a minimum space of 200 cubic feet is allowed for each healthy inmate, and 500 feet for each sick or infirm inmate.

Secondly, there is good reason to believe that there will be a large increase in the attendance next summer, and if in the meantime no additional accommodation be provided, the very parents who consider the space allowed to each pupil already insufficient will be obliged from prudential motives to remove their children, to the great injury of the school.

Thirdly, your memorialists regard the present system of teaching by monitors as extremely defective, whereas a district model school could always supply a well organized and properly trained staff of pupil teachers.

Fourthly, the apartments provided for the master and his family are altogether insufficient and inconvenient, as your District Inspector can testify.

It may not perhaps be improper here to state that there cannot be any very great pecuniary or other difficulty in meeting all the exigencies of the present case. The apartments of the master, so ill adapted for the residence of a family, can at once, by a mere trifling outlay, be added to the general school accommodation; and a commodious house could be hired in the vicinity as a residence for the master and the pupil teachers till such time as a more suitable and convenient building could be erected.

Under these circumstances memorialists desire me again respectfully but strongly to urge the Commissioners to comply with the prayer of their memorial, feeling persuaded that any delay or postponement of the subject will have a most injurious effect on the growing prosperity of the school.

I have the honour to be, sirs,

Your obedient servant,

Education Office, February 12, 1861.

SIR,—We have laid before the Commissioners of National Education your letter of the 31st ult.,* again urging on them the propriety of raising the above school to the rank of a "district model school," stating that any delay or postponement of that subject will have a most injurious effect on the growing prosperity of the school, and requesting, for various reasons set forth in your letter, that the Commissioners may reconsider the refusal contained in their former order, as communicated to you on the 22nd January. We are directed by the Commissioners to inform you, in reply, that for the reasons before assigned, they cannot alter the decision which they have already made.

We are, sir, your obedient servants,

H. Fleming, esq., Omagh.

18, Middle Gardiner-street,
December 5, 1861.

DEAR SIR,—I will thank you to lay before the Commissioners the accompanying memorial from a number of the clergy and townspeople of Omagh, who feel very strongly that the school there was not originally made a regular district model school. Since I got the memorial to present, I have looked over the last agricultural and population statistics, from which you will find that the county of Tyrone, next to Cork (which is treble its size), is the largest oat growing county in Ireland, and next to Down, it is the largest flax producer, and is the fourth largest in extent of land under general cultivation. These facts should, I think, be a further strong ground for the Commissioners complying with the reasonable request in the memorial.

I remain, dear sir, yours very truly,

(Signed), JAMES GREER, jun.

Maurice Cross, esq., National Education Office.

To the Right Honorable and Honorable the COMMISSIONERS of NATIONAL EDUCATION in IRELAND.

The undersigned clergy, gentry, and inhabitants of the town and neighbourhood of Omagh, county Tyrone, take the liberty of calling the attention of the Commissioners to the serious want of district model schools in the North Ulster counties of Donegal, Fermanagh, and Tyrone.

That although the Board has been over twenty-four years in operation, and these three counties have an area of 2,457,248 acres, and a population of 626,901, they have never yet had the benefit of a single district model school established therein, and only within the past two years have two minor model schools been opened.

That in the three north-eastern counties of Antrim, Down, and Londonderry, with an area of only 1,892,969 acres, and a population of 872,886, there are, we understand, six district beside several minor model schools, long since in operation.

That owing to the non-existence of district model schools in this locality, the patrons of the various National schools in the surrounding country, and in the numerous small towns and villages in the locality are deprived of the facility of obtaining, from time to time, efficient teachers, which they could most readily do, if there were, in convenient situations in this district, model schools, from the staff of pupil teachers in which they could at all times make a selection.

That we understand the minor model school here is now insufficient for the healthful accommodation of the pupils, and must be considerably enlarged; and that by converting the head master's apartments into class-rooms at a very moderate outlay, and renting for him and the pupil teachers under him a house and premises, as is done elsewhere, ample space would be obtained for its enlargement to the rank of a district model school.

That owing to none of the members of your honorable Board being directly connected with our district, or having a personal knowledge of its wants, we feel it labours under a serious disadvantage in comparison with the north-east of this province.

We would respectfully remind your honorable Board that, independently of our being entitled to equal educational advantages, our population is more in need of increased facilities than that of most other districts in Ireland.

That the town of Omagh is the assize town of a central and a very populous county, and is now the point of junction of two important lines of railway, and the centre of one of the most extensive agricultural districts in Ireland.

That the want felt by the general population of improved education cannot be better shown than by the alacrity with which their children resorted to the school here at its opening; and though it is not yet in operation two years, we believe we are justified in asserting that, with perhaps a single exception, it is now the best and most respectably attended school under your Board in Ireland.

We, therefore, trust that you will give directions

* Board's Minute, dated 8th February, 1861 that the minor establishment here be forthwith enlarged into a district model school, for which we and the inhabitants of this district shall feel thankful.

Birr, March 23, 1859.

Gentlemen,—I beg to inform the Commissioners of Education through you that the model schools about to be established in this town, must meet with all the opposition I can bring to bear against it. I feel it unnecessary to state the reason for this opposition, as the Commissioners must, by this time, be well aware that no Catholic clergyman can allow the education of any portion of his flock to be conducted and managed by any man or body of men over whom he has no control. I would, therefore, very respectfully suggest that till some such modifications in the management of model schools be introduced as will leave to me the control I mentioned, you will suspend the erection of the school here. If not, your money is very certain to be uselessly expended.

Sligo District Model School.

588, R. January, '47.

To the Right Honorable and Honorable the Commissioners of National Education in Ireland.

My Lords and Gentlemen,—I have the honour to send you the letter from the Town Council which I proposed at their meeting on Monday, relative to there being normal or model schools established here. I also enclose you the resolution on the subject, together with a copy of your Superintendent's letter. As there will be a meeting of the Town Council on next Monday, we would wish to know what extent of ground would be required for model farm and buildings, should you be disposed to establish both. May I hope to have the honour of a reply to this before a meeting of Council here on Monday next?

I have the honour to be, my lords and gentlemen,
Your most obedient humble servant,

James Tucker, M.D., T.C.

The Right Honorable and Honorable the Commissioners of National Education in Ireland.

My Lords and Gentlemen,—We, the Mayor, Aldermen, and Burgesses of the borough of Sligo, in council convened, perceive with pleasure from the application of your Superintendent for a site, that you have it in contemplation to erect a National model school for the province in the vicinity of Sligo. We beg to assure you that so useful a project meets our fullest approval, and shall receive from us all the encouragement and co-operation in our power.

We trust that an institution on the most complete plan and the most extensive scale shall be established. From the great increase of trade in every department, and in the population of our town, we beg most respectfully but earnestly to recommend that a normal school, consisting of two departments, one for elementary and the other for scientific instruction, be established here; and that in connexion with the latter a model farm be managed, so as to carry into practical operation the instruction afforded at an agricultural school, where lectures on agricultural chemistry and other subjects connected with husbandry might be delivered.

We would also beg leave to urge the great utility it would be to our town to have a middle class school in which lectures on natural philosophy in all its departments might be delivered, having a practical application to the mechanical arts, by explaining the principle upon which they depend.

In conclusion we hope ere long to see established here, under your management, an institution for the diffusion of scientific and industrial knowledge suited to the wants of the middle and working classes, and which would improve the social condition of the people, and tend to develop the industrial resources of the country. A benefit would thereby be conferred upon our town and county which would be ever remembered with gratitude and thanks to you, my lords and gentlemen, by us, the members of the Town Council of Sligo.

Given under my hand on behalf of the Council, and signed with the seal of the Corporation this 25th day of January, 1847.

Andrew Walker, Mayor.

Sligo, 9 January, 1847.

Dear Sir,—I have to go this day to Enniskillen, and will therefore have to postpone meeting you at Dromohair.

But I would set from 50 to 100 acres of shriff near it to the Commissioners for a model farm, and give sixty-one years' lease, and I would also let them, in Fermanagh, near Maguire's-bridge, from 80 to 100 acres, and give a lease for ever for model schools.

Please write on this subject.

Yours truly,

W. Kernaghan.

At a special meeting of the Town Council of Sligo, held on Monday, the 25th January, 1847,

Andrew Walker, esq., Mayor, in the chair, the following resolution was unanimously adopted. Proposed by Doctor Tucker, M.D., T.C.; seconded by Alderman Gallagher:

Resolved, that the letter from this Council now read be adopted and forwarded to the "Commissioners of National Education in Ireland," praying that a normal or model school be established here for the diffusion of elementary, industrial, and scientific knowledge suited to the wants of the middle and working classes.

Andrew Walker, Mayor.

To the Mayor and Town Council of Sligo, &c.

Sligo, 6 January, 1847.

Gentlemen,—I have been directed by the Commissioners of National Education to look out for an eligible site on which to erect a National model school for this province. Would you have the goodness to consider whether you can accommodate them with a plot of ground for that purpose at a reasonable rent, in the vicinity of Sligo?

I am, &c.,

Superintendent of National Schools.

To the Right Honorable and Honorable the Commissioners of National Education.

8, Radcliffe-street, Sligo,
January 20, 1847.

Gentlemen,—I have the honour to acquaint you that a meeting of the Town Council and Commissioners of Sligo was convened last November, at which a memorial was unanimously adopted and forwarded to the Lord Lieutenant, praying that a National model school for the province might be erected here. I have also to inform you that I presented to the Town Council the letter of your Inspector here, inquiring if a plot of ground could be had from the Corporation on which to erect a model school. Annexed is a copy of his letter on the subject. Permit me to inquire, for the information of the Corporation, what extent of ground would be required? I beg leave, most respectfully but earnestly, to recommend to the consideration of the Board the great advantage it would be to the town of Sligo and surrounding country to have established in its vicinity a complete model school on an extended scale, in which all the classes taught and lectures delivered at the parent establishment in Dublin, might be comprised, embracing an agricultural school and model farm, where lectures on agriculture, chemistry, natural philosophy, might also be delivered. The Corporation have sixteen acres of land, which might be had for so useful an establishment. It is situate within one mile of the town. May I hope to have the honour to receive your reply to lay before the Town Council on the 1st of February, announcing that you are disposed to take ground, and to have erected a model school of this description near Sligo?

I have the honour to be,
Your most obedient humble servant,

JAMES TUCKER, M.D., T.C.

To the MAYOR and TOWN COUNCIL of SLIGO.

Sligo, January 6, 1847.

GENTLEMEN,—I have been directed by the Commissioners of National Education, to look out for an eligible site on which to erect a National model school for this province. Would you have the goodness to consider whether you can accommodate them with a plot of ground for that purpose, at a reasonable rent, in the vicinity of Sligo?

Plan 588, R.—B.O. 28/1/47.

Education Office, February 30, 1847.

SIR,—Having laid before the Commissioners of National Education the memorial of the Mayor and Corporation of the Borough of Sligo, we are directed to state that the Commissioners are of opinion that it would be most desirable to establish a National district model school in the town of Sligo.*

We therefore enclose a plan, showing how it is proposed to conduct such description of schools. It will be observed, that the plan does not embrace all the objects specified in the memorial—the Commissioners not being at present authorized to include arrangements for the instruction of middle classes, which must be a matter for future consideration. The Commissioners now request to be informed whether a site, containing at least half an acre of ground, can be obtained in a central part of the town of Sligo, for what term, and at what rent.

According to the arrangements now proposed, it would not be practicable to attach a farm to the school; but if a site can be obtained in a rural district, and at a sufficient distance from the site of the district model school, the Commissioners will be happy to consider an application for aid towards establishing an agricultural model school.

The assistance to be granted towards such a school being £200 towards all the necessary buildings on an expenditure of at least £300.

The Commissioners will also train a teacher for an agricultural school.

We are, sir, your obedient servants,

GENTLEMEN,—I have the honour to acknowledge your reply to the memorial of the Mayor and Corporation of Sligo, which I laid before the Mayor. The Corporation could give half an acre of ground for a district model school, but at a distance of half a mile from town. The Corporation property is only sixteen acres, within one mile of the town; it would be well adapted for a model farm. This land is at present let to yearly tenants, at £5 an acre. With the permission of the Lords of the Treasury, a lease could be given for a long period. As it appears that the establishment of middle-class schools is a matter for the future consideration of the Commissioners, I trust that they will, ere long, be empowered to have one established here. As Galway got an academic college, Sligo, being a town of equal importance, ought to have some institution which would embrace all the objects specified in the memorial of the Corporation. The Corporation of Sligo could not expend £300 on a model farm, as they are not empowered to apply funds for such a purpose, however useful. Sligo District Model School.

SIR,—Having laid before the Commissioners of National Education your letter of the 10th instant,† we are directed to state that, as the plot of ground to which it has reference is not in the town of Sligo, they do not consider it a suitable situation for the erection of a district model school.

GENTLEMEN,—I enclose a memorial from the leading inhabitants of Sligo and its neighbourhood, praying to have a district model school established in this town. I shall feel obliged by your having it laid before the Board, and letting me know the result as soon as possible.

To the Honorable the COMMISSIONERS of EDUCATION in IRELAND.

The memorial of the undersigned inhabitants of the town and neighbourhood of Sligo, humbly showeth—That memorialists are deeply interested in the advancement of education in this locality, that their attention has been for some time past directed to the model schools which your honorable Board has been erecting in many parts of Ireland, and which they feel convinced are of essential benefit to the interests of education wherever they have been established; that it appears to memorialists that Sligo is a most suitable position for one of these seminaries, that this will be apparent when it is considered that its population is about twelve thousand, that it is a seaport and county town, that it is steadily advancing in trade and importance, and will soon have the advantage of direct railway communication with the metropolis; that memorialists would beg to remind your honorable Board that in the province of Connaught there is but one of these schools established, while the other provinces of Ireland are in this respect much better provided for; that memorialists would beg farther to remark that if a model school were erected in Sligo, it would be a training establishment for your teachers, and could not fail to excite a spirit of wholesome emulation amongst those of them in the adjacent districts.

Hoping that your honorable Board will take the matter into its favourable consideration as soon as possible, memorialists will ever pray.

Sligo, November 20, 1857.

Gentlemen,—I am requested to forward to you the accompanying document, agreed to by all the members of the Corporation (those of four Protestants excepted), who represented that body when the memorial relative to the National model school was adopted. And also the names of a few other Catholics, who signed the memorial addressed to you on the same subject, a few days ago, from this town, and who have not written individually to you to withdraw their approbation. The bishop and clergy are strongly opposed to the establishment of such a school, and they possess both the confidence and affection of the whole Catholic body, rich and poor, in town and in country.

Gentlemen, your very obedient servant,

Edmond Rochfort, T.C.

Sligo, November 17, 1857.

To the Commissioners of National Education.

Gentlemen,—We, the undersigned Catholics of the borough of Sligo, who affixed our names to memorials lately forwarded to you, praying for the establishment of a National model school in this town, having since ascertained that such schools being exempt from the control of local patrons and managers, by whom the ordinary National schools are governed, do not present sufficient safeguards for the faith and morals of the pupils who attend them, and are therefore disapproved of by our bishop and clergy, do hereby, for our own part, withdraw the request conveyed to the Commissioners, and promise of co-operation which such request might imply.

To the Commissioners of National Education.

Gentlemen,—A memorial having been presented to me for my signature a few days since, applying for a model school in this district, I affixed my name to it, taking it for granted that it would be conducted on the same principles as the present system now adopted in the National schools throughout Ireland, which has worked so well and has given satisfaction to the majority of the people. I have been since informed by the respected Catholic prelate of the diocese, Right Rev. Dr. Gillooly, that the model schools are conducted on different principles, and that he will be obliged to withhold his sanction and co-operation from it, and prevent as far as will be in his power the attendance of Catholic children. This, indeed, would be a very unpleasent strife and would create much ill-will among the people. I have, therefore, most respectfully to request you will be so kind as to cancel my name from the memorial.

I have the honour to be, gentlemen,

Your obedient servant,

Andrew Walker.

7361/57.

To the Right Honorable and Honorable the Commissioners of National Education in Ireland.

My Lords and Gentlemen,—We, the Mayor, Aldermen, and Burgesses in council convened, beg leave to support the memorial transmitted a few days since, soliciting you to establish a National district model school in Sligo.

We trust that an application so numerously and respectably signed by persons of all religious denominations, residing in Sligo and its vicinity, will be acceded to by you.

We beg to refer to our first application on this subject, laid before you in 1847, and to your reply thereto, addressed to Dr. Tucker, then a member of our council, in which you were pleased to say that it would be most desirable to establish a National district model school in the town of Sligo.

The memorial addressed to you on that occasion fully expresses our present sentiments and wishes on this all-important question.

We trust that in the event of such schools being established here, that your fundamental rule, viz., non-interference with the religious principles of the pupils, will be strictly observed, and that ample opportunities will be afforded to them for receiving religious instruction from the clergymen approved of by their parents, and therefore that the system of education will be acceptable to all, by a strict adherence to Her Majesty's words in referring to this question in 1856, viz., "that parental authority, the right of conscience, and the religious liberties of all denominations of Christians be strictly observed."

From the importance of this seaport, the trade of which in 1854 exceeded by one-third the united exports of Galway, Westport, and Ballina; whilst in 1856 our export and import trades united were over one million pounds sterling, and continue to increase; the revenue arising therefrom being in proportion. You can at once perceive that these facts stamp Sligo as the commercial capital of the West of Ireland, and establish our claim to the best order of National education in your power to confer. Sligo seems suitably circumstanced for a maritime school, in addition to those set forth in our former memorial. If further arguments were necessary to urge the necessity for those first-class schools, we might refer to the raw recources of mineral wealth which so richly abound within a radius of twenty miles around Sligo, and which only requires industrial knowledge to direct that enterprise necessary to develop it, when those legislative enactments which have fixed Sligo as the terminus of two railroads are carried out, and which would connect Sligo directly with Dublin and England on the east, and with Belfast and Scotland on the north, we may then expect that this port will be regarded as the most eligible for a telegraphic and steam-packet station between the Eastern and Western hemispheres, and doubtless will hereafter be adopted as such.

Dated at Sligo, this 16th day of November, 1857, and on behalf of the Corporation, signed with its seal.

JOHN M'GOWAN, Mayor. (Seal.)

SIR,—We have laid before the Commissioners of National Education your letter of the 20th ult. enclosing a document signed by the Mayor and other members of the Corporation withdrawing their request for the establishment of a National model school in the town of Sligo.*

In reply we are now to state, for the information of the parties who have signed the document, that the Commissioners have postponed coming to any decision relative to the establishment of such a school until they shall have obtained certain information which the Head and District Inspectors have been directed to procure.

SLIGO PROPOSED DISTRICT MODEL SCHOOL.

Sligo, December 16, 1857.

GENTLEMEN,—I have the honour to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 8th instant, requesting information relative to the memorial recently forwarded to the Commissioners, praying to have a model school established in this town.

In reply, I beg to report as follows:—

1. By the Census returns for 1851 it appears that the population of Sligo in that year amounted to 11,209. Taking 12,000 as the population now, there are, of the inhabitants, 1,800 belonging to the Established Church, 9,550 Roman Catholics, 220 Presbyterians, and 430 belonging to other denominations. These figures are, of course, merely approximations to accuracy, but they may be regarded as very nearly correct.

2. As to the number of children likely to attend a model school, if established, I think an average attendance of from 150 to 200 might be safely calculated upon. Much of the success of the school would depend on a judicious selection of teachers, a task likely to prove somewhat difficult of accomplishment in consequence of the rivalry existing among the different religious bodies. This difficulty, however, once overcome, success, in my opinion, will be certain. There is every probability of a good attendance of pupils from the town, and I have no doubt that many children would attend from the country, as the rural schools in the neighbourhood are all of an inferior character.

3. One clergyman of the Established Church, the clergy of the Roman Catholic Church who reside in town, and some of the gentry are understood to be opposed to the establishment of the proposed school. On the other hand, the rector and curate of the parish in which the greater part of Sligo is situated are, at least, neutral, if not avowedly favourable; while some of the gentry, the Presbyterians, through whose means principally the memorial was got up; and a large number of the population, including both Protestants and Catholics, may be regarded as decidedly friendly to the project. So long ago as the year 1847 the Town Council of Sligo petitioned the Board for a model school, and the fact that a similar course has been taken a second time by that body, seems of itself to indicate pretty clearly the state of feeling which exists on the subject among the people whom they represent.

4. I have made some inquiries about sites, and I have no doubt that several places could be had about town on moderate terms which would answer very well. Lord Palmerston holds a good deal of property in the neighbourhood, and should any part of his land be considered suitable, I think it likely the Commissioners would be treated liberally. Sligo District Model School.

In conclusion I beg to say, as my own opinion, that the establishment of a model school in Sligo would be most desirable; and believing that it would not only be serviceable to the town itself, but that it would greatly tend to commend the system of National education to parties in this neighbourhood who have hitherto stood aloof, while it would in many ways render incalculable benefit to the surrounding schools. I strongly recommend that the prayer of the memorial be acceded to.

Your obedient servant,

JOHN WALKER RODGERS, District Inspector.

EXTRACT from the MINUTES of the BOARD of NATIONAL EDUCATION, dated 8 January, 1858.

Ordered, that the District Inspector be directed to make further inquiry and report if any sites in a central position in the town can be obtained, and if so, to describe them, and to state on what terms, &c., they can be had.

Sligo, February 8, 1858.

GENTLEMEN,—In reply to your letter of the 14th ult., I beg to state that several suitable sites for a district model school can be had here. The description of these, together with the particulars regarding each which you have directed me to furnish for the information of the Commissioners, will be found subjoined.

Site No. 1, the property of J. Craig, esq., Bank of Ireland, Cork, forms part of a field which is situated in front of the Mall, on the road from Sligo to Manorhamilton, and commands a beautiful view of the town and surrounding neighbourhood. The proprietor can give any length of lease. He proposes, as will be seen by his letter which I enclose, to let three roods—more can be had if necessary—with a frontage towards the street of one hundred feet, at a yearly rent of £20, or to sell for twenty-five years' purchase. As this is, in my opinion, the best site about town, I beg to direct attention to the concluding sentence of Mr. Craig's letter, in which he states that his proposal will remain open to the Commissioners one month dating from the 30th ult.

Site No. 2, the property of Henry Lyons, esq., is situated in the west end of the town, in the neighbourhood of the shipping, and on the Finiskil-road. The situation is healthful and the locality good in all respects. There is a frontage of more than one hundred feet. Three roods of ground can be had for five hundred years at £20 per annum rent. The terms of sale would be thirty years' purchase, or perhaps twenty if the Commissioners were determined to purchase.

Site No. 3, the property of Peter O'Connor, esq., is also in the west end of the town. Ground can be had here to almost any extent. Mr. O'Connor proposes to give three roods or thereabouts with a frontage towards George's-street of say one hundred feet for £15 per annum. The terms of sale would be twenty-five years' purchase, and the length of lease three hundred years.

Site No. 4, contains about one acre. It is bounded on the north by John's-street and on the south by Temple-street-road; it belongs to Mr. M'Cartney. There are several houses on it, one occupied by the owner and the others unoccupied. This plot of ground could not, I fear, be purchased by private means; but it will be sold, I am informed, in the Incumbered Estates Court in about a month from this date. It would answer remarkably well for a model school.

Site No. 5, the property of James Gilmour Acheson, esq., Lower Gloucester-street, Dublin. This plot is situated in William's-street; any amount of ground can be had, and any length of lease. The neighbourhood is in some respects not good, but it is likely to improve. The proprietor is not disposed to sell, but he is anxious to set the ground to the Commissioners. He declines stating what the annual rent would be until he sees me in Sligo. He is not likely to be here for a month from this date. The chief advantages connected with this site are—1, that it is central; and 2, that any amount of frontage can be given.

Site No 6, the property of Mrs. William Maunsell, Northamptonshire, is bounded on the west by the Lungy and on the north by Wash Garden-lane, and contains about an acre. There are some unoccupied houses on this plot. It cannot be let for a longer period than ninety years. The rent would be £30 per annum. I merely refer to it because it is the most central I have been able to discover in town; it possesses, however, few other advantages.

I have the honour to be, gentlemen,

Your obedient servant,

JOHN WALKER RODGERS, District Inspector.

The Secretaries, &c.

Bank of Ireland Office, Cork,
30 January, 1858.

SIR,—Referring to your letter of the 20th, I beg to say, for the information of the Commissioners of National Education, that I would let on a long lease, three roods of the field at the part next the houses, with one hundred feet frontage to the Mall, at a yearly rent of twenty pounds; and the price of which would be twenty-five year's purchase. These are my terms; as I really have no wish to part with any portion of a field which I purchased for a special object. This offer to remain open to the Commissioners one month from the present date.

I am, sir, your obedient servant,

J. CRAIG.

J. Walker Rodgers, esq., Sligo.

EXTRACT from the MINUTES of the BOARD of NATIONAL EDUCATION, dated 30 July, 1858.

Ordered, that the Inspector be directed to call on Mr. Craig, to inform him that the Commissioners are favourably impressed with the advantages of the site offered by him, and to ascertain the lowest terms on which he would grant a lease of one acre of ground—provided the Commissioners were disposed to take so much, instead of the three roods originally contemplated.

SIR,—You will oblige me by laying the enclosed letter and printed address* before the Commissioners at their next meeting.

I remain, sir, yours faithfully,

✠ L. GILLOOLY.

To the COMMISSIONERS of NATIONAL EDUCATION.

Sligo, August 21, 1858.

GENTLEMEN,—It was intimated to you some months ago, that the Catholic clergy and laity of Sligo were opposed to the establishment of a model school in this town. The Mayor and some other Catholic members of the Corporation had then, in ignorance of the nature of such schools, and of our opposition to them, joined some of their Protestant fellow-members in petitioning your Board to establish one in this borough; but immediately on learning our view and wishes, they addressed letters to you to retract their signatures, and disavow all connexion with the project.

It appears that in despite of this declared opposition on the part of the whole Catholic community, and in compliance with the petition of a small section of Dissenters, you are still anxious, and apparently determined to erect a model National school in Sligo. Under these circumstances it is my duty as pastor of the great majority of the children for whom this school is destined, to declare formally to you that I am opposed to its erection; that, if it be erected, myself and clergy will use all our legitimate influence and authority in preventing any Catholic child from attending it; and that, moreover, such an act shall be regarded in this diocese, I might say throughout this entire bishopric, as a defiance of the Catholic clergy and episcopacy, as part of an insidious scheme to create disunion between them and their flocks; and as a proof of the sectarian character your Board is said to have assumed.

* To the clergy of the province of Tuam, dated 16 August, 1858, from the Archbishops and Bishops of the province.

Sligo District Model School.

We have several well attended National schools, male and female, already in operation in this parish; the Catholic clergy of the diocese of Elphin have been sincerely anxious since the first introduction of the National education system, for the widest establishment of the ordinary National schools; they are at this moment engaged in the erection of a large number of school-houses which it was our intention to connect with the Board; but we will never accept schools over the teachers, and teaching of which we could exercise no immediate or efficacious control. And if the present system forces such schools upon us, it will become our duty to oppose and reject it as a system; and to labour in union with the entire Catholic body of Ireland to obtain from Parliament a system of unmixed education in accordance with our civil rights and religious interests.

This declaration I make to you, gentlemen, not in a spirit of factious opposition to your Board, nor of religious intolerance towards any class or section of my fellow-townsmen; I have no wish or intention to interfere with the educational projects of any denomination of Protestants in favour of their own members. I wish simply to state to you, in discharge of my duty, the feelings of the entire Catholic community of Sligo, and our determination to provide, according to our own religious principles, for the education of our own youth.

I hope, gentlemen, that instead of sowing the seed of religious dissensions and disputes, which would inevitably arise from the erection of a model school in this town, you will, with us, show an anxiety to prevent such evils; and that, instead of justifying, you will, as you may, effectually silence those complaints of anti-Catholic tendencies and designs which are now so widely preferred against the most numerous and influential section of your Board.

I beg to enclose a copy of the Synodal Address just issued by the prelates of this province, lately assembled at Tuam,

And remain, gentlemen, your obedient servant,

✠ L. Gillooly,
Coadjutor Bishop of Elphin and Administrator of Sligo.

Cairnsfoot, Sligo,
September 7, 1858.

To the Right Honorable and Honorable Commissioners of National Education, Dublin.

My Lords and Gentlemen,—I beg to state that at a meeting of the Town and Harbour Commissioners of Sligo, held yesterday, for the purpose of receiving tenders for contracts for lighting, watering, cleaning, &c., of the town for the ensuing year, as the oldest Commissioner there present I was called to the chair. The minutes of the preceding meeting, as is usual, being read, and also the object of the day's meeting. In reference to the proceedings at the former meeting, at which a committee was appointed to memorial your honorable Board to establish a model school in Sligo, one of the members of that committee said that their duties had been anticipated by your honorable Board having decided on erecting and establishing the school; and that it was now the duty of the Commissioners and Town Council to express the thanks of the people of Sligo for having granted their repeated prayers for a suitable school for the industrious classes in Sligo. The resolution was passed and the address signed by the secretary and forwarded to your honorable Board.

As chairman of that meeting, always anxious for good feeling and friendly intercourse between all classes of different political and religious opinions, I think it is my duty to state, that I fear the result of the school would not be such as we all wish unless the objections to which the Roman Catholic bishops have to some part of the management of those model schools, be remedied.

The advantage of having a suitable training school in Sligo is incalculable, giving the great opportunity to the youths of the working and industrious classes of the town and neighbourhood to be instructed as teachers of National schools, whose parents have not the means to send them to Dublin or elsewhere for that object, and even to those who may have means it would be great satisfaction to have their children educated at home. The want of good and efficient teachers, in many districts of the province, is manifest. I look upon the National school, where there is a good and efficient teacher, and where the managers or patrons take a lively interest in the school, and where frequently visited by the Inspectors, the greatest boon Ireland has had from the Legislature. The fruits are great in the decrease of crime, in peace, industry and prosperity of the youths who have been instructed in and those who are attending those schools. I trust your honorable Board will consider the wishes of the great bulk of the people, and be pleased to remove any cause of the fears which the Roman Catholic bishops now have to the management of the model schools, as without that removal the school here would not be attended with the success which is so desirable, but would lead to discontent and delusion amongst the community and disturbance amongst the people. My zeal for the establishment of such a school as will meet the wishes of the great bulk of the people, to which there cannot be an objection—same as the National schools—that I will give fifty pounds towards its being established, if your honorable Board have not sufficient funds at your disposal to do so.

I have the honour to be, my lords and gentlemen,
Your most obedient servant,
Peter O'Connor.

Gentlemen,—I have been directed to forward the enclosed address, which was this day unanimously adopted at a public meeting of the Town and Harbour Commissioners, with whom were appointed members of the Corporation of the borough.

I am, gentlemen, your obedient servant,
George Mostyn,
Secretary to the Commissioners.

To the Secretaries of the Board of National Education, Dublin.

Sligo District Model School.

To the Right Honorable and Honorable the Commissioners of National Education in Ireland.

My Lords and Gentlemen,—We, the Commissioners of the Town and Harbour of Sligo, including the Corporation of the borough, beg on the part of the people of Sligo to offer you public thanks for having determined to establish a district model school in our town.

Although Sligo possesses great natural advantages, and in the words of Lord Palmerston is destined by nature to be one of the chief sea-ports in Ireland, we regret to say that it has hitherto been very much neglected, and in no respect more than in the educational wants of the industrial classes. The establishment of a model school would supply this great want, which is so much felt and deplored, and we look forward with confidence to the speedy carrying out of your resolution.

I have the honour to be, my lords and gentlemen,

Your obedient servant,

George Mostyn,

Secretary to Commissioners.

Messrs. Kelly and Cross.

Gentlemen,—I take the liberty of forwarding you a copy of my paper, containing some remarks relative to the proposed model school by your Board in this town, which I think it only right you should see. I would feel much obliged (if not contrary to the regulation of the Board) for a copy of the protest sent forward by some parties in this town against the erection of the school, the expense attending which I shall remit you by return post, with thanks.

I remain, gentlemen, your obedient servant,

Sir,—The Commissioners of National Education having resolved on establishing a district model National school in the town of Sligo, are prepared to take the ground offered by you for the purpose, and approved of by the Head and District Inspectors.

Before directing their solicitors to communicate with you, the Commissioners request you will acquaint them what is the longest lease you are prepared to give of the plot pointed out by the Inspectors, bearing in mind, that as the sum to be expended in the buildings is considerable, the Commissioners, in such cases, always require a long term of years.

The Commissioners propose to take four roods at the rent stated to the Inspector. They request to be informed what frontage (in feet) this site will afford. The favour of an immediate reply is requested.

We are, sir, your obedient servants,

Sir,—We have had the honour of laying before the Commissioners of National Education, at their last meeting, your letter of the 6th inst.,* forwarding a copy of an address from the Commissioners of the Town and Harbour of Sligo, including the Corporation of the Borough, offering, on the part of the people of Sligo, their public thanks to the National Board for having determined to establish a district model school in that town, and stating that they look forward with confidence to the speedy carrying out of the Board's intention.

We are directed to inform you that the perusal of this address has afforded the Commissioners much satisfaction; and that preliminary measures are in progress for the establishment of the school with as little delay as the circumstances of the case will permit—a very considerable sum having been voted by Parliament towards the establishment of a district model school in Sligo.

As regards your application to be furnished with a copy of the "protest" transmitted by certain parties at Sligo against the model school in that town, we are directed to inform you that such documents are considered confidential, and the Commissioners therefore regret being obliged to decline acceding to your request.

Sir,—We have had the honour to lay before the Board of National Education your letter of the 7th instant, together with the copy of the address, to which you allude, from the Town and Harbour Commissioners of Sligo, thanking the Board for having resolved on building a district model school in that town.*

We have this day written to the Secretary of the Town Commissioners, informing him that preliminary measures are in progress for the establishment of the school, towards the building of which Parliament has already voted a considerable sum.

This school will be built and maintained at the sole cost of the State, and be under the exclusive control of the Commissioners of National Education, and conducted on the same principles as all other National schools of this class.

My Lord,—We have had the honour of laying before the Commissioners of National Education, at their last meeting, your letter of the 21st ult., protesting, for various reasons assigned therein, against the establishment of a district model school in the town of Sligo, and forwarding us a copy of "Pastoral" from the "Archbishop and Bishop of Tuam."*

We are directed to acquaint your lordship, in reply, that the Commissioners consider themselves pledged to erect a school for this class in that town; that they have applied to Parliament for the requisite funds; that a sum for the purpose has been included in the estimate for the current year; and that an eligible site has been offered for the buildings.

We are further directed to state, that having fully considered all the circumstances of the case, the Commissioners see no ground for departing from their original intention.

Gentlemen,—I have received your letter of the 11th instant, informing me that the Commissioners of National Education are prepared to take the ground offered by me in the town of Sligo as a site for a district model National school, and which had been approved of by the Head and District Inspector, also requesting to know the length of lease I would give; and the frontage, four roods, which they propose to take.

I will give a lease for 500 years, or a longer term, if the Commissioners desire it.

The frontage agreed on for three roods was 100 feet; consequently for four roods it will be 134 feet, or one-third more.

The rent named for three roods was £20 a year, and for four roods £26 13*s.* 4*d.*, or in proportion to the quantities of land.

I request the Commissioners will be pleased to refer their solicitors to me at their earliest convenience. Sligo District Model School.

Trim, January 24, 1846.

My dear Mr. Corballis,—I was sure that you would feel some interest about your old friends in Trim, and would be anxious that we should not be unnecessarily disappointed.

The Charter school, as you rightly remember, was built on an acre of ground granted to the Incorporated Society about the year 1748, by the Corporation, notwithstanding the law of 1705. That law was then in the prime of life, about forty years old, it cannot have grown stronger as it has grown older.‡

Ever yours,

R. Butler.

Trim, April 30, 1846.

Dear Sir,—A "Scarcity committee" for the relief of the distressed labourers of this locality has just been formed, of which we have been appointed members. The great object of this Committee is to devise some useful works, which will both give employment to the poor, and will redound to the benefit of the public. With this view our associates in this good course have imposed on us the duty of using, now especially, our best efforts to erect a public school on a very extensive scale, and in connexion with the National Education Board. We can procure from our Corporation at a nominal rent (say one shilling per annum), a very beautiful site, comprising nearly two statute acres, at the outlet of the town, and as near to its centre as the present National school, which would require to be four times larger than it is to accommodate sufficiently the children of this populous district. On this new site a large school, an infant male and female schools, or one of those model schools which the National Education Board are anxious to establish throughout the country, could be erected. For either we can give every immediate necessary facility; we can also procure subscriptions to the amount of two hundred pounds, furthermore, if the Board will only give a plan and specification of the intended building, or will direct us to prepare such for their approval, we can find a builder who will undertake the work at once, and will wait for their portion of the payment until the Parliamentary grant of 1847, or if necessary 1848. Our great object in this case is the relief of our starving poor. The expenditure during the summer of seven or eight hundred pounds amongst labourers and tradesmen of various descriptions will contribute much to alleviate their distress. We require nothing more from the National Education Board than to define the building to be erected, and to give the necessary guarantee for their payment to the contractor at a future specified period. Please consult some of the members, and, if you desire it, we will have the honour of waiting on the Board to explain details, &c., on any day you may appoint. Trusting in your best exertions in behalf of the poor of Ireland, and that you will promote our meritorious undertaking—

GENTLEMEN,—Your letter of the 30th ultimo addressed to J. R. To Rev. John O'Connell and Rev. R. Butler, Trim.

District 19.

May 6, 1846.

GENTLEMEN,—On receipt of your letter of the 5th instant, enclosing the copy of a letter (2042, P.) from the Rev. J. O'Connell and Rev. R. Butler, I communicated with the two reverend gentlemen on the subject therein referred to, and beg to report what I have ascertained of the circumstances of the case.

The site mentioned in the letter, and of which I beg to enclose herewith a plan, taken from the Ordnance Map, is in the townland of Maudlins, parish of Trim, barony of Lower Moyfenrath, and county of Meath.

It contains two statute acres, and is on the leading road from Trim to Dublin, at the outlet of the town, and about 830 yards from the bridge which connects the two parts into which the town is divided by the Boyne; the present National school is distant about 670 yards from the same bridge.

The proposed plot of ground is part of the Commons of Trim, and belongs to the Town Commissioners. The present occupier holds it from a person to whom it was granted in the then usual way, for his own life, by the late Corporation of Trim; but both occupier and grantee have agreed to surrender their interest to the Rev. Mr. O'Connell for the sum of £30, which he is prepared to pay them, should the application now made to the Commissioners of National Education be favourably entertained. A resolution to the effect that a lease of the site be made to the Commissioners of National Education at a nominal rent will be proposed to-morrow at the meeting of the Town Commissioners, and the two reverend gentlemen, who are Commissioners, have no doubt of its being carried. I beg further to state that the town of Trim is, in my opinion, the most eligible locality for the model school of this district, and that possibly in no other part of this district, or at no future period, could a more desirable spot be had and on such advantageous terms.

The elementary schools to be connected with the model school could be so built as to afford sufficient accommodation to the large number of children who would attend, were more adequate means of instruction provided than are now available.

I am given to understand that the daily attendance would not be under 200 girls from seven years of age and upwards, and that if it were deemed advisable to annex an infant school, about 100 infants between three and seven years old might be expected to attend.

Should the Commissioners' decision be in favour of erecting elementary schools only, on the usual conditions for vested schools, and to postpone the erection of the model school, I am informed that £200 may be stated as the amount of local contribution which will be raised towards the payment of one-third of the expenses.

In either case, if the Commissioners come to a favourable decision on the application, the works may be begun without any delay, as the builder alluded to in the letter has stated to me that he is ready to undertake the work on the terms mentioned in that letter, and to commence as soon as he shall have been furnished with the necessary plan and specification. He was the contractor for the Trim Workhouse; and had the building of several National schools in the neighbourhood.

Thus one of the objects had in view by the applicants would be effected, namely, the useful employment of the labourers and tradesmen of this locality during the summer months, and the consequent alleviation of much of the distress which is beginning to be very seriously felt in this neighbourhood. In conclusion, I have to inform you, that the person in whose occupation the site is, has it prepared for setting potatoes, some of the manure being already on the spot, and that he consented about a week ago, at Mr. O'Connell's request, to delay the work until the decision of the Commissioners should be communicated. He now states that he cannot postpone beyond Monday next the planting of his potatoes, and that when that is done he will not be willing to give up possession of the field for the terms agreed upon.

Should the Board see fit to entertain the application made by Mr. O'Connell and Mr. Butler, on the decision being made known to them before Monday next, Mr. O'Connell would pay the £30, obtain immediate possession, and thus secure for the Commissioners of National Education a most eligible site.

I have the honour to be, your obedient servant,

EDWARD BUTLER.

GENTLEMEN,—I beg to enclose herewith a copy of a resolution adopted yesterday at a meeting of the Trim

Borough Commissioners. This resolution I got this evening from the Rev. Mr. O'Connell, who, at the same time, left me word that Mr. M'Keon, the present occupier of the land, referred to in the resolution, and in my letter of the 6th instant, had further consented to wait until Tuesday next, but no longer. Mr. O'Connell requests that I should press this on the attention of the Commissioners.

As I did not return home this evening till after post hour, I shall forward this by the morning coach.

I have the honour to remain, your obedient servant,

At an adjourned meeting of the Trim Borough Commissioners, held in the Court-house on Thursday, May 7th, 1846, the following resolution was proposed by the Rev. Richard Butler, seconded by the Rev. John O'Connell, and carried unanimously :—

Resolved—That the Trim Borough Commissioners grant, at one shilling per annum, to the Commissioners of National Education, such a lease as they may require, and we may be able to give, of the small field at the Maudlins, now in possession of Nicholas M'Keon, containing about two statute acres, for the purpose of having erected thereon an extensive public school in connexion with the National Education Board.

Trim, July 6, 1846.

GENTLEMEN,—We have the honour to return the accompanying query-sheet, fully answered, respecting the plot of ground upon which it is proposed to erect a district model National school-house in this town.

We delayed replying to you earlier, that we might give you the names of the Borough Commissioners, the grantors, who have been only this day elected. I enclose a list of their names, signed by the Town Clerk.

In consequence of the delay in coming to a speedy arrangement at the commencement of this negotiation, the field has been planted with potatoes, and the tenant will therefore require a larger compensation. We have agreed with him and his lessor, the only parties interested, except the Borough Commissioners, for the sum of £40 to be paid by the National Education Board for immediate possession.

SIR,—The Commissioners of National Education having had under consideration your letter of the 6th inst., in reference to the proposed site for the erection of a district model school at Trim, county Meath, we are directed to inform you that, under the peculiar circumstances of the case, as stated by you, they have agreed to pay the sum of £40, provided that a satisfactory title can be shown, the lease executed, and all other necessary arrangements made to enable the Commissioners to take possession BEFORE THE CROP IS OUT OF THE GROUND.

We are also to inform you, that the papers have been referred to the law adviser of the Board, to examine whether, under the provisions of the Municipal Corporation Act, the Borough Commissioners are empowered to make the lease proposed.

Trim, August 20, 1846.

GENTLEMEN,—In reply to your letter of yesterday's date, I beg to inform you that there are, I believe, no charter, deeds, or documents extant to prove by whom, when, how, or for what purpose the corporate lands of Trim were originally granted.

These lands have been held by the late Corporation from time immemorial, and have been transferred to the Borough Commissioners, established here under the 9 Geo. IV., cap. 82, by the 3rd and 4th Vic., cap. 108, commonly called the "Irish Municipal Act."

The late Corporation, by an Act of Assembly, held on the 29th of September, 1837, conferred for his life, the lot of commons in question, on Luke Moore, a freeman, in strict accordance with their rules and customs.

Luke Moore then agreed to let, from year to year, the lot to Nicholas M'Keon, the tenant at the time, and at present in possession, for the annual rent of £3.

Both parties have then agreed to transfer their respective rights to the Education Commissioners, and to give immediate possession of the lot, on the payment of the sums already communicated to you. You are already aware of the resolution of the Borough Commissioners on this head.

I deem it right to apprize you that I have been appointed chairman of the current year, ending the 31st of July, 1847; and that Mr. James Kealy has been appointed a Commissioner in the room of the late Mr. Michael Allen, who died on the 13th ult.

I have the honour to remain, gentlemen,

Your obedient servant,

Trim, September 17, 1846.

My Dear Mr. Corballis,—I received this morning a letter from the Secretary to the National Board, enclosing an opinion of their counsel that the Town Commissioners of Trim cannot make a valid lease of our portion of the concerns to the Commissioners of National Education.

This opinion refers solely to a by-law of the late Corporation of the date of May 1705.

And having in view this by-law alone, I make no doubt but that it is not only a safe but a sound opinion.

But then it ought to have been submitted to your legal adviser, that the said by-law (if not positively rescinded, and I am not sure that it was not) was in many particulars practically disregarded by the late Corporation; and that as to the power of granting sooner, the power was denied, that power was exercised within the last twenty years by the Corporation by leasing part of the commons to the Crown; and the law adviser of the Crown was so well satisfied with the title that the Government has laid out some £3,000 in building barracks upon the ground so leased.

If the case had been fully stated to him, I cannot but think that the opinion of R. P. O'C. would have been different; and considering the benefit which we should derive from the labour in building the school, and the great advantage the school would be to our people, I do hope that this opinion will be received, and that the shadow of danger will not deprive us of a substantial good.

As for getting land from any other proprietor it is impossible, and if the Town Commissioners cannot make a sufficient title, the plan must be given up.

Ever yours,

R. Butler.

Extract from Board's Minutes, dated October 3, 1846, on (4202/8) letter from Rev. R. Butler.

Ordered, that the Rev. Mr. Butler be informed that the case has been again referred to the law adviser of the Board, and that he retains his opinion that the Trim Borough Commissioners cannot make a valid lease of the proposed ground. If, however, the parties propose to lay the case before the Attorney-General, the Commissioners will postpone coming to any decision on any other site that may be offered, till the result of such communication be known.

Trim, December 7, 1846.

My dear Mr. Corballis,—I have just seen a letter from the Secretary of the Treasury to an application from the Methodists of Trim, that the Lords of the Treasury would authorize the Town Commissioners to grant them a lease for 900 years, of a plot of ground to build a Methodist chapel. In his reply the Secretary states that their lordships would give their favourable consideration to the application if it came from the Town Commissioners by memorial to them.

If the Town Commissioners memorial the Lords of the Treasury for permission to grant the National Board a lease for 900 years, and obtain their consent, will the law advisers of the Board be satisfied, and shall we have a model school?

Yours in haste and cold,

R. Butler.

I am, sir, your obedient servant,

The Chairman of the Commissioners of the Borough of Trim.

To the LORDS of the TREASURY, &c., &c., &c.

The MEMORIAL of the TRIM BOROUGH COMMISSIONERS, established in pursuance of the Act 9th Geo. IV., chap. 82—

SHOWETH—That at a special meeting of the Trim Borough Commissioners, held on the 7th of May, 1846, the following resolution was unanimously adopted :—

"Moved by Rev. Richard Butler, and seconded by Rev. John O'Connell :

"Resolved—That the Trim Borough Commissioners grant, at one shilling per annum, to the Commissioners of National Education such a lease as they may require, and we may be enabled to give, of the small field at Maudlins, now in possesion of Nicholas M'Keon, containing about two statute acres, for the purpose of having erected thereon an extensive public school in connexion with the National Education Board."

In pursuance of the foregoing, it is now resolved to grant a lease of seventy-five years from the 1st of November next of the small field at the Maudlins, now in possession of Nicholas M'Keon, containing about two statute acres, at the yearly rent of one shilling, to the Commissioners of National Education, for the purpose of having erected thereon a model school, with all requisite buildings—the whole to exceed the value of two thousand pounds sterling.

Your memorialists solicit your lordships' sanction of the proposed grant to the Commissioners of National Education in Ireland, and your memorialists will pray.

SIRS,—In reply to your letter of the 15th, requesting us to state if the Trim Borough Commissioners will grant a lease for ever of the proposed site for a model school, we have to state that we have no doubt but that the Commissioners would be willing to grant such lease if required.

Gentlemen,—The Commissioners of National Education have had under consideration your letters of the 18th and 25th instant, and they direct us to inform you that, in order to prevent delay, they are willing to accept a lease for seventy-five years of that portion of the commons of Trim upon which it has been proposed to erect a district model school, and they have accordingly given directions to prepare the necessary lease. But it is upon the understanding that, within one year from the completion of the building, the Borough Commissioners of Trim will apply to the Lords of Her Majesty's Treasury for permission to grant a lease of the premises in perpetuity.

To the Commissioners of National Education in Ireland.

My Lords and Gentlemen,—We, the undersigned inhabitants of the city of Waterford and its vicinity, feeling an anxious desire to promote the general education of the poorer and middle classes on the principle of the National system administered by your Board, and finding you have opened district model schools in various large towns in Ireland, and understanding that it is your intention to establish other similar institutions in suitable localities in the several counties of Ireland, beg leave to submit to your consideration the claims of the city of Waterford as an important locality for the establishment of one of the proposed model schools.

The amount of the population and the extent of the city will, we trust, be considered by the Commissioners as constituting fair claims on behalf of Waterford as a suitable locality for one of those valuable institutions, while the circumstance of this city being the centre of a district assigned as the residence of one of your Inspectors, and the important and gratifying fact that there will be found in this city clergymen of the different religious persuasions, who will consider it a duty to attend to the separate religious instruction of the pupils of the different Churches in the principles of their respective creeds, and who, together with an influential body of the laity of all religious denominations, will be ready cordially to co-operate in carrying into effect the benevolent intentions of the Board, will, it is hoped, afford encouragement to the Commissioners to select the city of Waterford as a suitable locality for one of the district model schools.

Earnestly soliciting the attention of the Commissioners of National Education to the prayer of this memorial,

We have the honour to be, my lords and gentlemen,
Your obedient humble servants,
Bessborough.

Waterford, July 23, 1851.

Sirs,—I do myself the honour to inform you, as secretary to the committee appointed to get up a memorial to the Commissioners of National Education praying for the erection of a model school in this city, that since the memorial was forwarded the following noblemen and gentlemen have signified their desire to have their names attached to it, and which I would feel much obliged if you would have the kindness to do :

Lord Besborough,
Lord Fortescue,
Sir Richard Keane, bart., Foreman to County Grand Jury, Colonel of Waterford Militia, Sir Benjamin Morris Wall.

I deem it also well to mention that the Grand Jury of the city of Waterford lately passed a resolution praying that the Commissioners would take the memorial into their favourable consideration, and I presume has been forwarded to you.

I have the honour to remain, sirs,
Your most obedient servant,
John A. Blake.

To the Secretaries to the Commissioners of National Education, Dublin.

Education Office, 30 July, 1851.

SIR,—Having laid before the Commissioners of National Education your note of the 23rd instant, relative to the memorial which has been forwarded to them praying that a district model school may be established in Waterford, we are directed to inform you (as secretary to the committee appointed for the furtherance of that object) that the Commissioners have felt much satisfaction at receiving a memorial so numerously and influentially signed by persons of various religious denominations for the purpose therein stated; and after full consideration they have resolved to comply with the prayer of the memorialists should they be able to procure a site in every respect suitable, on a satisfactory lease, and at a moderate rent.

We are, however, directed to add that as the Commissioners have not funds for the erection of more than two district model schools during the present year, and as they had selected Limerick and Kilkenny as suitable places for such schools, previous to the receipt of the memorial from Waterford, they regret that it will not be in their power to commence the school in the latter locality until next year, should Parliament then place the necessary funds at their disposal. But in the meantime the Commissioners will be prepared to receive proposals for an eligible site, and to make other preliminary arrangements.

We are to state, in conclusion, that the Commissioners have had much gratification in adding the names mentioned by you to the memorial, and we shall feel much obliged by you informing the parties in question.

We are, sir, your obedient servants,

SIR,—Annexed I beg to hand you a copy of a resolution passed by the Grand Jury of the city of Waterford at Summer Assizes, 1851, and I shall feel obliged by your laying same before the Commissioners of National Education.

I have the honour to be, sir, your obedient servant,

H. F. SARGENT,
Secretary to the Grand Jury of the City of Waterford.

To the Secretary of the Commissioners of National Education.

County of the City of Waterford,
Summer Assizes, 1851.

A memorial, numerously signed by the inhabitants of the city of Waterford of all religious denominations, having been forwarded to the Commissioners of National Education, praying that one of the District Model Schools, in connexion with the Board, may be established in this city, and a copy of the memorial having been laid before us, it is unanimously resolved:—

That we, the Grand Jury of the city of Waterford, desire to express our hearty concurrence with the prayer of the said memorial; and it is our anxious hope that the Board of National Education will select this city for the site of one of the intended District Model Schools, from the establishment of which so great benefit may be expected to result in the moral and intellectual improvement of the rising generation.

Waterford, Dec. 5, 1851.

GENTLEMEN,—I take the liberty of sending you accompanied a newspaper containing a letter of mine on the subject of National Education, in reply to one that lately appeared from the Very Rev. Dr. O'Brien. My object in sending you this letter is in order to prove to the Commissioners the unabated feeling in favour of the establishment of a model school, on the part of the great body of the Roman Catholics of Waterford. Waterford District Model School.

I may mention that the letter of the Right Rev. Dr. Foran has produced no ill effects whatever against the system in the minds of the people, as we are well aware that his too yielding disposition gave way before the misrepresentations and unceasing efforts of the opponents of the cause of liberal education.

It gives me great pleasure, however, to be enabled to inform you that public feeling is completely against them, and that almost to a man everyone declares that they will send their children to the school when opened.

I understand that a counter-memorial will probably be forwarded to you in a few days, and in the event of its being done, we are prepared to show you that the manner in which names have been procured to it have been such, that you will be disposed to attach very little importance to a document of the kind; and I may mention that if the Commissioners deem it necessary to have any further proof of public feeling in favour of the establishment of the school, I, and the other promoters of the matter, are prepared to get up such a demonstration in its favour as will leave no doubt in the minds of anyone that the people are determined to have education.

I have the honour, gentlemen, to remain
Your most obedient servant,
JOHN A. BLAKE.

The Secretaries to the Commissioners of National Education, Dublin.

SIR,—We have laid before the Commissioners of National Education your letter of the 5th instant,* on the subject of the proposed District Model School at Waterford, together with the newspaper which accompanied it, and we are now to inform you that the Commissioners are much gratified with the perusal of these documents.

Waterford, December 22, 1851.

GENTLEMEN,—I had the honour of receiving your letter of the 17th, and now beg to enclose you a copy of an address to the Roman Catholics of Waterford, purporting to be from the bishop and priests.

I have been requested by several of the Roman Catholic lay memorialists to write to you for the purpose of putting the Commissioners in possession of the fact that so far from that document being adopted unanimously by the clergymen assembled, that three of them (the two parish priests and the curate of one of the latter) protested against signing it up to the last moment, as being against their conviction and feelings to do so, and were only compelled to sign it on being threatened with immediate suspension. The bishop desiring them to refuse at their peril.

These clergymen still privately declared that their opinion in favour of the establishment of the model school continued unaltered, and, if they could do so, they would give the project all the assistance in their power.

* Board's Minute, dated 12th December, 1851.

Waterford District Model School.

The Head of the Society of Friars also declared that he signed against his conviction, and that he did so merely for peace sake; and, to my own knowledge, several of the curates are in favour of it. It gives me much pleasure to be enabled to assure you that the popular feeling in favour of the school continues unaltered; and, I think, you will perceive by the newspapers that the promoters of the undertaking are determined to spare no effort to resist all attempts at being coerced into submission. We are determined to place matters in their true light, and have no doubt that in the end we will overcome all opposition.

I have the honour, gentlemen, to remain your obedient servant,

Paragraph 7.—Copies of all Rules, Regulations, or Codes, for the Guidance of Inspectors, with dates of Introduction.

Note.—To the instructions contained in the Commissioners' Reports and in the Code (1854) are added some Circulars, as specimens of the directions necessary to issue from time to time to meet the requirements of the service.

Instructions for the Guidance of Inspectors published in the 3rd Report of the Commissioners of National Education (for the year 1836).

I. General Principles of the System of Education to be attended to by the Inspectors.

1. The Commissioners do not take the control or regulation of any school, except their own model school, directly into their own hands, but leave all schools aided by them under the authority of the local conductors. The Inspectors will therefore not give direct orders as on the part of the Board, respecting any necessary regulations, but point out such regulations to the conductors of the school, that they may give the requisite orders.

2. In all schools receiving the ordinary rate of salary aided by the Commissioners, a certain number of days, at least four in each week, and certain hours, at least four in each day, are understood to be set apart for moral and literary education, during which children of all denominations are to be educated together. During these hours no book inculcating or countenancing peculiar views of religion is to be used. As the Holy Scripture is itself unhappily a subject of controversy in this country, both in regard to the books which constitute Scripture and to the translation of it; and as the introduction of the Bible into schools for common education has created much contention and dispute, and prevented a very large proportion of the poorer classes of Ireland from sending their children to schools receiving Government aid, it is not to be introduced during the hours set apart for common education; but every facility is to be given for the reading and explaining of the Scriptures, either before or after these hours, or for any other mode of communicating religious instruction by such pastors or other persons as are approved by the parents or guardians of the children. One week-day, at least, is to be set apart for religious instruction under the same restriction, namely, that it be given by instructors approved of by the parents or guardians of the pupils.

All books used in the schools during the hours of general instruction are to receive the sanction of the Board. Those which the Board have already sanctioned are school-books of the Kildare-place Society, and the late corrected editions of the school-books of the Catholic Book Society.

The General Lesson is to be hung up conspicuously in the school-rooms.

The inscription, "National School," is to be put up conspicuously on the outside of the school-house.

Should the Inspector find in any school a departure from any of these regulations, he is to represent the matter to the conductors of the school, and if it be not rectified, he is to report immediately to the Commissioners.

3. The objects which Government have in view are: First, to promote the general intelligence and good conduct of the poorer classes of this country. Second, to allay animosities, and to cultivate good feeling between the parties that may have been at variance. Third, to introduce as much of religious instruction as can be done without exciting jealousy and contention, and hostile feeling, either towards Government or towards one another.

4. The Commissioners are anxious to stand on the most friendly and affectionate terms with the patrons, conductors, and teachers of all schools aided by them; they therefore wish the Inspectors to be at all times as conciliating as may be consistent with their duty.

II. Inspection of Schools.

A list of schools to be inspected shall be given to each Inspector, and which he shall visit in such order as may seem most convenient.

He is not to give previous notice to the conductors of any schools of the time of his visit, but rather endeavour to arrive with each when he is not expected.

In cases in which grants have been made towards building or repairing school-houses, of which he will be informed, he will examine whether the grant has been properly applied; whether the building or repairs have been executed according to the plan, or are in progress towards being executed. He will make such inquiry respecting the applicants for such grants as the Board may see it necessary to direct.

On entering the school, and introducing himself to the master, he will immediately examine whether the fundamental regulations of the Board are complied with, and point out privately to the teacher whatever may be deficient.

He will then observe the mode of teaching adopted by the teacher, and suggest to him such improvements as may occur to him. In all his intercourse with the teachers, he will treat them with the most perfect kindness and respect, apprizing them privately of what he may see defective, and noting it to be reported to the Board, but by no means addressing them authoritatively or animadverting upon their conduct in the hearing of their scholars.

He will take with him a copy of the General Lesson, and, in the event of its not having been previously put up, leave it with the teacher, to have it put up immediately. He will also take a copy of the sheet containing the Ten Commandments, and leave it with the teacher, that it may also be put up, provided the conductors of the school approve of it, but not otherwise.

It is advisable that the Inspectors should have communication with the conductors or patrons of all schools visited by them, for the purpose of obtaining information and suggesting improvements.

He will ascertain the advancement of education among the children, noting the proportion of children who can read fluently; what progress they have made in writing and arithmetic; whether any be taught geography, grammar, bookkeeping, and mensuration; whether girls be taught sewing or knitting.

He will inquire whether the Scripture Extracts and Sacred Poetry be read by the children, and recommend the use of these books on the part of the Board; but not peremptorily insist upon it. He will observe whether there be anything in the aspect and regulations of the school that tend to confine it to one particular denomination of children, that he may report to the Board accordingly.

He will not omit visiting any school on his list in consequence of hearing reports that it has been closed, or withdrawn from its connexion with the Board, but will go to the place and make inquiry into the circumstance, that he may report them accurately to the Board.

He will use the most effective means that may occur to him for ascertaining the number of children really in attendance at the school, examining the roll and the register of daily attendance, and making such inquiries as may put him in possession of exact knowledge on the subject.

He will observe the general appearance of the children in the school, whether cleanliness seems to be required and order observed, particularly in regard to the two great rules of order—"A place for everything, and everything in its place;" "A time for everything, and everything in its time;" also the ordinary passing of the children from one exercise to another, as well as their orderly entering and leaving school.

III. Miscellaneous.

Each Inspector will make inquiry respecting the state of education in every neighbourhood that he visits —such as the number and nature of schools in the neighbourhood—the disposition of the people to receive education—the prevailing defects in the education at present within their reach.

Each Inspector will make himself master of the system of education promoted by the Board in its fundamental principles; so that, without appearing on behalf of the Board in public, he may as he has opportunity, in private explain it, and the reason for its rules.

The Inspectors will carefully avoid permitting themselves to be drawn into political or theological discussions.

During every journey the Inspectors will inform the Secretary, from time to time, of their progress, that they may be addressed at every post-town through which they may pass. They will be careful to call at the post-office of every post-town in their route for letters.

At the close of each tour of inspection, each Inspector will address a letter to the Secretary, giving a general report on the state of education in the districts which he has visited; noticing the general state of the National schools; whether the number of schools and scholars be increasing or decreasing, and the cause of either; the general aspect of the schools, and character of schoolmasters; suggesting whatever improvements may occur to him.

When Inspectors are in Dublin, they will be expected to attend the model school, or any other school that may be pointed out to them, for the purpose of making themselves perfectly acquainted with the system of teaching pursued by the head master; and also of aiding and introducing improvements in the metropolis, as the Commissioners are anxious that all schools in Dublin and its immediate vicinity may be such as will fit them for becoming model schools for the rest of the kingdom. They are directed to pay particular attention to the instructions and suggestions of the head master.

When the Inspectors are in Dublin, they will leave their addresses at the Education Office; they are also expected, unless other duties prevent them, to call at the office every day.

Instructions for the Guidance of Inspectors, published in the 5th Report of the Commissioners of National Education (for the year 1838).

IV. Inspection of Schools.

1. Clergymen of all denominations residing in the neighbourhood of a school, or having any ecclesiastical connexion with the district in which it is situated, although they may not have signed the original application to the Commissioners, are to have free admission to it, not to take part in the ordinary business, nor to interrupt it, but as visitors to observe how it is conducted.

2. Every teacher of a National school is required to receive courteously known clergymen or other gentlemen of the neighbourhood, of all denominations, who purpose to inspect it; to afford them free access to the school-room, and full liberty to observe what books are in the hands of the children, or upon the desks; what tablets are hung up on the walls, and what is their method of teaching; but they are by no means required to permit any person to interrupt the business of the school, by asking questions of children, examining classes, calling for papers of any kind, or in any other way diverting the attention of either teachers or scholars from their usual business.

3. Should any such visitors wish for information which they cannot obtain by such inspection, it will be the duty of the teacher to refer them to the patrons or managers of the school for it.

4. Every teacher is required to have his visitors' book lying upon his desk, that visitors may, if they choose, enter remarks in it. Such remarks as may be made, the teachers are by no means to alter or erase.

5. With respect to persons not clergymen, or not of the neighbourhood, proposing to visit a school, the local managers are at liberty to make such regulations as they may deem expedient. The Commissioners, however, expect that, whether such visits be received or declined, the persons who offer them shall always be treated with respect, and their inspections subjected to the same regulations with those of clergymen residing in the neighbourhood.

6. As the religious instruction of the children is under the control of the clergyman or lay person communicating it with the approbation of their parents, the Commissioners can give no liberty to any other visitor, whether clergyman or layman, to interfere at all upon the subject.

7. The Commissioners, by themselves or their officers, are to be allowed to visit and examine the schools whenever they think fit. Those who visit on the part of the Commissioners will be furnished with credentials under their seal, which they will show to the teachers.

8. The Commissioners have divided Ireland into twenty-five school districts, and have appointed a Superintendent for each. He is frequently to visit the several schools committed to his charge; to receive a monthly report upon each from the teacher; and to make one quarterly himself to the Commissioners. He is also to supply them with such local information as they may from time to time require from him, and to act as their agent in all matters in which they may employ him; but he is not invested with authority to decide upon any question affecting a National school, or the general business of the Commissioners, without their direction.

Instructions for the Guidance of Inspectors, published in the 9th Report of the Commissioners (1842).

IV. Inspection of Schools.

1. Admission of Visitors.

1. The public generally must have free access to every National school, during the hours devoted to secular instruction—not to take part in the ordinary business, nor to interrupt it—but as visitors, to observe how it is conducted.

2. Every teacher of a National school is to receive courteously visitors of all denominations, to afford them free access to the school-room, and full liberty to observe what books are in the hands of the children, or upon the desks; what tablets are hung up on the walls, and what is the method of teaching; but they are by no means required to permit any person to interrupt the business of the school by asking questions of children, examining classes, calling for papers of any kind, or in any other way diverting the attention of either teachers or scholars from their usual business.

3. Should any visitors wish for information which they cannot obtain by such an inspection, it is the duty of the teachers to refer them to the patrons or managers of the school for it.

4. Every teacher is required to have his visitors' or daily report book lying upon his desk, that visitors may, if they choose, enter remarks in it. Such remarks as may be made, the teachers are by no means to alter or erase; and the Superintendent of the district is required to transmit to the Commissioners copies of such remarks as he may deem of sufficient importance to be made known to them.

5. As the religious instruction of the children is under the control of the clergyman or lay person communicating it with the approbation of their parents, the Commissioners can give no liberty to any other visitor, whether clergyman or layman, to interfere therewith.

2. Inspection by the Commissioners or their Officers.

1. The Commissioners do not take the control or regulation of any school, except their own Model School, directly into their own hands, but leave all schools aided by them under the authority of the local conductors. The Superintendents, therefore, are not to give direct orders, as on the part of the Board, respecting any necessary regulations, but to point out such regulations to the conductors of the school, that they may give the requisite orders.

2. The Commissioners require that every National school be inspected by the Superintendent of the district, at least three times in each year.

3. The Superintendent, on each inspection, is to communicate with the patron or correspondent, for the purpose of affording information concerning the general state of the school, and pointing out such violations of rule, or defects, if any, as he may have observed; and he is to make such suggestions as he may deem necessary.

4. He is to examine the Visitors' Book, or Daily Report Book, and to transmit to the Commissioners copies of any observations made therein which he may consider to be of importance.

5. He is not to make any observation in the book except the date of his visit, the time occupied in the inspection of the school, showing the precise time at which it commenced, and the precise time at which it terminated; and also the number of scholars present.

6. Upon ordinary occasions, he is not to give any intimation of his intended visit; but during the middle term of the year, from 1st of May to the 31st August, when the inspection is to be made public, he is to make such previous arrangements with the local managers, as will facilitate the attendance of the parents of the children, and other persons interested in the welfare of the schools.

7. He is to report to the Commissioners the result of each visit, and to use every means to obtain accurate information as to the discipline, management, and methods of instruction pursued in the school.

8. He is to examine all the classes in succession, in their different branches of study, so as to enable him to ascertain the degree and efficiency of the instruction imparted.

9. He is to examine the class rolls, register, and daily report book; and to report with accuracy what is the actual number of children receiving instruction at the school, and what is the daily average attendance.

10. He is to receive a monthly report from the teacher of each school, and also to make one quarterly himself to the Commissioners, in addition to his ordinary report upon the school after each visit.

11. He is also to supply the Commissioners with such local information as they may from time to time require from him, and to act as their agent in all matters in which they may employ him; but he is not vested with authority to decide upon any question affecting a National school, or the general business of the Commissioners, without their direction.

12. When applications for aid are referred to the Superintendent, he is to communicate with the applicant so as to insure an interview, and also with the clergymen of the different denominations in the neighbourhood, with a view of ascertaining their sentiments on the case, and whether they have any, and what, objection thereto. He is also to communicate personally, if necessary, with any other individuals in the neighbourhood.

13. The Superintendent is to avoid all discussions of a religious or political nature; he is to exhibit a courteous and conciliatory demeanour towards all persons with whom he is to communicate, and to pursue such a line of conduct as will tend to uphold the just influence and authority both of managers and teachers.

INSTRUCTIONS for the GUIDANCE of DISTRICT and SUB-INSPECTORS, published in the 21st Report of the Commissioners (for the year 1854).

V. INSTRUCTIONS FOR DISTRICT AND SUB-INSPECTORS.

I. The year is to be divided into three terms, during each of which fourteen weeks at least must be given, irrespective of all other work, and of vacations, &c., to the effective inspection of schools, and in each week the first five days are to be so employed. The terms are to commence, respectively, on the 1st of January, 1st of May, and 1st of September.

II. From four to five hours, at least, exclusive of the time occupied in going to and returning home from the schools, are to be spent, on the average, each day in the actual inspection of schools; but when two schools are inspected on the same day, the time spent in passing from one to the other will be accepted as accounting for part of the above minimum.

III. Each Inspector will be required to visit and report on all the schools in his district once in each term.

IV. When, however, from unavoidable causes—and such must be clearly accounted for—the Inspector shall not be able to complete his inspection of all the schools within the term, he is, in the succeeding term, to visit those first which may have been so left in arrear. Any departure from this rule will be regarded as a serious neglect of duty.

V. The Inspector is not to visit schools during the ordinary vacations, or on any specified holidays. In connexion with this, the Inspector is required to make himself particularly acquainted, in the case of every school in his charge, with the days alluded to, and to see that they are specified in the time table. The names of the holidays need not be entered, their dates alone will suffice.

He is also to direct that when schools shall be closed, from any cause whatever, at times other than those specified on the time table, he shall have such previous notice of the same given him by the teacher as may prevent him from misemploying his time in visiting the school.

VI. Should it, however, happen that a school is unexpectedly closed at the time of the Inspector's visit, he is required to give an answer to all such queries as can be answered under the circumstances; and he is also expected, if another school be within a reasonable distance, to visit and report upon it in the usual way.

VII. The forms of report are henceforth to be distinguished into primary and secondary. On the first form, the primary, each school is to be reported on once in each year; and on the second, the two remaining reports are to be made. In the case of new schools, the first report on them, after becoming National, should be made on the primary form.

VIII. The reports upon one-third of the schools in each term are to be made on the primary form, and the remaining two-thirds on the secondary.

IX. When intending to report on a school on the primary form—and such should never be used except the school is found in operation—the Inspector is to give due previous notice of the time of his visit; but in other cases he is not to give such previous notice, and the practice of notifying the day of inspection throughout the entire of the middle term of the year is to be given up.

X. With the exception of the case above stated, the Inspector is to take care to visit schools as unexpectedly as possible; and with this view he should so arrange his course of inspection as not to remain, when from home, too long in the same locality, or to repeat his visits to schools in the same neighbourhood or group in too immediate succession.

XI. As many abuses may be prevented or corrected by incidental visits to schools, the Inspectors are required to make as many such as possible, and in every case, after having ascertained whether former suggestions have been attended to, and evils previously pointed out corrected, to leave an entry of such visit in the Report Book, and record it under the head, incidental visit, in his weekly diary, accompanied, if necessary, by a special letter, in case of anything of pressing importance having come under his notice.

XII. When two schools are in the same house, or immediately contiguous, the Inspector should not defer visiting the second until he have completed his examination of the first, but should pass rapidly from the one to the other, remaining in, or returning afterwards to the one he means first to examine.

XIII. When called upon to report on applicant schools the Inspector is not to give previous notice of the time of his inspection; but in every case, after making such inspection, he is to seek an interview with the manager or applicant; and in no instance is he to forward his reports upon such schools until he shall have allowed sufficient time to the local clergy and others concerned to reply to his communications regarding the propriety or non-propriety of the Board's entertaining the application.

XIV. In the case of applicant schools already in operation, the Inspector is to carefully examine the teacher, and chiefly by written exercises, especially in arithmetic, geography, and parsing; and these exercises, together with, in every case, one in writing from dictation, he should carefully preserve for after reference.

Such schools, to be entitled to favourable consideration, the Inspector is ever to remember, should, among other things, be found—

1st. Well disposed as to site.

2nd. To have premises clean and neat.

3rd. To have house well and substantially built; the walls plastered inside; the floor even, and free from damp; a suitable fire-place and funnel; the windows sufficient in number, of proper size and structure, and fitted to secure thorough ventilation.

4th. To have the furniture suitable and adequate, including desks and forms for pupils; book-press; black board, a desk with seat for teacher; rails or lesson posts for suspension of reading and other tablets, &c.; and be prepared to purchase a clock, and at least one large map—that of the world—and a supply of books, stationery, and other school requisites, for sale to pupils at reduced prices.

5th. To afford satisfactory evidence of the promise of sufficient average attendance, and that without trenching on or interfering with the attendance on other National schools in the neighbourhood already established, and in successful operation.

XV. Teachers to be eligible for admission into the service of the Board should, if males, have completed their seventeenth year; and if females, their sixteenth. They should be persons of Christian sentiment, and of unexceptionable moral character, and free from such physical or other defects as would in any way interfere with their usefulness.

XVI. On entering a National school with a view to its inspection, and after having introduced himself to the teacher, if a stranger, or otherwise suitably addressed him, if known—which should be his first duty—the Inspector ought immediately to direct himself to observe whether the fundamental regulations of the Board are complied with, as regards—

A. 1st. The use of the movable "tablet" intended to notify the species of instruction at any time being given, whether religious or secular.

2nd. The Commissioners' rules, whether a copy is suspended in school-room for the perusal of visitors.

3rd. The time table, whether the religious instruction, if any, given in the school, is properly specified therein, both as to its time and general nature, and if the practice of the school is actually conformable to such notification. By general nature of religious instruction is simply meant, whether it is catechetical, or scriptural, or both, &c., &c. If the religious instruction happens to be going on at time of Inspector's visit, he is in no way to interfere with, or take part in it; but merely to observe that no other business, literary or industrial, is carried on concurrently with it; and he may employ himself usefully meanwhile also, in examining the school accounts, &c.

4th. The use of books, whether they are in all cases, where intended for secular instruction, such as are authorized by the Board, and whether those for religious instruction are used by the children at the proper times only.

5th. Whether the General Lesson, or a lesson of similar import, is used and its principles inculcated at the time of combined ordinary instruction.

B. 1st. He is to observe whether the business which is going on when he enters corresponds with that assigned to that particular hour on the time table; and, generally, with regard to this last document, which is meant to embody the law of the school, he ought to see whether the course of instruction set forth therein is judiciously arranged, and, above all, whether the arrangements which it indicates are really carried out in practice.

2nd. The Inspector should then proceed to examine the school accounts, namely, the class rolls, Report Book, and Register, beginning with the first, and comparing the entries of these respective records one with the other; and in any case where he has reason to suspect unfaithfulness or incorrectness, he is to adopt the most effective means in his power, compatible with the delicacy due to the teacher, and his position in relation to the children, to ascertain the nature and amount of the irregularity, and afterwards record the particulars in his report, taking care, however, to distinguish mere informality, want of punctuality, omission, or neglect from deliberate or designed falsification.

3rd. The Inspector is next to obtain the information required for the more purely statistical part of his report, as the number of pupils present in each class, or learning each subject; their ages; the supply of books and other requisites; the state of the free stock; the amount and sources of the incomes of the teachers, assistants, &c.; the state of repair of the house and school offices; the condition of the premises, &c., &c., &c. No school can be regarded as well supplied with books and requisites except one whose pupils are provided with the books of their respective classes, and where, in addition, there is a sufficient sale stock on hands to meet the current wants consequent on admission of new pupils or changes of classification.

4th. When all business of this preliminary nature shall have been completed, the Inspector will then enter on the more important part of his duty, which is the examination of the school as to its educational condition.

XVII. In examining the pupils, and afterwards when recording his opinions and remarks in the Observation Book, the Inspector is to have constant reference and regard to the school programme as to the branches to be taught, and the degree of proficiency to be attained in the respective classes, and in connexion with the several reading lesson books.

XVIII. In whatever order he may choose to examine the classes of the school, whether beginning with the lower and proceeding upwards to the higher, or the reverse —and either of these courses may be adopted with propriety according to circumstances and the different objects in view—the Inspector should be careful never to close his inspection without inquiring into the state and proficiency of the junior pupils.

XIX. In regard to some subjects, as grammar, geography, arithmetic, writing from dictation, geometry, mensuration, algebra, &c., the Inspector may usefully examine, collectedly, all the pupils learning such branches, beginning with the first principles and simpler elements, and proceeding upwards to the higher, setting aside the younger and less proficient pupils as he advances from stage to stage, and retaining the more forward for further examination.

XX. In forming a final judgment on the state of the school, the Inspector, at each inspection, should, besides other points which may occur to him, have principally regard to—

1st. The material state and general keeping of the entire establishment.

2nd. The moral character of the school.

3rd. The course of instruction given in it and the methods and processes of teaching employed.

4th. Whether the pupils are suitably classed according to their ages and capacities, and are taught such things, and have attained such proficiency as in their circumstances they ought to be taught and to have attained.

5th. Whether the teachers are competent, efficient, and influential; faithful in the observance of all suggestions left for their guidance, prompt in the correction of abuses, and eager for improvement; duly impressed with the importance of their office, and earnest and content in the discharge of its duties.

6th. Whether the whole air and aspect of the school, and the tone and spirit pervading it be satisfactory or the reverse; and whether the bearing, language, and manners of the teacher, his command over his pupils, and their deportment towards him, be such as ought to be observed.

7th. Whether admission to the combined general instruction given in the school, and upon which alone, consistently with the rules of the Board, attendance may be required, is open to all children whatever, without any conditions as to their attendance on the religious instruction given in it; in other words, whether the combined general instruction is so open to all that access to it is in no way made dependent on the observance of any rule whatsoever not obviously and legitimately providing for the proper carrying out of such combined general instruction and the ordinary discipline of the school.

XXI. In addition to the time table, which is intended merely to indicate the general arrangements of the school, and the great divisions of its teaching, the Inspector should see that the teachers are provided with a programme of study for each class, drawn up by themselves, and indicating the exercises for each week and day; and he should further see that the time given in such programme to each subject or branch of instruction, is sufficient and proportioned to its relative importance, and that the teacher in all the exercises specified for each class, conforms to the rules set down by him in his programme.

XXII. It should be the duty also of the teachers to prepare beforehand notes or heads of lessons on the lessons or subjects to be taught by them each day; and where this practice is not observed, the Inspector should recommend its introduction, and if necessary furnish the teachers with instructions how to carry it out.

XXIII. In the case of infant schools, the Inspector should see that the instruction is given with the necessary prudence and sobriety of mind, being suitably proportioned to the tender faculties of infancy, and accompanied at proper intervals with physical exercises and song; and, generally speaking, that the course is limited to the first and most simple elements of reading and writing, to the knowledge of forms and colours, with easy exercises on the arithmeticon, and some notions, but of an entirely obvious and popular kind, of geography and natural history, and the more common trades and arts of life. The teachers of such schools should be directed by the Inspector to look carefully after the kind of food the children may bring with them for their refreshment, to provide them with pure drinking water, and look particularly to the cleanliness of their clothes and persons.

XXIV. Inspectors are expected to keep themselves at all times fully provided with the gratuitous requisites or official forms for schools, as class rolls, time tables, General Lesson, &c., and to supply readily and at once wherever they may see them wanted.

XXV. In every instance where, in the case of an ordinary National school, the Inspector observes any violation of rule, or existing defect, he is to suggest to the manager or teacher the necessity of its correction, and state in his report that he has done so, explaining further in what manner and with what spirit his suggestions have been received.

XXVI. Whatever observations or suggestions the Inspector may think it his duty to make in the Observation Book he should read over at the close of his inspection to the teacher, and so explain as to make them fully understood.

XXVII. On entering a district, and during the course of his first tour of inspection, the Inspector is to seek to make himself acquainted with the managers or correspondents, and on all subsequent occasions to call upon them regarding any matters of importance that may come under his notice in their schools.

When managers are not at home, the Inspector should leave his card to intimate the fact of his visit.

XXVIII. In cases where a dismissed teacher still holds possession of a school, the Inspector is not to examine the children or enter into the minute details of a full inspection, but merely to report upon its general state, the condition of the free stock and other public property in possession.

XXIX. When inquiring into the state of the supply of books, &c., the Inspector should be careful, in examining the lists of stock obtained at reduced prices, to see that no abuses are committed by local parties obtaining unduly requisites intended for the schools and its pupils only.

XXX. The Inspector is not to make any entry in the Report Book, except the date of his visit, the time occupied by him in inspection, stating the hour at which it commenced and that at which it closed, with the number of pupils present. Should there appear any observations in the Report Book worthy of notice, by whomsoever made, he is to transcribe them into his Note Book, and forward them in his report to the office.

XXXI. The Inspector is not to omit visiting any school on his District Book in consequence of hearing reports that it has been closed, or withdrawn from its connexion with the Board, but must go to the place and make inquiry into the circumstances, that he may afterwards report them correctly for the information of the Commissioners.

XXXII. He is to bear in mind that he is not an administrator or authoritative director of the National system of education, but simply and essentially an Inspector of its schools; and that as such, his chief duty in reference thereto is to place before the Commissioners in clear, faithful, and comprehensive reports, the means by which they may interfere usefully and efficiently for the improvement of the schools placed in connexion with them. He is not, therefore, to give direct orders as on the part of the Board, respecting any necessary regulations, much less is he to alter on his own authority any regulations already in existence, but make such suggestions to the patrons and teachers as he may think proper for the correction of observed abuses, the supply of existing wants, or for the improvement of the organization and management of the schools.

XXXIII. When the Inspector visits with a view to his primary report, he should himself examine all the classes in the several subjects taught them, in order to make an accurate and a full return of their several stages of proficiency; but on the remaining visits, it is desirable, to enable him to judge fully of the teacher's merits as a school-keeper and instructor of youth, that he should forego the personal examination of all the classes, but rather instead, call upon the teacher himself to examine the pupils of some classes, and in a few subjects, and put the school through its usual routine order of business in his presence.

XXXIV. In all his intercourse with the teachers, the Inspector is to treat them with the most perfect kindness and respect, counselling them privately on whatever he may see defective or faulty, but by no means addressing them authoritatively or animadverting on their conduct in the hearing of their pupils; to whom also, in their turn, he is to exhibit a considerate and affectionate manner, and who are always to be addressed by him in language of the truest courtesy and propriety. He should surely take care to preserve himself from such peevishness, harshness, or abruptness, in his communications with the children, as if observed by him in the teacher it would be his duty not only to notice, but as a serious fault to deprecate and correct.

XXXV. The Inspector, without seeming officiousness, unbecoming intermeddling, or too much curiousness, should, as far as possible, inform himself of the general character borne by the teachers in his district, the estimation in which they are held by the people of their locality, their social position, and their conduct as members of society.

XXXVI. The Inspector is to receive a quarterly report from the teacher of each National school in his district, and is also himself to make one annually to the Commissioners. Forms for both these reports can be had by applying to the office, and from their perusal the nature of the returns and information required, will be at once seen.

XXXVII. The Inspector will be required, at the close of each term, to forward to the office, on the required printed form, a return of the public duty of all kinds performed by him within the term.

XXXVIII. A book, known as the District Book, and which is substituted for the old "Road Book," is to be kept by the Inspector, who is required to record therein from time to time as he proceeds with his inspection, all matters of importance regarding each school in his charge.

XXXIX. The Inspector is likewise to keep a "Note Book," of the form supplied by the Board, and in which he is to enter at each separate visit to a school all the details of his inspection; and this he is to do in so full a manner that such notings may be afterwards taken as a faithful record of the report subsequently forwarded by him to the office.

XL. A "Guard Book" is also required to be kept by the Inspector for the preservation of all official letters, Board's orders, and other communications relating to his public duties.

XLI. As it is the desire of the Commissioners that the Head Inspectors in their tours of inspection through the circuits of districts placed in their charge, should examine the documents referred to in paragraphs XXXVII., XXXVIII., XXXIX., and XL., and, if necessary, report to the Board upon the matter in which they are kept, it will be the duty of the District Inspectors to have them always in readiness for examination, and in a state fully reflecting the work done by them each week up to the time they may be called for.

XLII. The Commissioners require that, except in the case of sickness or some other unavoidable calamity, the Inspector shall have forwarded to the office, so as to reach it not later than each successive Monday morning, his Diary for the previous week, together with the reports on the National schools visited by him during the same period. He is also expected to observe the same punctuality in his general correspondence with the office, excepting only those cases where the interests of the public service may demand some further delay.

XLIII. When Inspectors remain away on duty from their allotted centres for more than one or two days, they should leave instructions behind to have their official letters duly forwarded to them. An Inspector is not to leave his district, except when called upon to do so on business of the Board, or without having previously obtained permission from the office.

XLIV. 1st. The Commissioners direct that Inspectors shall on no account summon teachers already classed for further promotion, whose schools are not in every respect satisfactory, but more particularly as regards the nature and amount of the instruction imparted in them and the proficiency of their pupils, their average attendance, and their general character for the observance of neatness and cleanliness, and for order in all the arrangements of their schools, and who are not themselves, moreover, distinguished by the thoughtfulness, earnestness, and zeal with which they devote themselves to their duty.

2nd. Teachers whom the Inspector intends to recommend for the training class in Dublin should have notice given them, at least six months previously, of such his intention, in order that they may have full opportunity to prepare themselves for passing the entrance examination in a manner at once creditable to themselves and satisfactory to the professors. The course required for entrance is that prescribed in the official programme for third class teachers, with the addition, in the case of male teachers, of the elements of geometry; and on this course it is expected the Inspector shall carefully examine each of the teachers whom he may purpose to recommend before making the usual return to the office; for he is to remember, that should any of those whose names he may send in be found, on examination by the professors, inadequately prepared on the above entrance or preparatory course, they will be refused admittance into the training class, and be obliged to return to their schools.

3rd. None are to be selected who have been previously trained, or who are labouring under any physical defect, or who are not in the full enjoyment of sound health, or incapable of walking with ease to and from Glasnevin. Those under thirty years of age should have the preference.

XLV. The Inspector is expected to make inquiries respecting the general state of education in the neighbourhoods he visits, the disposition of the people to receive instruction, and the merits or defects of that given in such schools within their reach as may not be in connexion with the Board.

XLVI. 1st. Each Inspector is required to make himself thoroughly acquainted with the fundamental principles of the National system of education, the rules of the Board, and the general history and progress of its administration from its origin to the present time.

2nd. It is also expected of him that he should not only study to strengthen and enlarge his knowledge of the different branches of literature, philosophy, and science connected with or bearing on the duties of his office, but that he should likewise make himself familiar with the state of popular education at home and in other countries, and also seek to acquire, and, as opportunity offers, keep up and improve, acquaintance with the opinions and writings of the eminent educationists of the time.

XLVII. The Commissioners make no rule against the Inspectors walking to the schools, but they think it more becoming and more economical of the public time that they should drive to and from the schools (except for very short distances), and with this view they require that each Inspector shall provide, and keep himself provided, with a horse.

XLVIII. The Inspector is to avoid all polemical discussions of a religious or political nature; and in his public capacity, at the same time that he is to discharge his duty impartially and conscientiously, and irrespective of all local interests or party influences of whatever kind, he is to exhibit a courteous and conciliatory demeanour towards all persons with whom he is called upon to communicate, and in his intercourse with the schools to pursue such a line of conduct as will tend to uphold the just authority of both managers and teachers; while in his private life, and in all social relations as a member of the community in which he moves, he is required to support in a modest but becoming manner, the bearing, character, and standing of a gentleman, and scrupulously to avoid everything calculated in any degree to lessen the respectability of his position, or detract from the influence of his office.

XLIX. 1st. In all his correspondence with the office, whether employed in drawing up his ordinary reports, or making out returns of whatever kind, even those seemingly of the most routine and common-place sort, the Inspector is to study to express himself with clearness, propriety, and precision, and to habituate himself to a style of penmanship at once neat, well defined, and entirely legible.

2nd. Except in the case of schools not found in operation, every question in the report sheet, whether on applicant or National schools, should, as a general rule, have set down opposite to it, with whatever brevity expressed, a distinct, categorical reply, and all slovenly and inelegant abbreviations, bracketings, and dashes, should be carefully avoided. For, by leaving a question without an answer not clearly implied in a previous one, the examiner of the report may be often in doubt as to the fact referred to in the question, or whether the omission of a reply is owing to a simple oversight on the part of the reporter or to his supposing the answer inferable from a previous one, and that when perhaps it is not, or at least not clearly so.

3rd. Inspectors are expected to treat as confidential the letters addressed to them from the office, particularly those relating to cases of special inquiry, to the conduct of managers and patrons, or to the admonition or depression of teachers; nor are they, in any case, to give publicity to the contents of such communications, any further than their nature and purport obviously demand.

L. The Inspectors are further required to comply with the following directions, in their correspondence with the office:—

1st. All communications for which printed forms are not supplied are to be made on paper of foolscap size.

2nd. Should the communication relate to a school, the name of such school, with that of the county in which it is situated, to be stated at the head of the letter, as also the name and address of the manager, and the name of the teacher.

3rd. If the communication does not relate to any particular school, the subject of it, whatever it may be, should be set forth briefly, if practicable, at the head of the letter.

4th. Different subjects are not to be entered upon in the same communication, but each is to have a separate letter.

5th. The rank (whether "Sub" or "District Inspector") is to be added after the writer's signature, and also the number of the district of which he is in charge, or to which he may be attached.

6th. The word "Inspection" to be written, in large letters, in the left hand corner at bottom of the outside cover of all communications to the office.

7th. All communications, not too bulky for such mode of conveyance, to be transmitted through the regular channel of the Post Office, and properly enclosed in suitable envelopes.

8th. All communications to be addressed to the Secretaries.

9th. Inspectors are, as much as possible, except in the regular way of reporting, to avoid making themselves the channel of communication between managers of schools or others and the public.

10th. Whatever applications for aid or notices of changes of managers or teachers are addressed to Inspectors, they are to acquaint the writers that such communications must be addressed to the "Secretaries."

Instructions to Inspectors in charge of District Model Schools.

LI. Where a district model school is placed in charge of an Inspector, he is expected, besides his stated and ordinary visits, to pay as many occasional or incidental calls as in his power, and such at all times of the day, as well during the ordinary school-hours, as both before and after, in order that he may see not only that the principal teachers and their several assistants are observant of the rules of the institution as regards the employment of their time and the prosecution of their studies, but how also are the domestic arrangements carried out.

LII. Instead of a weekly inspection of these institutions, as at present, three inspections in the term—each, however, to be separately reported on the form prescribed—will in future suffice; but these inspections, it is to be distinctly understood, are to be of a serious and searching character; and with the view of making them truly such, the Inspector, instead of examining in detail all departments at each of those visits, should take them in succession, without, however, at any visit, neglecting to inquire into, and report on the attendance and classification of pupils in the others, and the general state of the whole establishment.

The teachers will still be required to furnish weekly returns of the attendance, &c., of the pupils, and these the Inspector, who will attend each Saturday at the model school to receive them, after having checked and countersigned, will forward to the office.

LIII. In recommending the appointment of pupil-teachers and monitors, who in every case should, before their selection, have been carefully examined by the Head or District Inspector, or by both, the Christian and surname, age and religious denomination of each candidate, and also of the party causing the vacancy, are to be stated in full. The recommendation to be made on the printed form provided for the purpose, and signed by the Head and District Inspectors. A return showing the denomination, &c., of the pupil-teachers or monitors already in the school, is to accompany each recommendation.

LIV. The periods for appointments are to be so regulated as that there shall always be in the school a sufficient number well acquainted with its discipline and the nature of the duties to be discharged.

LV. All appointments are to date from the first of the month; to secure the strict observance of this rule, the Inspectors should be careful to forward their recommendations a sufficient time beforehand to allow of the Board's sanction being duly obtained, and in no case are they to admit the persons recommended by them into these institutions without having first obtained the authority of the Board.

An allowance, temporarily sanctioned, at the rate of £20 per annum, is made to the head master for the board and washing of each pupil-teacher, and for the assistant master when boarded by the Commissioners.

Where there is an agricultural department in connexion with the district model schools, the Commissioners make a similar allowance to the head master for each free agricultural boarding pupil, and for the agriculturist when boarded by the Commissioners. Paying agricultural pupils are required to pay the head master, quarterly, and in advance, at the rate of £8 per annum towards their board and washing, the Commissioners likewise paying at the rate of £12.

A monthly return is to be made out by the head master of the number of days each pupil-teacher and agricultural pupil has been boarded in the school; the return is to be signed by the master and Inspector, and forwarded within one week after the end of the month.

The Inspector is not to permit the name of any pupil-teacher, or agricultural pupil, to be included in the return, the approval of whose appointment by the Commissioners has not been notified to him from this office.

LVI. The parties selected for the office of pupil-teacher should, in no case, be under sixteen, nor above twenty years of age, and each should be provided with the following outfit:—

2 Suits of Clothes.
2 Night Shirts.
6 Day Shirts.
6 Pairs of Socks or Stockings.
4 Neckties.
6 Pocket-handkerchiefs.
2 Pair of Shoes.
1 Pair of Slippers.
Haircomb, Hairbrush, and Toothbrush.

LVII. Candidates for the office of paid monitor in model schools should not be under fourteen, nor over sixteen years of age.

LVIII. Both pupil-teachers and paid monitors should be of a sound and healthy constitution, and free from any physical defect likely to impair their efficiency as teachers.

LIX. Candidates for the office of paid monitor are to be examined, before appointment, on the course prescribed for the monitors of the ordinary National schools.

LX. Candidates for the office of pupil-teacher should be required—

1. To read with ease and expression, and to have some knowledge of the principles of elocution, as explained in the first part of the Introduction to the Art of reading.

2. To write out with correct spelling and punctuation, the substance of a short lesson selected from any of our lesson books, and read slowly to them twice over.

3. To write a good current hand, and be competent to superintend the writing of the junior classes.

4. To parse and analyze any passage selected from the National lesson books.

5. To know the general geography of the great divisions of the globe, and be familiar with the principles of mathematical and physical geography.

6. To exhibit readiness in mental calculation; to solve questions in compound proportion, fractions, and commercial arithmetic, and be familiar with the principles involved in the rules and processes employed by them. The girls will not be examined beyond Interest.

7. To be acquainted with the prefixes and affixes of our own language, and the principal Greek and Latin roots.

8. To be able to examine, with a fair degree of efficiency, on any reading lesson selected, children of the third class, and competent to teach the rudiments of arithmetic to the junior pupils.

9. To know the first four sets contained in the Board's Treatise on Bookkeeping.

10. To know the First and Second Books of Geometry with the exercises thereon, as given in Thomson's edition of Euclid.

11. To be acquainted with the elementary rules of algebra, and able to solve questions in simple equations.

12. To know the rules for the measurement of plane surfaces and the principles on which these rules depend.

13. The girls to be able to teach plain needlework, and to exhibit a fair degree of skill in the finer kinds of knitting and netting.

14. To be prepared for examination on the subjects treated of in—

Spelling Book Superseded;
Geography Generalized, first eight chapters;
Lessons on Money Matters;
*Lessons on Reasoning, 1st part;
National Lesson Books to the Fourth inclusive;
Fifth Lesson Book, 3rd, *4th, and *5th inclusive;

The girls are not to be examined on the subjects marked with an asterisk (*).

LXI. At the end of the first half-year of their course of training, the pupil-teachers should be again examined on all prescribed for candidates at entrance; and at the end of the second half-year, or completion of their first year of training, on the following in addition, viz:—

Descriptive Geography, as contained in the Introduction to Geography;
The remaining chapters in the Geography Generalized on Mathematical and Physical Geography, together with those on the Method of Teaching;
Lessons on Reasoning, 2nd Part;
The Second Section of the Fifth Book of Lessons;
The Third and Fourth Books of Euclid with the exercises thereon, as given in Thomson;
The Fourth and Sixth Sections of the Treatise on Mensuration; Involution and Evolution;
Sullivan's Grammar;
Dawe's Hints to Teachers;
The Introductions contained in the Book of Poetry.

At the end of the second half-year they should also be expected to have acquired a pleasing and tasteful elocution, and become thorough masters of a good style of penmanship.

LXII. The Inspector should examine both monitors and pupil-teachers as frequently as due attention to his other duties will permit, and in every case record and preserve full and accurate notes of the results of his examination.

LXIII. The quarterly account of school fees is to terminate with the last Saturday of the months of March, June, September, and December, respectively.

LXIV. The Commissioners' portion of the school fees is to be paid over to the Inspector by the teachers weekly, and remitted to this office at the end of each quarter, without any deduction whatever, and by a letter of credit in favour of the Secretaries if possible, otherwise by a post office order, and the charge for remitting in either case is to be included in the account of expenses.

LXV. The account of the fees received in the quarter is to accompany the remittance, signed by the master and mistresses, and certified by the Inspector.

LXVI. The Inspector will be furnished with a sum sufficient to meet the ordinary petty expenses for three months, of the district model school under his superintendence.

LXVII. The Inspector is to transmit to the office the account, in duplicate, including all such expenses, certified by himself, within one week after the expiration of each quarter. The quarters to terminate with the last day of the months of March, June, September, and December, respectively. When the account has been examined in the office, a remittance will be made to the Inspector for the exact amount, thus leaving the original advance as a permanent imprest against him.

LXVIII. The account is in all cases to be signed by the Inspector and by the master of the school, and by the mistresses of the female and infant schools, when expenditure is included relating to their respective departments.

LXIX. Expenditure amounting to the sum of £2 or upwards is not to be incurred, without special authority previously obtained from the office, except for ordinary school expenses.

LXX. Rates and taxes not being chargeable upon public institutions used solely for educational purposes, the Inspector is to require that the description of the premises upon which the tax is levied, be particularzied in the notice left by the collector, as well as the date when the rate was made, the valuation, and rate per pound. The notice, when examined with the Applotment Book, or, should it not be available, the Collector's Rate Book, and found to be correctly charged upon the holding of the Commissioners, is to be certified accordingly, and forwarded with the receipt in support of the charge in the quarterly account.*

LXXI. When a charge is made for printing "school notices" or "circulars," &c., relating to the district model school, a copy of the notice or cirular is to be attached to the printer's receipt and forwarded in support of the charge in the account.

LXXII. The sums paid weekly for "washing schools" should appear in the account as a monthly total, as also other charges of a very small amount, so as to avoid unnecessary petty detail.

LXXIII. Vouchers written and receipted in ink are to be forwarded in support of every item of expenditure, properly signed, and numbered consecutively to correspond with the entry of the sums in the account.

LXXIV. Payments of £2 and upwards are to be supported by a stamped receipt, which is to be paid for by the party receiving payment.

LXXV. In cases where the party paid is unable to sign his name to the receipt, his mark must be witnessed by a third person, whose signature is to appear upon the voucher.

LXXVI. Receipt forms to serve as vouchers for small payments may be obtained from the office on application, but these forms are not to be used in cases where various articles are purchased, for which "shop bills" in detail, properly receipted, are to be procured.

LXXVII. The following is the scale of salaries sanctioned for monitors in district model schools:—

Males.		Females.
1st Year,	£6	1st Year,	£6
2nd ,,	8	2nd ,,	8
3rd ,,	10	3rd ,,	10
4th ,,	12	4th ,,	12

LXXVIII. The Inspector is to transmit to the office within one week after the end of each month a return of the monitors employed in the male, female, and infant schools. When male and female monitors are recognised, one return is to be used for both, which is to be signed by the master and mistresses and by the Inspector.

LXXIX. The return is not to include the name of any monitor the approval of whose appointment by the Commissioners has not been notified to the Inspector from the office.

LXXX. Should a monitor be unavoidably absent through illness, a substitute may be appointed at a salary of a monitor of the first year, but the Inspector is not to continue to return the name of such substitute monitor for payment for a longer period than two months without the previous sanction of the Commissioners.

LXXXI. The terms of service for—

Pupil-teachers and Free Agricultural Pupils,	1 Year.
Paying Agricultural Pupils,	2 Years.
Male and Female Monitors,	4 ,,

*When residence is granted to a teacher in addition to his salary, that portion of the district model school occupied by the teacher is chargeable with rates. Dormitories and rooms for pupil-teachers and agricultural pupils are not rateable. School premises are liable for one-half poors' rate, which is recoverable from the landlord.

The Inspector is not to allow the name of any party to be included in a return beyond the prescribed term, without having first obtained the sanction of the Commissioners.

LXXXII. Assistant masters, assistant mistresses, pupil-teachers, and agricultural pupils, in district model schools, are granted an allowance for travelling on first joining the school, and for going to and returning from their homes at the midsummer vacation. Pupil-teachers and agricultural pupils are also granted travelling allowance on leaving the school at the expiration of their term.

No allowance is granted for any distance less than ten miles.

The Inspector is to forward to the office the account of such expenses, receipted by the teachers and pupils, and certified by himself.

LXXXIII. The Inspector is to transmit to the office upon the 30th June and 31st December, in each year, a return setting forth the additions made to the furniture, &c., during the preceding six months, made out on the form supplied for the purpose. The return is to be a copy of the register of the additions in the inventory kept at the school, which are to be carefully noted as they occur. Should no changes have occurred, a nil return is to be forwarded, signed by the Inspector.

LXXXIV. As the imprest in the hands of the Inspector is only intended for petty expenses, a requisition is to be forwarded with each quarterly account, stating in detail the articles (hardware, furniture, house linen, &c.) required; particularizing those required to replace what have been worn out from what have not previously been in the school.

LXXXV. The following forms will be supplied to Inspectors, on application being made to the office. All accounts and returns, &c., to be furnished upon the office forms:—

Forms for Quarterly Accounts, originals and duplicates.
" Monthly Boarding Accounts.
" " Accounts—Monitors' Salaries.
" Allowances for Travelling.
" Recommending Appointments.
" Requisitions.
" Inventory of Furniture.
" Vouchers.

Circulars.

Education Office,
18 February, 1856.

Sir,—Differences of opinion appearing to exist among the Inspectors as to parts of the new forms of reports on National schools, we have thought it proper, with a view to lessen, as much as possible, such diversity, and to secure, as far as may be, a certain uniformity of judgment on the part of such officers, to draw up the following notes on those points which we believe have hitherto been somewhat variously construed, and to which we have now to direct your particular attention.

I. In the table of subjects taught in both primary and secondary forms of report, it will be seen that some of the entries are to be exclusive one of another, while others again are not so, but, on the contrary, may be inclusive.

a. Thus, the numbers to be entered under the subdivisions of the lesson books are plainly of the first class; and so are those intended for the first two heads under grammar, the three divisions under geography, the first five under arithmetic, and the first two likewise under writing.

b. But not so the numbers to be entered under the heads "Scripture Lessons" and "Sacred Poetry," which, not being disparate stages of the same subject, may be learnt at the same time by the same pupils.

c. The same also is to be observed of the third and fourth heads of grammar, which are neither exclusive one of the other, nor of the first two.

d. The same may be said of the sixth division under arithmetic, which is plainly not exclusive of the first five, or of any of them; for, obviously, the same pupils may be learning mental arithmetic, and what is there called proportion, for example.

e. The same again may be said of the third division under "Writing." The same pupils it is evident may write from dictation, and at the same time learn to write in the ordinary way, on slates or on paper.

f. The divisions under the heading "Branches for Females" are clearly not exclusive, it being possible that the same pupils may be learning all the six.

g. The same again as to the divisions under the heading "Extra Branches;" it being quite possible that the same pupils—few or many—might be learning every one of them.

II. As to the table of proficiency, again, the headings under it are, except in case of arithmetic, meant to be exclusive one of another.

a. Thus, under the heading "Able to read the Second Book correctly" you are not to include any of those set down under the second heading as "Able to read the Third Book, or any higher books."

b. And the same applies to the divisions third and fourth regarding grammar, and the divisions fifth, sixth, and seventh, relating to geography, as also to the next two divisions of writing from dictation and the last two under writing.

c. But in arithmetic the entries under the several divisions are meant to show the actual numbers in each case able to perform the exercise in question; and in making such entries you are not to exclude from the number capable of doing the simpler and more elementary exercise, provided, of course, they have shown on examination they can do it, those returned as capable of doing the higher.

III. As to reading, again, pupils who have been tried in the third or higher books, and have failed, so as to disentitle them to rank with those who read such with ease and intelligence, may yet so read as to show the Inspector, even without further trial, that they may be fairly ranked among those able to read the second book correctly. By being able "to read Second Book correctly" is meant, able to read fairly any lesson the Inspector thinks it right to select for his examination of the pupils; and those who read fairly in the First or Second Sequel, may, if the lesson read be an advanced one, be included amongst those returned under the second division of reading.

IV. To entitle a pupil to be returned as "acquainted with the parts of speech only," he should, at least, know how to distinguish in any easy sentences chosen, the article, noun, adjective, verb, and adverb.

V. To entitle a pupil to rank as "able to write on paper fairly" he should be able to write, and that fairly, of course, small hand, or at least what is called round hand, a sort of medium between small hand and large hand.

In the second division under writing none are to be included but those who write small hand.

VI. The eight divisions of inquiry under heading No. 10 of the Secondary Report are meant as substitutes for the corresponding inquiries from No. 10 to No. 21 of the Primary Report, and are to be answered with the same points in view.

Education Office,
22nd April, 1856.

Sir,—Accompanying this we send you a supply of forms, whereon you are required in future to report the "incidental" visits you may at any time make to the schools under your charge.

As you are required by these forms to give the precise time of your incidental visits, you will be careful also to note the same in the Observation Books, or Report Books, whichever you may use, of the schools you may choose to call at.

Except in cases of serious neglect of duty on the part of teachers, or violations of the Board's Rules, the "observations" forwarded by you need not extend to more than a simple noting of the numbers present, with, perhaps, a remark as to whether or not you found the business going on in agreement with the specifications of the Time Table.

We remain, sir, your obedient servants,

(Signed) Maurice Cross, James Kelly, } Secretaries.

B. O. 9/4/58.

(Circular to District Inspectors.)

Education Office,
7 July, 1858.

Sir,—We are to inform you that the Commissioners of National Education have made the decisions detailed below on certain propositions submitted for their consideration by the Chief of Inspection and the Head Inspectors, and contained in the Minutes of Conference, held this year.

I. That the annual reports of the District Inspectors, after having been, in the first instance, forwarded to this office, be transmitted to the Head Inspectors, in order that the latter may extract therefrom such statistics as they may require for their general reports, and be enabled to furnish to the Commissioners a comprehensive view of the state of education in their respective circuits. As already advised by our circular of the 22nd March, 1856, these reports should be completed by the District Inspectors immediately after the close of each year, so as to be ready for transmission to the office, at farthest, by the 1st of February of the ensuing year.

II. It being considered desirable that the examination and classification of the teachers in each district should be completed within a given period, in each year, the Commissioners require, with the view of securing this end, that the Inspectors shall forward the teachers' written exercises and dockets to this office within one fortnight from the date of the written examinations, in order that they may be afterwards transmitted to the Head Inspector.

III. With a view to ensure, as far as possible, the efficient discharge of all the duties of inspection on the part of the several District Inspectors, the Commissioners have authorized the Head Inspectors to report annually, on a form specially drawn up for the purpose, as to the manner in which each District Inspector has discharged his duty during the year. By a perusal of a copy of this document, which we herewith enclose, you will perceive to what points the Commissioners consider it important that the attention of the Head Inspectors should be particularly directed.

IV. That nine days' inspection in a fortnight, instead of ten, as heretofore, be in future accepted from each Inspector, provided only, however, that while availing himself of this indulgence, the Inspector is still able to complete the inspection of his entire district within each term. The duties of an indoor nature performed on the day so withdrawn from inspection are to be specified on the Weekly Journal.

V. As it has been found that on the occasion of public examination of schools, the District Inspector cannot afford time to make out, in a satisfactory manner, the various statistical details which are required to be set forth in the primary report, the Commissioners approve of the discontinuance of this form of report in connexion with public examinations, and of the substitution instead thereof, of the form called secondary. The rule, however, requiring one report each year on the primary form on each National school in the district still remains and is to be strictly observed.

VI. (1). That the premiums heretofore given in each district for order and cleanliness, be in future awarded for order, cleanliness, and general efficiency combined—that, therefore, no teacher shall be regarded as qualified for such whose classes are not well and efficiently taught, and whose school is not at all times kept adequately supplied with books and all other requisites necessary for the successful instruction of the pupils.

(2). That a teacher who may be in receipt of a supplemental salary for good service be ineligible for the premiums awarded for order, cleanliness, and general efficiency.

(3). That besides the premium for order, &c., it be understood that the following premiums, also, can only with propriety be awarded to teachers whose schools are sufficiently provided with school requisites and sale stock, and whose classes exhibit a fair average degree of efficiency.

(a). Training of paid monitors, senior and junior.
(b). Preparation of teachers and pupil-teachers.

VII. In connexion with Rule XIII., section III. of the Commissioners' Rules and Regulations, and with a view to discourage, as far as possible, the appointment by managers, of ill-qualified teachers, it has been determined on by the Commissioners:—

That teachers who may be dismissed for incompetency shall not be eligible for re-appointment for, at least, six months after the date of his or her dismissal.

The Commissioners have further decided, That no unclassed teacher shall receive salary from the Board until he or she shall have been examined and pronounced qualified by one of their officers.

VIII. It having been found that some of the organizers have either misunderstood or deviated from the instructions contained in the circular letter on organization, bearing date the 11th of April, 1857, and that, in consequence, some of their proceedings have failed to receive the approval of the Head and District Inspectors, under whom they were acting, the Commissioners have decided:—

(1). That organizers should be instructed to limit themselves to suggestions for the improvement of the schools—that they should not make any material alterations in premises, fitting up, school accounts, distribution of school time, &c., &c., without the express permission of the managers, and without consulting the District Inspectors as to the propriety of making the changes—and that they should not suspend their labours in schools because they find the managers unwilling to incur all the expense, or to sanction all the alterations which they may consider necessary.

(2). That organizers should be instructed when suggesting to teachers a proper distribution of school time to point out to them the necessity of allotting to the most important subjects, such as reading, spelling, writing, and arithmetic, an amount of time proportioned to their high importance, and also to see that the teachers enter on the Time Table the precise time for opening the school each morning as distinct from the time for commencing business—the interval to be not less than half an hour, during which the teachers should consider it their duty to be present.

(3). That the organizers should be instructed (see circular on this subject of 5th June) to enter in a journal (a) the precise time of their entering and leaving the school each day, and (b) how they were occupied in the school, and that the journal be kept in the daily report book of this school, but that a duplicate of it be sent weekly to the District Inspector.

IX. Great inconvenience having been found to arise from the fact that teachers were not furnished with any means of properly preserving the class rolls, a form of permanent roll book, which is intended to supersede the class roll sheets at present in use, has received the approval of the Commissioners.

Copies of the form will be transmitted to the local depot in the course of a few days, and you are requested to facilitate the transmission of them to the several schools in your charge.

X. The usefulness of the training department having been found to be much impaired by the admission of unqualified and ill-prepared candidates, the Commissioners have decided on henceforward limiting admission to the Central Training Establishment to those teachers only who shall have previously succeeded in obtaining classification after examination by a Board of Inspectors.

We are, Sir, your obedient servants,

(Signed) MAURICE CROSS, JAMES KELLY, } Secretaries.

CIRCULAR to HEAD and DISTRICT INSPECTORS.

Office of National Education,
Dublin, 3rd Octber, 1859.

SIR,—The Commissioners of National Education having taken into consideration the question of increasing the efficiency and usefulness of the operations of the Head Inspectors, have decided that with this object in view the Head Inspector shall confer as often as possible with the Inspectors associated with them, upon the state of the schools in their respective districts, as also upon the general working of the system of inspection throughout the country,

To carry out this object in a methodical and practical manner, the Commissioners direct that the Head Inspectors shall communicate with the District Inspectors, whenever circumstances may suggest an occasion for so doing, upon the following points:—

1. The appositeness to the state of the school of the remarks and suggestions left in the Observation Book.
2. The fulness, clearness, and official style of the remarks and suggestions.
3. The soundness in an educational point of view of the remarks and suggestions.
4. The defects noticeable in the school which may have been overlooked by the Inspector in his remarks and suggestions.
5. The means suggested by Inspectors to remedy predominant defects, and with what success.

These communications are to be regarded by the Head and District Inspectors as official, and the District Inspectors are to preserve them along with the official documents pertaining to themselves or their districts.

We remain, Sir, your obedient servants,

(Signed) MAURICE CROSS, JAMES KELLY, } Secretaries.

RE-ISSUE of CIRCULAR of 11th May, 1858, modified and enlarged.

Office of National Education,
5th February, 1862.

SIR,—To secure, as far as may be, a certain uniformity of judgment on the part of the Inspectors when drawing up their reports on the schools inspected by them, we have to request that the following instructions may be carefully kept in mind.

I. As to reading: No pupil is to be included under the head "able to read the Second Book correctly," who cannot read readily (i.e. at sight and without naming the letters, or spelling the syllables of the words), and with correct pronunciation, in the Second or more advanced sections of this Book.

(a). Pupils, however, who have been tried in the Sequel, Third, or higher Books, and have failed so as to disentitle them to rank with those who read such with "ease and intelligence," many yet so read as to show the Inspector, even without further trial, that they may be fairly ranked among those "able to read the Second Book correctly" (that is as explained above).

(b). A pupil of an advanced class not able to read his higher class book fairly should be required to read the Second Book, and be considered so far, a second class pupil.

(c). Under the head "Able to read the Third or higher Books with ease and intelligence," are to be included none but those reading in the more advanced parts of Sequel No. 1, in Sequel No. 2, in the Third, Fourth, or Fifth Books, and of those such only as are found able to read any passage opened with readiness (or ease), and in a way to satisfy the Inspector that they understood fully what they read (that is, that they read with intelligence).

II. To entitle a pupil to be returned as "Acquainted with the parts of speech only," he should, at least, know how to distinguish in any easy sentences chosen the article, noun, personal pronoun, adjective, verb, and adverb.

III. To entitle a pupil to be returned as "Able to parse" he should be able to parse syntactically, quoting the rules of concord and government, such a sentence as "We will now try how our senses help us," or "our cotton dresses are formed from the soft lining of a seed vessel."

IV. "Acquainted with the Map of the World." To rank under this the pupil, without any reference to the map, should be able to tell the boundaries of the Continents, the limits of the oceans, the seas formed by each ocean, the relative position of these with reference to the equator and to one another; and further, to be able to point out on the maps the great mountain chains, lakes, and rivers.

V. "Acquainted with the Map of Europe or Ireland." To rank under this head the pupil should know —of Europe, its area in square miles, its length and breath; its great physical features, mountains, seas, and rivers; its population, and its several political divisions; its chief cities, great ports, and so forth. Of Ireland, again, he should know its position and boundaries; the provinces, and their relative positions; the counties in each province, and their chief towns; what counties are maritime, and what inland; the chief rivers, and their directions; the chief lakes and mountains; the population, area, and extent of the Island.

VI. "General course of geography." To rank under this the pupil should know as much of the other great continents as is above set down for Europe; and, in addition, should know the meaning of the terms latitude and longitude, the nature of the several lines marked on the map of the world, the zones, motions of the earth, the phenomena of the seasons, the changes of day and night, and the simple definitions of mathematical and physical geography.

VII. "Able to work correctly and readily a sum in subtraction." To rank under this, the pupil should know the meanings of the terms employed in addition and subtraction, and be able to place the minuend and subtrahend in order, and then work and prove a simple test question, such as follows:—

"From 7,606,407, take 428,309."

VIII. Able to work correctly a sum in compound division." To rank under this the pupil should be acquainted with the terms employed, and be able to work a question either by long division or by the method of factors; as, "Divide £70 2*s.* 8½*d.* between 24 persons, and show how much each is to receive."

IX. "Able to state and solve with readiness and correctness questions in proportion or practice." To rank under this the pupil should be acquainted with the terms employed in proportion, and be able to give the rules for stating and working a question not simpler than the following :—If 1 cwt. cost £1 5*s.* 8*d.* what will 7 cwt. 1 qr. 13 lbs. cost? Besides being able to work this and similar questions by practice the pupil should be able to repeat or write the several tables of aliquot parts.

X. "Penmanship." To be returned as knowing how "to write on paper fairly" a pupil should write either round or small hand with proportion and ease; and to be marked as "Able to write with ease and freedom" a pupil should have acquired such a style as would enable him to write small hand legibly and neatly and without labour.

XI. "Writing from dictation."—Under this head the pupil should be required to write out a passage—one long sentence, or two or more short ones, containing altogether from forty to sixty or seventy words, selected from the Third Book, the Sequels, or the advanced parts of the Second Book. Should he execute it with only three or four mistakes, and these not very gross, he may be considered as one entitled to be returned as capable of writing with "tolerable accuracy." Should the exercises contain no very gross orthographical error, or not more than one or two of a kind more excusable, the pupil may be reckoned as able to write "with ease and correctness."

XII. Again, as to conditions according to which the character of a school is to be determined, the following standard may be adopted in regard to reading :

(a.) To entitle a school to rank as one in which the reading* may be pronounced as "quite satisfactory."

I. All the fifth and fourth class children, and three-fourths (or thereabouts) of the third class should read the earlier lessons of their respective class-books with ease and intelligence.

II. The remainder of the third class, the Sequel classes, and one-half (or thereabouts) of the second class, should read the Second Book correctly.

III. The remainder of the second class, and at least one third of the first class children should read the First Book fairly (that is, with correct pronunciation of the words).

(b.) To entitle a school to rank as one in which reading is "good."

I. All the fifth, three-fourths of the fourth, and two-thirds of the third class children should read the earlier lessons of their respective class-books with ease and intelligence.

II. The remainder of these classes, two-thirds of the Sequel classes, and one-third of the second class, should read the Second Book correctly.

III. The remainder of the Sequel and second classes and one-fourth of the first class should read the First Book fairly.

(c.) To entitle a school to rank as one in which reading is "fair."

I. All the fifth, two-thirds of the fourth, and one-half of the third class, should read the earlier lessons of their respective class-books with ease and intelligence.

II. The remainder of these classes, one-half of the Sequel, and one-fourth of the second classes should read the Second Book correctly.

III. The remainder of these classes and the highest division of the first class should read the First Book fairly.

(d.) Again, to entitle a school to rank as one in which the penmanship is "quite satisfactory."

I. All the fifth class, two-thirds of the fourth class, and one half of the third class should be able to "write with ease and freedom."

II. The remainder of the fourth and third classes, and the whole of the Sequel classes should "write on paper fairly."

III. The second class should write on slates or paper in a well formed round hand.

(e.) To entitle a school to rank as one in which the "penmanship is good."

I. All the fifth class, one-half of the fourth class and one-third of the third class should be able "to write with ease and freedom."

II. The remainder of the fourth and third classes and the two-thirds of the Sequel classes should "write on paper fairly."

III. The remainder of the Sequel classes and one-half of the second class should write on slates or paper in fairly executed round hand.

(f.) To entitle a school to rank as one in which "the penmanship is fair."

I. All the fifth class, one-third of the fourth class, and one-fourth of the third class should be able "to write with ease and freedom."

II. The remainder of the fourth and third classes, and one-half of the sequel classes should "write on paper fairly."

III. The remainder of the Sequel classes and one-third of the second class should write on slates or paper in fairly executed round hand.

With reference to the remaining branches of our school course, as arithmetic, dictation, grammar, and geography, there can be little difficulty, it is hoped, in determining fairly the character of our schools, and there is, therefore, no need for entering, as regards such branches, into any minute detail. The only guide wanted is supplied in the "school programme."

In looking over the tables Nos. 7 and 8 (and to which we would now direct your most special attention) of the Appendix to the Commissioners' Annual Report, it will be observed there are differences in the returns of the Inspectors so enormous in numerical amount as to be wholly inexplicable by any imaginable diversity of circumstances in the schools reported on, and which can only be accounted for by supposing that the Inspectors as a body are practically without any uniform standard of judgment in these matters, and that few of them have a common understanding one with the other or even with the Head Inspectors, as to the criteria by which the general character of the instruction imparted under our system, whether as regards pupils or schools, is to be determined. But it is obvious that statistics offering such startling contrasts as these now referred to unquestionably present, must thereby be open to the strongest suspicion, and cannot be regarded as of any use whatever in an educational point of view, or capable of yielding any practical results. It is of the utmost importance, therefore, that the Inspectors should cultivate a common understanding in all matters relating to their schools, and learn to judge of them by a more uniform standard than hitherto seems to have guided them.

It is hoped that they will find such a standard in the suggestions contained in this communication.

We remain, sir, your obedient servants,

(Signed) MAURICE CROSS, JAMES KELLY, } Secretaries.

CIRCULAR to HEAD INSPECTORS.

Office of National Education,
14th January, 1863.

SIR,—We are to direct your special attention to the following instructions which have been drawn up for your guidance and that of your colleagues, and with the view of rendering your and their labours more conducive to the interests of the public service.

I. The Head Inspectors are not to devote more than three weeks to the preparation of their annual reports, of all kinds, and all such must be completed and in the office, this year, not later than the 28th February, but in future years before the close of January.

* What is styled fine reading, pleasing elocution, or rhetorical expression is not to be exacted, nor is the Inspector to be over nice in regard even to provincialisms of pronunciation, or the misplacing of accent and emphasis. Plain, distinct, and roundly pronounced reading, if evincing a clear sense of what is read, is the thing mainly to be required.

II. The Head Inspector's General Report is to consist of a brief statement of the results of his inspection of the schools visited during the year, and of the examination of teachers held throughout the same period, together with such observations and reflections as the facts recorded shall seem to warrant, and such practical recommendations for the correction of defects as experience may suggest.

III. Besides the above general report, a brief report on each of the model schools in his charge.

IV. The District Inspectors' Reports are not in future to be sent to the Head Inspectors.

V. The extracts from the Inspectors' Reports and the compilation of the Statistical tables contained in them will be made in the office.

VI. These arrangements are determined on with a view of enabling the Board to produce the appendix to their annual Report early in the month of April, if possible.

VII. In making these arrangements the Commissioners have also in view, the necessity of requiring the Head Inspectors to devote as much time as possible to the actual inspection of the ordinary schools—town and rural—in their charge.

VIII. And with regard to this last duty, the most important of all, the Head Inspectors are required to make arrangements to visit the schools at those times only when they are most numerously attended, and when therefore, they may be expected to present the amplest materials for forming a sound judgment of their general practical efficiency.

For the country generally those times, it is believed are the months of February, March, April, June, and August, with the latter part of October; also the months of November and December.

IX. The examinations of the teachers and monitors, on the other hand, should be held at those times when the schools are thinly attended, or in vacation; as in the months of May, July, and September.

X. The annual public examinations of the model schools again, should be fixed so as to come off, some of them before the breaking up for midsummer vacation, and the rest in September and the first two weeks of October.

XI. All the work of examination of monitors, examination and classification of teachers, and public examination of model schools should be completed, and all returns pertaining to the same forwarded to this office, before the close of October in each year.

We are, sir, your obedient servants,

(Signed) MAURICE CROSS, JAMES KELLY, } Secretaries.

Office of National Education,
28th September, 1864.

SIR,—We have to draw your attention to the order of the Board, setting forth the arrangements for the appointment of first class monitors.

You are without delay to send up, on the enclosed form, any recommendations you may deem it your duty to make in reference to the appointments in question.

No appointment is to date anterior to the 1st October, 1864, and the recommendations are to be in the office on or before the 1st November, 1864.

We are, sir, your obedient servants,

(Signed) JAMES KELLY, WILLIAM M'CREEDY, } Secretaries.

P.S.—It may perhaps be desirable to remind you that your recommendations will not, as a matter of course, be acted upon.

COPY of ORDER of BOARD, dated 2nd September, 1864, as to the APPOINTMENT of young PERSONS of great MERIT to act as MONITORS of a superior Grade.

I. "A school to be eligible for the services of a first class monitor, must have an attendance considerably above the number required as a minimum for the staff of teachers employed in it, and must possess such a character, generally, as to merit the appointment and to warrant the hope, that not only would the monitor be properly trained and instructed, but that the school would be materially benefited thereby.

II. "The candidate must either be in his fourth year as senior monitor, or have completed his four years as such.

III. "The candidate must exhibit a very satisfactory proficiency in the subjects laid down for the examination of a monitor of the fourth year.

IV. "The period of service of a first class monitor is to embrace two years.

V. The first class monitors are to attend the examination of the monitors held annually in each district—and are to be examined in papers specially prepared for themselves. The programme of examination will consist of the higher portions of those subjects in which a senior monitor of the fourth year is examined, and in addition, will contain questions on method and school organization.

VI. "Those teachers whose first class monitors pass satisfactory examinations, will be awarded the same amount of premium as in the instance of a fourth year senior monitor, and on the same conditions."

VII. The salaries of first class monitors, both male and female, will be :—

For the first year, . . £15 (Fifteen.)
„ second year, . . £17 (Seventeen.)

CIRCULAR to HEAD INSPECTORS.

Office of National Education,
Dublin, 2nd February, 1865.

SIR,—We are to remind you of our circular letter, issued in October, 1859, and since that date at times re-issued for the guidance of the Head Inspectors, to the effect that it is considered an essential part of their duty to confer, as often as possible, with the Inspectors associated with them upon the state of their schools, as also upon the general working of the system of inspection throughout the country.

To carry out this object in a methodical and practical manner, the Commissioners directed that the Head Inspectors should communicate with the District Inspectors whenever circumstances might suggest an occasion for so doing, upon the following points:—

I. The appositeness to the state of the school of the remarks and suggestions left in the Observation Book.

II. The fulness, clearness, and official style of the remarks and suggestions.

III. The soundness in an educational point of view of the remarks and suggestions.

IV. The defects noticeable in the schools, which may have been overlooked by the Inspector in his remarks and suggestions.

V. The means suggested by the Inspector to remedy predominant defects, and with what success.

Further, you were informed that these communications should be regarded by the Head and District Inspectors as official, and that the District Inspectors would be required to preserve them along with the official documents pertaining to themselves or their districts.

We are now to request that you will furnish us with a statement of the several occasions on which, during the past year, you communicated with the Inspectors under your supervision on the subjects above referred to—the defects noticed by you in their schools to which you felt it necessary to call their attention, the instructions or suggestions you may have made for their future guidance, and whether, in any case, you omitted to carry out the directions conveyed to you in the circular letter on the subject.

We have now, in conclusion, to direct that in this year, and in all future years, when addressing such communications to the Inspectors associated with you (and the proper occasion for doing so would be at the close of their inspections of their respective districts), you will be careful, at the same time, to advise the office both of the fact that you have done so, and of the particular nature of your communication in each case.

We are, sir,

(Signed) JAMES KELLY, WILLIAM M'CREEDY, } Secretaries.

Education Office, September, 1865.

REVISED CIRCULAR of INSTRUCTIONS to DISTRICT and SUB INSPECTORS of NATIONAL SCHOOLS, setting forth the CONDITIONS of PAYMENT of TRAVELLING EXPENSES incurred in the INSPECTION of NATIONAL SCHOOLS.

I. Parliament having placed funds at the disposal of the Commissioners, to enable them to defray a portion of the expenses of the locomotion of District and Sub Inspectors when engaged on inspection duties, an allowance of 4*s.* will be paid for every National school inspected after the 1st April, 1864, at a distance from the official centre of more than four, and less than twenty, statute miles; and of 7*s.* for every school inspected twenty miles or over.

II. Only two inspections, however, will be paid for on any one day, and not more than ten inspections will be allowed for in any one week.

III. The allowance will not be granted if the school be on the list of suspended schools, or inoperative on the day of visit, unless it can be shown that there was no other school within a reasonable distance that could have been inspected on the same day; or if it be an evening school, unless a day school, not connected with it, and not in the same place, be inspected on the same date.

IV. Visits on secondary applications, in the case of schools not fully reported on in the term, will not be paid for unless the school be inspected, and a report on it as a National school be transmitted at the same time; but visits to primary applications will be paid for on the same conditions as if these schools were National.

V. No allowance will be paid for a second visit to any school within the same term, unless all the other schools in the district shall have been once inspected, or unless the second inspection shall have been ordered by the Commissioners, or called for by some special and urgent reasons which are to be explained; and in the event of the inspection of all the schools being completed before the end of a term, and that it be thought desirable a second inspection should be entered upon, the Inspector is to ask the Board for instructions as to such inspections, and the general course he is to pursue for the remainder of the term.

VI. As an Inspector may occasionally have to spend more than one day in schools commanding large attendances, he will receive payment for each of the extra days, provided he examines at least 100 pupils daily.

VII. Should the Inspector not complete the inspection of all the schools in his district within a term, he will be mindful to visit the uninspected schools first in the succeeding term, as no allowance will be granted for visits paid to other schools, so long as these schools remain without inspection.

VIII. It is required that each Inspector shall pay a large number of incidental visits by calling at the schools which may lie in his route to the school to be inspected, or which can be reached by making a circuit or detour from the direct road. It must also be especially borne in mind that travelling by railway or other public conveyance, as van or stage coach, cannot be sanctioned if it in any degree interfere with the practicability of making such incidental visits.

IX. Except for short distances, or such as the Inspector might with due propriety and without derogation to his office, walk, it will be necessary for him to travel by a suitable mode of conveyance—using his own horse, employing post-cars, or if by railway, in the first or second class.

X. Inspectors are to return to their centres as frequently as possible, never remaining at any outpost for more than five days consecutively, and then only when such outpost is twenty miles, or thereabouts, from the official centre.

XI. The allowance will be paid after the close of each term, Inspectors will, therefore, forward together with their term returns a statement of the sums claimed for inspections according to the rates herein prescribed.

XII. Should any Inspector neglect to forward his journal and reports weekly, so as to reach this office on each Monday morning, the allowance for travelling will be liable to be withheld or reduced, as may be directed by the Commissioners, who will regard with extreme censure any Inspector not acting strictly in accordance with the letter and spirit of these instructions.

To avoid unnecessary correspondence or delay in the payment of travelling expenses Inspectors will have the goodness to note the following additional particulars:

(a). No allowance will be made for any school the inspection of which commences after 2.15 o'clock.

(b). No allowance will be made for visits to closed schools, if closed at a time notified on the time-table, or that might be known beforehand to the Inspector.

(c). Payments will be made for visits ordered by this office to examine newly-appointed teachers, should the school have been previously inspected during the term; if not it must be regularly inspected on the occasion of such visit, in order to warrant payment.

(d). In visiting island schools the distance must be given from the centre to the point of departure on the mainland, up to which point allowance will be made in accordance with the terms of this circular, and the expense is to be entered, as in ordinary cases, in the regular account; the expense of boat from the point of departure to the island on a separate account, as a special claim.

(e). Payment will be made in cases of special inquiries or investigations ordered by this office. Inspectors are however expected to make inspections of schools in the localities to which they may be sent on such occasions, if opportunity be presented for so doing.

(f). To facilitate the checking of these accounts it is desirable that in cases that may be open to question, a brief statement of the grounds on which payment is claimed should appear on the weekly journal.

JAMES KELLY, WILLIAM M'CREEDY, } Secretaries.

Education Office,
5th September, 1865.

Education Office,
Dublin, 5th January, 1867.

SIR,—We herewith send you a copy of the latest edition of the Board's Rules in which the new rules in respect to the religious instruction of the pupils of National Schools are fully set forth.

We have to inform you that we have recently sent to every manager of a National school a similar copy of the Board's rules for each National school in his charge, and we have inscribed on each copy of the rules the name of the National school for which it was intended.

We have further supplied you with numerous copies of the sets of rules in large sheets for suspension on the walls of the National schools; and we presume you have already taken steps to distribute them amongst the schools of your district.

With a view of completing the arrangements for the immediate carrying out of the new rule, it now only remains for us to send you a supply of the "Books" referred to in Rules, part I., section iv., par. 15; and you are forthwith to take measures to supply each school with a copy, notifying the fact to us when you have received evidence of the receipt of the "Book" by the teacher, and at the same time making a record of the circumstances in your district book.

We have now to direct your most careful attention to a due consideration of those new rules, and in conclusion we have to instruct you to be most earnest and vigilant in performing promptly and impartially the important duty assigned to you as Inspector in the verification of the facts and the completion of the certificate in each case.

It need hardly be added that without the slightest delay, you are to bring under the notice of the Board any infraction of the rule in question.

We are, sir, your obedient servants,

(Signed) JAMES KELLY, WILLIAM M'CREEDY, } Secretaries.

Education Office,
25th February, 1867.

SIR,—The Commissioners of National Education having had their attention called to the very unsatisfactory characters of the answers frequently given to query 28 in the report forms, secondary No. 1, and secondary No. 2, direct that in future when it shall be inconvenient or impracticable for you to call upon the manager of a school, you shall address a note to him embodying in it, briefly, any points calling for his attention. You will mention these points in your report, and state that you communicated with the manager respecting them.

You will be at liberty to withhold your report for one week from the date of the visit to the school to which it may refer, when you may consider it necessary that the Commissioners should be acquainted with the manager's reply to your communication.

Again on the subject of needlework it is observed that many Inspectors give to this important branch of female education, the most passing notice, after referring to it by a monosyllable, without affording to the Commissioners the smallest idea of the amount of success that attends its teaching.

You will in future be particular to reply fully and clearly to the query bearing on this subject, keeping in mind the conditions in the school programme.

Any neglect of these instructions will result in our returning your report for emendation, and will be brought under the serious attention of the Commissioners.

We are, sir, your obedient servants,

(Signed) JAMES KELLY, W. H. NEWELL, } Secretaries.

MINUTE of BOARD, dated 26th February, 1867, explanatory of the new Rule as to Attendance of Pupils of National Schools at Religious Instruction.

PART I., § IV., RULE 15.

The object of the rule is more fully to carry out the general principle of the Board, that no child is to receive any religious instruction contrary to the wishes of its parent.

Accordingly the rule first provides for the case where the teacher is a Protestant, and the child a Roman Catholic or vice versa. In this case the dissent of the parent is implied, and no religious instruction can be given to a child by a teacher of the different creed unless the parent expressly requests it.

But where the teacher and the child are both Protestants whether of the same, or of a different, denomination, the dissent of the parent will not be implied. In this case religious instruction may be given to the child unless the parent expressly forbids it.

In each case, however, the assent or dissent, whether implied or expressed, may be modified by an entry duly signed by the parent in the certificate book of religious instruction.

Cases may occur in which the conduct of the teacher, although not coming within the strict letter of the new rule, is obviously contrary to the general spirit of the National system; as, for instance, if instruction should be given in the catechism or creed of a different persuasion from that of the child.

National Education Office,
Dublin, 30th October, 1867.

SIR—We herewith transmit a copy of the new Agricultural Class Book, which the Commissioners are anxious to introduce into all male National schools.

The book is written in a style sufficiently plain to be understood by boys in the third and higher classes, and it is required that you will suggest to managers and teachers the propriety of making it a text-book for those classes at least at one reading lesson in each week. By this means the Commissioners hope a large amount of useful agricultural knowledge will be diffused among the tenant-farmers and peasantry of Ireland.

We are further to request that you will be good enough to take the earliest opportunity of informing the teachers that in future they will be examined in the contents of this book at the annual examinations.

We are, sir, your obedient servants,

(Signed) JAMES KELLY, W. H. NEWELL, } Secretaries.

WRITTEN EXAMINATION of TEACHERS and FIRST CLASS MONITORS, 1868.

Education Office,
5th March, 1868.

SIR,—We are to inform you that the annual examination of male teachers for this year is to be held on Tuesday and Wednesday, the 14th and 15th April; and we are, accordingly, to request that you will make arrangements to summon the teachers to that part of your district which may prove most convenient for the purpose, taking care to do so in time.

The result of the written answering is to be noted by means of the system of numerical values. The value for a perfect answer is to be appended to each question; and, to entitle a teacher to this maximum, he must have answered the question fully and satisfactorily. Any value below the maximum may be assigned, unless the answer should be so unsatisfactory as not to warrant a value at least equal to one-half of the assigned maximum; in such case no credit whatever is to be given for the answer.

In assigning the value for orthography, the Inspectors must exercise their discretion as to the deduction to be made for mistakes in capital letters, &c.; but for a mistake in an ordinary word, perhaps, as a general rule, five marks should be deducted.

It will be remembered that in the event of the total number of marks obtained in any subject falling short of 20 per cent. of the maximum assigned, the teacher receives no mark for that subject. It is also to be borne in mind that in any case where there is no merit recorded in penmanship, composition, geography, orthography, grammar, lesson books, or arithmetic, the teacher is ineligible to be recalled.

In making up the parcel of exercises, you will fasten each teacher's papers together, and place them in the order of subjects. You will then fasten the dockets together in a similar manner, in the order of the names and grades of the teachers on your list, as Probationer, 3^2, 3^1, 2^2, &c. This list is to be made out on the accompanying form, in accordance with the headings set forth thereon. You will proceed with the marking of the exercises immediately after the examinations are completed; and forward them so as to reach this office on Monday, the 27th April.

First Class Monitors.

The examination of the first class monitors is to take place on the undermentioned days:—
Males, on Tuesday & Wednesday, 14th & 15th April.
Females, on Thursday & Friday, 16th & 17th „

These monitors will be examined in a set of special questions of the same character as those on which senior monitors of third and fourth years' standing are annually examined, but more difficult; also, on a set of questions on school management, and the art of teaching. You will be careful to issue the summonses for these young persons in proper time.

When you have marked their written exercises (the marking is to be done in the same way as last year), which you should be able to do in the same week with the teachers' exercises, you will forward them, together with your record of the oral examination, to this office, taking care to note upon the dockets your opinion as to whether or not gratuities should be awarded to the respective teachers, and the amount, if any, you recommend.

The gratuity in each case is not to exceed that awarded in the case of senior monitors of fourth year.

Only those appointed on or before 1st January, 1868, are to be summoned.

We are, sir, your obedient servants,

James Kelly,
Wm. H. Newell, } Secretaries.

P.S.—You will require the teachers under examination to write a few specimens of head-lines, such as they would set for their pupils. They may also add a specimen of ornamental penmanship, for which, if well executed, due credit will be given.

You will bear in mind the instructions conveyed in our circular letter of the 12th November last on the subject of the values to be assigned to proficiency in agriculture. This will involve an alteration in the classification sheets and dockets, a supply of which, when ready, will be forwarded to you.

SECTION VI.

Ordered, that these letters be transmitted to Dr. Abraham for his attention and remarks.

Ordered further, that to prevent any misunderstanding, the Commissioners direct the Secretary present, to inform Dr. Abraham, that in case they should approve of his "Manual of Geography and History," they will place it on the list of books "sanctioned" by them for use in National Schools, and will order from him, from time to time, such number of copies as the demand for their Schools may require.

No. 65.—Extract from the Minutes of the Board of National Education as to "Poetical Selections," Vol. I. Messrs. Gibson and Henry's Objections; new Proof ordered, &c. Minute dated November 19, 1867.

Brought up report of the Book Committee, which met at 4·45 o'clock.

Report.

Present:—Right Hon. M. Longfield, James Gibson, esq.; Laurence Waldron, esq.; Right Hon. A. Macdonnell. Dr. Newell, Secretary.

Read letter, No. 10,722/67, from Mr. Gibson, in which he states:—

"I have to request that you will lay before the Committee at its next meeting the expression of my very strong disapproval of many of the pieces included in the 'Poetical Selections,' now under consideration, as calculated to excite feelings and convey opinions to which, in my humble opinion, the teachers of youth should be no party. I also object altogether to the issue, in this compilation, of three plays of Shakespeare, which, independently of many passages in the plays which are of a character unsuitable to be brought before young persons of both sexes, I cannot but consider as a waste of public money, as the entire works of Shakespeare can now be had for one shilling, a price which brings them within the reach of most of the class for whom this selection is intended. I therefore venture respectfully to express a hope that the Commissioners will not record their approval of this compilation, to which I entertain the most decided objection, the grounds of which I am prepared to state more fully if necessary."

Read also, letter from the Rev. Dr. Henry, 10,867/67, stating—

"I hope the 'Poetical Selections,' Vol. I., may not be accepted by the Commissioners. I have very strong objections to it, and as I do not know who the compiler is, I shall have the less difficulty in expressing them, during the week. I believe that the advanced pupils of the National schools will, many of them, learn love songs soon enough, and extensively enough without the proposed sanction of Honorable Commissioners of Education. The range of English literature ought to have presented unobjectionable and profitable matters. If I were opposed to the National system I would not desire a better argument than could be drawn from these 'Poetic Selections.'"

The Secretary, Dr. Newell, mentions that Mr. Lentaigne, whose letter (No. 10,541/67) was read to the Committee on the 5th instant, has signified his approval of any course pursued by the Resident Commissioner.

Proposed by Mr. Macdonnell, that the present volume, so far as it contains three plays of Shakespeare, and the selections from Shakespeare, together with Ben Ordered, that the Commissioners decline to accede to Mr. Butler's request to place his Treatise on Trigonometry on the list of books sanctioned by them for use in the National schools, as they are opposed to sanctioning books written or prepared by professors or assistant professors, and as the work does not in itself meet with their approval. The Commissioners postpone the consideration of the question as to the propriety of sanctioning the publication of the First Volume of the "Poetical Selections."

No. 69.—EXTRACT from the Minutes of the Board of National Education, offering to purchase Mr. M'Carthy's manuscript work on Trigonometry. Minute dated December 10, 1867.

Judge Longfield having perused Mr. M'Carthy's manuscript work on Trigonometry, informs the Board that the work has merits, and would be a useful Treatise for the National Teachers.

Ordered, that as several years since, Mr. M'Carthy received an intimation that the Commissioners desired him to prepare a short practical work on Trigonometry for the use of National Schools, which work, if approved of, they would be prepared to purchase, the sum of £50 be offered to Mr. M'Carthy for the manuscript copy now approved of; Mr. M'Carthy to put the work through the press, should he accept the Commissioners' offer.

No. 70.—EXTRACT from the Minutes of the Board of National Education, promising to consider question of further remuneration to Mr. M'Carthy, who accepts the offer for his Trigonometry. Minute dated December 17, 1867.

Read letter No. 11,618/67, from Mr. Denis M'Carthy, Navigation Teacher, thanking the Commissioners for purchasing his manuscript work on Trigonometry for £50, and expressing a hope, that in case of a second edition being required, his claim for putting such through the press may be considered.

Ordered, that Mr. M'Carthy be informed that the Commissioners will be prepared to consider the propriety of granting him further remuneration, should a second edition of his book be called for.

No. 71.—EXTRACT from the Minutes of the Board of National Education, postponing question as to publication of "Poetical Selections," Vol. I. Minute dated December 23, 1867.

PARAGRAPH 5.—OUTLINE of CONDITIONS, with DATE of MODIFICATIONS of GRANTS, for BUILDING or for FURNISHING and FITTING UP SCHOOLS.

1831.—EXTRACT from Lord Stanley's Letter to His Grace the Duke of Leinster, on the formation of the Board of National Education in Ireland, adopted as a Rule by the Commissioners:—

"Where aid is sought from the Commissioners for building a school-house, it is required that at least one-third of the estimated expense be subscribed, a site for building, to be approved of by the Commissioners, be granted for the purpose, and that the school-house, when finished, be vested in trustees, to be also approved of by them."

Adopted by Board's minute, 18th December, 1831.

1838.—EXTRACT from Fifth Report of the Commissioners of National Education:—

"The Commissioners will contribute a portion of the expense which may be originally required for fitting up or furnishing a school-house; but provision must thenceforth be locally made for keeping the house repaired and furnished."

1842.—EXTRACT from Ninth Report of the Commissioners:—

"The trustees are bound by the terms of the lease to keep the house and furniture in sufficient repair.

"When grants are voted towards the building, &c., of a school-house, the conveyance to trustees must be duly executed before the works are commenced."

"The Commissioners do not make grants to purchase school-houses, nor to purchase, alter, or furnish other houses, for the purpose of being converted into school-houses."

1845.—EXTRACT from Twelfth Report of the Commissioners:—

"In commencing our present report, it is our gratifying duty to express our acknowledgments for the Charter of Incorporation which Her Majesty has been graciously pleased in the course of last year to grant us.

"We have already availed ourselves of it so as to effect a very important improvement in the plan originally adopted, which was for having National school-houses built by aid from the public so conveyed to trustees, as to be secured for the purposes of National education according to the existing National system.

"The course hitherto has been to have the legal title vested in private individuals on the proper trusts, but this has led to much inconvenience, and indeed positive mischief; for, besides difficulties through the decease of trustees, change of residence, and unwillingness or incapacity to act, there has been a very general neglect as to the keeping of school-houses in repair, and the only remedy for such neglect would be proceedings against the trustees, a course most desirable to be avoided.

"Therefore, being now enabled to take conveyances of property to ourselves in our corporate capacity, we have, according to the communication which we have already had the honour of making to your Excellency upon the subject, resolved, that, in every case in which we make a grant for building a National school-house, we shall take upon ourselves the trust for the public, and the charge of keeping the premises in repair; leaving, however, the local managers, who in general are not the trustees, just the same right, as to the appointment and removal of teachers, and the general conduct of the school, as they at present possess under our control.

"With respect to the school-houses heretofore built by aid from us, and which are already vested in trustees in the way we have mentioned, we have resolved, according to the permission which your Excellency has granted to us, to accept (when such is the wish of the patrons) transfers of such schools to us, and to undertake the repairs in this case also."

1857.—EXTRACT from Twenty-fourth Report of the Commissioners:—

"Since the month of April, 1857, in compliance with an order of the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, the architectural branch of the department of National education has been transferred to the Board of Public works; since that date, the erection of the National school-houses, as well as the keeping of the premises, &c., in repair, has been undertaken by the latter Board."

1861.—EXTRACT from Twenty-eighth Report of the Commissioners:—

"We have modified the conditions upon which National schools may be erected with aid from the State, and have made arrangements whereby the school sites may either be vested, as formerly, in trustees to be approved of by us, or be vested in ourselves, in our corporate capacity."

PARAGRAPH 6.—ABSTRACT of several TRUSTS set forth from time to time in LEASES or TRUST-DEEDS, with the DATE of CHANGE or MODIFICATION.

[The Commissioners of National Education transmitted as the return under this paragraph a collection of documents which, it was understood, had been extracted from ORIGINAL LEASES for Vested Schools, preserved in the Education Office, Marlborough-street. This collection of abstracts of Trusts has been carefully compared in the Office of the Royal Commissioners, with the original leases which were lent for the purpose by the Commissioners of National Education. It has been edited, so as to set forth clearly the successive alterations which have been made from time to time, in the Trusts, &c., and will be found, together with the collection of Rules and Regulations annexed to the General Report of the Commissioners.]

Paragraph 16.—"Successive Rules, with the Dates of their Modification, respecting the Use, before and after school hours, and on Sundays, and at other times, of School-rooms, Vested and Non-Vested."

1834. General Regulations.

No. 2.—One day in each week (independently of Sunday) is to be set apart for the religious instruction of the children, on which day such pastors or other persons as are approved of by the parents or guardians of the children, shall have access to them for that purpose, whether those pastors have signed the original application or not.

No. 3.—The managers of schools are also expected, should the parents of any of the children desire it, to afford convenient opportunity and facility for the same purpose, either before or after the ordinary school business (as the managers may determine), on other days of the week.

1835. Regulations and Directions.

Section vi., Par. 3.—The Commissioners understand that they are not in ordinary cases to exercise control over school-houses on Sundays, or beyond the hours of instruction on other days; that control being left to the local conductors of the school. But they expect that no use shall be made of the school-rooms tending to contention, such as the holding of political meetings in them; and that they shall not be converted into places of public worship. Such use made of a school-house, built by aid from the Commissioners, will be held to be a violation of the principles of the National Education system; such a use made of a school-house received, after its establishment, into connexion with the Board, they will regard as a sufficient reason for withholding further aid, and dissolving the connexion.

1838. Rules.

Section v., Par. 3.—The Commissioners do not desire in ordinary cases to exercise control over school-houses on Sundays, or beyond the hours of instruction on other days; that control being left to the local managers. But, they require that no use of them shall be made tending to contention, such as the holding of political meetings in them, or bringing into them political petitions or documents of any kind for signature; and that they shall not be converted into places of public worship. Such use made of a school-house built by aid from the Commissioners, will be held to be a violation of the principles of the National Education system. Such a use made of a school-house taken, after its establishment, into connexion with the Board, they will regard as a sufficient reason for withholding further aid.

1841. Annual Report—Explanatory Paper relative to the Letter from the Chief Secretary for Ireland, bearing date October, 1831.

Par. 7.—The Board understands that they are not, in ordinary cases, to exercise control over the use of the school-rooms on Sundays, that control being left to the local conductors of the school; but, that if any use be made of them tending to contention and well-founded complaints between adverse parties, it is competent for the Board to interfere for the purpose of remedying the evil.

1842. Rules and Regulations.

Section iii., Par. 3.—The Commissioners require that no use shall be made of the school-rooms for any purpose tending to contention, such as the holding of political meetings in them, or bringing into them political petitions or documents of any kind for signature; and that they shall not be converted into places of public worship. The Commissioners require the school-rooms to be used exclusively for the purposes of education; and any breach of this rule will be held to be a violation of the principles of the National Education system.

Extract from Trust Deeds.

Par. 6.—No meetings of any kind whatever shall be permitted to be held in the school-houses, or in any part or room thereof, or on the premises conveyed, except such as relate to the business of the school; no political petition or document shall be brought into the school-houses or premises, or any part thereof, for signature or otherwise; and neither the house nor any part of it shall be converted into a place of public worship, or used for any purpose save that of such school.

1863. Rules and Regulations: Part I., § iii.

Par. 1.—In non-vested schools the Commissioners do not, in ordinary cases, exercise control over the use of school-houses on Sundays, or before or after the school hours on the other days of the week; such use being left altogether to the local patrons or managers, of all religious persuasions, subject to the interference of the Board in cases leading to contention or abuse.

Par. 2.—No National school-house shall be employed at any time, even temporarily, as a stated place of Divine worship of any religious community, or for the celebration or administration of the sacraments or rites of any church.

Par. 3.—No aid will be granted to a school held in a place of worship, nor will the Commissioners sanction the transfer of an existing school to a place of worship, even for a temporary period.

Par. 4.—When a school-room is in any way connected with a place of worship, there must not be any direct internal communication between the school-room and such place of worship.

Par. 5.—Vested school-houses must be used exclusively for the education of the pupils attending them; except on Sundays, when they may be employed for Sunday-schools, with the sanction of the patrons or managers, subject, in cases leading to contention or abuse, to the interference of the Commissioners.

Par. 6.—No political meetings shall be held in National school-houses, whether vested or non-vested; nor shall any political business whatsoever be transacted therein.

Paragraph 17.—Number of Non-Vested Schools, with the Religious Denomination of the Patrons, against which Reports have been made during the last Five Years of the Infraction of Rules relating to Religious Worship.

Nine cases of Infraction of Rules relating to Religious Worship have been reported during the last five years, as follows:—

All under Protestant management.	One	in which the Patron was of the	Established Church.
	Five	"	" Presbyterian.
	Three	"	" of other Protestant denominations.

Paragraph 18.—Successive Rules, with Dates of their Modification, respecting the use of Religious Symbols, or Inscriptions upon the exterior of the Schools, or upon the exterior of the School Premises.

1835. Rules and Regulations, Sec. VI.

Par. 2.—It is expected that when any school is received by the Board into connexion with it, the inscription "National School" shall be put up conspicuously on the school-house; and that in building school-houses, partly by funds entrusted to the Commissioners, a stone shall be built into the wall, having that inscription cut in it.

1836. Instructions to Inspectors.

The inscription "National School" is to be put up conspicuously on the outside of the school-house.

1838. General Regulations, Sec. V.

Par. 2.—When any school is received by the Commissioners into connexion with them, the inscription "National School," and no other, shall be put up conspicuously on the school-house; and when a school-house is built partly by aid from them, a stone is to be introduced into the wall having that inscription cut upon it.

1853. Rules and Regulations, Part I., Sec. III.

Par. 2.—When any school is received by the Commissioners into connexion with them, the inscription "National School," and no other, shall be put up conspicuously on the school-house; and when a school-house is built partly by aid from them, a stone is to be introduced into the wall, having that inscription cut upon it.

This rule is not to be understood as precluding the addition to the terms "National School" of the description of children for whom the school is designed, as Male, Female, or Infant, or of the proper local designation of the city, town, parish, street, village, or townland, in which the school may be situated; but the Commissioners will not sanction the inscription of any title of a denominational character, or which may appear to them to indicate that the school is one peculiarly belonging to any particular religious body.

1854. Rules and Regulations, Sec. X.

Par. 1.—When any school is received by the Commissioners into connexion with them, the inscription "National School" shall be put up in plain and legible characters on the school-house, or on such other place as may render it conspicuous to the public. When a school-house is built partly by aid from the Commissioners, a stone is to be introduced into the wall having that inscription cut upon it. The Commissioners will not, when granting aid in future, sanction the inscription of any title of a denominational character, or which may appear to them to indicate that the school is one belonging to any particular religious body. The Commissioners, however, do not object to the terms Male, Female, or Infant, or to the proper local designation of the city, town, parish, street, village, or townland in which the school may be situated, or to the name of the founder being stated on the inscription.

Par. 3.—No emblems or symbols of a denominational nature shall be exhibited in the school-room during the hours of united instruction; nor will the Commissioners, in future, grant aid to any school which exhibits on the exterior of the buildings any such emblems.

Par. 4.—No emblems or symbols of a political nature shall at any time be exhibited in the school-room, or affixed to the exterior of the buildings; nor shall any placards whatsoever* be affixed thereto.

Paragraph 19.—Reports of Infraction of the Rules as to the Use of the Schools for Political Purposes, during the last five years.

Three cases of infraction of the rules of the Board as to the use of schools for political purposes have been reported during the last five years.

St. Peter's Male National School, Dublin.

In this case a notice animadverting on the Adelaide Hospital was posted on the walls of the school-house.

The manager was informed that it was contrary to rule to post the notice; and requested to observe the Board's Rules in future.

Mullingar Parish National School, Co. Westmeath.

The school was used as a reading-room and news-room by a Young Men's Society.

The manager was informed that it is contrary to rule to allow any society to hold meetings in National schools when at such meetings political newspapers are read by persons present.

Rossmore National School, Co. Cork.

The magistrates of Ballineen and Dunmanway Petty Sessions called attention of the Commissioners to the conduct of the teacher in allowing a seditious placard to be posted on the door of his school-house.

The teacher was exonerated from blame in this case; but the Commissioners expressed surprise that the manager did not order the removal of the placard which they considered of a very objectionable character. Manager also informed of rule bearing on the subject.

* In the year 1863, after the word "whatsoever" in the foregoing rule, and before the words "be affixed thereto," there were introduced the additional words—"except such as refer to the legitimate business of school management."

PARAGRAPH 20.—COPIES of PRESENT PLANS of different grades of Schools, with estimates of expense.

The plans and specifications used by the National Board for their different grades of schools, are published by them in printed forms, which need not be reproduced here. The scale of grants for the various grades of schools is also given in their printed rules and regulations, part 2, § 2, as follows:—

NOTE.—To promote expedition, this Return is compiled from the Commissioners' Annual Reports.
The first mention of cessation of grants to schools is made in the 1st Report (1834).
There was no enumeration of struck-off schools given in Report for year 1835, nor in that for 1839.
Of the Operation Schools struck off the Roll, many were so removed merely from their having become incorporated with others—such as male departments amalgamated with female departments, &c. In a few cases (two or three), Vested Schools became Non-vested through insufficiency of title on part of the grantor of site; and adverse possession having been maintained, the Commissioners severed the connexion by striking the schools off their Roll.

NOTE.—The foregoing are the Schools in connexion with the Commissioners before the year 1840, the Managers of which are known to have been Presbyterians. There are, however, 104 cases in which we are now unable to ascertain the religious denominations of the Managers, as they are not stated in the early records of the Commissioners. It is not improbable that in many of these cases the Managers were Presbyterians.

SECTION IX.—Classification of Schools as to Religious Denomination of Teachers and Paid Monitors.

PARAGRAPH 1.—Distinguishing Model, Workhouse, Gaol, Lunatic Asylum, and other Official Schools, state, by Provinces and Counties, the Number of Head or Principal, and the Number of Assistant Teachers, according to Sex and Religious Denomination; and also classify the Schools into—

(a) those with a Staff exclusively of the Established Church; (b) those with an exclusively Roman Catholic Staff of Teachers; (c) those with an exclusively Presbyterian Staff; (d) those with a Staff exclusively composed of other Protestant Dissenters; (e) and those with a joint staff of Protestants of any Denomination, and Roman Catholics, on the 31st December, 1867.

Note.—There are three classes of Paid Monitors—namely, Junior, Senior, and First-class Monitors. The regular periods of service for these classes are, respectively, three, four, and two years; so that a Monitor serving throughout the whole of these periods would serve nine years.

A Monitor is retained sometimes for an additional year in any one of these grades, if the Inspector should satisfy the Commissioners that there are special reasons for this exceptional course.

PARAGRAPH 3.—CLASSIFICATION, in PROVINCES and COUNTIES, by SEX, RELIGIOUS DENOMINATION, and LENGTH of SERVICE, of all PAID MONITORS in the service on the 31st December, 1867, distinguishing those in MODEL SCHOOLS.

NOTE.—In this return only those schools which, at the dates of the Inspectors' visits, had on their rolls both Protestant and Roman Catholic pupils are set forth as mixed. The rolls contained the names of no pupils that had not been in actual attendance within the 13 weeks preceding such visits.

According to the Annual Report of the Commissioners of National Education for 1867, the number of mixed schools was 3,821. This number was based upon the returns for the whole year, and included Model Schools and schools in which no religious instruction was imparted.

NOTE.—In this Return the schools set forth as unmixed are those which, at the dates of the Inspector's visits, had on rolls Protestant pupils only, or Roman Catholic pupils only.

The rolls contained the names of no pupils that had not been in actual attendance, at least once within the thirteen weeks preceding those visits.

As no time was fixed in the printed requisition of the Royal Commission for this Return, or for Returns 1, 2, 3, of the same section, the Inspectors received instructions to regard schools as mixed or unmixed, according to the religious denominations of the pupils on the rolls at the time they made their visits for the purposes of the Commission. In consequence, the number of unmixed schools here given is in excess of the number in the Commissioners' Annual Report for 1867, viz. 2,565, which was compiled from the returns for the whole year.

* In these cases the action taken had reference to other irregularities as well as violation of the rules relating to religious instruction.

NOTE.—The numbers set down do not represent all the cases of actual violation of the rules of the Board relating to religious instruction reported by the Inspectors, but only such cases as were deemed sufficiently serious to call for action from this office.

By far the larger proportion of cases reported referred to violation of the rules in such a slight degree, and under such circumstances of ignorance of the full meaning of these rules that official action was deemed quite uncalled for, especially as the Inspectors left instructions on the points reported, and subsequently ascertained that their instructions were faithfully complied with.

A comparison of Table II. with Table I. will show that in only a small proportion of cases of direct violation was it found necessary to take admonitory or penal action. In the great majority of cases it was deemed sufficient to call the attention of the Managers to the requirements of the Board's Rules; and subsequent reports of the Inspectors certified as to the faithful observance of these rules on the part of the Managers and the Teachers.

PARAGRAPH 6.—"CHANGES made in the RULES of the BOARD regarding RELIGIOUS INSTRUCTION from the ESTABLISHMENT of the SYSTEM to the PRESENT TIME, giving the dates and particulars of each change, as to (a) the place where, (b) the time when, (c) the person by whom, and (d) the pupils to whom religious instruction should be given."

(a).—THE PLACE WHERE.

1831.—REGULATIONS as first issued per order of Board, dated 13th December, 1831.

"They (the Commissioners of National Education) will require that the schools be kept open for a certain number of hours, on four or on five days of the week, at the discretion of the Commissioners, for moral and literary education only; and that the remaining one or two days in the week be set apart for giving, separately, such religious education to the children as may be approved of by the clergy of their respective persuasions. They will also permit and encourage the clergy to give religious instruction, either before or after the ordinary school-hours on the other days of the week."

1831.—EXPLANATORY PAPER showing the sense in which the Commissioners accepted the terms of the Letter of the Right Honorable E. G. Stanley, Chief Secretary for Ireland, dated October, 1831.

"They also understand that the religious instruction given may or may not be IN THE SCHOOL-ROOM; the choice of the place being left to the pastors of the children; but that liberty is to be secured to them to assemble the children of their respective flocks in the school-room, if they see fit."

1833.—RULES as approved of on the 10th October, 1833.

"One day at least in each week (independently of the Sunday) is to be set apart for the religious instruction of the children, on which day such pastors or other persons as are approved of by the parents or guardians of the children shall have access to them for that purpose, whether those pastors have signed the original application or not.

"The managers of schools are also expected, should the parents of any of the children desire it, to afford convenient opportunity and facility for the same purpose, either before or after the ordinary school business (as the managers may determine) on the other days of the week."

1838.—RULES and REGULATIONS as approved of on the 19th May, 1838.

"Where any course of religious instruction is pursued in a school during school-hours, to which the parents of any of the children attending it object, the managers are to make an arrangement for having it given to those who are to receive it at a stated time or times, and IN A SEPARATE PLACE, so that no children, whose parents or guardians object to their being so, shall be present at it."

1843.—RULES and REGULATIONS approved of 18th May, 1843.

"The patrons of the several schools have the right of appointing such religious instruction as they may think proper to be given therein, provided that each school be open to children of all communions; that due regard be had to parental right and authority; that, accordingly, no child be compelled to receive or be present at any religious instruction to which his parents or guardians object; and that the time for giving it be so fixed that no child shall be thereby, in effect, excluded, directly or indirectly, from the other advantages which the school affords. Subject to this, religious instruction may be given either during the fixed school-hours or otherwise.

"In schools towards the building of which the Commissioners have contributed, and which are therefore vested in trustees for the purposes of National education, such pastors or other persons as shall be approved of by the parents or guardians of the children respectively, shall have access to them IN THE SCHOOL-ROOM, for the purpose of giving them religious instruction there, at convenient times to be appointed for that purpose, whether those pastors or persons shall have signed the original application or otherwise.

"In schools not vested, but which receive aid only by way of salary and books, it is for the patrons to determine whether religious instruction shall be given in the school-room or not, but if they do not allow it in the school-room, the children whose parents or guardians so desire, must be allowed to absent themselves from the school, at reasonable times, for the purpose of receiving such instruction ELSEWHERE."

1848.—RULES and REGULATIONS as approved of on the 20th January, 1848.

"The patrons of the several schools have the right of appointing such religious instruction as they may think proper to be given therein, provided that each school be open to children of all communions; that due regard be had to parental right and authority; that, accordingly, no child be compelled to receive, or to be present at, any religious instruction to which his parents or guardians object; and that the time for giving it be so fixed that no child shall be thereby, in effect, excluded, directly or indirectly, from the other advantages which the school affords. Subject to this, religious instruction may be given either during the fixed school-hours or otherwise."

(b.) THE TIME WHEN.

1831.—FIRST RULES issued 13th December, 1831.

"They (the Commissioners) will require that the schools be kept open for a CERTAIN NUMBER OF HOURS ON FOUR OR ON FIVE DAYS OF THE WEEK, at the discretion of the Commissioners, for moral and literary education only; and that the remaining one or two days in the week be set apart for giving, separately, such religious education to the children as may be approved of by the clergy of their respective persuasions.

"They will also permit and encourage the clergy to give religious instruction either BEFORE OR AFTER THE ORDINARY SCHOOL-HOURS ON THE OTHER DAYS OF THE WEEK."

1831.—EXPLANATORY PAPER of the Commissioners (supra).

"The Board understand that the times for religious instruction are to be determined by the local patrons and conductors of schools; the power vested in the Board on that subject being merely to see that, at least, ONE WEEK DAY IN THE WEEK IS SET APART FOR THAT PURPOSE; they also understand that the religious instruction given may or may not be in the school room; the choice of the place being left to the pastors of the children, but that liberty is to be secured to them to assemble the children of their respective flocks in the school room, if they see fit."

1833.—RULES and REGULATIONS as approved on 10th October, 1833:—

"ONE DAY AT LEAST IN EACH WEEK (independently of the Sunday) is to be set apart for the religious instruction of the children, on which day such pastors or other persons as are approved of by the parents or guardians of the children shall have access to them. . . .

"The managers of the schools are also expected, should the parents of any of the children desire it, to afford convenient opportunity and facility for the same purpose either BEFORE OR AFTER THE ORDINARY SCHOOL BUSINESS (as the managers may determine) ON OTHER DAYS OF THE WEEK."

1836.—RULES and REGULATIONS as approved of on 19th May, 1838.

"One day in each week, or part of a day (independently of Sunday), is to be set apart for the religious instruction of the children, on which day such pastors or other persons as are approved of by the parents or guardians of the children, shall have access to them for that purpose, whether those pastors have signed the original application or not.

"The managers of schools are also expected to afford convenient opportunity and facility for the same purpose on other days of the week. But where any course of religious instruction is pursued in a school during school-hours, to which the parents of any of the children attending it object, the managers are to make an arrangement for having it given to those who are to receive it at a stated time or times, and in a separate place; so that no children, whose parents or guardians object to their being so, shall be present at it."

1843.—RULES and REGULATIONS as approved of on 18th May, 1843.

"The patrons of the several schools have the right of appointing such religious instruction as they may think proper to be given therein, provided that each school be open to children of all communions; that due regard be had to parental right and authority; that, accordingly, no child be compelled to receive, or be present at, any religious instruction to which his parents or guardians object; and that the time for giving it be so fixed, that no child shall be thereby, in effect, excluded, directly or indirectly, from the other advantages which the school affords. Subject to this, religious instruction may be given either during the fixed school-hours or otherwise.

"In schools NOT VESTED, but which receive aid only by way of salary and books, it is for the patrons to determine whether religious instruction shall be given in the school room or not; but if they do not allow it in the school room, the children whose parents or guardians so desire, must be allowed to absent themselves from the school, at reasonable times, for the purpose of receiving such instruction ELSEWHERE."

1850.—RULES and REGULATIONS as approved on 7th March, 1850.

"XII.—71. Explanation of Rule as to Religious Instruction.—We have recently issued an important order on the subject of religious instruction, to which we beg to draw your Excellency's attention. In our Report for 1847 we stated, that our Secretaries having informed us that they had been frequently consulted, both personally and by letter, as to the true meaning of the following portion of section 2, paragraph 3, of the Rules of the Board with reference to religious instruction: 'That due regard be had to parental right and authority; that, accordingly, no child be compelled to receive or be present at any religious instruction to which his parents or guardians object;' and that they deemed it desirable that we should supply them with an authoritative answer to such questions, we directed them, by a minute bearing date 18th November, 1847, to give the following explanation in reply to all such inquiries in future :—

"'First—That the true interpretation of the words in question clearly is, that no child be compelled to receive or to be present at any religious instruction to which his parents or guardians object; and that this rule (in conjunction with the notification in the school-room of the arrangement for giving religious instruction, as required by Rule 9, section 2) has hitherto been found amply sufficient for the full enforcement of parental authority.

"'Secondly—That though all that is required by this rule (section 2, paragraph 3) is, that the patron should engage not to compel any child to be present at such religious instruction; yet, should the patron use any means, either directly or indirectly, to induce any child to attend such religious instruction, contrary to the desire of his parents or guardians, the Commissioners would consider such conduct inconsistent with the whole spirit of their system.'

"It was with a view to guard against the possibility of such a case arising that the Commissioners gave the following important explanation of their sentiments in their Eleventh Report, for the year 1844, dated the 24th day of April, 1845 :—

"'It would be found impossible to lay down in detail any set of rules so accommodated to all the varying circumstances of every locality, and so guarded against all possible mistakes and misrepresentations, as to be secure from being violated in spirit without any tangible infringement of the letter of them. For example, under our present rules the patron of a National school may give religious instruction during even the fixed school-hours. A patron, Protestant or Roman Catholic, might possibly, availing himself of the letter of this rule, make so unjust a use of this privilege as to drive from the school all children of a persuasion different from his own, or induce them, if they remained, to share in the religious instruction to which they and their parents were conscientiously opposed. In such a case we should immediately interpose, and cause the patron to abandon a course so inconsistent with the whole spirit of our system; or, in case of his refusal, we should strike the school off our roll.'

"72. New Order respecting Religious Instruction.—The order which we have deemed it right to make is as follows :—'That the following arrangement be adopted for carrying out more effectually the rule as to the notification of the time for giving religious instructions, as set forth in the 9th paragraph of section 2 of the Rules and Regulations of the Commissioners :—

"'First—That the public notification of the time for religious instruction shall be inserted in large letters in the "Time Table" supplied by the Commissioners to all National schools; and the Commissioners strongly recommend that, as far as may be practicable, the general nature of such religious instruction shall be also stated on the "Time Table."

"'Secondly—That the "Time Table" shall be kept constantly hung up in a conspicuous place in the school-room.

"'Thirdly—That, in order "that no child be compelled to receive or to be present at any religious instruction to which his parents or guardians object," the teacher shall, immediately before the commencement of religious instruction, announce distinctly to the pupils that the hour for religious instruction has arrived, and shall, at the same time, put and keep up, during the period allotted to such religious instruction, and within the view of all the pupils, a notification thereof, containing the words "Religious Instruction," printed in large characters, on a form to be also supplied by the Commissioners.

"'Fourthly—That, when the secular instruction shall precede the religious instruction in any National school, there shall be a sufficient interval between the announcement and the commencement of the religious instruction; and, whether the religious or the secular instruction shall have priority in any National school, the books used for the instruction first in order shall be carefully laid aside at its termination, in the press or other place appropriated for keeping the school-books.'

"73. Reasons for adopting a new arrangement for carrying out more effectually the Rule as to the notification of the time for Religious Instruction.—Although, so far as we are aware, no case has ever yet occurred in which proselytism has taken place, either on the Roman Catholic or Protestant side, in any National school, yet fears have been entertained that such attempts might be made during the time set apart for religious instruction. The arrangement we have now adopted will, we trust, go far to remove such fears, and cannot be objected to by anyone who places his school under us with the honest purpose of acting upon our leading principle. In founding our system, Lord Stanley announced, 'that even the suspicion of proselytism should be banished from it'—'that security would be afforded by it'—'that the most scrupulous care should be taken not to interfere with the peculiar tenets of any description of Christian pupils.'

His language in this respect is in exact accordance with that employed in the Fourteenth Report of the 'Commissioners for inquiry into the state of all schools on public or charitable foundations in Ireland.' In that Report, published in 1812, and signed by the Archbishops of Armagh and Cashel, by the Bishop of Killala, and by Provost Elrington, the Commissioners declare their hope that the scheme of National education proposed by them will be cordially accepted by the people of Ireland. And they add these memorable words: 'That such will be its acceptance we shall indulge the more confident expectation, if all interference with the particular religious tenets of those who are to receive that instruction shall, in the first instance, be unequivocally disclaimed and effectually guarded against. We conceive this to be of essential importance in any new establishments for the education of the lower classes in Ireland; and we venture to express our unanimous opinion that no such plan, however wisely and unexceptionably contrived in other respects, can be carried into effectual execution in this country, unless it be explicitly avowed and clearly understood, as its leading principle, that no attempt shall be made to influence or disturb the peculiar religious tenets of any sect or description of Christians.' No person who does not from his heart adopt the sentiments here expressed by the Commissioners, and which are embodied in Lord Stanley's letter, can conscientiously avail himself of our grants; and no one who does adopt those sentiments can object to the order which we have issued on this occasion."

Rules and Regulations as approved of on 18th May, 1855.

"Religious instruction, prayer, or other religious exercises, may take place, at any time before and after the ordinary school business (during which all children, of whatever denomination they may be, are required to attend); but must not take place more than once at an intermediate time between the commencement and the close of the ordinary school business. The Commissioners however will not sanction any arrangement for religious instruction, prayer, or other religious exercises, at an intermediate time, in cases where it shall appear to them that such arrangement will interfere with the usefulness of the school, by preventing children of any religious denomination from availing themselves of its advantages, or by subjecting those in attendance to any practical inconvenience.

"The secular school business must not be interrupted or suspended by any spiritual exercise whatsoever.

"Note.—The Commissioners earnestly recommend that religious instruction shall take place either immediately before the commencement, or immediately after the close, of the ordinary school business; and they further recommend that, whenever the patron or manager thinks fit to have religious instruction at an intermediate time, a separate apartment shall (when practicable) be provided for the reception of those children whose parents or guardians may disapprove of their being present thereat.

"The term 'School-hours' is always to be understood to mean the entire time in each day from the opening of the school to the closing of the same for the dismissal of the pupils."

Rules and Regulations as approved on 22nd July, 1864.

"8. In schools towards the building of which the state has contributed, and which are vested in trustees for the purposes of National education, or which are vested in the Commissioners in their corporate capacity, such pastors or other persons as shall be approved of by the parents or guardians of the children respectively, shall have access to them in the school-room, for the purpose of giving them religious instruction there, at times convenient for that purpose, that is, at times so appointed as not to interfere unduly with the other arrangements of the school."

(c.)—The Persons by Whom.

1831.—First Rules issued 13th December, 1831.

"One or two days in the week to be set apart for giving, separately, such religious education to the children as may be approved of by the clergy of their respective persuasions. They will also permit and encourage the clergy to give religious instruction either before or after the ordinary school-hours on the other days of the week."

1831.—Explanatory Paper of the Commissioners (supra).

"V. By encouraging the pastors of different denominations to give religious instruction to the children of their respective flocks, out of school-hours, the Board understand, merely affording to such pastors facility of access to the pupils at the time specified, and not employing or remunerating them. And they understand that the parents and guardians of the children are to determine to what denomination they respectively belong—the Board taking no cognizance of the matter."

1843.—Rules and Regulations as approved of 18th May, 1843.

"2. Opportunities are to be afforded to the children of each school for receiving such religious instruction as their parents or guardians approve of.

"3. The patrons of the several schools have the right of appointing such religious instruction as they may think proper to be given therein, provided that each school be open to children of all communions; that due regard be had to parental right and authority; that, accordingly, no child be compelled to receive, or be present at, any religious instruction to which his parents or guardians object; and that the time for giving it be so fixed that no child shall be thereby, in effect, excluded, directly or indirectly, from the other advantages which the school affords. Subject to this, religious instruction may be given either during the fixed school-hours or otherwise."

1855.—Rules and Regulations as approved 18th May, 1855.

"In such schools (non-vested) the Commissioners do not insist that opportunities shall be afforded (as in the case of vested schools) for religious instruction being given in the school-room by such pastors or other persons as shall be approved of by the parents or guardians of the children.

"The patrons and managers of all National schools have the right to permit the Holy Scriptures (either in the Authorized or Douay Version) to be read, at the time or times set apart for religious instruction; and in all vested schools the parents or guardians of the children have the right to require the patrons and managers to afford opportunities for the reading of the Holy Scriptures, in the school room, under proper persons approved of by the parents or guardians for that purpose."

1866.—Rules and Regulations as approved of on 3rd July, 1866.

"14. The registry kept in each school, according to the form furnished by the Commissioners, must show the religious denomination of each child on the school roll.

"15. No pupil who is registered by its parents or guardians as a Protestant is to be permitted to remain in attendance during the time of religious instruction in case the teacher giving such instruction is a Roman Catholic; and no pupil who is registered by its parents or guardians as a Roman Catholic is to be permitted to remain in attendance during the time of religious instruction in case the teacher giving such instruction is not a Roman Catholic. And further, no pupil is to be permitted to remain in attendance during the time of any religious instruction to which its parents or guardians object.

"Provided, however, that in case any parent or guardian shall express his desire that his child should receive any particular religious instruction, and shall record such desire in a book to be provided in the school, when necessary for that purpose, this prohibition shall not apply to the time during which such religious instruction only is given.* The entry in the book shall be signed with the name or mark of the parent or guardian, and the book shall be submitted to the Inspector so often as he visits the school.

MINUTE OF BOARD, dated 26th February, 1867, explanatory of the new Rule as to attendance of pupils of National schools at Religious Instruction, Part i., § iv., rule 15.

"The object of the rule is more fully to carry out the general principle of the Board, that no child is to receive any religious instruction contrary to the wishes of its parent.

"Accordingly, the rule first provides for the case where the teacher is a Protestant and the child a Roman Catholic, or vice versa. In this case the dissent of the parent is implied, and no religious instruction can be given to a child by a teacher of the different creed unless the parent expressly requests it.

"But where the teacher and the child are both Protestants, whether of the same or of a different denomination, the dissent of the parent will not be implied. In this case religious instruction may be given to the child unless the parent expressly forbids it.

"In each case, however, the assent or dissent, whether implied or expressed, may be modified by an entry duly signed by the parent in the Certificate Book of Religious Instruction.

"Cases may occur in which the conduct of the teacher, although not coming within the strict letter of the new rule, is obviously contrary to the general spirit of the National system—as, for instance, if instruction should be given in the catechism or creed of a different persuasion from that of the child."

* For form of certificate see page 276.

† Such expression of desire may at any time be revoked by the parent or guardian, and shall thereupon become inoperative.

A.—In respect to the Rights of Parents.

I. Parental Right to determine and control the Religious Instruction of the Children.

1. Lord Derby in his letter gives to the clergy the control of the religious instruction of the pupils. He says :—"The remaining one or two days in the week shall be set apart for giving separately such religious instruction to the children as may be approved of by the clergy of their respective persuasions."

2. In the original lease of the Board to trustees, the following clause occurs :—"And that the remaining one or two days in the week, as the case may be, shall be kept apart for giving separately such religious instruction to the children, male and female, of all persuasions as may be approved of by the clergy of their respective persuasions, such clergy, however, to be permitted and encouraged to give religious instruction, either before or after the ordinary school-hours on the other days of the week."

3. In the document having reference to an explanation of the conditions laid down in Lord Derby's letter, the Commissioners, with the approbation and sanction of the Government, say :—"They also understand that the religious instruction given may or may not be in the school-room, the choice of the place being left to the pastors of the children, but that liberty is to be secured to them to assemble the children of their respective flocks in the school-room if they see fit.

"By encouraging the pastors of different denominations to give religious instruction to the children of their respective flocks out of school-hours, the Board understand merely affording to such pastors facility of access to the pupils at the times specified, and not employing or remunerating them; and they understand that the parents and guardians of the children are to determine to what denomination they respectively belong, the Board taking no cognizance of the matter.

"The Board add, that they do not regard these observations as altering or modifying, in any degree, the original instructions communicated to them in the Chief Secretary's letter of October, 1831; they offer them as containing views which they have always entertained of their instructions, and upon which they have uniformly acted since the commencement of their labours."

4. The second* of the four propositions of the General Assembly, July, 1833, approved of by the Board, August, 1833, takes the control of the religious education of the pupils from the clergy and assigns it to the parents.

The second proposition is as follows :—"That it shall be the right of all parents to require of patrons and managers of schools to set apart for reading the Holy Scriptures, a convenient and sufficient portion of the stated school-hours, and to direct the master, or some other whom the parents may appoint and provide, to superintend the reading."

In their first report the Commissioners set forth in a letter what they assert were their previous views on the substance of these propositions. The letter was addressed to the Manager of the Temple Meeting-house School, and bore date the 22nd of July, 1833. (See extract therefrom in next section.)

II. Attendance of Children at Religious Instruction.

1. Lord Derby in his letter laid it down that the system was to be a combined literary and separate religious education.

2. In the Temple Meeting-house case the Commissioners lay down their views, as follows, as to the attendance of pupils at religious instruction :—The Commissioners having considered your letter desire me to state that the regulations of the Temple Meeting-house school appear to them to agree in principle with those by which they are governed. The rule that the hour from two till three of each day, except Saturday, should be employed in reading and instruction in the Holy Scriptures is quite compatible with the regula-

* Note.—The remaining propositions are as follows :—

Firstly,—That the ministers and people of this Church, without the necessary concurrence of the ministers or members of any other Church, shall enjoy the right of applying to the Board of Education for aid to schools by a statement of the constitution and regulations of the schools, accompanied with an engagement to adhere to them; but in this proposition recognising the right of the Board to consider the regulations and to decide accordingly.

Thirdly,—That all children whose parents or guardians shall so direct, shall daily read the Holy Scriptures during the period appointed, but that no compulsion whatever be employed to induce others to read or remain during the reading.

Fourthly,—That every use of school-rooms be vested in the local patrons or committees subject, in case of abuse, to the cognizance of the Board.

tions of the Commissioners, provided that such children only as are directed by their parents to attend be then allowed to continue in the school, and that all others do then retire; and with respect to the exercises on Saturday, it also is compatible with their rules, provided that those children only shall attend upon that day whose parents direct that they shall join in reading or receiving instruction in the Holy Scriptures, so that an opportunity be thus afforded for all others to receive such religious instruction, at that time, as their parents or guardians shall provide for them. As you mention that you occasionally visit the school to mark the progress and administer such instruction as the circumstances and capacity of the children may require, the Commissioners desire me to observe that it is of the essence of their rules that religious instruction should be given only at the time specifically appointed for that purpose; and that children whose parents do not direct them to be present at it should previously retire.

Explanatory Paper addressed by Lord Stanley to a Deputation from the Synod of Ulster.

His Majesty's Government fully recognises the right of all who choose it, to read the Sacred Scriptures; but the exercise of this right in the case of infants must be subject to the control of their parents and natural guardians; and in point of time, in the National as in all other schools, it must be limited by the appropriation of certain hours to certain other branches of study. The proposition that any child at any hour, and in the midst of any other allotted employment, should be permitted to read the Bible, is a proposal so perfectly novel and unheard of, and so totally impossible as it appears to me to be reduced into practice, that I should not have noticed it, but that such appears to be the express sense of the words of the proposition No. 2, and seemed to be sanctioned by some, at least, of the Deputation of the Synod. The National schools are not so much the schools of the Government as of local patrons and managers, who submit voluntarily to certain regulations in order to entitle them to receive aid from the Government; they are therefore at liberty to lay down their intended course of study; they are free to appoint certain hours during which certain studies are to be carried on, in some of which Roman Catholics and Protestants may, in others of which they cannot object to join.

There appears to have been a considerable ambiguity in the use of the expression "school hours," which has given rise probably to misconceptions, the phrase might, and perhaps in strictness ought to, apply to all hours in which instruction is given to the children. In this sense the portion of time set aside for religious instruction may be called school hours; these hours are (as I have already observed, and as may be seen by the printed regulations) not exempted from the control of the Commissioners; and the Scriptures, as well as the authorized Catechism, &c., of any Church, are expressly permitted to be used at these times. But the expression "ordinary school hours," has been generally employed to denote those portions of time which are devoted to the combined instruction of children of various persuasions, and at which all the children belonging to the school are expected and required to attend. Those hours be they more or be they fewer, will be allotted to other studies; and in them, of course neither the Bible nor any other book could be employed to which the parents or guardians of any of the children could object on the ground of religious scruples. To introduce the reading or hearing of any such book during the ordinary school hours, namely, those during which the children of all denominations are expected to attend, would be a palpable violation of religious liberty of conscience. But there is not (nor ever was) any objection to the reading of the Scriptures, or the giving of any other religious instruction on days and hours to be specified by the local patrons to those children, whose parents choose that they should attend. Those days and hours, however, must be specified in order to remove from the mind of the Roman Catholic parent the possibility of a suspicion that his children may be influenced to join in studies of which he does not approve. Nor is there any objection to the application of the term "school hours" to these portions of time, provided they are distinguished from the hours of universal and necessary attendance.

3. In their first report for 1834 the Commissioners lay down the following rules:—"One day in each week (independently of Sunday) is to be set apart for religious instruction of the children, on which day such pastors or other persons as are approved of by the parents or guardians of the children shall have access to them for that purpose whether those pastors have signed the original application or not. The managers of schools are also expected, should the parents of any of the children desire it, to afford convenient opportunity and facility for the same purpose, either before or after the ordinary school business (as the managers may determine), on the other days of the week. Any arrangement of this description that may be made is to be publicly notified in the schools, in order that those children, and those only, may be present at the religious instruction whose parents or guardians approve of their being so."

4. In the Query sheets which applicants for the had to answer up to 1839, the following question occurred:—"Will you take care that no children be present at any religious instruction or exercise except those whose parents consent to their being present?" And in their report for that year the Commissioners make the following statement regarding the principle of the National system:—"It guarantees to parents and guardians of all communions, according to the civil rights with which the laws of the land invest them, the power of determining what religious instruction the children over whom they have authority shall receive, and it prohibits all attempts at enforcing any either on Protestant or Roman Catholic children to which their parents or guardians object. This is the great principle of the system."

5. In January, 1840, the Rev. Mr. Stewart, patron of the Correen school, county Antrim, made application for the grant, and in his statement of the conditions on which the school was conducted mentioned "The times for reading the Holy Scriptures and for catechetical instruction are so arranged as not to interfere with or impede the scientific or secular business of the school, and no child whose parents or guardians object is required to be present or take part in these exercises." The Commissioners in their sixth report say: "That the rules of the school for which aid was thus sought were compatible with the principles of the National system."

6. In their ninth report, 1842, the Commissioners thus set forth the rule on this question:—"The patrons of the several schools have the right of appointing such religious instruction as they may think proper to be given therein, provided that each school be open to children of all communions, that due regard be had to parental right and authority; that accordingly no child be compelled to receive or be present at any religious instruction to which his parents or guardians object, and that the time for giving it be so fixed that no child shall be thereby in effect excluded directly or indirectly from the other advantages which the school affords. Subject to this, religious instruction may be given either during the fixed hours or otherwise."

7. In their report for 1847 the Commissioners explain the preceding rule as follows:—"Our secretaries having informed us that they had been frequently consulted, both personally and by letter, as to the true meaning of the following portions of section 2, paragraph 3, of the rules of the Board with reference to religious instruction:"—'That due regard be had to parental right and authority; that accordingly no child be compelled to receive or be present at any religious instruction to which his parents or guardians object;' and that they deemed it desirable that we should supply them with an authoritative answer to such questions, we directed them by a minute bearing date 18th November, 1847, to give the following explanation in reply to all such inquiries in future :—

"First, that the true interpretation of the words in question clearly is, that no child be compelled to receive or be present at any religious instruction to which his parents or guardians object, and that the rule (in conjunction with the notification in the school-room of the arrangement for giving religious instruction as required by rule 9, section 2) has hitherto been found amply sufficient for the full enforcement of parental authority.

"Secondly, that though all that is required by this rule (section 2, paragraph 3) is that the patron should engage not to compel any child to be present at such religious instruction; yet should the patron use any means, either directly or indirectly, to induce any child to attend such religious instruction, contrary to the desire of its parents or guardians, the Commissioners would consider such conduct inconsistent with the whole spirit of their system.

"That it was with a view to guard against the possibility of such a case arising that the Commissioners gave the following important explanation of their sentiments, in the eleventh report for the year 1844, dated the 24th day of April, 1845.

"It would be found impossible to lay down in detail any set of rules so accommodated to all the varying circumstances of every locality, and so guarded against all possible mistakes and misrepresentations, as to be secure from being violated in spirit, without any tangible infringement of the letter of them. For example, under our present rules, the patron of a National school may give religious instruction during even the fixed school hours, a patron, Protestant or Roman Catholic might, possibly, availing himself of the letter of this rule, make so unjust a use of this privilege as to drive from the school all children of a persuasion different from his own, or induce them, if they remained, to share in the religious instruction to which they and their parents were conscientiously opposed.

"In such a case we should immediately interpose, and cause the patron to abandon a course so inconsistent with the whole spirit of our system, or in case of his refusal, we should strike the school off our roll."

8. In 1855, the following provisions were laid down in the rules :—"If any child of a religious persuasion different from that of the teacher of any National school, attend during the time or times set apart for religious instruction given by such teacher, it shall be his or her duty on the first attendance of every such child during the time for such religious instruction, given by such teacher, in such school, forthwith to notify the same to the parent or guardian of such child on and by a form to be furnished by the Commissioners.

"The teachers are required to keep a record of the names of the children to whose parents they have sent the printed form of notification.

"The registry kept in each school, according to the form furnished by the Commissioners, must show the religious denomination of each child on the school roll."

9. In 1866, the following rule superseding the preceding rule was passed, and obtained the sanction of the Lord Lieutenant :—"No pupil who is registered by its parents or guardians as a Protestant is to be permitted to remain in attendance during the time of religious instruction, in case the teacher giving such instruction is a Roman Catholic; and no pupil who is registered by its parents or guardians as a Roman Catholic is to be permitted to remain in attendance during the time of religious instruction, in case the teacher giving such instruction is not a Roman Catholic; and further, no pupil is to be permitted to remain in attendance during the time of any religious instruction to which its parents or guardians object.

"Provided, however, that in case any parent or guardian shall express his desire that his child should receive any particular religious instruction, and shall record such desire in a book to be provided in the school when necessary for that purpose, this prohibition shall not apply to the time during which such religious instruction only is given. Such expression of desire may at any time be revoked by the parent or guardian, and shall thereupon become inoperative.

"The entry in the school-book shall be signed with the name or mark of the parent or guardian, and the book shall be submitted to the Inspector so often as he visits the school."

The Board, in a minute of 26th February, 1867, gives the following explanation in relation to the preceding rule :—"The object of the rule is more fully to carry out the general principle of the Board, that no child is to receive any religious instruction contrary to the wishes of its parents.

"Accordingly, the rule first provides for the case where the teacher is a Protestant, and the child a Roman Catholic or vice versa. In this case the dissent of the parent is implied, and no religious instruction can be given to a child by a teacher of the different creed, unless the parent expressly requests it.

"But where the teacher and the child are both Protestants, whether of the same or of a different denomination, the dissent of the parent will not be implied. In this case religious instruction may be given to the child unless the parent expressly forbids it.

"In such cases, however, the assent or dissent, whether implied or expressed, may be modified by an entry, duly signed, by the parent in the certificate book of religious instruction.

"Cases may occur in which the conduct of the teacher, although not coming within the strict letter of the new rule, is obviously contrary to the general spirit of the National system; as, for instance, if instruction should be given in the catechism or creed of a different persuasion from that of the child."

III. Attendance of Children when the Element of Secular is combined with that of Religious Instruction.

1. The original draft of Lord Derby's letter provided only for a combined literary and a separate religious instruction.

2. The amended draft of Lord Derby's letter authorizes the introduction of lessons in the books of a moral and religious nature; the following is the passage :—"Although it is not designed to exclude from the list of books for the combined instruction such portions of sacred history, or of religious or moral teaching as may be approved of by the Board, it is to be understood that this is by no means intended to convey a perfect and religious education, or to supersede the necessity of separate religious instruction on the day set apart for that purpose."

3. The use of the Scripture extracts which were prepared by the Board was subject to the following rule :—"The Commissioners do not insist on the Scripture lessons being read in any of the National schools, nor do they allow them to be read during the time of secular or literary instruction in any school attended by children whose parents or guardians object to their being so read. In such cases the Commissioners prohibit the use of them, except at the times of religious instruction, when the persons giving it may use these lessons, or not, as they think proper."

In 1853 the preceding rule was altered, as follows :—"The Commissioners do not insist on the 'Scripture Lessons' or book of 'Sacred Poetry' being read in any of the National schools, nor do they allow them to be read as part of the ordinary school business (during which all children of whatever denomination they may be are required to attend) in any school attended by children whose parents or guardians object to their being read by their children. In such cases the Commissioners prohibit the use of these books except at times set apart for the purpose, either before or after such ordinary school business and under the following conditions :—

"First.—That no child whose parent or guardian objects shall be required, directly or indirectly, to be present at such reading.

"Second.—That, in order that any children whose parents or guardians object may be at liberty to absent themselves, or to withdraw, at the time set apart for the reading of the books above specified, public notification of the time set apart for such reading shall be inserted in large letters in the time-table of the school; that there shall be a sufficient interval between the conclusion of such ordinary school business and the commencement of such reading; and that the teacher shall, immediately before its commencement, announce distinctly to the pupils, that any child whose parent or guardian so desires may then retire.

"Third.—That in every such case there shall be, exclusive of the time set apart for such reading, sufficient time devoted each day to the ordinary school business, in order that those children who do not join in the reading of those books may enjoy ample means of literary instruction in the school-room.

"When using the Scripture lessons the teachers are prohibited, except at the time set apart for religious instruction, from putting to the children any other questions than those appended to the end of each lesson."

4. In 1838 the Board published, as a sequel to the Fourth Book of Lessons, Archbishop Whately's "Introductory Lessons on the Truth of Christianity," and in 1843 the Board sanctioned in their list of books another edition of the same work.

5. In July, 1853, both editions of this work were removed from the list of books published or sanctioned by the Board.

B.—In respect to the Rights of Pastors.

I. Rights of Pastors to determine the Religious Instruction.

See page 308, under heading "Parental right to determine and control the religious instruction of children," in which the changes having reference to Pastors on the same subject are stated.

II. Rights of Pastors to give Religious Instruction in the School-room.

1. The Commissioners in their first report laid down the following rule:—"One day in each week (independently of Sunday) is to be set apart for religious instruction of the children, on which day such pastors, or other persons as are approved of by the parents or guardians of the children, shall have access to them for that purpose, whether those pastors have signed the original application or not."

2. The right of access to the children, on the part of the pastor or other person approved of by the parents, was altered in the case of the Coreen school, in January, 1840, and the alteration was embodied in the rules of 1842, as follows:—"In schools towards the building of which the commissioners have contributed, and which are therefore vested in trustees for the purpose of National education, such pastor or other person, as shall be approved of by the parents or guardians of the children respectively shall have access to them in the school-room for the purpose of giving them religious instruction there at convenient times to be appointed for the purpose, whether those pastors or persons shall have signed the original application or otherwise.

"In schools not vested, but which receive aid only by way of salary and books, it is for the patrons to determine whether religious instruction shall be given in the school-room or not; but if they do not allow it in the school room, the children whose parents or guardians so desire, must be allowed to absent themselves from the school at reasonable times, for the purpose of receiving such instruction elsewhere."

III. Control over Books in use for Religious Instruction.

1. Lord Derby in his letter laid down,—"They will exercise the most entire control over all books to be used in the schools, whether in the combined literary or separate religious instruction; none to be employed in the first, except under the sanction of the Board, nor in the latter, but with the approbation of the members of the Board of the persuasion of those for whom they are intended." This regulation was modified by minute of the Board of 10th April, 1832, as follows:—

"That the following document, signed by the Commissioners, be transmitted through the Duke of Leinster to the Right Honorable E. G. Stanley, for approbation of His Majesty's Government.

"It having been found that an objection involving religious principles has been made, particularly by Presbyterians against vesting any individual with control over books to be used in religious instruction by ministers of that communion, and that difficulties are likely to arise with respect to ministers of other denominations who are not represented on the Board as now constituted:

"Resolved,—"That it be recommended to His Majesty's Government to permit the Board to alter Regulation IV. so as to stand as follows:—They will require to have the right of veto upon all books used in the schools for the combined moral and literary instruction. They will further require that all books used for religious instruction shall be used under the sanction of the minister recognised by the parents of the children for whose instruction they are employed, and that such minister shall obtain the consent either of any one member of the Board to whom he may choose to apply, or of the particular church to which he belongs according to the rules of that church, namely, that an Episcopalian minister, who does not choose to apply to any member of the Board, shall obtain and submit for the inspection of the Board the consent of his own diocesan; a Presbyterian minister, that of his presbytery, and a minister of any other denomination, the consent of whatever person or body the denomination to which he belongs regards as possessing ecclesiastical authority.

"No such sanction is required for the use in religious instruction of the sacred Scriptures, or of the public standards of any church."

The rule as it at present stands is:—"If any books, other than Holy Scriptures, or the standard books of the Church to which the children using them belong, be employed in communicating religious instruction, the title of each is to be made known to the Commissioners whenever they deem it necessary."

IV. Incapacity of Pastors to become Teachers.

1. From the foundation of the system, monks and nuns were recognised as teachers of National schools, and until the year 1839 the salaries paid to them were regulated on the same scale as in the case of other teachers.

2. Since 1839 nuns and monks have been paid by a capitation grant, other teachers being paid by classification salaries.

3. In 1855 the Commissioners passed the following rule, which limits monks' schools to the five then in connexion with the Board:—"No clergyman of any denomination, or (except in the case of convent schools) member of any religious order can be recognised as a teacher of a National school."

4. In 1855 the Commissioners, with a view of restricting the spread of schools under nuns, passed the following rule:—"The Commissioners will grant aid to one school only in connexion with the same convent."

V. Register of Attendance of Pupils at Worship on Sundays.

1. Lord Derby laid down the following regulation in his letter:—"They (the Commissioners) will require that a register shall be kept in the schools, in which shall be entered the attendance or non-attendance of each child on Divine Worship on Sundays." This regulation was afterwards (in 1833) withdrawn with the sanction of Lord Derby.

C.—In respect to the Rights of Patrons.

I. Joint Application of Protestant and Roman Catholic Clergymen for Grants.

1. Lord Derby laid down in his letter :—"The Board will probably look with peculiar favour upon applications proceeding either from—1st, the Protestant and Roman Catholic clergy of the parish ; or 2nd, one of the clergymen and a certain number of parishioners professing the opposite creed ; or 3rd, parishioners of both denominations."

2. This regulation was abolished in 1833, when the four propositions of the General Assembly were accepted by the Board ; the first of these propositions is :—"That the ministers and people of this Church, without the necessary concurrence of the ministers or members of any other Church, shall enjoy the right of applying to the Board of Education for aid to schools by a statement of the constitution and regulation of the schools, accompanied with an engagement to adhere to them ; but in this proposition recognising the right of the Board to consider the regulations, and to decide accordingly."

II. Rule as to Withdrawal of Books published or sanctioned by the Board.

1. Until the year 1855, the Commissioners exercised the right of altering or withdrawing any book published or sanctioned by them ; but in that year they passed the following rule :—"The Commissioners will not withdraw or essentially alter any book that has been or shall be hereafter unanimously published or sanctioned by them, without a previous communication with the Lord Lieutenant."

2. The Government having in 1860 announced, in the House of Commons, its desire that the National school-books should be revised, the Commissioners, in their report for 1861, stated :—"We have appointed a committee to revise the books published by us, with a view of making them more in accordance with the present state of knowledge, and generally more acceptable for the purposes of education."

III. Use of School-room before and after School-hours.

1. The rules in force until 1855 provided :—"The Commissioners require the school-room to be used exclusively for the purpose of education ; and any breach of this rule will be held to be a violation of the National system."

In the year 1855, the preceding rule was amended as follows :—"In non-vested schools, the Commissioners do not, in ordinary cases, exercise control over the use of the school-houses on Sundays or before or after the school hours on the other days of the week ; such use being left altogether to the local patrons or managers of all religious persuasions, subject to the interference of the Board in cases leading to contention or abuse.

"Vested school-houses must be used exclusively for the education of the children attending them ; except on Sundays when they may be employed for Sunday schools, with the sanction of the patrons or managers, subject in cases leading to contention or abuse to the interference of the Commissioners."

2. As regards the right of converting a school-house into a place of public worship, the rule in force until 1855 ran as follows :—"The Commissioners require that the National school-rooms shall not be converted into places of public worship."

In the year 1855 the foregoing rule was amended as follows :—"No National school-house shall be employed, at any time, even temporarily, as the stated place of divine worship of any religious community or for the celebration or administration of the sacraments or rites of any Church."

IV. Time of Religious Instruction.

1. Lord Derby laid down that certain days were to be given up exclusively to moral and literary education, whilst one or two days in the week were to be set apart for religious instruction.

2. This rule was modified as follows in 1837 :—"Having received your Excellency's permission to revise our existing rule as to religious instruction, we have anxiously considered whether we could effect such an alteration in the letter of it, without violating the principle, as might satisfy any of those who have been hitherto conscientiously opposed to us.

"The principle of the system, and which we consider fundamental and unalterable, is that the National school should be open alike to Christians of all denominations ; therefore, that no child shall be required to be present at any religious instruction or exercise of which his parents or guardians may disapprove, and that opportunities shall be afforded to all children to receive separately at particular periods, such religious instruction as their parents or guardians may provide for them. The letter of the rule is, that religious instruction shall be given out of the hours during which all the children attending a school are assembled for common instruction.

"It has been considered by some, that to limit the time for religious instruction in this way, tends to discourage it altogether, and therefore that an opportunity should be afforded for giving it at whatever hour may be deemed most convenient.

"The rule as to time was framed with a view to convenience, and to convenience only, and it never has been considered by us that we should violate principle if we allowed religious instruction to be given during the ordinary school hours, provided that such an arrangement were made as that children whose parents did not approve of it should not be required to attend or be present at it.

"We therefore propose modifying the letter of the rule, so as to allow religious instruction to be given, and of course the Scriptures to be read, or the catechism learned during any of the school hours, provided such an arrangement be made as that no children shall take part in, or listen to any religious reading or instruction to which their parents or guardians object ; with these views we have framed the following regulations.

"1st. The ordinary school business during which all children of whatever denomination they may be are required to attend is to embrace a competent number of hours each day.

"2nd. One day, at least, in each week or part of a day (independently of Sunday) is to be set apart for the religious instruction of the children on which day such pastors or other persons as are approved of by their parents or guardians shall have access to them for that purpose whether those pastors have signed the original application or not.

"3rd. The managers of schools are also expected to afford convenient opportunity and facility for the same purpose on other days of the week, but where any course of religious instruction is pursued in a school during school hours, to which the parents of any of the children attending it object, an arrangement is to be made for giving it separately to those who are to receive it.

"4th. Any arrangement of this description that may be made is to be publicly notified in the schools in order that those children and those only may be present at the religious instruction whose parents and guardians approve of their being so.

"5th. If any other books than the Holy Scriptures or the standard books of the Church to which the children using them belong are employed in communicating religious instruction the title of each is to be made known to the Board.

"6th. The reading of the Scriptures either in the Protestant Authorized or Douay Version is considered as religious instruction."

3. In 1855, the power of having religious instruction at any hour during the school day was modified as follows :—"Religious instruction, prayer, or other religious exercise, may take place at any time before and after the ordinary school business but must not take place more than once at an intermediate time between the commencement and the close of the ordinary school business."

4. The Board; minute 27th June, 1865, in the case of the Wexford Convent of Mercy school authorizes the Manager:—"To take a class into an adjoining room off the school, for religious instruction at the time that secular instruction is going on in the school, and when the latter is not in the least interfered with."

V. Modified Grants to Schools with a View of extending the Opportunities of Religious Instruction.

1. The Government having, in 1860, drawn the attention of the House of Commons to the difficulty of embracing the schools connected with the Established Church, as also schools in some remote localities on account of the paucity of the attendance at such schools, the Commissioners in 1861, in their report for 1860, made the following announcement:—It having been ascertained that there are throughout the country, and that, owing to various causes there must continue to be a considerable number of schools the attendance at which would by our rules, Part III., Section III., par. 3 and 4, exclude them from participation in the public grants; we, last year, determined upon modifying these rules, so as to extend the advantages of our system to such schools, and decided upon making grants in future on the following conditions.

The conditions as set forth in the rule, Part IV., Section IV., paragraph 7 are as follows:—The Commissioners in certain cases are prepared to act on the following modification of the above scale of salaries provided for principal teachers.

Attendance under 15 pupils.—Schools with an average daily attendance under 15 pupils, conducted on the principles, and the system of the Board will not be admitted to the enjoyment of salary, but may be allowed inspection, books, and apparatus, under existing regulations. The teachers will be eligible for training, and their service from their connexion with the Board, will count to their credit in respect to supplemental salaries, retiring allowances, &c., should their schools afterwards become entitled to regular grants of salary, or should they be removed to others so entitled.

Attendance 15, but under 20 pupils.—When the average daily attendance is 15, but under 20, in addition to inspection, books, &c., and training, the Commissioners will make an award of salary to the teacher, to the amount of two-thirds of a probationer's salary.

Attendance 20, but under 25.—When the average daily attendance is 20, but under 25, the full salary of a Probationer, but no more, will be awarded to the teacher.

Attendance 25, but under 30.—When the average daily attendance is 25, but under 30, salary as high as that of first division of third class, but no higher, will be awarded to the teacher, should his qualifications in other respects entitle him to such classification.

Note.—These modified grants, the Commissioners are prepared to make where the means of religious instruction are not attainable by children of a particular denomination, within a reasonable distance of their homes in any existing national school; but they reserve to themselves the power, in all cases, of preventing the unnecessary multiplication of schools in any district, and will require as a condition of this modified aid that the managers of such schools, shall be either clergymen or other persons of good position in society.

Paragraph 8.—Give date when Rule IV., 15, as to the Registry of Religious Denomination of each child (see page 51, Report of 1866) was made in its present form. State number of cases in which the Certificate of Parent or Guardian in this Rule, as to receiving any particular Religious Instruction, has been given.

(a.) Date when Rule was made in its present form,	.	3rd July, 1866
(b.) Number of cases in which the Certificate has been given,	.	1,582

Note.—(b.) In addition to the above number of certificates (1,582), there were 617 given by parents or guardians in cases in which they were not required, viz., 240 which were given in authorization of simple Bible reading by Protestant pupils of one denomination with teachers of another Protestant denomination, and 377 which were given in authorization of Protestant doctrinal instruction to Protestant pupils of one denomination, according to their own creed, by Protestant teachers of another denomination.

The Female teachers will not be required to be prepared on the subjects marked with an * asterisk.

Candidates for promotion must be prepared for examination in any of the subjects prescribed for the class or classes below that to which they desire to be raised.

General Conditions.

The minimum of proficiency required of the teachers of each class is stated in the preceding programme.

All teachers must remain at least one year in a lower division of any class, before they are eligible for promotion to a higher division of the same; and they must remain two years in a lower class before they are eligible for promotion to a higher class.

This regulation does not apply to probationary teachers, nor to teachers who may be promoted on the recommendation of the Professors at the termination of the course of training.

None but teachers trained at the normal school of the Commissioners are eligible for promotion to any division of the first class, and only upon the recommendation of the Professors, or of a Board of Inspectors.

Examinations are to be held, at specified times, by the Inspectors, with a view of promoting meritorious teachers; while those who may have conducted themselves improperly, or in whose schools the attendance has considerably decreased, will be liable to be depressed.

No teacher will be admitted to examination with a view to promotion, on whose school a decidedly unfavourable report has been made by the District Inspector within the previous year.

Teachers will not be eligible for promotion, unless, in addition to satisfactory answering in the course prescribed for the class to which they aspire, it appears from the reports of their respective District Inspectors that their schools are properly organized and well conducted, that adequate exertions have been made by them, and with success, to keep up a sufficient average attendance; that their junior classes are carefully taught, and that a fair proportion of the pupils of the higher classes, besides being proficients in the ordinary branches of reading, spelling, and writing, are possessed of a respectable amount of knowledge in, at least, grammar, geography, and arithmetic. In female schools it will be further requisite that instruction in plain needlework, including sewing, knitting, and cutting out, be given to all girls capable of receiving it, and that they exhibit a due proficiency in this department.

It must also appear from the reports of their Inpectors, that their school accounts have been regularly and correctly kept, that their schools and school premises have been preserved with neatness and order, and that cleanliness in person and habits has been enforced on the children attending them.

None can be appointed as assistant teachers whose qualifications are not equal to those required of probationers.

Satisfactory certificates of character and conduct will be required of all candidates.

By order, James Kelly, W. H. Newell, } Secretaries.

Examination of Teachers.—General Regulations.

I. It is intended that an examination of teachers shall take place every year.

II. That at these annual Examinations there will be required to attend—

1st. All candidates for promotion, if recommended by the Inspector.
2nd. All probationers.
3rd. Teachers who may have been absent from the examination to which they had been previously summoned.
4th. Those whose answering at such previous examination may have been unsatisfactory.
5th. Those whom the District Inspector may think proper for special reasons to summon.

III. As the Commissioners have decided that teachers must remain two years in a lower class before they are eligible for promotion to a higher, the candidates for examination, with a view to promotion, must, each year, be restricted to those who come under this condition. With this restriction, however, it is to be understood that deserving teachers may at the second and all subsequent examinations as well as at the first, be promoted from any division of one class to any division of a higher (except untrained teachers, who cannot be placed in the first class), without requiring them to pass through intermediate divisions.

IV. Teachers who may have absented themselves, without satisfactory reason assigned, from the exami-

* Johnston's Catechism of Agricultural Chemistry, or any other treatise on the same subject which the Commissioners may publish or sanction.

nations of previous years, will be liable to be dismissed should they not present themselves when again summoned.

All teachers also who may be specially summoned, and who shall be absent without a sufficient reason, will be liable to be fined or depressed.

V. The written part of the examination for male teachers, which will occupy two days, will be held by the District Inspector, in Easter week, at such central point in his district as he may think proper to fix upon.

VI. The period for the oral examination of the male teachers, and for the examination of the female teachers, will be afterwards appointed; these examinations to be conducted by a Head Inspector, aided by the Inspector of the District.

VII. It is required that all those who may seek to become candidates for promotion within the limits already laid down, shall intimate to the District Inspector, before the 1st of February, that such is their wish, and he will inform them whether they may present themselves for examination.

Instructions for making Application to the Commissioners of National Education for Salary and School Requisites.

Applicants are requested to observe that for the sake of uniformity, and to facilitate official reference, all applications are to be made in duplicate, and upon the blank forms procured from the office.

The following are the principal heads of information which it is desirable all applications should contain:

1. The name of the school.—2. The situation as to county, barony, parish, and townland.—3. Name of the nearest post town, and in which direction.—4. Description and condition of the house.—5. Number of school-rooms and dimensions of each.—6. Condition, description, and quantity of furniture.—7. Names and ages of teacher or teachers.—8. Average daily attendance of children, males and females.—9. The school hours.—10. Arrangement, and time for religious instruction.—11. The books used (if those of the National Board, which of them).—12. Arrangement for admission of visitors.—13. The management of the school; if under an individual, his name and address; if under a committee, by whom elected.—14. Name and address of correspondent.

All applications must be signed by the parties making them; and it is particularly requested that their religious denomination (distinguishing the clergy from the laity) may be stated.

In supplying the foregoing "heads of information," the Commissioners do not mean to prescribe any form of application from which no deviation is to be made—they propose them merely for the assistance of applicants; and it is to be borne in mind that it is most desirable the rules by which the school is governed should be distinctly set forth, in order that the Commissioners may be enabled to come to a just decision upon the merits of the application.

In consequence of the demands upon the Commissioners' funds for payment of teachers' salaries, the Commissioners have been compelled to limit their grants to salaries and school requisites, except where they may see fit to grant aid for the building of school-houses.

No application for salary to a non-vested school will be favourably entertained unless the school be found—

1st. Well disposed as to site.

2d. To have premises clean and neat.

3d. To have house well and substantially built; the walls plastered inside; the floor even, and free from damp; a suitable fire-place and funnel; the windows sufficient in number, of proper size and structure, and fitted to secure thorough ventilation.

4th. To have the furniture suitable and adequate, including desks and forms for pupils; book-press; black-board; a desk with seat for teacher; rails or lesson posts for supension of reading and other tablets, &c.

5th. To afford satisfactory evidence of the promise of sufficient average attendance, and that without trenching on or interfering with the attendance on other National schools in the neighbourhood already established, and in successful operation.

6th. And its manager prepared to purchase a supply of books, stationery, and other school requisites, for sale to the pupils at reduced prices, and to maintain at all times an adequate supply of requisites for such purpose.

Teachers, to be eligible for admission into the service of the Board, should, if males, have completed their seventeenth year; and, if females, their sixteenth. They should be persons of Christian sentiment, and of unexceptionable moral character, and free from such physical or other defects as would in any way interfere with their usefulness.

Should the application be granted, the salary will be rated according to the scale adopted by the Commissioners for the classification and remuneration of teachers, and of which a copy is subjoined.

The grant of free stock will consist of those articles that are necessary for collective teaching—such as maps, tablets, &c. It will also include the necessary school account books—such as class rolls, school registers, and report books.

The Commissioners being, by the rules laid down for their guidance, prevented from allocating any portion of the parliamentary grant for the repairs of any school-houses except those that are vested in themselves, the aid granted to non-vested schools will not be continued unless the school-houses and furniture be kept in a proper state of repair.

As soon as the application in duplicate, upon the blank sheets herewith sent, shall have been received, the District Inspector shall be directed to report upon all the circumstances of the case, and procure such further information as the Commissioners may require.

Applicants are also to understand that it is the rule of the Commissioners to consider each application in the order of its date, and that if a grant should be made, such grant will take effect from the first of the month nearest to the receipt of the application in the office.

[A] As a general rule, a school to be entitled to be taken into connexion, or to remain in connexion, must exhibit an average daily attendance of at least 30 pupils.

[B] Teachers cannot be admitted to the enjoyment of first class salary, nor allowed to continue in its enjoyment, unless their schools command an average daily attendance of 35 pupils.

[C] Should schools of the ordinary class be retained in connexion after the attendance shall have fallen below 30 pupils, as in certain circumstances they may be retained, their teachers will be paid according to the provisions of the modified scale given below.

[D] Reduction of salary, however, proportioned to the decrease in attendance, will not be made in case of any school until the next quarter subsequent to that in which it first occurs, should the decrease re-appear.

[E] But as regards the schools placed in connexion with the Board before the close of October, 1860, in every case where the attendance shall appear to be diminished by the admission of new schools, the Commissioners will not make any reduction of salary on the first occasion of such diminution taking place, but will defer making such reduction until a period of six months shall have elapsed from the termination of the quarter in which the attendance shall, on such first occasion, fall below the required minimum.

To entitle a school to the services of an assistant, the school, if for boys only, must have an average daily attendance of at least 60, but if for girls only, or if a mixed school, an average of 50 will suffice. While, however, the average daily attendance in such schools, respectively, remains under 65 and 55, no higher salary than that of III² can be awarded.

In mixed schools presided over by a master, the assistant should be a female.

To entitle an assistant to the salary of III¹, the school if for boys only, must have an average daily attendance of at least 65, or if mixed, or for girls only, an average daily attendance of 55.

In schools where the average attendance amounts to 110, salary of classification, up to II¹, will be allowed to the first or senior assistant.

To entitle a girls' school, or a mixed school, presided over by a master, to the services of a workmistress, an average daily attendance of 45 pupils is required, of whom, in the case of mixed schools, 20 at least must be girls: the same rule applies to junior literary assistants in such schools.

Note.—In cases where schools enjoying the services of Assistants (under which term are included Monitors, Workmistresses, and Industrial Instructors), fail to command the average attendance required for the amount of aid awarded for such services, Managers must be prepared for the entire withdrawal or reduction of such aid in the second quarter in which the falling off appears. A like rule will be applied to evening schools.

The Commissioners in certain cases are prepared to act on the following modification of the above scale of salaries provided for principal teachers:

I. Attendance under 15 Pupils—Schools with an average daily attendance under 15 pupils, conducted on the principles and the system of the Board, will not be admitted to the enjoyment of salary, but may be allowed inspection, books, and apparatus, under existing regulations. The teachers will be eligible for training, and their service, from their connexion with the Board, will count to their credit in respect to supplemental salaries, retiring allowances, &c., should their schools afterwards become entitled to regular grants of salary, or should they be removed to others so entitled.

II. Attendance 15 but under 20 Pupils—When the average daily attendance is 15, but under 20, in addition to inspection, books, &c., and training, the Commissioners will make an award of salary to the teacher, to the amount of two-thirds of a probationer's salary.

III. Attendance 20 but under 25—When the average daily attendance is 20 but under 25, the full salary of a probationer, but no more, will be awarded to the teacher.

IV. Attendance 25 but under 30—When the average daily attendance is 25 but under 30, salary as high as that of first division of third class, but no higher, will be awarded to the teacher, should his qualifications in other respects entitle him to such classification.

Note.—These modified grants the Commissioners are prepared to make where the means of religious instruction are not attainable by children of a particular denomination within a reasonable distance of their homes, in any existing National school; and they reserve to themselves the power, in all cases, of preventing the unnecessary multiplication of schools in any district, and will require as a condition of this modified aid that the Managers of such schools shall be either clergymen or other persons of good position in society.

Additional salaries—generally £5 per annum—are granted to teachers who conduct evening schools. The average attendance to be at least 25.

PARAGRAPH 3.—SUCCESSIVE CHANGES MADE, with DATES, in PROGRAMME, in the EXAMINATION, in the GRADES of CLASSIFICATION, and in the respective SALARIES up to the 31st of December, 1867, together with the CONDITIONS required as to NUMBER of PUPILS in daily average attendance.

CLASSIFICATION of TEACHERS of NATIONAL SCHOOLS.

CIRCULAR TO INSPECTORS.

Office of Education, 1st July, 1839.

SIR,—The Commissioners having decided that the salaries of efficient and highly qualified teachers shall be raised, you are directed to divide those of your district into four classes, of which the first, second, and third only will be entitled to an augmentation, the fourth to constitute a probationary class.

As a guide to you in the classification, we enclose tabular forms, which you are to fill up and return to this office at stated intervals. To render the classification distinct and correct, you are required, in addition to the usual inspection of your schools within the present quarter, to hold examinations of the teachers to the number of about twelve or fifteen, in such parts of your district as you may deem most eligible. Saturday is considered the most convenient day for that purpose, and it is expected that you will not examine a less number than twelve at the same time, unless the circumstances of your district render such an arrangement impracticable.

It is desirable that the patrons should be invited to attend those examinations. That they may be conducted, as nearly as possible, on a uniform system, you will please attend to the following directions:—In reference to the number on the register, and the average number in attendance for the year ending the 31st of last March, it is expected that you will be scrupulously accurate. Under the head general knowledge in "National school lesson books," you are requested to ask a series of questions on each of the subjects of which they treat, and you are to mark the teachers' mode of answering by the general terms, "excellent, good, middling, bad." The same observations applies to the heads "Method of teaching," "State of half-yearly rolls," &c., "State of schools as to order," &c. The amount of the teacher's knowledge in the various branches specified in the tabular form will be indicated by numbers. Thus, supposing ten questions asked in each branch, the teacher's answering the total number will be entitled to rank in the first class, eight questions in the second, and six in the third.

To entitle a teacher to be in the first class, in addition to literary qualifications of the highest order, he should possess a thorough knowledge of the principles and practice of teaching, and be distinguished by his attention to the discipline of his school, and the cleanliness of his pupils.

The teachers comprising the second class should have a correct knowledge of English grammar, be conversant with the subjects contained in the National school books, and acquainted with the improved method of teaching. Those of the third class should not be below mediocrity.

It is to be understood that the classification of the teachers recommended by you will be carefully revised, and subject to the approval of the professors, and that it will be liable to such changes as circumstances may render advisable. The returns must be forwarded on the last Saturday of each fortnight, till completed, and the whole must be returned here by the 30th September, as the increased scale of salaries will commence from that date.

We remain, sir, your very obedient servants,

HAMILTON DOWDALL,
MAURICE CROSS, } Joint Secs.

The tabular form referred to had the following headings as subjects for examination of teachers:—Reading, spelling, writing, English grammar, geography, book-keeping, knowledge in National school books, principles and practice of teaching, arithmetic, algebra, geometry, practical mechanics, &c., agricultural chemistry, general knowledge and fitness for the office; is there any moral or physical objection, state of half-yearly rolls, registry and class list, state of school as to order and cleanliness.

ARRANGEMENTS FOR THE CLASSIFICATION OF TEACHERS OF NATIONAL SCHOOLS FROM APRIL 1, 1848.

All newly-appointed teachers, who have not previously conducted National schools, are considered as probationers, and must remain as such for at least one year, at the expiration of which time they will be eligible for classification, and may be promoted, even before being trained, to any class except the first: if placed in a higher class they will receive the full amount of salary to which they may be entitled, from the commencement of the second year of their service under the Board.

All teachers must remain at least one year in a lower division of any class before they are eligible for promotion to a higher division; and they must remain two years in a lower class before they are eligible for promotion to a higher class.

This regulation does not apply to probationary teachers, nor to teachers who may be promoted on the recommendation of the professors on the termination of the course of training.

None but teachers trained in the normal school of the Commissioners are eligible for promotion to any division of the first class, and only on the recommendation of the professors, at the termination of the course of training, or of a Board of Inspectors.

Examinations are to be held at specified times, by the Inspectors, with the view of promoting meritorious teachers; while those who may have conducted themselves improperly, or in whose schools the attendance has considerably decreased, will be liable to be depressed.

The Commissioners have determined upon a course of study for each class, in which teachers are to be examined as a test of their fitness for promotion; but their general conduct, the condition of their respective schools, their method of conducting them, and the daily average attendance of pupils, will also be taken into consideration.

Every National teacher will be furnished with a copy of the programme of the course of study above referred to.

The female teachers will not be required to be prepared on the subjects marked with an * asterisk.

Candidates for promotion must be prepared for examination in any of the subjects prescribed for the class or classes below that to which they desire to be raised.

General Conditions.

The minimum of proficiency required of the teachers of each class is stated in the preceding programme.

All newly appointed teachers, who have not previously conducted National schools, are considered as probationers, and must remain as such for at least one year, at the expiration of which time they will be eligible for classification, and may be promoted, even before being trained to any class except the first. If promoted, they will receive the full amount of salary to which they may become entitled from the commencement of the second year of their service under the Board.

All teachers must remain at least one year in a lower division of any class before they are eligible for promotion to a higher division of the same.

This regulation does not apply to probationary teachers, nor to teachers who may be promoted on the recommendation of the Professor sat the termination of the course of training.

None but teachers trained at the normal school of the Commissioners are eligible for promotion to any division of the first class, and only upon the recommendation of the Professors, or of a Board of Inspectors.

Examinations are to be held at specified times by the Inspectors, with the view of promoting meritorious teachers, while those who may have conducted themselves improperly, or in whose schools the attendance has considerably decreased, will be liable to be depressed.

No teacher will be admitted for examination, with a view to promotion, on whose school a decidedly unfavourable report has been made by the District Inspector within the previous year.

Teachers will not be eligible for promotion unless, in addition to satisfactory answering in the course prescribed for the class to which they aspire, it appears from the reports of their respective District Inspectors that their schools are properly organized and well conducted, that adequate exertions have been made by them to keep up a sufficient average attendance; that their junior classes are carefully taught, and that a fair proportion of the pupils of the higher classes, besides being proficients in the ordinary branches of reading, spelling, and writing, are possessed of a respectable amount of knowledge in at least grammar, geography, and arithmetic. In female schools it will be further requisite that instruction in plain needlework, including sewing, knitting, and cutting out, be given to all girls capable of receiving it, and that they exhibit a due proficiency in this department.

It must also appear from the reports of their Inspectors that their school accounts have been regularly and correctly kept; that their schools and school premises have been preserved with neatness and order, and that cleanliness in person and habits has been enforced on the children attending them.

None can be appointed as assistant teachers whose qualifications are not equal to those required of probationers.

Satisfactory certificates of character and conduct will be required of all candidates.

In the year 1850 the following general regulation was made:—

Trained teachers not required to be examined for a period of three years after they leave the training school; but should they desire it, and if the District Inspectors recommend it, they may present themselves for re-examination, with the view of obtaining a higher class at any examination held in the year after they leave the training school; but should such a teacher become negligent or inefficient, he should be liable to be fined, depressed, or dismissed.

In the year 1851 the following amended and additional conditions were made:—

All teachers appointed after the 1st of April, 1851, who have not been previously classed by the professors, or by a Board of Inspectors, shall be paid as probationers, until they be examined at the first general or special examination held in the district subsequently to their appointment. Those who then obtain classification will be paid from the commencement of their service under the Board, according to the rate of salary attached to their class.

This rule will not extend to any teachers who, when summoned, shall fail, from any cause whatever, to present themselves for examination.

All teachers who have been unsuccessful at their first examination, and who may be retained on trial, shall receive the class to which they may be promoted at any subsequent examination, from the commencement of the quarter in which their classification shall be determined.

Teachers who after their first examination have been retained on trial as probationers, if not recommended for promotion by the Head and District Inspectors, at the next ensuing examinations, or by the professors after training, cannot be continued in the service of the Board; but their salaries will be paid for one month subsequent to the date of dismissal.

All newly appointed teachers who, after examination by the Inspectors, may be found wholly unqualified, shall be paid salary up to the close of the month in which the Commissioners refuse to sanction their appointment.

The new edition of Professor M'Gauley's Natural Philosophy placed on programme for examination of teachers, and printed for the year 1852.

The additions to the programme for the year 1852 were—For second class male teacher, Professor M'Gauley's Lectures on Natural Philosophy, vol. I., chapters 1, 2, 3, and 4, and first 54 paragraphs of chapter 5. For first class male teachers—chapter 6 of vol. I. (except the article on photography), chapters 11 and 12, and vol. II., chapters 1, 2, and 3.

The additional general regulations for the year 1852 were:—

I. It is intended that a general examination of the teachers shall take place every fifth year. (The first general examination took place in 1848 for male teachers, and in 1849 for female teachers.)

II. That a special examination shall be held in each of the intervening years.

III. That at these special examinations there will be required to attend—

1st. All candidates for promotion.
2nd. All probationers.
3rd. Teachers who may have been absent from the examinations to which they have been previously summoned.
4th. Those whose answering at such previous examination may have been unsatisfactory.
5th. Those whom the District Inspector may think proper, for special reasons, to summon.

IV. Trained teachers, except at their own request, and with the sanction of the District Inspector, will not be required to attend any examination that may be held during the three years subsequent to the date of their classification by the Professors at the expiration of the course of training.

V. National teachers forty-five years of age and upwards, who have served under the Board for a period of not less than fifteen years, or teachers who have attained fifty years of age, and served not less than ten years, will not be required to attend any examination, provided they have been already examined and classed by the Professors, or a Board of Inspectors.

VIII. The written part of the examination of the male teachers, which will occupy one whole day, will be held by the District Inspector, in Easter week, at such central point in his district as he may think proper to fix upon.

IX. The period for the oral examination of the male teachers, and for the examination of the female teachers, will be afterwards appointed; these examinations to be conducted by a Head Inspector, aided by the Inspector of the district.

X. It is required that all those who may seek to become candidates for promotion within the limits already laid down, shall intimate to the District Inspector, before the 15th of March, that such is their wish, and he will inform them whether they may present themselves for examination.

For the year 1853 :—

The pupil-teachers of district model schools, on taking charge of National schools after the completion of their course of training, shall rank as third class teachers, (provided they be deemed qualified for that class by the Head Inspector), until they shall have been classed at the first general or special examination held after their appointment in the district in which their school is situated, from which date they will be paid.

Satisfactory certificates of conduct and character will be required of all candidates.

In the year 1858 the Commissioners decided that the practice of holding general or quinquennial examinations, the attendance at which of all teachers in their service, should be discontinued, and in place thereof the Commissioners direct that the examinations heretofore called "special" be held this year and henceforth. All probationers and teachers whom the District Inspectors may think proper for special reasons to summon shall attend; also candidates for promotion on whose schools favourable reports may have been made within the previous year, and to whom the District Inspectors are prepared to grant the favour of offering for further examination.

Teachers, candidates for promotion, must be known for one year previously by the Inspector at the time in the district, or by his predecessor.

Candidates for promotion not to be recalled to oral examination unless they answer fifty per cent. at least, at written examination.

In the year 1859 the Inspectors were directed to furnish, before the end of the first week in February in each year, for—

Male Teachers.

Certificate for Teachers, already classified, who are selected by District Inspector to attend at the written coming examination of Candidates for promotion.

I certify that the teachers whose names are annexed have their schools properly organized and well conducted;

That adequate exertions have been made by them, and with success, to keep up a sufficient average attendance;

That their classes are taught according to the programme of instruction for male schools, and that while the junior pupils are carefully instructed, a fair proportion of those of the higher classes, besides being proficient in the ordinary branches of reading, spelling, writing, and arithmetic, are possessed of a respectable amount of knowledge in grammar and geography, and able to write from dictation ordinary sentences with readiness and correctness;

That their school accounts have been regularly and correctly kept;

That their schools and school premises have been preserved with neatness and order;

That cleanliness in person and habits has been enforced on the children attending them;

That an adequate supply of sale stock of lesson books, and other necessary school requisites, has been regularly kept;

And further, finally, that judged by the total results practically realized in their schools in the instruction and discipline of their pupils, they are entirely worthy of the higher class to which they now aspire.

I therefore recommend that they be admitted to this year's written examination as candidates for further promotion.

————, District Inspector.

In the certificate for female teachers "programme of instruction for female schools" is inserted, and

That instruction in plain needlework, including sewing, knitting, and cutting out, is given to all girls capable of receiving it, and that they exhibit a due proficiency in this department.

In the year 1866 the Commissioners expunged from their rules and regulations the following paragraph :—None but teachers trained in the normal school of the Commissioners are eligible for promotion to any division of the first class, and only on the recommendation of the Professors at the termination of the course of training, or of a Board of Inspectors.

EXAMINATION OF TEACHERS.—GENERAL REGULATIONS.

I. It is intended that an examination of teachers shall take place every year.

II. That at these annual examinations there will be required to attend :—

1st—All candidates for promotion, if recommended by the Inspector.
2nd—All probationers.
3rd—Teachers who have been absent from the examination to which they have been previously summoned.
4th—Those whose answering at such previous examination may have been unsatisfactory.
5th—Those whom the District Inspector may think proper, for special reasons, to summon.

III. As the Commissioners have decided that teachers must remain two years in a lower class before they are eligible for promotion to a higher, the candidates for examination, with a view to promotion, must each year be restricted to those who come under this condition. With this restriction, however, it is to be understood that deserving teachers may at the second and all subsequent examinations, as well as at the first, be promoted from any division of one to any division of a higher, without requiring them to pass through intermediate divisions.

IV. Teachers who may have absented themselves, without satisfactory reason assigned, from the examinations of previous years, will be liable to be dismissed, should they not present themselves when again summoned.

All teachers who may be specially summoned, and who shall be absent without a sufficient reason, will be liable to be fined or depressed.

V. The written part of the examination for male teachers, which will occupy two days, will be held by the District Inspector, in Easter week, at such central point in his district as he may think proper to fix upon.

VI. The period for the oral examination of the male teachers, and for the examination of the female teachers, will be afterwards appointed ; these examinations to be conducted by a Head Inspector, aided by the Inspector of the district.

VII. It is required that all those who may seek to become candidates for promotion within the limits already laid down shall intimate to the District Inspector, before the 1st of February, that such is their wish, and he will inform them whether they may present themselves for examination.

In the year 1855 the Commissioners issued further instructions for the guidance of their Inspectors, supplying them with a specimen docket to be used for the written examination of teachers.

SIR,—Herewith is sent for your guidance a copy of a portion of the docket to be used in the examination of the teachers, with a specimen of the registration of the written examination of a male teacher, and also of the state of his school. In the former you will enter the numbers of the several questions, the answers to which deserve the mark "Quite satisfactory," &c. ; in the latter you will designate the state of the school under each head by one of the following words :—

Excellent,	Poor,
Good,	Bad,
Fair,	Very bad.

The exercise on dictation is to be included with the rest of the papers in estimating the teacher's spelling.

In the year 1858 the Commissioners decided on assigning numerical values to the answering in each subject of their programme for examination.

A copy of the following circular was issued to the Head, District, and Sub-Inspectors.

Office of National Education,
31st March, 1858.

Sir,—The Head Inspectors having recommended that a uniform and accurate system of marking the oral and written examinations should be adopted, and having submitted for the consideration of the Board a plan to effect this object, the Commissioners direct us to intimate to you that they have approved of the plan which has been laid before them, and they also direct us to acquaint you with its principles and details for your future guidance.

The merit of a teacher who is a candidate for promotion has heretofore, it is feared, been too generally measured by the proportion of answers to mistakes made during the course of examination; and thus perhaps it has been sometimes overlooked that certain subjects are of much greater importance than others, as being not only of more difficult acquisition, but as ranking higher in the scholastic curriculum, and which should, therefore, carry with them marks that would indicate their relative value and practical use. For instance, three answers on the principles of spelling would count equally in a general total with the same number of answers in geometry or lesson books, although in a scholastic sense, and viewed in relation to a teacher's qualifications as an instructor, the latter should in respect to the former be very differently rated. This is remedied by attaching such a value to each subject as will exhibit its relative importance to each other subject; and in annexed tables are given the values which have been determined upon.

To carry out this plan is a very simple procedure. The value of an answer is obtained by dividing the whole value attached to the subject by the number of questions asked in the particular subject. Suppose geometry is the subject, the value according to the annexed table is 60. If 6 questions are asked the value of each answer is 10, and of each half answer 5; and if, for example, the number of answers is $3\frac{1}{2}$ the value of the answering in geometry is 35. If 10 questions in the same subject happen to be asked the value of each answer is 6, so that, for instance, if 7 questions out of the 10 are answered the value of the answering in geometry then becomes 42. In a similar way the value of the answering in each other subject may be calculated. No matter how many questions are asked in geometry, for example, or in any other branch, the subject can have its own weight only in the general estimate of the answering. The greater the number of questions the lower the value of each answer, and the fewer the number of questions the higher will, of course, be the value of each answer; but this secures fairness for the teacher, because it makes the value of the answering in each subject practically, although not wholly, unconnected with and independent of the number of questions that may be asked.

The values assigned mean the values that would be given to absolute excellence on the part of a candidate in each subject. In measuring, therefore, the marks in such subjects as writing, composition, parsing, &c., the examiner will have to give a low or a high mark just in proportion as the exercise exhibits defects or merits in real excellence.

For this year, as regards the written examinations, the District Inspectors are to tabulate the dockets in the same style as in former years, except in the case of writing, spelling, and composition, which are to be represented by numerical values on the principles indicated in the preceding paragraphs.

We are, sir, your obedient servants,

Maurice Cross, James Kelly, } Secretaries.

In the year 1866 the Commissioners decided on the following numerical values for the answering in each subject of their programme for examination, written and oral, for the teachers of National schools.

The following instructions were then given to their Inspectors as to the oral examination:—

1. The questions for the oral examinations should invariably be given from written questions carefully prepared for the purpose.

2. Every teacher should get at least five questions on each subject; and, if more than five questions, the number should be a sub-multiple of the numerical value attached to the subject.

3. The value of the answering is thus to be determined:—The maximum, for instance, of arithmetic is eighty. If the number of questions asked is, suppose, eight, the numerical value of each answer is ten. If four and a half questions are answered, the marks obtained in the subject are accordingly forty-five. If only one question is answered, the value of which would be ten, the teacher receives no mark, his answering being under twenty per cent. In such a case a cipher denotes the failure of the teacher.

4. The teacher who, in the written examination, receives a cipher in the essential subjects marked * is ineligible for a recall to the oral; and a teacher, who receives a cipher in the subjects so marked in the oral examination, is ineligible for promotion; and indeed any teacher receiving a cipher in an important subject should not, unless under very peculiar circumstances, obtain promotion.

Some alterations were made in 1867 in the number of marks, and some additions made in the subjects for examination.

The following are the subjects, and the fixed number of marks, as laid down for 1866 and 1867, respectively :—

NOTE.—Of the 496 schools returned "where the teachers pay the rent," that number includes 37 schools of which the rent is merely nominal; and it also includes 27 schools where the teachers only pay part of the rent.

Of the 1,258 schools returned as kept in repair by the teacher, that number is inclusive of 210 schools where the teachers only keep the houses partly in repair.

With regard to the 5,906 schools returned as being supplied with books and requisites at the expense of the teachers, it is to be observed that although the teachers in these cases actually provide the books as stated, yet they have the privilege of selling them to the pupils at a profit of £20 per cent. on the price they pay for them to the Commissioners of National Education.

The number 5,906 also includes 16 schools where the books are only partly supplied by the teachers.

Paragraph 7.—Copies of Reports, Minutes, and Correspondence respecting the Withdrawal of Convent Schools from connexion with the Board of Education.

446.—Ennistymon Male National School, County Clare.

1847, October 9.—Letter from Mr. Savage, Superintendent, in reply to Secretary's letter of 8, 10, '47, asking for names of books of Christian Brothers, reported by him as in use in above school.

Gentlemen,—In answer to your letter of 8th October, relative to books used in the Ennistymon National School, I can only say that they were geography and lesson books of Christian Brothers. I cannot tell the names of these lesson books, having made no entry of them. I have stated this circumstance on report sheet.

I remain, gentlemen, your obedient servant,

William Savage.

October 28, Board's Order on above :—

Inform manager that the use of the books, compiled by the Christian Brothers, if used at all, must be confined to the time set apart for religious instruction, as, in the opinion of the Board, they are not suited to the purposes of general instruction in a National school.

1849, February 23, Inspector Reports :—On my entering the school one of the Brothers accounted for the very limited attendance by stating that had I "not come to inspect," the patron would celebrate Mass and hold a station of confession in the school on that morning. I at once replied, "You mean in the monastery, but not in the school-room?" The Brother answered, "Oh, no, sir, in the school-room, and this is done four times a year." After I had visited the male and female school, I called at the residence of the patron, but failed to obtain an interview with the rev. gentleman. I however saw his curate, to whom I communicated the result of my visit, venturing at the same time to express my opinion that no National school, still less one attended by Protestant children, should be applied to such a purpose, and that one of the Board's essential rules was thereby violated. He promised to give my views on this subject to the correspondent, from whom, however, I have not since heard.

Patrick Quinlan, District Inspector.

March 28.—Manager informed of foregoing statement and asked for an explanation.

April 2.—Letter from Rev. John Sheehan, P.P., Manager, Ennistymon.

Gentlemen,—In reply to your letter of 28th March, conveying certain charges against the Ennistymon male National school, I have to state that I considered I was acting within the regulations in devoting any day of the week that might suit my convenience to religious instruction and the performance of other religious duties usually practised by Catholic children.

Could I not appropriate to the same purposes a portion of any or every day in the week either before the business of the school commences or after it is regularly closed? There are only three Protestant children at present attending the school, and sometimes none at all. The Protestant rector is very welcome to attend those any day he likes, for the purpose of conveying to them religious instruction, or visit morning or evening, if it should suit his convenience better, without meeting any obstruction from the teachers or manager.

The parents of those children are perfectly satisfied with how this school is conducted, and the rules of the National Board observed and their children treated. They never complained because they know there is neutral ground—the superintendent should not throw in the apple of discord.

I am, &c.,

John Sheehan.

Most Rev. Dr. Murray replied to the foregoing. No copy of his letter in office.

April 14.—Letter from Rev. John Sheehan, P.P., to Most Rev. Doctor Murray.

Ennistymon.

My Lord,—I have been favoured this day with your Grace's letter, in reference to the charges of the superintendent, on the occasion of his late visit to the Ennistymon Male National School, and take the first possible opportunity of stating in reply that I considered my communication to the Commissioners on the subject would prove satisfactory. As I understood the rule, I took it for granted that I could appropriate any day of the week most convenient to religious instruction, or that the hours of each day, before opening the school or after its close, might without any infringement on the rules be devoted to the same purposes.

I have also to state for the information of the Board that the day thus set apart for religious instruction is always considered a dies non with regard to the business of the school.

By other religious duties usually practiced by Catholic children, I meant hearing their confessions, saying mass for them, and giving them the holy communion; for those little ones under the guidance of the Christian Brothers, though badly clothed and worse fed, are even in this remote and half starved part of the country, as usual attentive to the great and holy obligations which their faith and religion impose.

I would willingly make any sacrifice, short of the abandonment of duty, to meet the views of the Board, and am ready to give every assurance to satisfy your Grace that I have not now, or never did knowingly act in violation of the rules of the National education system. If I have done so now, 'tis not from contumacy certainly, but from my putting a wrong construction on the regulations of the Commissioners.

It may be proper, my lord, here to add that the present school-room was the old chapel of this town, a place consecrated to public worship within the memory of the present generation, and hallowed in the minds of the people by its former devotional uses, by venerable recollections and ancient religious associations. The Commissioners have no control over this house, for it was never vested in them. 'Tis public property, that of the parish leased to the parish priest and his successors for ever.

I did then consider that I was perfectly at liberty to follow up the ancient practices, and continue the usual devotions in such a place, so dedicated and so religiously used, without its being in the power of any official to complain or bring me to an account for so doing. Besides there was a general impression abroad that all the Inspectors and Superintendents, who visited here since the schools of the Christian Brothers got engrafted on the National system were cognizant of the discipline and practices now required to be accounted for and explained, and their not remonstrating induced the belief long ago that all was right and that no regulation of the Board was trespassed upon.

I do think, my lord, that I can stand on those regulations, for it is to be admitted that they were not conceived in any narrow, or limited, or bigoted sense.

Whatever your Grace directs in this matter I will do it, because I know and feel satisfied that it can with a safe conscience be done ;

And remain, my lord, with great respect,

JOHN SHEEHAN, P.P.

1854, September 21, 22, Inspector Reports :—Days for general instruction, Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday, from 9 to 3 o'clock. Arrangements for religious instruction from 12 to 1 o'clock daily, 9·30 to 9·35, and from 2·45 to 2·50 o'clock.

October 31, Board's Order on above :—

Direct Inspector to be more clear and explicit in describing the arrangements for religious and secular instruction. He should state what are the school hours at which all the children are required to attend and the precise time when secular instruction commences and when it terminates—he should send up a copy of the time table.

December 4.—LETTER from Mr. M'SWEENEY, District Inspector.

Gort.

GENTLEMEN,—In reply to your letter of the 17th ult., I beg leave to inform you that the Ennistymon male school opens for the reception of all the pupils at 9 o'clock, A.M., and closes at 2¾ o'clock, P.M.

I hereby subjoin a copy of the time table of the same school.

School opens at 9 o'clock.

From	9	to	9½	o'clock Geography.
,,	9½	,,	9.35	,, Morning Prayer.
,,	9.35	,,	10	,, Grammar.
,,	10	,,	10½	,, Tasks examined.
,,	10½	,,	11	,, Writing.
,,	11	,,	12	,, Reading.
,,	12	,,	12¾	,, Religious Instruction.
,,	12¾	,,	2	,, Arithmetic, Algebra, and Mensuration.
,,	2	,,	2¾	,, Geometry (business ends).
,,	2¾	,,	2.50	,, Evening Prayer.

At the hour, for Morning Prayer (9½ o'clock), due notice is given to the pupils by means of the card with "Religious Instruction" printed thereon. At 2¾ o'clock similar notice is given, and the Evening Prayer lasts about two minutes, at the conclusion of which the pupils are dismissed. At the time devoted to Religious Instruction, viz., from 12 to 12¾ o'clock ; those, who cannot take part in the same, devote the time to recreation.

I have the honour to remain,

Gentlemen, your obedient servant,

J. M'SWEENEY.

The Secretaries, Education Office, Dublin.

1855, January 5, Board's Order on above :—

Inform manager that religious instruction cannot be given at an intermediate hour more than once in the day, the practice of the school in this respect must therefore be amended. The Commissioners suggest whether it would not be a more convenient arrangement that religious instruction should be given in the morning before the commencement of the ordinary school business. Call for reply.

March 5.—LETTER from Rev. JOHN SHEEHAN, P.P., Manager, Ennistymon.

GENTLEMEN,—In reply to your letter stating that, according to the Inspector's report, the rules of the Commissioners were deviated from in the Ennistymon male National school, in the matter of religious instruction, I have to say that until the receipt of your communication I was not aware that it was so.

Any such deviation from the regulations of the Education Board is owing to misapprehension of the rules on the part of the teachers, and will, of course, be corrected in future.

According to the suggestion of the Commissioners, religious instruction will be given either before the business of the school commences, or after the school closes, as either may be found more convenient.—

I am, &c.,

JOHN SHEEHAN, P.P.

1856, May 2, Inspector reports :—The pupils make the sign of the cross every time the clock strikes. School-room is sometimes used for hearing the confessions of the Catholic pupils. Geography compiled by Christian Brothers in use.

May 31.—Manager informed, on above, that it is contrary to rule for religious exercises to take place at more than one intermediate time between commencement and close of united instruction. Use of room for hearing confessions also contrary to rule. Christian Brothers' geography is not a book fitted for united instruction.

June 6.—LETTER from Rev. JOHN SHEEHAN, P.P., Manager.

GENTLEMEN,—In reply to your communication of the 31st ult., I have to state that the making the sign of the cross is no part of the practice or exercises of the male National school known to the manager or recognized by the teacher. The piety of parents may impress on the children the propriety of some short acts of devotion at certain hours, for which, being an affair of their own—no way connected with any school business—I don't think they can be brought to any account.

The performance of some pious duty of this sort may become an instinct with children, and they may be rash or thoughtless enough to acquit themselves of it even during school hours, not knowing any reason to the contrary. But such is not at all the practice in the school in question : 'tis imperceptible even to the teachers, and how the Inspector could be so sharp-sighted as to perceive it in a passing visit is really a matter of surprise.

But sure Inspectors must make out something to report upon, otherwise they fail in their duty, and this little incident (harmless, one would think), it appears, was a great God-send.

Gentlemen, bear in mind that this is a very Catholic district ; there are no Protestant children in the school ; there are none in the workhouse ; there are very few at all in the town or neighbourhood ; and that an Inspector should report on "the sign of the cross" as reprehensible, and to be denounced in such a locality, is, in sober seriousness, very humiliating to those concerned, if not an insult and an outrage on Catholic feelings.

With regard to the other part of the report bearing on the use of the school-rooms for religious purposes, I have to mention that I thought it was competent with the manager to appoint a day to be set apart for religious instruction, that such was a dies non as regarded the business of the school, and that all religious ceremonies and teachings regarding Catholic children were allowable on such a day. I so understood the regulations. The geography of the Christian Brothers is not used in this school. It is not perceived that applications are made frequently for the books of the National Board, of which as many, perhaps more, are used in this school than in most others under their control.

I am, &c.,

JOHN SHEEHAN, P.P.

July 30, on above :—

Manager informed that, consistently with the Board's rule, the children cannot be allowed to make the sign of the cross every hour when clock strikes ; that, therefore, he is requested to give instruction to teachers to see that the practice be discontinued. As to use of school-room, writer referred to Rule 2 of Section 5 of Part I.

October 1, Inspector reports:—The sign of the cross and a short mental prayer are performed every hour when the clock strikes.

October 25.—On foregoing report manager informed of rule as to religious exercises. If rule not complied with, case will be brought before Board on next report with the view of disconnecting school. Reminded of former letters.

November 21.—Letter from Rev. John Sheehan, P.P., Ennistymon.

Gentlemen,—In reply to the report of your Inspector, viz.:—That the pupils of the male National school continue to make a religious exercise and a mental prayer every hour of the day when the clock strikes, I take the liberty of stating that it is not so, and that I am able to contradict it in toto. Does not the report or statement of the Inspector involve a contradiction, I will not say absurdity? How, in the name of goodness, could he or I know whether those pupils pray mentally or not? Is not mental prayer an act of the mind, not visible to the senses, unless to your Inspector?

Nemo de internis judicat is, I think, a maxim that cannot be gainsayed; surely it cannot be proved to be false. Is it not hard for me to be responsible whether they pray mentally or not? but I have undertaken already there shall be no religious exercises during school hours, knowing them to be obnoxious.

Religious exercises and mental prayer every hour the clock strikes would absorb their time altogether, to the exclusion of school business. This cannot be the case, for some of those boys have made good progress in education, and are well instructed, showing that they must have studied, and could not be always praying.

They have time enough to do this at home, morning and evening, if they are so inclined.

I am, &c., &c.,

John Sheehan, P.P.

1857, June 26, Inspector reports:—After some delay I saw the "Brother Superior of the house," and he at once politely informed me that the school was no longer National, for its connexion with the Board had ceased. He added that he could not admit of any inspection by an officer of the Board, as the school is now conducted in strict accordance with the rules of the Christian Brothers' Institute, save and except that they continue the use of such stock (free and sale) as remain on hands.

July 10, Board's Order on above:—

Strike off roll No. 446, and cancel grants from 31st March, 1857, school having been withdrawn from connexion with the Board.

2295.—Lifford National School, County Clare.

1842, June 6.—Manager, Rev. J. O'Shaughnessy, requested to state whether he intends to re-open school, closed in September 1840, otherwise it will be struck off.

January 7.—Letter from Rev. J. O'Shaughnessy.

Sirs,—In reply to your letter of the 6th inst., I beg to state that the Lifford female school is closed, and not to be re-opened. Not but I intend getting up one in a more central situation, and easier of access to the pupils.

I regret that when your Inspector visits Ennis, he does not vouchsafe to favour me with a call as was usual with all his predecessors, otherwise whatever may appear wrong cannot be so easily remedied. Should he fancy that it is my business to dance attendance on him, he never was more mistaken.

I remain, your obedient humble servant,

John O'Shaughnessy.

January 20, Board's Order on above:—

Strike off roll No. 2295, and cancel grants from 30th September, 1840, as school is not to be re-opened.

4303.—Lifford National School, County Clare.

1848, January 11, Inspector reports:—This school has ceased. The members of the convent have left the town and surrendered the premises, and it is not intended to re-open the school. But the Very Rev. Dean O'Shaughnessy is about to open a female school at Newtown-Stackpoole, to which he hopes the grant will be transferred.

E. W. Birmingham, District Inspector.

February 3, Board's Order on above:—

Strike off roll No. 4303, and cancel grants from 30th September, 1847, school having permanently closed.

4610.—Corravorren National School, County Clare.

1848, January 11, Inspector reports:—This school has finally closed, the ladies who conducted it having removed to another town.

E. W. Birmingham, District Inspector.

1848, February 3, Board's Order on above:—

Strike off roll No. 4610, and cancel grants from 30th September, 1847, school having permanently closed.

443 & 5314.—Newtown-Stackpoole National Male and Female Schools.

Male school under monks to September 30, 1840. Under lay teachers from January 1, 1841, to February 1, 1858, when grants were suspended. Inoperative as a National school since.

Female school under lay teachers till May 31, 1854, when nuns were placed in charge by manager. This change not sanctioned by Board, but salary paid to nuns from May 31 to September 30, 1854, decision of Board having been delayed. School since placed on suspended list.

1840, September 30, Superintendent reports:—The school is closed. Upon the former teachers' retiring during the vacation, Dean O'Shaughnessy took an opportunity of stating that they need not return, as he would not be any longer instrumental in taxing the resources of the parish with the sums collected for their support. Upon this, one retired, and was succeeded by Mr. Manifold, formerly (and very lately) teacher at Ennistymon; but he and his brother teacher are unwilling to open school under the circumstances, and only await the instructions of the Board and the receipt of their half year's salary.

The Dean requested of me to appoint teachers, which I declined, unwilling to give offence to any persons, and under these circumstances (being moreover assured by the Dean that the Board had written to him to appoint teachers subject to my examination), I wrote to the office on the 16th inst. for instructions, and stated to the Dean that should no particular instructions to the contrary arrive before the 29th, I would select two teachers from any number he would procure; but that lest I should unwillingly give offence, I would have nothing to do with their appointment or the removal of the former teachers. Accordingly my instructions not arriving, I have selected John O'Donohoe, aged twenty-one, a person of very respectable acquirements, but of bad delivery, and an indifferent reader, together with John M'Shannon, aged twenty-eight, a good reader, but a person of more limited literary acquirements.

(Signed), MICHAEL M'SHEEHY, Superintendent.

DISTRICT No. 23.

November 21st, 1844.

GENTLEMEN,—I am requested by Dean O'Shaughnessy, manager of Newtown-Stackpoole, to state that one of the rooms of that school-house is enough for the attendance. Each of the two rooms is sixty feet by thirty. He wishes to fit up the old chapel, which is in the centre of the town, and procure a salary from the Commissioners. But he has not funds to buy desks and forms. If the Board allow him to take them out of one room of Newtown-Stackpoole he will enter into any security necessary to guarantee the furniture in the new school.

I am, gentlemen, your obedient servant,

JOHN BRADFORD.

P.S.—One room is fully sufficient for the suburb in which Newtown-Stackpoole school is placed. Ennis has a population of eight thousand, and requires two male and two female National schools. That now proposed is in the best part of the town for the purpose.

1845, January 23, Board's Order on above:—

If the school in the old chapel be taken into connexion, Commissioners can grant only salary and books, and could not grant aid to furnish it; and it would be contrary to rule to remove the furniture from vested school-house.

NEWTOWN-STACKPOOLE National School.

COPY of LETTER from Rev. JAMES CARLILE.

GENTLEMEN,—The enclosed ejectment has been served upon me, about which I know nothing.

I have conjectured that it may be some ground leased to the Board of Education for a school-house, and that it comes to me as one of the Commissioners.

Yours very truly,

(Signed), JAMES CARLILE.

Parsonstown, November 1, '44.

The Secretaries.

November 22, '44.—The Secretaries call upon the Trustees to take the necessary steps in this case. It is not the province of the Commissioners to defend the ejectment.

Ennis, 1st February, 1854.

SIR,—The irregularity of the attendance of the children at this school, as also at the Newtown-Stackpoole male school, 443, points out the necessity of a change in the mode of conducting them. Some years since there was in the neighbourhood of these schools a community of nuns, who had 300 children at their school. At the same time the Christian Brothers were teachers at the Newtown-Stackpoole schools, in connexion with the National Board. A reference to the rolls will satisfy you that the school was then numerously attended. The Nuns and the Brothers left Ennis, when a male and female school, in connexion with the National Board, were established at Newtown-Stackpoole. The number of children gradually reduced until the schools were closed, in which state they continued for more than a year.

The schools were re-opened, I think, in 1847, about a year before I became manager. I found the schools in great disorder, and conceiving that the introduction of a better class of teachers, the additional comfort of the scholars by improvements in the house, and the great change in the altered circumstances of the people, might in time induce an attendance, I used every possible effort to make the schools useful. I regret I am disappointed.

At several meetings of the parishioners, such as recollected the extended education afforded by the Nuns and Christian Brothers, directed attention to the necessity of introducing them into Ennis, as they find that the National schools are comparatively useless. Arrangements are made to bring nuns immediately to Ennis, and to place them in connexion with the National Board.

The Newtown-Stackpoole schools were built at an expense of about £800, before 1833, when the Commissioners of Education granted £200. Since that time more than £400 was laid out in enclosing the ground and building a house in which the Christian Brothers resided. The parishioners, who contributed nearly one thousand pounds to these improvements, do not anticipate any objection the Commissioners can make to have this establishment, which for educational purposes is nearly valueless, made fully available, by affording the necessary facility of placing in it useful teachers.

There are so many nuns' schools in connexion with the Board that no difficulty can exist in allowing the nuns to become teachers at Newtown-Stackpoole, but as very considerable alterations must be made in the school-rooms, and as possibly a residence for the nuns may become necessary, it is required that the transfer made in 1833 to the Commissioners should not impede these proceedings. There is no intention on the part of the nuns or of the parishioners to discontinue the connexion with the National Board, but as grants to such schools may hereafter be withdrawn, or the rules of the Board may be so enforced as to render the connexion impossible, it is hoped the Commissioners will not object to re-convey the premises, on their being repaid the sum of £200, advanced by them in 1833.

There are at Newtown-Stackpoole two school-rooms, each sixty feet by thirty; until the number of children at the nuns' school exceeds 300, for whom there is accommodation in one room, the boys' school will not be disturbed. You are aware that there is in the town of Ennis a male and a female National school, Nos. 4304 and 1870.

Pray excuse all this trouble.

Yours, much obliged,

JOHN KENNY.

M. Cross, esq.

February 10, Board's Order on above:—

Ordered, that the Commissioners are not prepared to comply with Mr. Kenny's application.

Ennis, 5th June, 1854.

GENTLEMEN,—I beg to apprize the Commissioners that the Very Rev. Dean Kenny, Manager of the Newtown-Stackpoole National Schools, has placed in charge of the female department—Roll, No. 5314—in the capacity of teachers, nuns of the order of "Mercy."

These ladies took charge of the school on the 1st instant.

I have the honour to be, gentlemen,

Your obedient servant,

JAMES MORELL,

District Inspector National Schools.

October 22, Board's Order on above:—

The Commissioners find that the Newtown-Stackpoole Female National School is a school vested in trustees, and has always been conducted by lay teachers, they cannot, therefore, sanction its being placed under the care of nuns as teachers, or that the salary should be paid according to the regulations laid down for convent schools. No salary can be paid from the time the lay teacher, Margaret MacNamara, was removed, 31, 5, '54.

Manager must appoint a teacher.

Ennis, 20th October, 1854.

Gentlemen,—I have received your letter of the 17th, regarding the Newtown-Stackpoole Female National School.

In this you say, that as the school is vested in trustees, and was always conducted by a lay teacher, until May last, the Commissioners cannot sanction the appointment, then made by me, of the Sisters of Mercy as teachers, and that a salary will not be paid.

I have, since I received your letter, carefully perused all your reports, in which I cannot discover that vested schools are excluded from the benefit of the grant, neither could I find out that the Commissioners reserved to themselves the right of interfering with the appointment or removal of teachers, except when an incompetent party was selected.

As during the past year a salary was granted to several conventual vested schools, I trust the Commissioners will be induced to rescind the order made, and pay the salary for the four months ending 30th September, according to the scale of payment made to schools in connexion with religious bodies.

I cannot suppose that without due notice to the public, the Commissioners could preclude the appointment of nuns as teachers in a school once conducted by a lay teacher; had there, however, been a rule to that effect made, Newtown-Stackpoole school should be specially excepted, as the Commissioners well know that four times the sum, advanced by them for the completion of the school, was expended on it before it was conveyed to the Commissioners by the Christian Brothers, who for several years conducted the school in connexion with the National Board.

I so fully rely on the justice of the Commissioners that I trust they will not require of me to deprive the numbers now educated in the school of the benefits they derive from the improved system introduced by the nuns. May I add, that I have cause to complain of the Commissioners for their not having made known to me their intentions, since they were informed that the school was transferred to the nuns.

Your obedient servant,

John Kenny, Manager of Newtown-Stackpoole.

The Secretaries, Education Office.

November 10, Board's Order on above:—

Inform manager that the Commissioners see no grounds in the objections he has stated to warrant them in altering the decision already communicated to him. State that they have been compelled in other cases of a similar nature to come to the same decision.

Ennis, 22nd November, 1854.

Gentlemen,—I have to acknowledge your letter of the 21st instant, in which you inform me that the Commissioners see no grounds in the objections stated by me in my letter of the 20th October, to alter their decision regarding the Newtown-Stackpoole Female National School. This decision so vitally affects me that I most respectfully request the Commissioners may be pleased to reconsider it at their earliest possible convenience.

Referring to your letter of the 17th October, I find that two principles, open to serious objections, are assigned by the Commissioners as the grounds of their refusal to pay the salary claimed by me for the Sisters of Mercy, who have charge of the school since the 1st June last. These are, that a school once conducted by a lay teacher cannot be transferred to nuns, and that nuns cannot be tolerated in a school vested in trustees.

From your reports, which I have carefully examined, I cannot find any change made in the rules by which the dismissal and appointment of teachers is regulated. As the right of interference reserved to themselves by the Commissioners is confined to the case of the selection of incompetent teachers, I submit that this rule and not another, of which I could have no notice, ought to be adhered to.

But, assuming that the Commissioners had adopted such a rule, why did they not apprize me of it during the many months I was in correspondence with them on the transfer of the school to the Sisters of Mercy?

Should the Commissioners decline to accord to me what I believe is but justice, I have to request that, at all events, the salary for the time past may be paid, and if the objection to grant a salary to the Sisters of Mercy, in a school vested in trustees is persevered in, I must only provide for them elsewhere.

Indeed I the more willingly engage to do so, as the school is inconvenient as well to the nuns as to the children. The average attendance in October was 251, for November 265. I have this day secured a house in which this number can be accommodated. Should your District Inspector approve of this house, is there any objection to grant a salary to the nuns as teachers?

It may be useful to apprize you that Mary Fogarty, in consequence of the number of her scholars who left her school to go to that of the nuns, has resigned the Ennis female school, and that no National female school is now in Ennis except the school conducted by the nuns, which will be supported. Requesting an early reply,

I remain your obedient servant,

John Kenny,
Manager of Newtown-Stackpoole
National School.

To the Secretaries,
Education Office, Dublin.

December 29, Board's Order on foregoing:—

Inform Reverend J. Kenny that the Commissioners having reconsidered this case, and examined all the correspondence connected therewith, direct that the salary be paid from 31st May, when the lay teacher resigned, to 30th September, on the ground that, although a distinct notification had been made of the change of teachers so far back as the 5th June, the Commissioners did not come to a decision on the subject until the 23rd September last.

Education Office, 15th September, 1855.

Sir,—By lease of the 19th August, 1834, the Rev. Daniel Lynch, Jeremiah O'Connor, and Thomas Barry, Brothers of the Christian school, and all of Ennis, in the county of Clare, did grant unto Michael O'Loghlen, sergeant-at-law, the Right Reverend Patrick M'Mahon, D.D., of Ennis, and John O'Brien, esquire, of Elm Vale, in said county, as trustees for the purpose of education, the plot of ground on which the Newtown-Stackpoole National school is erected for the lives of the said Daniel Lynch and Thomas Barry, and John M'Grath of Arthur's-row, Ennis, and the survivors and survivor of them; and for and during the natural life and lives of all such other person or persons as should for ever thereafter be inserted or added in any future lease or leases of the premises, pursuant to a covenant for perpetual renewal contained in the Indenture of Lease and Release bearing date the 31st day of July, 1830, and by which the said premises were then held by the said Daniel Lynch, Jeremiah O'Connor, and Thomas Barry.

You are requested to inquire and report, with the least possible delay, for the information of the Commissioners, firstly,—Whether all, or any, and which of the lives named in the lease of the 19th August, 1834, are living or dead?

Secondly,—Whether the lessors in that lease, or the parties representing their interest in the lease of the 31st July, 1830, have still a subsisting interest in the lease of July, 1830; whether there has been any renewal of that lease, and the date of it; to whom made, for what lives, and are the lives, or any and which of them, in being?

We are, sir, your obedient servants,

(Signed), MAURICE CROSS, JAMES KELLY, } Secretaries.

Patrick Quinlan, esq., Ennis.

P.S.—You will make the necessary inquiries forthwith, and inform us of the result immediately after you have done so.

Ennis, 18th September, 1855.

GENTLEMEN,—Pursuant to the instructions contained in your letter of the 15th instant, I have made the inquiry therein directed, and I give the result in the subjoined statement in which, for the purpose of official reference, I place in juxtaposition the names of the parties, living and dead, to the lease of the 19th August, 1834 :—

LIVING.	DEAD.
Rev. Daniel Lynch, P.P.	Sir Michael O'Loghlen.
Jeremiah O'Connor.	Rt. Rev. Patrick M'Mahon.
	John O'Brien, esq.
	Thomas Barry, Christian Brother.
	John M'Grath, esq.

The Reverend Mr. Lynch is now parish priest of Kilmealy, post-town Ennis, and Jeremiah O'Connor is at present a teacher in the Christian schools, Cork. The Reverend Mr. Lynch's connexion with this parish, and consequently with the Newtown-Stackpoole National school has long since ceased; and the reverend gentleman states that he has "no interest whatever in the lease of July, 1830, of which there has never been a renewal;" but that "Jeremiah O'Connor has a direct interest still subsisting in that lease."

I have the honour to be, &c., &c.,

PATRICK QUINLAN.

The Secretaries, &c., &c.

October 6.—About thirty years since a school conducted by the Christian Brothers was established in Ennis.

The number of scholars in attendance rendering additional school accommodation necessary, the parishioners rented a plot of ground on which a school-house, at an expense of nearly £800, was erected.

The Rev. Daniel Lynch, then one of the Roman Catholic curates in Ennis, and two of the Christian Brothers who were selected by the parishioners to collect by subscription the funds necessary to build the school-house and to superintend the building of it, became lessees of the site on which it was built.

In 1832 a pressing demand being made on them by the builder of the school-house for a balance due to him, the Rev. Daniel Lynch and one of the Christian Brothers, who were lessees, conveyed to the Commissioners of Education for £200 the premises on which £800 were expended.

The Christian Brothers for several years after, in connexion with the National Board, conducted the schools.

The difficulty of providing for these sufficient support, as the parishioners were heavily taxed by the building of a parish chapel, induced the resignation of the school by the Christian Brothers.

In the school rooms, a male and a female school in connexion with the Board of Education were conducted until 1852, when the parishioners deemed it advisable to introduce into Ennis a branch of the Sisters of Mercy, by reason of the superior education imparted by them in the different towns in Ireland in which they were established.

As there was attached to the school sufficient ground on which a convent may be built, the parishioners proposed to the Commissioners of Education to repay to them the sum of £200 advanced to them in 1832, on the condition of the surrender to the parishioners of the premises. The Commissioners having declined to accede to this proposal, a house was provided for the residence elsewhere in Ennis for the Sisters of Mercy, and notice was given to the Commissioners early in 1854 that the female school would be transferred to the Sisters of Mercy. The male school in one of the rooms was not disturbed.

In May, 1854, the Sisters of Mercy took possession of the female school-house. In June a supply of books was given by the Commissioners to the school. In the quarterly return for June the Commissioners were apprised that the Sisters of Mercy were in charge of the school.

In August the school was inspected by the local inspector of the district. In September the Commissioners were, in the quarterly return, made aware of the transfer of the school to the Sisters of Mercy. From this detail it will appear that several opportunities were afforded to the Commissioners of signifying their disapproval of the transfer of the school, but the first intimation given by them was on the 15th October, that as the school was conducted by lay teachers before, and as the school was vested in trustees, the transfer of it to nuns could not be sanctioned, and that no salary would be paid to the nuns, who, as the Commissioners were duly informed, were in charge of the school for nearly five months.

After repeated remonstrance the Commissioners were pleased to pay the salary to September, 1854, but required that the nuns shall be removed from the school.

The parishioners yielded to this demand, and provided another school-room, to which, after the end of the quarter, March, 1855, the school was removed, where it is still carried on.

Repeated applications having been made to the Commissioners to sanction the payment of a salary for the six months from September, 1854, to March, 1855, whilst the school was conducted by the nuns in a vested school-room, as well as to take into connexion the school conducted since March, 1855, in another school-room, and a favourable answer not having been, to the 29th of September, received, the Commissioners' attention is respectfully directed to the reasonableness of acceding to the request made.

The room vacated by the removal of the nuns in March, 1855, is not occupied, as several teachers who were applied to by the manager to take charge of it refused to do so, as they apprehended that from the decided preference given to the nuns' schools no fees in addition to the salary received from the Commissioners may be had. It was even feared by one of them that the number of children who should be in the school, to entitle her to receive the salary from the Commissioners, would not attend. There was a very well managed female National school in Ennis, which the teacher resigned in October, 1854, as the greater number of her pupils left her to go to the nuns' school.

Handed to resident Commissioners by Rev. J. KENNY, Ennis.

December 14, Board's Order on foregoing :—

Inform manager that Commissioners, after fullest consideration, decline to accept the repayment of the grant of £200 made towards the erection of the Newtown-Stackpoole National school; that they will require the male school to be held in the house, and both rooms appropriated to the use of the children, if the attendance be at any time such as to require the increased accommodation; and they further reserve to themselves the right of requiring the trustees to reopen the female school under a competent lay teacher in the event of circumstances occurring which, in their judgment, would render such an arrangement expedient.

State, also, that the Commissioners have made the usual grant to the Ennis applicant school, to date from 1st May last.

Education Office, October 17, 1855.

Sir,—The Commissioners of National Education, having had before them your letter of the 18th ult., and the other papers connected with the Newtown-Stackpoole National school, county Clare, direct that you will ascertain and report, for their information, with as little delay as possible—

Firstly—Whether the price of land has risen in the neighbourhood of the school-house.

Secondly—If the friends of the National system find considerable difficulty in obtaining a suitable site for another school.

Thirdly—Was the money raised in 1833 by voluntary subscriptions contributed in the whole, or in part, by persons who would probably be adverse to the arrangements suggested by Mr. Kenny, to repay the Commissioners the amount of their grant on their making a reconveyance of the property?

Fourthly—Is the proposed abandonment of the school objectionable from any reason peculiar to the present case?

We are further to direct that you wait on the Rev. Thomas Warren, of Ennis, Presbyterian minister, who has been in communication with your predecessor, Mr. Fitzgerald, regarding the Newtown-Stackpoole National schools, and inquire and report as to the number of children whose parents or guardians would probably disapprove of the proposed change, namely, that the Commissioners, on the payment of £200 by Dean Kenny, shall give up all interest in the schools.

We are, sir, your obedient servants,

M. Cross, J. Kelly, } Secretaries.

Patrick Quinlan, esq., Ennis.

Ennis 18th October, 1855.

Gentlemen,—Pursuant to the instructions contained in your letter of the 17th inst., I have made the inquiry, in reference to the Newtown-Stackpoole National school, ordered by the Board; and you may assure the Commissioners that I have brought to the discharge of this duty a diligence and an attention proportioned to the importance of the subject. Without further prefatory remarks, then I proceed to give categorical answers to the queries numbered in your letter:—

Firstly—The price of land has not risen in the neighbourhood of the Newtown-Stackpoole National school, and this statement I make on the authority of two gentlemen whose opinion on the point might, I think, be deemed conclusive. The one is Mr. Thomas Greene, agent to C. O'Brien, esq., M.P., and the other is Mr. John O'Leary, agent to several estates in this neighbourhood. I should observe that Mr. Greene is the correspondent of the Toonagh National schools, and is a very strenuous advocate of National Education. Mr. John O'Leary, too, is most friendly to the system, and has several schools on the estates of which he has the management. Both gentlemen desire me to say that they are decidedly favourable to the contemplated change.

Secondly—The gentlemen above-named have assured me that, in the present circumstances of Ennis, there will be no difficulty on the part of the friends of the National system in procuring a more central and therefore a more eligible site than Newtown-Stackpoole for another National school, whilst the Rev. Mr. Warren gives, in his note herein transmitted, a directly opposite opinion, founded, as he states, on the fact of his having had a difficulty in procuring a suitable site in the town for the Presbyterian church he is now erecting.

Thirdly—I forward herewith a list of the contributors on whom I have called; and, with one exception, they are unanimously of opinion that the arrangements suggested by Dean Kenny should be carried out. The exception in the case is the eminent Catholic solicitor of this town, Michael Cullenan, esq., who expressed himself as being decidedly hostile to any transfer that would take out of the hands of the Commissioners the direction and management of the Newtown-Stackpoole National school. I give this gentleman's name because, from his high social position and great professional experience, the Commissioners may attach some weight to his opinion.

Fourthly—In the proposed abandonment of the school I can see nothing peculiarly objectionable.

I have further to state that the Rev. Mr. Warren has not given in his note the number of children whose parents or guardians would probably disapprove of the proposed change; but no children of the rev. gentleman's communion have ever attended a National school in this town, nor do they now. At most they are but two or three at present.

I have thus, at the limited time at my disposal, inquired into and reported on the facts of this case; and any further information called for by the Commissioners shall be promptly given by, gentlemen, your obedient servant,

Patrick Quinlan, District Inspector, 36.

Enclosure in foregoing Letter.

Ennis, October 18, 1855.

Sir,—Having been requested by you to express my opinion in reference to the transfer of the Newtown-Stackpoole National school from "the Commissioners" to other trustees, I beg to state that not being cognizant of the original object for which the school was built by public subscription, nor the nature of the deeds of conveyance to the Commissioners, I cannot form an opinion on the law or equity of the case.

I think, however, that the trusteeship of the Commissioners would be more likely to serve the cause of a united education of all parties than any new trusteeship likely to be adopted.

It is my own opinion, and that of many others, that there should be a model school established in Ennis, and it might be well for the Commissioners to inquire before making such transfer whether any more suitable site could be obtained for such a school than the premises in question, as from personal experience I know the extreme difficulty of obtaining a site for a public building.

I am, sir, yours respectfully,

Thomas Warren,

Presbyterian Minister, Ennis.

P. Quinlan, esq., Inspector of National schools, Ennis.

Ennis, 18th October, 1855.

Gentlemen,—Subjoined is a list of the names of the contributors to the erecting of the Newtown-Stackpoole National School, on whom I have this day waited.

I have the honour to be &c., &c.,

Patrick Quinlan.

The Secretaries, &c., &c.

Michael Cullenan, esq., solicitor; John Kerin, esq.; Michael M'Namara, esq.; Michael Moloney, esq., solicitor; Michael Lysaght, esq.; Patrick Lysaght, esq.; Walter Lysaght, esq.; Mrs. O'Callaghan, Mrs. Bunton, Mr. Matthew Kennedy, Mr. Patrick O'Brien, Mr. John Lewis, Mr. George Crowe, postmaster; Mrs. Moloney, Mr. Michael Loftus, Mr. John Coghlan, Richard Pearson, esq.; Andrew Moloney, esq.; William Moloney, esq.; John M'Grath, esq.; John Meehan, esq.: Thomas Greene, esq.; John O'Leary, esq.; Patrick Hickey, esq.; Mr. Martin O'Flanagan.

List of the Names of the Committee of the Parish who were not at home, but who are in favour of the proposed change :—

John Bunton, esq., solicitor; John Frost, esq., solicitor; John Shaw, esq.; Michael Kerin, esq.; Patrick Barry, esq.; Richard Moloney, esq; Thaddeus Byrne, esq.; John Maguire, esq.; John O'Halloran, esq.; William Rickards, esq.

Enclosure in foregoing Letter.

Copy of Resolution passed at a Meeting of the Parish Committee, held at the Parish Chapel on Sunday, October 14, 1855 :—

Proposed by John Bunton, esq., solicitor, and seconded by Richard Pearson, esq. :—That it is the unanimous wish of this committee that the Newtown-Stackpoole National school should, on the repayment of £200 to the National Board of Education be handed over to the parishioners of Ennis, and this committee are prepared to contribute the said sum for that object.

J. Kenny, Chairman.
John M'Grath, Secretary.

Ennis, 1st September, 1857.

Gentlemen,—I beg to state for the information of the Commissioners that the Newtown-Stackpoole female National school is now converted into a barn, and, as I write, it contains the corn of the Christian Brothers, who hold possession of the school-room, and keep its keys.

I have the honour to be, &c., &c.,

Patrick Quinlan, District Inspector, 36.

The Secretaries, &c., &c.

October 29, Board's Order on above :—

Write to Manager and Trustees, informing them that the use of the school-room for the purpose stated is a violation of the Rules of the Board, and that the Commissioners require that the corn be immediately removed.

1858, January 8, Board's Order on report 30, 11, '57, of Inspector Quinlan.

Ordered, that the school roll No. 443 be placed on the suspended list, and that the grant of salary be withdrawn from the 1st February, as the teacher, Joseph Browne, does not appear to have any influence over his pupils.

Newtown-Stackpoole Male National School.

1858, January 25, Inspector reports :—Business has not been resumed since its close at the commencement of the Christmas vacation, and a rumour having reached me that it was the determination of the Christian Brothers—who, as several times reported, have since I took charge of the district, had possession of the female school-room, and used it for various purposes—to take possession of this room also, and to commence teaching in it when the premises had undergone the necessary repairs, I felt it my duty to place myself in communication with the parties likely to afford such information as may be necessary for me to lay before the Commissioners.

The only surviving trustee is the Rev. Daniel Lynch, P.P., Kilmaley, Ennis, and though I this day (13, 2) failed in obtaining a second interview with that rev. gentleman, he assured me so late as Saturday, the 6th inst., that he neither was nor would be a party to any violent or unjust transfer of the school-house from the Commissioners, and that with his knowledge or consent it should never take place. Nevertheless, I have since learned that at the commencement of the last vacation the key of the male school-room was given to the Christian Brothers, or to a workman of theirs, by the late teacher, Joseph Browne, who, on being questioned as to what he had done with the key of the school-room, first stated that he had so given it "by orders of Dean Kenny," but who, when he subsequently learned that the Dean had given to his assertion a prompt and an emphatic denial, and declared that neither to Browne nor to anyone else had he given any such orders, admitted that it was a misconception on his part, and added, "I now recollect, the Dean gave me no such orders."

About a quarter after seven o'clock on the night of Thursday, the 11th inst., a person named Thomas Curry, a man in the employment of the Christian Brothers here, called at my residence with the maps, free stock books, &c., of the Newtown-Stackpoole male National school, and when I, on refusing to receive them, asked him by whose directions he had brought them, he replied, hesitatingly, "I have been sent with them by a dacint gintleman up street, and I don't know his name." Having thrown the maps and the books off the wheelbarrow in which he had brought them, and left them on the road outside my door, he returned to the residence of the Christian Brothers, to whose superior, Brother Mulligan, he gave, in the hearing of my servant, a detailed account of the success of his mission. On hearing this I immediately called on Edward Blake, esq., R.M., who, I was informed, was in Limerick attending the election, and I then waited on Thomas Keane, esq., J.P., Manager of the Tullycrine National school, who thought it unadvisable, under the circumstances, that any legal proceedings should be taken in the matter. I then saw Dean Kenny, to whom I mentioned what had occurred, and particularly the statement relative to the key of the school-room made by Joseph Browne, and to which, as already stated, he (the Dean) gave the most unqualified contradiction.

I have to state that Brother Mulligan has conveyed to me that if accompanied by a clergyman, he would accord me his permission to enter the school, which offer I, of course, declined; but I have seen that the school-room has been converted into a carpenter's work-shop, for which purpose it is now temporarily used.

It only remains for me to add, that during our interview Dean Kenny stated, with marked emphasis, that he was no party to the transfer of the school to the Christian Brothers, or to the sending of the free stock to my house, and that he had nothing whatever to do with either one or the other proceeding. This is the Dean's statement, and it is, of course, right I should give it.

(Signed), P. Quinlan, District Inspector.

Ennis, 19th March, 1858.

Gentlemen,—It becomes my duty thus promptly to state for the information of the Commissioners, that the Christian Brothers have removed their maps, books, and other school apparatus to the Newtown-Stackpoole National school, and that they are now teaching in the female department of it—the male school-room being still undergoing repairs. They opened school on yesterday.

I have the honour to be, &c., &c.,

P. Quinlan.

The Secretaries, &c., &c.

Ennis, 20th March, 1858.

Gentlemen,—Referring to my letter of yesterday in relation to the possession and occupation by the Christian Brothers, of the Newtown-Stackpoole National school, in which the written examinations of the male teachers of this district has hitherto been annually conducted, I beg to ask where I am to hold that for this year? And, gentlemen, the necessity for promptitude on your part in replying to this communication will appear evident when I state that I cannot summon the teachers until I shall have received instructions on the point.

I have the honour to be, &c., &c.,

PATRICK QUINLAN.

The Secretaries, &c., &c.

March 31, Board's Order on above:—

Inform manager of the statement contained in these communications, request he will explain under what circumstances the Christian Brothers entered on the occupation of the premises referred to which are vested in trustees for the purposes of National education, and whether the proceeding took place with his knowledge or sanction, or that of any other parties having a legal interest in the school.

Request he will also state if the Rev. Daniel Lynch and John M'Grath, two of the lives specified in the lease, be still living, and if so, that he will favour the Commissioners with their present address.

Ennis, 7th April, 1858.

GENTLEMEN,—In reply to your letter of the 1st instant, relative to the resumption by the Christian Brothers of the management of the Newtown-Stackpoole School, I have to say that though I had no knowledge of their act, until the school was in operation, I cannot, as being much interested in the cause of education, feel otherwise than pleased.

As you say that this communication is to be submitted to the Commissioners on next Friday, may I request that my former correspondence may be placed before them.

From this the Commissioners will see that these schools were built for the special use of the Christian Brothers at an expense, as on reference to the deed of trust will appear, of £776 8*s.* 6*d.*, of which the Commissioners advanced only £200. Since that deed was executed in 1833 very large sums were expended on the completion and repairs of the house, and an annual rent of £15 paid until lately.

The parishioners, by whom all these charges were met, derived very little benefit from their enormous expenditure, since the Christian Brothers, some years past, suspended their connexion with the schools. Their anxiety for the education imparted by religious communities is evinced by the resolutions herewith enclosed, and as the causes that induced the Christian Brothers to suspend the schools now happily no longer exist, the parishioners are delighted at the prospect of the benefit likely to arise from the superior education their children will receive from the Christian Brothers.

On reference to my former letters to the Commissioners it will appear that I used every possible effort for five years after my appointment to Ennis (from 1848 to 1853) to make the Ennis National schools effective; my failure led to the adoption of the resolutions herewith enclosed.

It will not surprise the Commissioners to find that Ennis joins in the universally admitted superiority of the Christian Brothers as teachers, and that as such large sums were contributed by the inhabitants to the erection and maintenance of the schools, due regard to their wishes will influence the Commissioners in the course they may adopt.

The Commissioners are aware that the school has been closed since the Sisters of Mercy were obliged to open elsewhere a school, as the Commissioners in September or October, 1854, refused to sanction their school in Newtown-Stackpoole as it was vested in trustees, they also know that the male school is closed since December last. The state of dilapidation of the house is awful, except the one room lately repaired by the Christian Brothers in which the examination of National teachers is on this day carried on, and a large arrear of rent is due which must without delay be settled.

In reply to your query, requiring the address of the parties to the deed of trust, I have to say that every one of them is, I believe, dead, except the Rev. Daniel Lynch, of Kilmaley, Ennis; he was curate in Ennis in 1828, when he was deputed to treat for a plot of ground on which a school-house for the Christian Brothers might be built; a lease, at a rent of £15 yearly, is supposed to have been executed to him and to two of the Christian Brothers in 1830 for the benefit of the parish. The deed of trust to the Commissioners in 1833 was executed by him and Mr. J. O'Connor; the second Christian Brother, Mr. T. Barry, did not execute it.

Almost immediately after 1833 the Rev. Mr. Lynch was removed to his present parish, since which time his connexion with the school of the Christian Brothers has ceased.

The Commissioners cannot fail to see that if they had in 1854 yielded to my urgent entreaties to relax, in favour of the Sisters of Mercy in Ennis, the regulation adopted by them not to sanction religious communities as teachers in schools vested in trustees, the present difficulty would not arise. I cannot presume to question the motives that induced such a rule, but it would appear rather reasonable not to extend it to a school-house built, as the Commissioners well know, by a religious community.

I have the honour to be,

Your most obedient servant,

JOHN KENNY.

April 16, Board's Order on above:—

Transmit statement of the facts of the case to the Rev. Daniel Lynch, and call upon him, as one of the parties to the trust deed, to take the necessary steps for regaining possession of the premises.

May 7, Board's Order on above:—

Send lease to law adviser, call on him to report is the title good, and can the Board take any proceedings to recover possession of the house and re-open the school.

November 5.—LAW ADVISER'S OPINION, NEWTOWN-STACKPOOLE National School, Co. Clare.

As all the trustees are dead, it will be necessary to appoint new trustees, and it will be also necessary to ascertain whether any of the lives named in the lease of 19th August, 1834, are living. In case any of the lives are still in existence, the new trustees, when duly appointed, and when the interest under the lease of 19th August, 1834, shall have been duly vested in them, may sustain proceedings to recover possession of the premises.

August 20, MINUTE of the BOARD.

The Secretary again lays before the Commissioners the correspondence and reports connected with the illegal occupation of the Newtown-Stackpoole National school-house (vested in trustees) by the Christian Brothers, and reads the opinion of Mr. Gibson as to the steps necessary to be taken by the Board to recover possession of the premises. Ordered—That Mr. Gibson's letter be transmitted to Dr. Longfield for his perusal, and on its being returned with such observations as he may deem necessary, that the entire of the documents in the case be submitted to Master Murphy and to Mr. O'Hagan for their opinion, previous to final consideration at a special meeting of the Board.

1859, 23 February, Dr. LONGFIELD'S OPINION.

On reading over the papers in this matter, together with Mr. Gibson's observations, I remain of the opinion that the Board ought not to institute any legal proceedings to enforce the provisions contained in the lease of the Newtown-Stackpoole National school premises. I fully admit, that as a general rule, the Board ought not to permit the trustees or patrons of vested National schools to divert the premises from their proper trusts. But the circumstances connected with the Newtown-Stackpoole school are very peculiar, and are such as, I think, ought to prevent the Board from selecting it as an example, if it be necessary to go to law to enforce their supposed rights. In the first place the litigation would be unusually complicated and expensive, and would be probably unsuccessful or ineffectual; an unsuccessful suit instituted by the Board would be likely to encourage an encroachment on its rights on future occasions. Few would know anything more of this case than that it was selected as an example by the Board, and that it failed.

Another reason why I should not wish to take any legal steps in this case is, that we have not much reason to complain of any immoral or violent infringement of our rights.

The case has been very clearly stated by Mr. Gibson. It appears that the school was originally intended for a monks' school, there having been at that time no rule of the Board to prevent such a school from being taken into connexion with it. In the expectation that such a school would be kept up, the inhabitants subscribed a large sum of money towards the building, and have regularly paid the rent—£15; at least, it appears that although the premises are liable to that rent, the Board has never been called upon to pay it. The lease to the trustees is at a peppercorn rent, but the lessor holds the premises at the rent of £15. It is also certain that the parents and guardians of the majority of the children desire the school to be kept by the monks, and would feel some reasonable annoyance if the school were taken from them, to be kept almost empty in connexion with the National Board.

I am also influenced somewhat by the circumstance that the Roman Catholic clergyman, Mr. Kenny, has behaved with such moderation and discretion as very much indispose me to take any hostile steps.

If vested schools are hereafter wrongfully wrested from us, we can select some case in which the legal proceedings will be simple, and their success certain, and in which the defendants will have no matter of justification or cause of complaint. If no such case can be found, so much the better. It will prove that on the whole the Board will not have much cause of complaint.

M. Longfield.

525.—Youghal Male School, County Cork.

School conducted by monks from April, 1832, to January, 1853—conducted by a lay teacher from that date till January, 1857.

1857, January 12, Inspector reports:—That school is in possession of Christian Brothers, and manager stated that he had withdrawn it from connexion with Commissioners on 1st January, 1857. Free stock delivered up to Inspector when demanded.

February 6, Board's Order on above:—

Strike off roll No. 525, and cancel grants from 31st December, school having ceased connexion with Board.

6,460.—Magdalene Industrial School, County Limerick.

1854, October 5.—District Inspector, Mr. Darcy, reports:—The girls in this school are all Magdalenes, and are principally engaged in industrial employment; there is but little literary instruction given. The schoolroom is fitted up only for industrial instruction; there are no desks or forms; and, as the room adjoins the convent chapel, in which there are forms, the girls are frequently brought into the chapel to receive literary instruction. On the day of my visit I found them in the chapel. They are all Roman Catholics.

1855, March 2, Board's Order on above:—

Inform manager that as the Commissioners understand from this report that the school is substantially a reformatory school, carried on for industrial instruction exclusively, which is incompatible with their rules, and as they also understand that it is intended for members of one religious denomination alone, they feel compelled to direct that it be removed from their roll from 31st March next, up to which date salary will be paid.

April 18.—Letter from Right Reverend Dr. Ryan, Limerick.

Gentlemen,—I beg leave to state, for the information of the Commissioners, that the report of the district Inspector is not correct regarding the Magdalene School here, as far as literary instruction is concerned. Neither was it correct to state that the school was intended for one religious denomination alone, as all are admissible, and, de facto, there have been eight or nine Protestants received from time to time into the institution. Under the circumstances I hope it will not be deemed unreasonable to ask for a reconsideration of the case by an inquiry on the spot, where the truth can be best elicited.

I remain, gentlemen, your faithful servant,

✠ John Ryan.

June 5, on above:—

Head Inspector, Dr. Newell, directed to inquire into the management of the school, and to report specially upon it, informed of the reasons which induced the Board to strike off the school, and directed to have reference particularly to—

1st. Whether the rules of the school as regards religious instruction, &c., are compatible with mixed attendance.

2nd. Whether, in point of fact, persons of different denominations ever do attend.

3rd. The nature of the literary instruction given, and the time and arrangement for it.

1855, June 6.—Letter from Head Inspector, Dr. Newell.

Gentlemen,—I have, in compliance with your letter of yesterday's date, in which you direct me to inquire fully into the management of the Magdalene Literary and Industrial School, to report that I this day visited the institution which is presided over by the "Sisters of the Convent of the Good Shepherd." I found these ladies most ready to afford me every information connected with the principles and working of the establishment.

The school is essentially and substantially a reformatory school, and intended for one religious denomination only—Protestants have been admitted and are admissible, but they must conform to the rules of the house in everything, and attend to the religious instruction, which is specially Roman Catholic. Seven or eight Protestants entered the house, of whom some became converts, and others left the establishment altogether. None were required to embrace the Roman Catholic religion, but all had to conform to its prayers and practices, while in the house. The words underlined are those of the superioress, who is a Bavarian by birth, and a most intelligent lady.

None but women who having fallen from the path of virtue became penitent are admitted to this establishment. They live wholly within its walls. The following is a copy of the time table, which will show how these women, at present numbering sixty-three are employed daily.

From	8	till	9	o'clock,	Singing and working.
„	9	„	10	„	Reading.
„	10	„	11	„	Working.
„	11	„	12	„	Dinner.
„	12	„	1	„	Recreation.
„	1	„	2	„	Reading.
„	2	„	3	„	Singing and working.
„	3	„	4	„	Reading.
„	4	„	5	„	Work.

Vacations None.

Only reading is taught—no instruction is given in any other branch.

Before my visit to the Magdalene Convent, I had called at the undernamed convent schools—

Mount St. Vincent Industrial; Pery-square Female; Sexton-street Female; St. John's Female.

My sole object in visiting these schools was to arrive at some conclusion about the school-going population of the city of Limerick. In each school I examined the school accounts, and reckoned the children present. There are several other schools in Limerick, which I have yet to visit with a similar object. In none of the convent schools above named, did I observe anything calling for the special notice of the Board, save in one, namely, in the St. Vincent Industrial National School. The children in attendance at this school are all boarded and lodged in the convent. They are all orphans and the children of Roman Catholic parents. None others could be admitted—this one of the nuns told me.

I waited on the Right Rev. Dr. Ryan, and represented to him that the rules both of the Magdalene and St. Vincent Convent Schools were, I apprehended, incompatible with those of the Commissioners of National Education. He candidly admitted that he feared they were so, but he hoped that some exception would be made by the Board in favour of these institutions, which were so highly approved of by the vast majority of the people of Limerick, and which were calculated to do so much good. I stated that I feared there was a question of principle involved in the matter, but the right rev. gentleman would not see the case from this point of view.

I may be allowed to say that I cannot understand how any officer of the Board could represent that either of these schools was "bonâ fide open to children of all religious denominations." The rules in each were the same when the schools were taken into connexion that they are now; and the ladies in charge were, I am satisfied, as ready to give the fullest information then as they were when I visited their schools a few hours since.

I have the honour to be, Gentlemen, your very obedient servant,

W. H. Newell, Head Inspector.

June 22, Board's Order on above:—

1. Magdalene National school.—Inform Right Rev. Dr. Ryan that Head Inspector states the school is essentially and substantially a reformatory school, and intended for one religious denomination only. Protestants have been admitted and are admissible, but they must conform to the rules of the house in everything, and attend to the religious instruction, which is specially Roman Catholic.

State that the regulations of the school are quite opposed to the spirit of the Board's rule, and that under the circumstances Commissioners would not be warranted in rescinding their order of March 2, removing it from their roll.

2. State with regard to the St. Vincent's Industrial school, that the Head Inspector reports the children in attendance at this school are all boarded and lodged in the convent. They are all orphans, and the children of Catholic parents. None others could be admitted. Inform manager that the regulation is quite opposed to the rule of the Board, and that the Commissioners have no alternative but to strike the school off their roll, which they have accordingly done from July 1, next.

3. Inform Dr. Newell of the above, and state that we have called on the District Inspector for explanation with regard to the concluding portion of his letter.

August 24.—Letter from Mr. D'Arcy, District Inspector, Youghal.

Gentlemen,—With reference to my reports on the Mount St. Vincent, and Magdalene Industrial National schools, in the city of Limerick, I have to state, that the Right Rev. Dr. Ryan, Roman Catholic Bishop of Limerick, is the manager of these schools; and that in my several interviews with him, he always stated that the rules of the Commissioners should be fully carried out in every school of which he was patron.

Whenever I observed any violation of the rules of the Board, I was sure to report it, as my reports on the Limerick schools will fully prove. I would not be justified in stating that if a Protestant child attended either of these schools, the Roman Catholic bishop would make an attempt to proselytize her—even a hint of such a thing was never mentioned in Limerick as far as I know; indeed Dr. Ryan is the greatest friend to the National system of education in that city, and these schools were in connexion with the Board before my arrival there.

I am, gentlemen, your very obedient servant,

Henry L. D'Arcy.

September 3.—Letter from Mr. Clarke, Inspector.

Wexford.

Gentlemen,—I beg to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 18th ultimo, transmitting extracts from a report of Mr. Newell, Head Inspector, on the Magdalene and Mount St. Vincent National schools, in the city of Limerick, and calling for an explanation of the apparent discrepancy between his statements and my various reports thereon.

In reply, I have to remark, that these statements appear to me to have been made with reference to the Mount St. Vincent Orphanage, and the Magdalene Asylum, the two institutions in which the schools in question have been established, rather than merely to these schools. Now I conceive that these institutions are not under the inspection of the Board, but only the schools; and that the Commissioners' authority in the establishments is limited both in time and place; in time by the school hours, and in place by the school-room. I never felt myself at liberty to extend my views further, at least to make unfavourable remarks, as it appears to me, that would have been to act as Inspector of the convents, and not merely of the schools. Certainly I wrote special reports for two years, published in the Appendixes to the Commissioners' Parliamentary papers, which embrace the consideration of the whole occupation of the inmates under instruction; but still, I think, in strictness, no part of these can be properly considered as made of authority as Inspector except such as refer to the school-room and the school-hours. These reports were favourable, and what referred to anything outside these limits was written with the view of being published, and thus spreading some useful information, as to management and discipline, amongst persons in other places who might be desirous of establishing similar institutions. The Orphanage and Asylum may, I should say, be considered in the light of small communities of the Roman Catholic persuasion exclusively (as so many villages and townslands are), who wanting and desirous of having a National School established, either on the grounds or in the buildings, for the benefit of the inmates, are sufficiently numerous to show the attendance required by the Board, and willing to arrange the school-hours according to the Board's rules. This, I am of opinion, may be fairly considered sufficient to entitle them to the assistance usually afforded to non-vested schools. When I state of such a school that it is "bonâ fide open to persons of all religious denominations," I mean, that the occupation of the school-time is so arranged, that if Protestants attend, they will not be exposed to any interference with their religious principles. This is all that can be said, not only of convent National schools generally, but of the largest portion of the non-vested schools. I cannot recall to recollection one in which religious instruction is given to more than one denomination.

The National school established in the Magdalene Asylum was originated by the Catholic bishop, the Right Reverend Dr. Ryan, who was extremely desirous that the penitents, who up to that time had been taught only to work and say prayers repeated to them orally, should receive further some secular instruction; and he was of opinion that this could not be done in any way so effectually or so well as by establishing a National school on the grounds. This he explained to the superioress who consented, on condition that the literary instruction should not extend beyond reading, as she did not think anything more either practicable, from the long time given to industrial occupation, or desirable on other grounds. An application was accordingly made by the bishop to the Board for a grant of salary and books; but I am sure he did not contemplate any interference with the internal regulations of the asylum as apart from the school. On this application being referred to me for a report, I mentioned the subject to the Bishop of Limerick, now of Derry, who thought the idea of having a school for the penitents a good one, that it would be well they should learn to read, more especially the excellent books published by the Board. My report on the application explained clearly, I think, the connexion of the school with the asylum; which I believe, however, to be of a non-proselytizing character. In reply to an inquiry of mine addressed to the superioress, Madame De Baligand, "How she would act if a Protestant applied for admission to the asylum?" she stated she would send a message to the Protestant rector to inform him such was the fact. What arrangement would be entered into between them I cannot say, as such a case never occurred to my knowledge; but I think this mode of proceeding a fair one, and sufficient to show that there is no desire to interfere unduly with the religious convictions of applicants. It is certainly to be recollected that these are adults, who have consequently the right to choose whatever religion they please; and, as the asylum is conducted by nuns, it is extremely unlikely that any person, neither professing nor intending to profess the Roman Catholic religion, would apply for admission to it. There is a similar institution, or was, in Limerick, the Female Penitentiary, under the care of the Protestant clergy, to which, I should think, Protestant penitents would undoubtedly apply; or, if not, that the Protestant rector of the parish, on hearing of an application from such here, would admit the applicant to it if she were willing. That persons admitted to the Magdalene Asylum must conform to the rules of the house, I should think would be absolutely necessary as far as discipline is concerned, but I do not believe that the religious instruction is compulsory; on the contrary, I should think it is received willingly by all. If it be meant by the report referred to me for explanation, that cases have occurred where Protestants have been admitted and compelled to receive religious instruction in the Roman Cathotic faith, I think it would be only an act of justice to the nuns, and also to myself (if such interference with religion occurred more particularly during school-hours) to give the names of the parties alluded to, and the dates of their admission.

With reference to the statement that the children in attendance at the Mount St. Vincent National School, "are all orphans, the children of Roman Catholic parents. None others could be admitted." I beg to state, that it may be true that no others could be admitted to the orphanage; but I do not think that any desirous of attending the school, the only part of the establishment, as before remarked, over which I conceive the Commissioners have control, would be excluded, on account of their religion. Certainly it may be, and indeed I think it is, in the interests of discipline that none but the orphans should attend; but this was not resolved on when I had charge of the Limerick District. On the contrary the school-room was considered by the nuns as only of a temporary character; it would not accommodate more children than were actually in it, and if applications were made to any great extent for the admission of others they might be refused, and properly, on the ground of want of accommodation. No such application was ever either made or refused to my knowledge. But a large additional building was in course of erection, including a school-room that would accommodate I should say 200 children at least, and I understood, that when this was completed, children from outside the institution would be taken into the school. This I regretted to hear, because, the District Model School, building by the Commissioners, is immediately on the other side of the road, and such an arrangement would be apt to interfere to some extent with the attendance at it. If it be the case that none but the inmates of the orphanage are admitted to the day school it must be purely a disciplinary arrangement, analogous to that under which those over a certain age are excluded from an infant school, and it cannot have the effect of depriving any child of the advantages of the instruction afforded by the Board. For the orphanage is only a branch of the one conventual establishment, under the Sisters of Mercy, having the care of the school in it as well as of the St. Mary and Munchin's, St. Mary's Industrial, Pery-square, St. John's, and I believe, John's-square National Schools. The parents of children outside the orphanage can send them to any of these. The Pery-square School especially, conducted by the same community of nuns as the orphan school, is quite convenient, being not more than five minutes' walk from it. It is in fact only a department of the same institution intended for day pupils. I have to add that the orphan school was in connexion with the Board for some years before I had charge of the Limerick District. The orphans were accommodated at that time in the House of Mercy, in which St. Mary's Industrial National School is held, and they formed part of the attendance at it. This latter belongs to the same class of convent schools, and is in all points an analogous case. I found it endowed by the Board and I think properly. When the orphans were removed from it to a new and much superior building, I had no hesitation in recommending that there also, they should enjoy the advantage of having the school connected with the Board. The reports of my predecessor on the St. Mary's Industrial National School, published in the Appendices to the Board's Reports, were equally favourable as my own, so that I should think his views as to the nature of its connexion with the Commissioners were probably similar to those I have expressed.

I would remark in conclusion that the Villier's Institute in Limerick is in some respects like the Mount St. Vincent Orphanage. It is a widow's asylum, intended for one religious denomination only; that is, none but Protestants are admissible. There is a National school in it, open however to pupils outside the house, because the attendance from the inmates is not sufficient to fill the school-rooms. There however, none but the children of Protestant parents can have the advantage of board and lodging free of expense, whilst at Mount St. Vincent, they must be Roman Catholics to be admitted to the same privilege. In neither the one case or the other, does this prevent the school being bonâ fide open to children of all religious denominations. When making my special report published by the Board on the Villier's National School and speaking of the institution in which it is held, I did not think I was authorized to criticise the latter unfavourably any more than the orphanage.

The Magdalene Asylum receives no inconsiderable amount of support from Protestants of the highest respectability and rank both in the city and county of Limerick, and this is sufficient to make me believe that it is not of a proselytizing character; if it were so, I am of opinion no such patronage would be extended to it. The only cause of the Female Penitentiary not having also a National school is, that the managers are unwilling to apply to the Board for a grant of salary and books, disapproving of the conditions upon which such aid is offered.

I remain, gentlemen, your obedient servant,

HENRY P. CLARKE.

1838, October 11 and 12, Superintendent reports:—This school is conducted by nuns, the prioress of whom told me that the fulfilling of the rules and regulations of the Board was so troublesome that she did not wish to be any longer in connexion with it, and that she would not take the trouble of filling even the list of children in attendance for the last six months previous to her obtaining the salary due to her from the Board for that time.

John Dee, Superintendent.

1839, March 22, Board's Order on above:—

Ordered, that school be struck off the roll, and that the salary for the half year, ended 31st March, 1839, shall not be paid. Salary for September, 1838, half year also cancelled (B. O. 13, 4, '39).

March 19 (received in office March 25), Superintendent reports:—The prioress of this establishment informed me on the present occasion that her reason for having said that she was unwilling to have her school continue in connexion with the Board was caused by her ignorance of the manner in which the report, and register books, and class rolls were kept; and now that she does know the manner of filling and keeping them correctly, she has no objection to continue in connexion, and will endeavour to comply with all the rules and regulations of the Board.

John Dee, Superintendent.

May 17, Superintendent Reports:—On visiting this school the prioress of the convent and principal conductress of the school showed me a letter from the secretaries stating that the aid hitherto granted had been withheld, and that the school had been struck off the roll of National schools, in consequence of my report on it, in which I stated that the prioress informed me that "she considered it too troublesome to keep the books and send up the half-yearly lists of children in attendance." All the foregoing is perfectly true, but the correspondent gave me to understand that the prioress did not suppose that everything she told me concerning the school, &c., would be reported to the Board, and that her saying that the keeping of the books, &c., was by no means official, but a mere passing conversation. He also stated that he considered he had been treated very uncourteously by the Board for not receiving any previous intimation or caution; that if such had been given he would adopt such measures as would insure the correct observance of the rules of the Board in that respect, and also, that should the Board not replace this school on their roll, he considered it unjust in them not to give the half year's salary due up to March last. He therefore hoped that the Commissioners would reconsider the matter. The circumstance of the correspondent not having known that the books were kept incorrectly, and also of the subject of my interview with the superioress, arose from the almost impossibility which I experienced in seeing him. I called at his house three times on one day, remained for two days in Carrick-on-Suir, without being able to obtain an interview with him. My last report on this school will show that the prioress of the convent did not really desire to have the school taken off the roll of the Board, and will also explain her reasons for stating the contrary in her first conversation with me.

John Dee, Superintendent.

1840, January 31, on above:—

Superintendent informed that he should request the manager to make a proper application to the Board, if he wishes to have the school restored, and it shall be immediately considered.

1865, January 16.—On report 24, 10, '64, from which it appears that only one hour daily is devoted to literary instruction, Inspector requested to state when this arrangement commenced.

February 25.—Letter from District Inspector, Mr. Lawler.

Gentlemen,—In reply to your letter of the 16th ult., I beg to state that the nuns who conduct the above-named school have informed me that the arrangement to which you refer was first acted upon in the year 1860.

Most of the young women who attend this school are adults who had been pupils at the Thurles Female National School, where they had learned to read and write, and who now attend at this industrial school solely for the purpose of earning money. Accordingly, when the supply of work is abundant the atendance is large, and when that supply falls off so does the attendance. A few of the younger ones, when there is no work for them, return as pupils to the Thurles Female National School. All, when there is plenty of work for them, are anxious to devote all their time to it, and the nuns have considered it advisable not to require the pupils of this industrial school, who are all very poor, to give more than one hour daily to attendance at literary instruction, in order that their earnings may be as great as possible.

The Secretaries, Education Office.

April 4, on above:—

Attention of manager, Rev. William Wall, and of Inspector, called to rule, Part III., Section iv., and informed that unless two hours daily be given to literary instruction grant will be cancelled.

Letter dated 27th June, 1865, from manager in reply to above, missing.

July 4.—Inspector reports only one hour daily given to literary instruction. Manager states that as the young women who attend this school do so solely for the purpose of earning money, they would consider it a hardship to be obliged to devote more than one hour daily to literary instruction away from their work, and would probably discontinue their attendance if more than one hour for literary instruction were insisted on.

August 14, on foregoing:—

Inspector requested to state whether there are any, and if so, how many of the pupils on the rolls who receive literary instruction for two hours daily.

August 19.—Letter from Mr. Lawler, District Inspector, with Enclosure.

Thurles Industrial National School.

Gentlemen,—In reply to your letter of the 14th instant, I beg to inform you that none of the pupils on the rolls of the above-named school receive literary instruction for two hours daily, as appears from the manager's note, which I enclose.

I remain, gentlemen, your obedient servant,

MICHAEL LAWLER, District Inspector.

COPY of ENCLOSURE referred to above.

Presentation Convent, August 16, 1865.

DEAR MR. LAWLER,—Regarding the subject of the letter received from the Board, it appears to me the only reply to be made is simply that none of the girls of the industrial school receive literary instruction for two hours every day; they would not consent to take so much time from their work, which you know is their only object in attending the school, and in truth they could not afford it.

I trust then the Board will consider the circumstances of the poor girls and be reasonable.

I remain, dear Mr. Lawler, truly yours,

M. A. GREEN.

August 29, on above :—

Manager and Inspector referred to rule as to pupils of Industrial schools having to devote two hours daily to literary instruction, and informed that unless this rule is strictly adhered to, the grants must be withdrawn.

November 10, Inspector reports :—Manager stated that whatever may be the consequence not more than one hour daily can be devoted to literary instruction in this school, as if more were insisted on for this purpose the young women engaged at the work whose chief object is to earn money, would cease to attend.

December 12, Board's Order on above :—

Withdraw salary from industrial teacher, and remove school from roll from 31, 12, '65, as the pupils of the industrial class decline to receive literary instruction for two hours daily.

6,865.—CARRICK-ON-SUIR Female School, County Tipperary.

1863, November 23.—LETTER from District Inspector, Mr. LANE, Clonmel.

GENTLEMEN,—On the occasion of my visit to the above-named school on this day I found an emblem or statue of the "Blessed Virgin Mary" publicly exhibited in the school-room during the hours for united instruction.

I called the attention of the manager (Rev. P. Power), to the same, and his reply was, that as the nuns had conscientious scruples to the omission of the emblem, he would not interfere with them, but leave the matter in the hands of the Board.

I am, Gentlemen, your obedient servant,

JOHN C. LANE, District Inspector, 53.

The Secretaries, Education office.

November 26, on above :—

Rev. P. Power, manager, informed that the District Inspector has reported that "a statue of the Blessed Virgin Mary" is publicly exhibited in the school-room during the hours of united instruction.

Referred to Commissioners' Rule, par. 3, sec. 10, part I., and informed that as the exhibition of the statue is a violation of their rule, the Commissioners have to request the statue shall be removed during the time of secular instruction. If not removed the Commissioners will be compelled to withdraw their grants.

December 4.—LETTER from Rev. P. POWER, Carrick-on-Suir.

DEAR SIR,—In reply to your communication of the 26th, I beg leave to state that the mistress of the National school feels most reluctant in closing up the statue of the Blessed Virgin Mary, during the hours of united instruction, and hopes that as no Protestant child attends the school at any hour during the day, the rule in reference to this subject will not be enforced in regard to her school.

In case this rule be insisted on, she regrets that all communications with the Commissioners of National Education must necessarily cease.

I remain, dear sir, your obedient servant,

P. POWER, Manager.

Female National School, Carrick-on-Suir.

March 31, on above :—

Manager and Inspector informed that no exception can be made in favour of this school, by allowing a statue of the Blessed Virgin to be exhibited in the school-room during the hours of united instruction. Should it appear from the next report of the Inspector that the statue has not been removed, the Commissioners will be reluctantly compelled to cancel their grants.

June 3, Board's Order on report, 14th April, 1864 :—

Strike off roll No. 6,865, and cancel grants from 30th April, 1864. Manager declining to remove the statue of the Blessed Virgin from the school-room during hours of secular instruction.

4,512.—THURLES Female Schools, No. 2.—County Tipperary.

1861, June 25.—District Inspector, Mr. Lane, reports :—This school is closed, and the business suspended since 30th April last.

The house in which the school was held has been let, and it is, I understand, in contemplation to erect a new school-house.

The manager cannot at present say when the school shall be re-established.

Manager said the house, in part of which school had been held, was let, and that it was in contemplation to erect a new school-house.

August 16, Board's Order on above :—

Strike off roll No. 4,512. Withdraw grants from 30th April, 1861, school having ceased operation.

623.—DUNGARVAN Monks' National School, County Waterford

1839, May 22.—LETTER from Mr. JAMES F. BRODERICK and others.

SIRS,—The conductors of the Dungarvan schools beg leave to inform you that they have withdrawn their connexion with the Board of Education.

We remain, sirs, yours, &c., &c.,

JAMES F. BRODERICK,
ML. J. KEAN,
BARTHOLOMEW J. SULLIVAN.

To the Secretaries of the Board of Education.

June 1, Board's Order on above :—

Strike off school.

June 4.—Receipt of letter, 22 May, 1839 (above), acknowledged, resignation accepted.

639.—ST. PATRICK'S (Male), County Waterford.

1837, July 25, Inspector reports :—This school has dissolved its connexion with us for the same reasons as the Mount Sion School in this town. I refer you to my report of this latter school, which I forward by post.

THOMAS FINN, LL.D., Inspector.

School struck off by Board's Order, 8, 3, '38.

645.—Mount Sion, County Waterford.

1837, August 25, Inspector reports:—This school has withdrawn its connexion with us. The grounds of withdrawal were not distinctly stated to me. I was told that Mr. Rice would give his reasons to the Board. This Mr. Rice is the head of this order of monks. It has been stated to me that the Rev. Mr. Carlile visited this school in May last (or thereabouts), and that the dissolution of its connexion with us was then communicated to him.

I have some reason to think that the inquisitorial power added to the rude demeanour of those sent about as spies upon our schools, practised in their visits to these schools connected with Mr. Rice's fraternity, contributed largely to dissolve their connexion with us. Such has been stated to me.

Thomas Finn, ll.d., Inspector.

School struck off—Board's Order, 8, 3, '38.

4,514.—Lismore Female (2), County Waterford.

1862, August 27, Inspector reports:—I noticed the manager that I proposed inspecting the school. I was informed by the ladies of the convent that it was proposed to disconnect the schools in future with the National Board.

I inclose a letter which I received from the Superioress on my return.

Copy of inclosure referred to.

St. Mary's Presentation Convent,
Lismore, August 23rd.

The Superioress presents her kind compliments to Mr. Fitzgerald and begs to inform him that the convent schools are to be in future disconnected with the National Board. She will feel obliged if Mr. Fitzgerald communicate this intelligence to the Commissioners and offer her best thanks with those of the community for all the kindness they have received, which Mr. Fitzgerald will please likewise accept; the community feel most grateful for his uniform urbanity and kindness during his visitations here.

J. G. Fitzgerald, esq.

1863, July 24, Board's Order on above:—

Strike off 4,514. Cancel grants from 31, 8, '62, school having ceased to be National at that date.

4,969.—Irishtown Female National School, County Waterford.

1862, February 7, Inspector reports:—On entering the establishment one of the nuns came to me, and stated that she had, on that day, received directions from the manager (Rev. J. Baldwin) that the school is no longer to be considered in connexion with the National Board. The manager, on whom I called in the evening of the day of my visit, confirmed the nun's statement, and added, that in withdrawing this school from connexion with the Board he was only obeying an order which he had on that day received from his bishop. Neither the nun nor the manager assigned any cause for the order of the bishop, and both stated that they were unable to assign any; but the nun stated that the present bishop has been always averse to the connexion of this school with the National Board and has at length given peremptory orders to sever the connexion.

My own opinion is that the majority of the nuns as well as the bishop wish to have the statue of the Blessed Virgin, which is in a niche at the end of each school-room, exposed or uncovered during the whole of the school-hours, and the children "bless themselves" and say a mental prayer whenever the clock strikes, which the rules of the Board will not permit.

March 14, Board's Order on above:—

Strike off Roll, No. 4,969, and cancel all grants thereto, manager having withdrawn school from connexion with the Board.

720.—Kingstown Male National School, County Dublin.

1856, October 20, Inspector reports:—The Kingstown Male National School is dissolved, and the inscription taken down. The school-house has been placed by the Rev. B. Sheridan under the care of a religious community called the "Christian Brothers," who commenced teaching here on the 2nd September last, and have so continued.

On inquiring for the National school-books, &c., which had been supplied by the Board to the late Kingstown Male National School, I was informed by two of the monks who were teaching here, that under the direction of the Rev. B. Sheridan they gave up all those books, &c. (saving old maps and a register), to the Rev. Dr. Forrest, one of the Roman Catholic curates of Kingstown, "to take care of them," and that those books, &c., are in the possession of the latter.

Those monks could not inform me when Hugh Bryne resigned the teachership of Kingstown Male National School. I failed on two occasions seeing Dr. Forrest, as I was anxious to speak to him on this subject.

W. M'Dermott, District Inspector.

November 7, Board's Order on above:—

Strike off roll No. 720, and cancel grants from 1 August, 1856, school having ceased operation as National, and house transferred to the Christian Brothers.

722.—Malahide, Male National School, County Dublin.

1839, July 26, Superintendent reports:—In my last report on this case I stated that the master had removed from "Yellow Walls," and was then in a house in the town of Malahide, where there was not one pupil present, and scarcely the appearance of a school.

To-day I find he has also left the last-mentioned house (being unable to meet the rent), and is now carrying on his school in the Roman Catholic Chapel of Malahide—a circumstance so very much at variance with the regulations of the Board that I declined going into any inspection further than stating in the report-book the substance of this communication, or rather objection.

The master says that he is only keeping the school in the chapel for the last month, and that he will return to "Yellow Walls" as soon as that house shall be repaired; but the latter is in such a complete ruin that it can never be made available for the purposes of a National school, or indeed, any habitation.

I have repeatedly animadverted upon the discreditable state of this school.

W. M'Dermott.

September 13, on foregoing report (26 July '39):—

Manager informed that school must be removed forthwith from the chapel, and school-house rendered habitable, or salary will be withdrawn.

November 15, Superintendent reports:—When I visited this school last (26th July, '39) it was carried on in the Roman Catholic Chapel of Malahide—a circumstance which made me decline going into any examination of the children; it is now held in the vestry of the same chapel, an apartment measuring not quite twelve by eight feet, and in which, when the boys are there, there is scarcely room to turn, much less for the examination of the classes, and other matters incident to a valid inspection; however, after going through it as well as matters would allow, I found the pupils extremely deficient, and the register not posted according to the directions I had left with the master.

In my last report on this school I mentioned that the report-book had not been posted for the three months ending 26th July, but I now find that the master has filled up this book with the omitted three months, as if there was an actual bonâ fide diurnal posting, but he admits there was not, and that those entries are no more than what the attendance was or might have been. From a voucher made up in so fictitious a manner I could not give the average attendance for the last six months.

As to the master, it is probable that had he a proper school-house he would be more vigilant; but as I have so repeatedly complained of the want of any energy or interest towards the erection of a suitable school-house in this town, it is unnecessary for me to say more upon the subject. As to patching up the old school-house of "Yellow Walls" (two miles from this), it will, if ever attempted, be nothing more than an unavailing devotion of time and labour. "Yellow Walls" is a ruin of the most dilapidated nature, and which nothing will retrieve.

W. M'Dermott.

December 28, on foregoing :—

Manager referred to letter 13th September, '39.—Informed that school being held in vestry is equally a violation of rule. Requested to state if a temporary house can be got, otherwise the Commissioners will decide whether the present school shall be struck off the roll.

1841, 30th April, Superintendent reports :—This school still continues to be held in the vestry of the Roman Catholic chapel of this town; a room so small (12 by 8 feet) that with two little desks and a few children there is scarcely space to turn in.

On looking over this man's report book, I find that, in I believe every instance, he has posted a greater number of children than what I found and stated to be in attendance; even after allowing, as I always do, for those children whose parents may have sent for them before I should happen to enter a school.

This is not the first time I discovered his accounts to be fabricated; on one occasion I found his report book not posted for three entire months, and yet he afterwards posted up that hiatus in a most reckless manner, namely, from what he "supposed was the average attendance."

This conduct is extremely reprehensible, as no reliance can be placed on his books or statements.

W. M'Dermott.

May 27, Board's Order on above :—

Strike off roll, No. 722, and withdraw salary from 31st March, 1841, school being held in vestry-room of Roman Catholic chapel.

741.—Richmond-street, County Dublin.

1837, July 21, Inspector reports :—Mr. Thornton, the acting principal of this school, informed me that the gentlemen of the order of "Christian Brothers," under whose superintendence it is, held a chapter some time back when it was resolved to withdraw their several schools from the patronage of the Board, and that Mr. Kelly (of "Mill-street," Dublin, another of the schools of this body) must have been under a mistake when he stated that they would continue to accept the salary from the Board, should they be allowed to give religious instruction from twelve to one each day; the resolution of the chapter being unconditional.

I beg leave to refer to my last report on Mill-street school.

Wm. M'Dermott.

August 10, Board's Order, school struck off.

746.—Mill-street, County Dublin.

1837, July 11, Inspector reports :—When I visited here this day (half-past twelve o'clock) I was requested by the servant "to sit in the parlour, the children being then at religious exercise, but that he would go for the superior, Mr. Kelly," upon which that gentleman very shortly came to me, and after informing him of the object of my visit, he said that the brothers of his order had come to a resolution to decline further aid from the Board, the regulations of the latter (as he states) being found to entrench too much upon the discipline which the brotherhood wish to establish in their schools, at the same time saying, that they have made no other alteration than that of giving religious instruction from twelve to one, instead of imparting that information, either before or after the hours set apart for general literary instruction, as required by the Commissioners; but, that if that rule was dispensed with, they would thankfully receive the grant of salary as usual, if not, they must respectfully decline it.

Having heard this statement I visited the schools of this establishment as a stranger, for as such only I would be received, and I find that these monks have erected an additional school-room, measuring 50 by 20 feet, and that in all there were 420 children present; but they objected to my taking notes or going into my usual examination of the scholars.

Lest I should convey a wrong impression of this affair, I am bound to state that the monks treated me with the most perfect courtesy, and expressed their thankfulness to the Board. Indeed it is much to be regretted that any minor arrangements of their order should tend to limit the usefulness of a body of men whose labours in the cause of education are so honourable to themselves and profitable to the country.

W. M'Dermott.

August 8.—Letter from Mr. Kelly, Manager. To same effect as above. (Missing.)

August 10, Board's Order:—

School struck off accordingly.

733.—North William-street, County Dublin.

1856, November 14.—Letter from Mrs. Curran, Manager.

Carmelite Convent, Lakeland, Sandymount.

Mrs. Curran presents respects to the gentlemen of National education, begs to inform them the community of North William-street Convent, under whom National School 733 has been kept in operation, being now removed to this locality, the Rev. Francis Doran, chaplain to said convent, shall succeed as manager to said school till further arrangements shall have been made.

November 25, Resident Commissioner's Order on above :—

The Rev. Francis Doran to be recognised temporarily as manager of this school, and so entered on books.

1857, April 27.—Letter from the Rev. Francis Doran.

Gentlemen,—On account of the Easter vacation coming so soon after the receipt of your favour, I thought it advisable not to write till business had been resumed, and press of business has delayed me hitherto. It was communicated to the Board some months since that Mrs. Curran, the then manager of the schools, had ceased to retain that position, and I became manager for the time being. Our schools have since then been conducted in the same manner as when the nuns were here, for a number of ladies give them their best assistance daily, and I have reason to believe that the schools are almost, if not entirely, as efficiently conducted as when the religious were here. I think any of the Inspectors who visited in the interim can bear the same testimony. I am in expectation that before another month a new community will take up the schools.

We have no funds at our disposal, and the pence contributed by the children do not cover current expenses. For which reasons I trust the Board will act as generously as possible, and not curtail the grant usually given. Not knowing exactly how to act under the circumstances, I return the form of receipt forwarded to me.

Hoping to have an early and favourable reply,

I have the honour to be, gentlemen, your obedient servant,

FRANCIS DORAN.

The Secretaries, Education Office,
Marlborough-street.

May 15, on above :—

Query sheet returned to manager :—Requested to have the goodness to have the questions in it answered, so far as the circumstances of the school during the period will permit, especially with reference to the names of the lay teachers who have had temporary charge, and the dates of their commencing and ceasing to teach. And then forward the document to us with his signature affixed.

The Commissioners will then be in a position to consider the application contained in this note.

June 30.—LETTER from the Rev. FRANCIS DORAN, North William-street.

GENTLEMEN,—On account of some unintentional informality relative to certain arrangements in the National schools, North William-street, I beg to make the following statements :—

These schools were under the direction of the religious sisters of the Carmelite Convent until the 17th November ult., at which time they removed to a new convent at Sandymount, and I became manager for the time being. I believe this change was made known to the Board at the time. The nuns kept two mistresses, whom they paid out of the grant from the Board and the pence received from the children attending the schools. I was not aware that the departure of the nuns would have caused any change in the position or standing of the schools, particularly as I was in expectation of another community taking charge of them.

From the time the nuns ceased connexion with the schools the mistresses were retained at the same salary, and a number of ladies came every day until within the last fortnight, and gave their best assistance, so that the schools were conducted in precisely the same manner as when the nuns presided over them. Moreover, I feel justified in saying that they were as usefully and efficaciously conducted since as they were before, a statement which I think will be authenticated by the Inspectors who have visited them since.

It appears, however, that as the nuns were not here, and as the teachers were not classed, I am not strictly entitled to a grant proportionate to the per-centage attendance of the children.

I must say, however, that—1st. I was ignorant of the necessity of entering into any arrangement with the Board, otherwise everything should have been done in proper form. 2. Mrs. Curran, the late prioress and manager, wrote, I believe, to the Board, announcing her severance from the schools, and that I became the ostensible manager. 3. The Inspectors in making their visits did not, as far as I can recollect, mention the necessity of having the teachers classified. I was amazed when making application for the last quarter's grant (two are now due) to hear that I was not entitled to the usual grant, and there are now two quarters' salary due to the principal teacher, £12 10*s*. It is in the earnest hope that the Board will kindly consider this matter that I make this statement, otherwise I will be loser to a very considerable amount, and my position is such as to leave me altogether unable to bear so heavy a pecuniary loss.

I am, gentlemen, your obedient servant,

FRANCIS DORAN.

July, 15, Resident Commissioner's Order on quarterly returns, quarters ended 31, 3, and 30, 6, '57, considered in connexion with foregoing letter :—

Mr. Dunbar to pay salary as to a convent school according to average attendance.

October 14.—LETTER from Rev. F. DORAN, notifying his intention of withdrawing school from connexion of Board.*

November 6, Board's Order on above :—

Strike off roll No. 733, and cancel grants from 30, 6, 57, local parties having withdrawn school from connexion with Board.

3,108.—CABRA Female School, County Dublin.

1858, January 29.—On report 6, 11, '57. Manager informed pupils must discontinue the practice of making the sign of the cross when the clock strikes.

February 1st.—LETTER from Mrs. M. C. MAHER, Manager.

SIR,—In reply to your notice of yesterday I beg to say the children attending our poor schools continue to make the sign of the cross, not having received contrary orders from the Inspector. If the practice must be suspended Mr. Coil or his substitute will give the prohibition to the children, my feelings will not allow me to do so.

Yours respectfully,

M. C. MAHER.

Advised 22, 2, '58.

February 12, Board's Order.

Acquaint writer that the Commissioners cannot adopt the course she suggests ; that they require the rule prohibiting religious exercises, except at the time set apart for religious instruction, to be strictly complied with, and that if the Inspector on the occasion of his next visit be not enabled to report that the practice referred to has been discontinued she must be prepared for a withdrawal of the grant of salary.

1858, February 4.—LETTER from LORD BISHOP of Derry.

Palace, Derry.

GENTLEMEN,—As I cannot attend the Board's meeting to-morrow, I beg to observe in reference to the programme No. 9, that I am of opinion that Mrs. Maher, in refusing to direct the children to discontinue the practice of making the sign of the Cross, infringes the rule of the Board, and should she persist in so doing, disentitles her school from further assistance. It is clear to my mind that she is wilfully controverting the orders of the Board, a line of conduct which cannot be allowed.

I am, gentlemen, faithfully yours,

W. DERRY.

To Maurice Cross and James Kelly, esqrs.

March 2.—LETTER from Mrs. MAHER, Manager, St. Mary's, Cabra.

GENTLEMEN,—I beg to acknowledge the receipt of your communication of the 22nd February, in which you complain that the children attending our poor school make the sign of the Cross at certain hours, and in which you threaten to withdraw the small grant we receive for the school, in case the custom of making the sign of the Cross be not abandoned.

* Letter 14, 10, '57, from Rev. F. Doran, missing.

In reply you will allow me to observe that all Catholics hold the sign of the Cross in great reverence, and recommend its frequent use. The archbishop in a pastoral letter, published about a year ago, writes as follows :—

"Saint Paul cried out, 'God forbid that I should glory, save in the Cross of Christ.' Gal. vi., 14."

Tertullian, writing in the second century tells us, that the pious Christians of his time were animated with the same spirit as the apostle. "In all our travels and movements," says he, "in coming in and going out, in putting on our shoes, at the bath, at the table, in lighting our candles, in lying down, in sitting down, whatever employment occupieth us we mark our forehead with the sign of the Cross." (De Corona, c. 3.) St. Cyril of Jerusalem assures us that the same custom prevailed amongst the pious Christians of the fourth century. This pious practice, introduced at so early a period, has been always carefully preserved in the church, and nowhere more religiously than among ourselves.

Even in this city we observe that Protestant dignitaries are employed in erecting on the pinnacles of our old Catholic cathedral, the cross barbarously and impiously broken down at the time of the reformation, and Presbyterians and Methodists are ornamenting their kirks and meeting-houses with the same emblem of salvation. Are Catholic children then to be prevented from manifesting their respect for the maxim of the apostle who gloried in the cross, and from retaining the pious practices of antiquity. Whilst such is the doctrine of Catholics regarding the sign of the Cross, I am sure that the Commissioners can scarcely expect that we should undertake to prohibit a practice which we consider most salutary and holy, and I hope they will not persevere in their demand. Should they however determine upon withdrawing the grant, we shall submit to that infliction, rather than do anything insulting to the emblem of our redemption.

I trust the children of our school will not feel the loss, for we are confident that when we make an appeal to a generous public, they will not allow the poor to suffer for having been attached to a useful and edifying religious practice.

I have the honour to be, gentlemen, respectfully yours,

M. C. Maher.

To the Secretaries.

March 13.—Board's Order on above :—

State that the Commissioners have had before them this letter, in which Mrs. Maher states her conscientious objections to the discontinuance of the practice prevailing amongst the pupils of the Cabra Female National school of making the sign of the Cross when the clock strikes, and declines, in consequence, to carry out the instructions of the Board on the subject, as conveyed to her in the order of the 12th February. Under these circumstances that the Commissioners have directed that the grant of salary be withdrawn, and the school removed from the roll, from 31st March next.

1862, May 2.—Letter to William M'Dermott, esq., District Inspector.

Education Office.

Sir,—The manager of the Williamstown Female National School, county Dublin, in the salary queries for the quarter ended 31st March last, makes the following observations :—"Since the last report his Grace the Most Rev. Dr. Cullen, being anxious that religion should be made the basis of our scholastic instruction, has ordered that a prayer should be said every hour in the school, having heard that it is now in connexion with the National Board."

We are to direct that you will inquire specially into the matter referred to, and report the particulars for the information of the Commissioners at your earliest convenience. You are to use the primary form of report sheet.

We are, sir, your obedient servants,

M. Cross, J. Kelly, } Secretaries.

May 6.—Inspector, Mr. M'Dermott, reports :—In this school there is a small oratory, in which stands the figure of the Virgin—the oratory is open every day (except Saturday) during the time set apart for religious instruction, namely—from two to three o'clock—but on no other occasions.

The prayer "Ave Maria" or "Hail Mary," to use the language of the correspondent, "is repeated in the school every hour throughout the day, but the oratory is open only from two to three o'clock."

The repetition of this prayer takes thirty seconds, perhaps if it was repeated mentally the objection might be cured.

July 3, on above :—

Manager informed that the practice of repeating the "Hail Mary" every hour in the school is strictly contrary to Board's rules, and must be discontinued, or salary will be withdrawn.

July 5.*—Letter from Mrs. Furlong, manager, in reply, states that practice referred to is in accordance with an order from His Grace the Most Rev. Dr. Cullen, and, therefore, cannot be discontinued.

August 8.—Board's Order on above :—

School removed from roll of National schools from 1, 8, '62 ; salary to be paid up to that date.

1,552.—Castlecomer Female, County Kilkenny.

1855, June 27, Inspector reports :—At each time the clock struck the children blessed themselves, and said (I presume), the "Hail Mary."

John Molloy, District Inspector.

July 14, on above :—

Manager informed that practice reported is contrary to rule of Board.

1856, Nov. 27, Inspector reports :—Each time the clock struck the children became silent, and raised the right hand as if to bless themeslves ; but recollecting, I suppose, that I was present, they hesitated, yet it would appear that they have a habit of blessing themselves and saying a prayer each time the clock strikes.

John Molloy, District Inspector.

December 19.—Manager again informed of rule as to religious exercises hourly ; reminded of letter, 14, 7, '65.

* Letter 5th July, 1862, from Mrs. Furlong, missing.

1857, April 23.—Report:—Inspector in reply to query—Are religious exercises restricted to the hours set apart for that purpose? States—It would appear not, as the children in many cases appeared to repeat a prayer each time the clock struck.

JOHN MOLLOY, District Inspector.

May 28, on above:—

Head Inspector, Mr. Sheahan, requested to visit and report on this school, with special view to the point noticed by District Inspector.

June 4.—Head Inspector reports:—Arrangements for religious instruction not strictly in accordance with rules of the Commissioners, as the practice of saying a short prayer every time the clock strikes is still kept up.

I called the attention of the Superioress to the practice above mentioned, and she stated that it rested entirely with the bishop to have it given up or not. As she was unwilling to write to him on the subject, and would not be likely to see him before July, I took on myself to call on him. I did so on the 30th ult., but he happened to be engaged.

The same practice I found on inquiry has been kept up in the Kilkenny Commissioners' school.

W. Bradford visited it on the 4th, and found it to be so. He got from the ladies an answer such as I had received in Castlecomer. The bishop was absent, and his administrator could take nothing on himself.

He will call again on the bishop, and will, I have no doubt, find him prepared to give directions for discontinuance of this practice and the strict observance of the rules of the Commissioners.

TIMOTHY SHEAHAN, Head Inspector.

June 24.—On foregoing Report of Head Inspector:—

Manager informed that practice reported is irregular, and must be discontinued, otherwise salary will be suspended.

1858, February 5.—Inspector reports:—The children bless and repeat a prayer mentally each time the clock strikes, as reported frequently before.

February 26.—Board's Order on above:—

Acquaint manager that the Commissioners, perceiving that so far back as July, 1855, his attention was called to the violation of rule involved in the religious exercise in question, and also on several subsequent occasions, they have now directed that the grant of salary be withdrawn, and the school struck off the roll from 1st March, 1858.

March 5.—Board's Order on same document:—

The Commissioners, having received information that the practice of the pupils in the Castlecomer Female National School making the sign of the cross when the clock strikes will no longer be persisted in, direct that their minute of the last day of meeting removing the school from the roll be not acted upon for the present, and that the Inspector be instructed to report on the occasion of his next visit if the religious exercise has been discontinued except under the usual restrictions.

May 19.—Inspector, Mr. Bradford, reports:—Every time the clock strikes the girls say a prayer mentally and cross themselves.

June 11.—Board's Order on foregoing:—

Call attention of manager to the previous correspondence in this case, and request he will now state explicitly whether he is prepared to comply with the rule of the Board by having the practice alluded to discontinued, except at the time set apart for religious instruction, if not school must be struck off.

September 29.—Inspector reports:—Every time the clock strikes the pupils say a prayer mentally and cross themselves.

November 12.—Board's Order on above:—

Advised to manager, Rev. E. Aylward, 22, 11, '58.

Again remind manager of the correspondence of the Board with him on the subject of the hourly religious exercise which takes place in this school, particularly of the letter of the secretaries, dated 31st July, written in pursuance of minute of 11th June, in which he was informed that unless the Commissioners received from him an assurance in writing that the practice of making the sign of the cross would be discontinued by the children, except at the time specified in the time table as set apart for religious instruction, they would be compelled to withdraw the grant of salary and strike the school off the roll.

Inform him now that unless the Commissioners receive a letter from him before the 10th December next, intimating that the practice referred to has been discontinued, and that he is prepared to carry out bona fide the rules of the Board, the grants will be at once withdrawn and the school removed from the roll.

December 10.—Board's Order on same document:—

Call attention to letter of 22, 11, '58, advising order of the Board 12, 11, '58, and state that, not having received any reply, the Commissioners have struck this school off the roll of National schools, and cancelled the grants. This order to take effect from and after 31st December, 1858.

8,035.—GORESBRIDGE, Female National School, County Kilkenny.

1858, October 22, Board's Order:—

Grant usual salary to convent school according to numbers, from 1st September, 1858. Books for 175.

The above grant made on condition that the hourly mental prayer, accompanied by the sign of the cross, shall be discontinued, and the general rule of the Board as to religious instruction strictly observed.

December 5.—Inspector reports that every time the clock strikes the pupils make the sign of the cross.

1859, June 8, on above:—

Manager informed of rule as to this practice, and reminded of condition on which grants were made to this school.

January 29.—LETTER from Rev. B. KINSELLA, P.P., Manager, Goresbridge.

January 29th, 1859.

GENTLEMEN,—My attention has been called to your letter stating that the Commissioners of Education will not continue the usual grant of books and salary to the Goresbridge Female National School unless the practice of hourly mental prayer, accompanied with the sign of the cross, be discontinued. I beg leave respectfully to remonstrate against the enforcement of this condition, and the severe penalty attached to its violation.

To bring the matter fully before the Commissioners, I must be allowed to state that this school has been in connexion with the Board from the time of its incorporation, that last May this school was placed under the direction of a community of nuns of the order of St. Bridget, that when this change was notified in the usual return made to the Commissioners previous to the payment of salary at the end of each quarter, the Secretary wrote an official letter, stating that this school was removed from the roll of the Board, but without giving any reason whatever for a step which to the uninitiated appeared to be very unreasonable, that after a considerable interval the secretaries transmitted a form of application to be filled up and returned if we desired to have the school re-connected with the National Board; the form was accurately filled up, and sent back to the secretaries, who sent a duplicate of said form to the District Inspector at Kilkenny, who visited the school, made his report thereof, and tested the accuracy of the statements made in the form of application.

The Inspector's report was followed by the letter which stated the Commissioners will not grant aid to the school, unless the sign of the cross, accompanied by hourly mental prayer, be discontinued.

I am convinced that the Commissioners have been led into a misconception of the nature of this practice itself, or of some exceptional circumstances, which render it peculiarly offensive in the Goresbridge school.

To remove such a misconception allow me to place before the Commissioners a correct statement of the character of the school, and the nature of the practice forbid by the Commissioners. As to the school itself, there neither is nor has been, nor is there likely to be, any uncatholic child in the school.

But should there be uncatholic pupils present it is not easy to imagine what special error could be disturbed, or hereditary prejudice wounded by making the sign of the cross—the use of the sign of the cross is long antecedent to any and every form of dissent actually existing. St. Paul gloried in the cross, and Tertullian assures us that the Christians of his time made the sign of the cross before and after each of the principal actions of the day.

The National Board includes in the programme of common instruction certain general abstract truths of Christianity. Now it is obviously impossible by any process of generalization or abstraction to exclude from Christianity the notion of the cross, and the fundamental mysteries of which it is the emblem and brief expression—namely, the unity of the Divine essence, the Trinity of persons, the incarnation and death of the second person of the adorable Trinity. Any one of these mysteries being denied, Christianity disappears, and therefore it would appear that a loyal respect for the principles of the Board, and logical development of their consequences would protect this practice.

Looking to the printed regulations of the Commissioners, it is impossible to place this practice even in apparent opposition to any of them, unless the 13th article, which forbids the secular business of the school to be interrupted by any religious exercise. This apparent opposition vanishes when tested by experience, for this practice in reality causes no interruption whatever to the secular business of the school. When the clock strikes the children make the sign of the cross, not uttering a word, nor suspending the business of the class for a moment, in so much that a person in the school listening to the classes, but not looking at the children, would be unable to perceive that it was done at all, so complete is the absence of any interruption to the secular business of the school by this practice.

But it may be asked, why introduce this practice into convent schools when it was unknown while these schools were under the direction of seculars? I answer, the children have not been expressly taught to do so, but they take up the practice from the example of the nuns who direct the school. This practice prevails in all convents. The members sign themselves with the cross every time the clock strikes, thereby referring the fleeting moments of life and the transitory occupations of time to the great interest of eternity. As the nuns carry this practice with them in the discharge of their school duties the children very naturally adopt the example.

It is respectfully hoped that the Commissioners will not require the nuns to abandon this venerable, salutary, and time-honoured practice, or impose upon them the duty of hourly remonstrating with the children for following their example. This would be to remove all the convent schools in Ireland from the rolls of the National Board, as this practice prevails in their schools.

Indeed the ladies now conducting the Goresbridge school have been conducting a school in connexion with the Board for years, and this practice prevailed in the school with the cognizance of the Board, yet they have received, and those now conducting the school, the usual aid in books and salary from the National Board.

The principles of the Board are unchanged—the Commissioners administer the important trust committed to them with consistency and impartiality, and therefore I cannot account for this new policy in regard to the female school at Goresbridge but by supposing that some misapprehension or misrepresentation —perhaps unintentional—exists in the minds of the Commissioners regarding it.

This must be my apology for trespassing at such length on the attention of the honorable Board.

I have the honour to be

Your obedient servant,

BERNARD KINSELLA, P.P., Manager.

To the Secretaries.

February 25, Board's Order on above :—

Inform writer that if the practice be not discontinued, and rules of Board observed, the Commissioners will be obliged to withdraw the grant from this school.

Remind him of the condition on which grant was made—Board's order, 22, 10, '58.

Advised 4, 3, '59.

1859, March 30.—LETTER from Rev. BERNARD KINSELLA, P.P., Manager, Goresbridge.

GENTLEMEN,—Allow me to acknowledge the receipt of yours of the 4th inst., stating that you had laid my remonstrance before the Commissioners and that they still adhere to their former resolution of withholding salary from the Goresbridge Female National School unless on the condition that the sign of the cross and hourly mental prayer be discontinued.

I regret that the National Board incorporated to superintend the education of the youth of Ireland, to guide them in the paths of knowledge and virtue, should assume this anti-Christian attitude and provoke the aversion and distrust of the people by undertaking an enterprise at once impious and ridiculous.

The Commissioners forbid the exercise of mental prayer. I hope they do not learn now for the first time that mental prayer is a purely internal act, or series of internal acts quite compatible with external occupations of a different nature. God alone is the searcher of hearts and the Judge of secret thoughts. He has never delegated to any human tribunal or legislator the power to control or judge such internal acts; even the Church, whose jurisdiction is more extensive than any or all human tribunals, in her external polity she does not venture to judge of internal acts. Ecclesia de internis non judicat.

This assumption on the part of the National Board would be merely ridiculous if it were not directed against an important Christian duty; no one who recognises the authority of Jesus Christ and his Apostles will deny the duty of a Christian to regulate his whole conduct in such a way as to please God and promote his own salvation—and if any one should deny this duty, let him commence a controversy with St. Paul who in the third chapter of his Epistles to the Colossians says :—"Omne quod cumque facitis in verbo aut in opere omnia in nomine domini Jesu Christi gratias agentes Deo et patri per ipsum." Whatever you do in word, or work, do all in the name of Jesus Christ, giving glory to God the Father through Him. The same apostle adds in another place—"Whether you eat or drink, or whatever else you do, do all for the glory of God;" from which it is manifest that even our natural actions are susceptible of a supernatural value. Yes, every moment of our waking lives, every moment that we have control over our actions we are meriting or demeriting, labouring for our salvation or against it. Well—one essential element of that miraculous process, a main spring of that divine mechanism whereby our actions are utterly raised out of our natural sphere, whereby our temporal occupations are placed in harmony with our eternal destiny. The means proportioned to the end, for not only is our end wholly supernatural but the means are also intrinsically proportioned to that end. Well, one indispensable disposition for this purpose is, that we refer our actions to God. It is impossible to lay down any uniform rule whereby to measure the intervals at which this reference of our actions to God must be renewed or repeated. St. Liguori who speaks of the explicit reference says:—"It ought to be sepius." Another grave authority seems to have expressed in the following sentence the only rule that can be laid down on the subject:—"Moralis institutio postulat ergo ut cum actiones omnes actu referre in Deum non possumus si quidem humanæ mentis vires excedet actu semper de Deo cogitare saltem frequentissime eas referramus ut nulla sit actio quo saltam vistute in ipsum non referatur." But whatever may be said about the frequency of these internal acts whereby we refer our conduct to God, no one who recognises a connexion between the natural and supernatural life of a Christian, no one who believes that the present life has reference to the future and that his eternal rewards and punishments depend on his temporal conduct will deny the vast importance of having the young Christian mind well trained in the knowledge and practice of a principle necessary to give a supernatural value to his actions.

This is the design of the practice prevalent in all convent schools—the children renew the internal oblation of their acts every time they hear the clock strike—an oblation which does not require any external word, act, or sign whatever, this is the practice which the Commissioners prohibit in their memorable decree against hourly mental prayer in the female school at Goresbridge—and you now ask me to say whether I will accept this decree: you will find the answer in a parallel case, where a certain corporate body feeling some alarm for the stability of their position, the loss of honour and emolument, and blinded by their hatred of certain doctrines that were being propagated amongst the people—these gentlemen caused certain humble priests to be brought before them, and having treated them with ignominy they sent them away with the command that they should not teach any more in the name of Jesus: but Peter and John answering them said to them—"If it be just in the sight of God to hear you rather than God, judge ye."—Acts iv., 19.

The elders of the synagogue don't seem to have such extravagant notions of their jurisdiction as the Commissioners of National Education—they don't interfere with the freedom of thought—whereas the Commissioners will go into the hearts of the pupils, control the free actions of their thoughts, saying, you shall not practice hourly mental prayer.

And it appears you have not even one Gamaliel among the Commissioners who might restrain them in this absurd attempt to control the secret thoughts of their pupils—the Commissioners have at least the merit of originality in this enterprise.

But not so in their warfare against the cross; no, they have had many and distinguished predecessors in this work—all the Roman Emperors from Tiberius to Constantine fought against it—Mahommed, Tamerlane, and Attila fought on the same side, indeed the world has never failed for nearly two thousand years to supply enemies to the cross, their myriad ranks stretch in close succession from the Sanhedrim at Jerusalem to the National Board at Marlborough-street. History records the result of many campaigns in this warfare. The Roman Empire with all its force attacked the disciples of the cross in all their weakness, by violence and seduction, for three hundred years—they were slaughtered like sheep, and the Roman Government, after having butchered the disciples of the cross for so long a period, confessed itself vanquished, lowered its eagles before the standard of redemption, and adored the crucified.

In three hundred years more the cross triumphed over the barbarous tribes who subverted the Roman Empire—civilizing and converting them into zealous and devoted disciples; and now after nineteen hundred years the same sacred standard receives the veneration of Christendom and maintains its triumph over paganism, and heresy, and impiety, and barbarism, and false science, and godless instruction; it continues to teach and to profess throughout the universe a sublimity of doctrine and a perfection of morality unknown to the sect, or to the school in ancient or modern times; often during these two thousand years have the enemies of the cross promised themselves a complete triumph in their impious warfare.

Bajazet was at the head of 800,000 armed men, Christendom sued for peace, but the haughty sultan replied that by the next Christmas Day he would stable and feed his horses on the high altar of St. Peter's at Rome. In a few months after he was defeated on the Plains of Ancyra and made prisoner. When Christmas Day arrived Bajazet was shut up in an iron cage, carried about for the amusement and derision of Tamerlane's army, whereas the cross and the altar of St. Peter's never was more brilliantly and gloriously illuminated than on that same Christmas Day, 1401.

It is not yet a hundred years since the most distinguished apostles of mixed or godless instruction were continually repeating that the Cross and its teaching had been established in the world by twelve fishermen, and they offered a wager that they would destroy it. They were endowed with eloquence and genius, they called to their assistance the sciences, fine arts, literature, prose, and poetry. The world applauded their efforts. Sovereigns, statesmen, nobles, and magistrates became their accomplices. One of their leaders said, "If I had 100,000 men I know what I would do." They obtained more than they asked. Universal France, with its immense military power, was placed at their disposal to regenerate Europe. Immediately religion is proscribed, her temples profaned, her exercises derided, her ministers murdered or exiled. Within their jurisdiction God or his Son Jesus Christ was not to be named. Such are the natural fruits, the logical results of godless instruction, because banish the idea of God from the mind of man, shut out heaven and hell from his view; and he immediately falls under the dominion of his ferocious passions and animal instincts, and then sanguinary chaos is inevitable.

After the sovereigns and statesmen and nobles and magistrates of France and Spain and Portugal and Naples had paid the terrible retribution justly due to their complicity in the godless confederation against Catholic education, the Cross and its teaching have again resumed their sublime and beneficent influence in each of these countries.

The Commissioners of National Education seem to have improved the godless machinery of the French directory, for they not only prohibit the reverent expression of the sacred name, but they will not even permit while under their jurisdiction, that is, during the hours of combined instruction, they will not permit the pupils of the National schools even to think of God.

"Hourly mental prayer shall be discontinued."

It is not unlikely that some of the Commissioners may feel uncomfortable to find themselves placed in practical and prospective companionship with Nero, Julian, Tamerlane, Voltaire, Rosseau, and Robespierre. A murmur may be heard issuing from the Board-room complaining in accents of hurt innocence that anyone should suspect their loyalty to the faith or their veneration for the Cross. In tearing it away from the nuns and their pupils the Commissioners only yield a reluctant assent to the necessities of their official position, but as men and as Christians they respect the Cross. If this distinction has any real force mankind have been unjust towards the memory of the Emperor Trajan by regarding him as a persecutor of the Christians, for we find in his instructions to Pliny the Younger, Governor of Pontus, that the Christians were not to be sought out, that informers were not to be encouraged, but if Christians were officially brought before him they should be punished. As a man and a citizen you must respect people who are innocent of every crime and fulfil the duties of loyal subjects, but as an officer of the empire you must punish them.

Again, the Chinese Mandarins, in their private capacity, in some cases at least, are kind and indulgent to their Christian neighbours, and they have no personal hostility to the Cross; but when these same Christian neighbours are denounced before their tribunals, yielding a reluctant assent to the necessities of their official position, the Mandarins give the Christians the alternative to trample on the Cross or to forfeit their lives. In the same way a section of the Commissioners, individually as Christians and Catholics they venerate the Cross, but as Commissioners of Education they will not permit this sacred sign to offend their official presence in the schools during the hours of combined instruction. Now if this distinction holds for the Commissioners and Inspectors of National Education, why not extend the benefit of it to the Roman Emperor and the Chinese mandarin, the principle is identically the same, the application is different in form and extent.

I hope this official sophistry will be unravelled ere its dupes or victims shall appear before the tribunal of Him who has said, "Whosoever shall deny me before men I will deny him before my Father who is in heaven."

Deep and premeditated hostility to the convent schools seem to have directed the policy of the National Board in this movement against the sign of the Cross and "hourly mental prayer."

Some of these schools are in connexion with the National Board for more than twenty years, and the practice now proscribed prevailed in these schools all this time, if not with the express approval, at least with the avowed cognizance of the Board and its officials. Now, when the religious and their pupils are committed to the practice, when long use, prescription, has given it the authority of law, the Commissioners come forward and say this custom must cease. If the nuns refuse we shall have the satisfaction of withholding from them that portion of the public funds to which they are entitled as the most zealous, competent, and successful instructors of the poor; but if they submit and give up the practice then we shall have the satisfaction of humbling them before their pupils and before the public by leading them into an unworthy and scandalous compromise of their religious freedom and fidelity to the Cross, all the better as it shall seem to be done for mercenary considerations.

It appears the Commissioners have had satisfactions in both senses, and that from some unworthy and unbecoming concessions they already calculate on such a complete triumph in their crusade against the Cross as will bring shame and humiliation upon the religious communities of the country by placing them in the position of apostates from the Cross of Jesus Christ.

Renounce the Cross or you shall forfeit your life, says the Mandarin to the Chinese Christian. Renounce the Cross or you shall forfeit the aid of the National Board, say the Commissioners to the Irish nuns.

But unless the present religious communities be very unworthy representatives of the old religious orders who formerly made Ireland an island of saints, the Commissioners are doomed to disappointment, not unlike that of the old Pagan officers of Julian the apostate.

One day shortly after the last persecuting edict of Julian appeared, two pagan officers were coming out of the old Byzantium conversing about the severity and probable success of the edict. They met a respectable Christian, and addressing him in a tone of insolent blasphemy, they said to him—"What is the carpenter doing now?"

The emperor was sick at the time, and the Christian satirically replied—"He is making a coffin for the emperor;" and the emperor died that same day.

Now, in place of a triumph, it is not unlikely that this crusade against the Cross may make a grave for the National Board, and if so, the people of Ireland will not be either surprised or grieved.

Gentlemen, I have the honor to be your obedient servant,

BERNARD KINSELLA, P.P., Manager.

P.S.—Should you observe any misstatement or misrepresentation in this letter, I shall be happy to be corrected at your earliest convenience, as I intend to publish it.

May 20, Board's Order on LETTER dated 11th May, 1859, from Rev. BERNARD KINSELLA, P.P., Manager.

As the condition upon which school was taken into connexion has not been complied with, namely, the discontinuance of practice of making the sign of the cross every time the clock strikes, and as manager states he is not prepared to comply with rule of Board on this point, Commissioners have directed that school be struck off roll and cancelled grants; the salary will, however, be paid to 31st May, '59.

1857, March 4, Inspector Reports:—I found the school closed, and upon calling on the manager I was informed that, owing to the illness of the person who conducted the school, as well as from the falling off of the attendance, he had considered it desirable to amalgamate this school with that of the Clara Male Preparatory National School.

He stated that the school was to remain permanently closed.

1857, August 6.—LETTER from Mrs. RUSSELL, Manager.

Sienna Convent National School, Drogheda,
Co. Louth, August 6, 1857.

GENTLEMEN,—I beg to inform you that the community of Sienna Convent withdraw the Sienna female National school from further connexion with the National Board of Education.

Part of the requisites on reduced prices and school apparatus still remain. How are we to act concerning these?

I am, gentlemen, your obedient servant,

CATHERINE RUSSELL, Manager,
Prioress of Sienna Convent.

August 14, Board's Order on above:—

Strike off roll No 6,553, and cancel grants from the 16th August instant, school having been withdrawn from connexion with Board.

The requisites obtained at reduced rates by community may be retained.

4,085.—KELLS Female, County Meath.

1852, May 13, Inspector Reports:—When every hour is struck, pupils make the sign of the cross, and repeat some words. I asked Mrs. Delamere if she did not consider such a practice a religious exercise?

She replied—"It is a religious act." All the children are Roman Catholics. Mrs. Delamere said that the practice referred to would be discontinued if there were any but Roman Catholics in school-room.

All Board's books are used, also books published by Christian Brothers. Only the paying pupils use books published by Christian Brothers. I mentioned to Mrs. Delamere that as these books were sectarian in character, I apprehended Commissioners would not sanction their use. She at once said she would remove them from the school.

September 1, Inspector Reports:—When the clock struck one (and again at two) the pupils instantly became silent, made the sign of the cross, apparently repeated some words, and then crossed themselves again. This exercise occupied about two minutes.

September 2.—Letter from Mrs. Delamere, Manager, Convent of the Sisters of Mercy, Kells.

To the Secretaries:

I feel it necessary to request that Mr. Newell (Inspector) will be directed, when visiting these schools (as on yesterday), not to be giving expression to what he may consider will be the result of his wishes not being complied with when here, namely, "That the salary for teachers will be delayed;" "that we will hear from the Commissioners." I at all times found that the respected Commissioners treated us with respect and courtesy, notwithstanding the reports of Inspectors, who may make what kind they please.

I imagine by this time an unfavourable report has been made of one of these schools. It should be remarked that the advanced girls are away earning at the harvest; that those in the second school had got a holiday, the teacher of it being particularly engaged. This will account for the backwardness of those examined, and the small number present; besides, the one school was just opened after vacation, when pupils never return at once, which left but 128 present for Mr. Newell's inspection. The average attendance in report book for the last half year is precisely the same as hitherto, 238.

I remain, sincerely,

M. C. Delamere.

September 14, on above:—

Inspector, Mr. Newell, called on for explanation.

September 15.—Letter from Inspector, Mr. Newell.

Trim.

Gentlemen,—In reply to your letter of yesterday's date, calling upon me to reply to the charges made by Mrs. Delamere in her note of the 2nd of September, I beg to state that, if in a matter purely personal one can offer an opinion free from prejudice or from misconstruction through want of judgment, I feel convinced that so far from having exhibited a want of courtesy towards the ladies of the Kells Convent on the occasion of my last inspection, I erred through too much courtesy. Had I been silent Mrs. Delamere could scarcely have said that I made any remark, but as I found the school accounts in a most confused and inexcusable state of disorder, I remarked to one of the ladies present, "how much I regretted it, as I feared such a state of things might delay payment of salary in a school where salary was paid according to numbers." These were very nearly the words I used, and the lady to whom I made this remark said that they had always found me most kind and courteous, and Mrs. Delamere on former occasions acknowledged the same. She has misconstrued my language. There are few statements that will not in a garbled form admit of a different meaning. To satisfy the Commissioners, I distinctly and emphatically deny that I had any idea of treating Mrs. Delamere with discourtesy, and without attributing motives, which, however, are too apparent, I must add that she has grossly wronged me. Those who know me know that I would not treat any lady with discourtesy, and I have made it a rule not to lose my temper in discharge of my public duty. I am only surprised that Mrs. Delamere has not charged me with loss of temper, which under the circumstances might have appeared to be natural.

I am, gentlemen, your very obedient servant,

W. H. Newell.

September 17, Board's Order on Letter from Mrs. Delamere, dated 2, 9, '52.

Inform writer that having called on Mr. Newell for explanation as to the want of courtesy complained of, he assures the Commissioners that nothing was further from his intention, and that on the contrary he always treated the ladies of the convent with the greatest courtesy and respect, and that they must have misinterpreted his language on the occasion referred to. Commissioners consider his explanation satisfactory.

Advised 30, 9, '52.

1853, July 28.—Circular to Inspectors (Board's Order, 15, 4, '53.

Education Office.

Sir,—The Commissioners of National Education having had before them reports on various convent and other National schools under Roman Catholic managers, from which it appears that the children in attendance at those schools are required to repeat either audibly or mentally the prayer called the "Angelus Domini" each day at twelve o'clock, have ordered that in cases where the above-named prayer is said audibly the manager be required to have it notified on the time table as a portion of the time set apart for religious instruction, the Commissioners being of opinion that it comes within the term of paragraph 7, section ii., of their rules and regulations, which states that the rule as to religious instruction applies to public prayer and all other religious exercises.

We are further to state that the "religious instruction tablet," should be hung up during the repetition of the prayer referred to.

We are, sir, your obedient servants,

Maurice Cross,
J. Kelly, } Secretaries.

September 14.—Circular to Inspectors.

Board's Order, September 14, '53.

Education Office.

Sir,—The Commissioners having reconsidered their order advised to you by our circular of 28th July last regarding the prayer called the "Angelus Domini," have passed the following amended minute in reference thereto:—

"That the 'Angelus Domini' and all other religious exercises requiring a suspension of the ordinary business of the school when they take place come within the rule as to religious instruction, and must be publicly notified on the time table of the school."

The Commissioners direct that you will communicate this order to the managers of those schools in which the above regulation is not strictly adhered to.

When religious instruction is given, or prayer or other religious exercises take place at an intermediate period during the usual school hours, and that practical inconvenience arises therefrom to the children of any religious denomination, you are to report the facts of each case for the information of the Board.

You are to observe that it is not necessary (unless the patrons of the schools desire it) to specify on the time table the precise nature of the religious instruction imparted at the time or times set apart for it.

We are, sir, your obedient servants,

M. Cross,
J. Kelly, } Secretaries.

September 24, LETTER from Mr. HUNTER, District Inspector.

Trim.

GENTLEMEN,—With reference to your letter of the 14th inst., I beg to state that on the 23rd I visited the Kells Female National School, in order to ascertain what were the present arrangements for imparting religious instruction.

I find that the time set apart and specified in the time table is from ¾ past 11 till ¾ past 12, and from 2⅞ till 3. These arrangements appear to be the same as were in existence in September, 1852, when Mr. Newell reported on the school. I have always considered that an intermediate portion of time was inconvenient for religious instruction, as such an arrangement is likely to interfere with and interrupt the secular business of the school.

I find, moreover, that in the Kells Female National School there is a religious exercise every hour which is not specified in the time table. This takes place at the stroke of the clock, and consists in each child making the sign of the cross. It appears evident that this is a religious exercise coming within the terms of paragraph 7, section 2, of the Commissioners' rules, and it will be for the Board to decide whether it is not to be regarded as a violation of the rule in the third paragraph of the same section, which states that the time (for religious instruction, including all religious exercises) must be so fixed that "no child shall be thereby, in effect, excluded, directly or indirectly, from the other advantages which the school affords."

It appears to me that the necessary "effect" of engaging in any religious exercise which is peculiar to one denomination of Christians at the stroke of a clock, and in the midst of the ordinary business, must be to exclude children of other denominations from the school.

I have the honour to remain, gentlemen,

Your obedient servant,

W. A. HUNTER, District Inspector.

November 4, LETTER to Mr. HUNTER, Inspector.

Board's Order, 21, 10, '53.

Education Office.

SIR,—Your letter of the 24th September last, in reference to the arrangement for religious instruction in the Kells Female National School, having been laid before the Board, we are to direct that you communicate with the correspondent, Mrs. Delamere, and state for her information that the Commissioners object to prayers or other religious exercises taking place at several times during the ordinary school hours, that much practical inconvenience might result from the arrangement to children of other religious denominations if they attend the school, or might possibly prevent them from attending, and that under such circumstances it will be necessary to have the prayer referred to, and the other religious exercises to which you advert, confined to some definite portion of the day, to be set apart for religious instruction, which time should be notified on the time table.

The rule as to religious instruction applies to public prayer, and to all other religious exercises.

We are, sir, your obedient servants,

W. CROSS, } Secretaries.
J. KELLY, }

To W. A. Hunter, Esq., Inspector.

November 14, LETTER from Mr. HUNTER, Inspector.

Trim.

GENTLEMEN,—Referring to your letter of the 4th inst., relative to the arrangements for religious instruction in the Kells Female National School, I beg to state that I took the opportunity which was afforded by my inspection of the school (on the 11th inst.) of communicating personally with Mrs. Delamere, the patroness and correspondent.

It appears that religious instruction (considered strictly as instruction) is confined to the mid-day hour while there is a short prayer at opening and closing, Mrs. Delamere is willing to arrange so that these prayers shall take place before ten and after three, thus placing them out of the limit of the regular school hours.

As regards the use of the sign of the cross at the expiration of every hour, she cannot consent to relinquish this exercise at present without special consideration.

I left extracts from your letter of the 4th inst. in the "Observation Book" of the school.

I have the honour to be, gentlemen,

Your obedient servant,

W. A. HUNTER, District Inspector.

December 14, Board's Order on above:—

Manager advised, 21, 12, '53.

Inform manager that this letter has been laid before the Board, in which it is stated—"As regards the use of the sign of the cross at the expiration of every hour, she cannot consent to relinquish this exercise at present without special consideration."

"I left extracts from your letter of the 4th inst. in the Observation Book of the school."

The Commissioners are of opinion that the practice referred to is a religious ceremonial, and so far, partakes of the nature of a religious exercise, which, in accordance with their rule, can only take place at the time devoted to separate religious instruction, and under the conditions set forth in the regulations of the Board, The Commissioners, therefore, feel themselves compelled to require that the practice be discontinued during the hours of general business.

1853, November 11, Inspector reports:—Inscription, "National School," not on the house—over a gateway at the side—not conspicuous from the street.

In the large school-room the National books are used; in the small room, besides these, there are geography and grammar compiled by the Christian Brothers, also a Catechism of Scripture History compiled by the Sisters of Mercy.

1854, March 15, on above:—

Inspector to state if the books referred to of Christian Brothers and Catechism of Scripture History, compiled by Sisters of Mercy, are objectionable as books for united instruction, and if the use of them is restricted to time for religious instruction, or if used at time for literary instruction; also to state if inscription is on the same part of the building as it always was, and if gateway over which it is placed is the entrance to the school.

March 25.—LETTER from Mr. HUNTER, Inspector.

Trim.

GENTLEMEN,—I have the honour to reply to your letter of the 15th instant, relative to books used in the Kells Female National school, in which you request me to state if the books of the Christian Brothers and the Catechism of Scripture History, compiled by the Sisters of Mercy are objectionable as books for secular instruction, and if the use of them be restricted to the time for religious instruction.

As to the latter inquiry, I have to state that the books referred to are used at the time for literary instruction.

In attempting to answer the former part of your inquiry, I submit that it will be much more convenient to adopt a general principle than to examine and discuss the merits of particular books, with reference to which different Inspectors would, no doubt, entertain different views.

The general principle which I would respectfully suggest would be that, all books brought out under the sanction and authority of one denomination of Christians exclusively should be regarded as de facto the books of a party or class; and that consequently they should be excluded during the time of general instruction; this principle would apply with especial force to any selection of Scripture, or books of a religious character compiled for the especial use of one denomination of Christians and bearing their name.

My opinion consequently is that, leaving out of view the contents of any book, the circumstance of a denominational designation is sufficient to render it objectionable, the objection being somewhat similar to that which goes to exclude all party colours or emblems from a National school.

With reference to the inscription, I was informed that it was placed in its present position in order to make it more conspicuous than it could be when over a side entrance, where it originally was; this change was made, as I understand, some years ago and no removal has taken place since; the gateway forms the entrance for the poorer class of the children attending the school.

I have the honour to be, gentlemen,

Your obedient servant,

W. A. Hunter, District Inspector.

April 3, on above :—

Manager informed that the use of the books in question during the time for literary instruction, is contrary to rule; requested to state if she is willing to conform to rule, and have their use during that time discontinued in future.

April 4.—Letter from Mrs. Delamere, Manager, Convent of the Sisters of Mercy, Kells.

Sir,—In reply to yours of the 3rd inst., I have to state that I do not feel that the rules of the Board have been deviated from.

I was under the impression that the Board did not prohibit the use of books not published by it for literary instruction.

Please let me know have I been misinformed, as we use other books, such as the arithmetic and grammar compiled by the Christian Brothers, from their being considered of superior excellence to convey instruction to those advanced pupils, in the second school who are able to purchase them for their literary improvement.

I remain, yours, &c., &c.,

M. C. Delamere.

May 3, on above :—

Manager informed that the use of the books in question during the time for literary instruction is considered objectionable, and it is requested that they may be discontinued—requested to state if she will cause their use to be discontinued.

May 22.—Letter from Mrs. Delamere, Manager, Convent of the SS. of Mercy, Kells.

Sir,—In reply to your letter of the 3rd inst., directing me to have the books adverted to by the Inspector discontinued, and at the same time to inform you that I have complied with such orders, I have to state that I have no objection to confine the use of the Scripture Catechism to the time specified for religious instruction, as it is not a book on account of the questions suited to give pupils a finished style of reading.

Regarding the Christian Brothers' books being suited to convey literary instruction, I am not disposed to withdraw them. Should the Commissioners insist on it, I shall be necessarily obliged to conduct the school (in which they are used) solely under my own guidance. It can be very easily accomplished, as it is a distinct building from the school where none but National books are used during the time of literary instruction.

I regret the exactness of the Board, as it goes to support those who are desirous that I should completely cut off from it, and who wish on accomplishing it, to give publicity to the act, with the reasons.

I remain, truly,

M. C. Delamere.

June 16, Board's Order on above :—

Both school-rooms being within the precincts of the convent and both schools poor schools, Commissioners consider that they should be conducted on the same principle and use the same books. Manager is now to state whether she will discontinue the use of the Christian Brothers' books and catechism of Sisters of Mercy in both schools. Advised 20, 6, '54.

1854, October 13, Inspector Reports :—The use of the sign of the cross when the clock strikes is still continued and no promise is made that it will be given up. I was accompanied in my visit by Mr. Kavanagh, the Head Inspector, who urged upon the ladies who manage the school the necessity of conforming to the regulation in this point. They seem to regard any change in this respect as quite impracticable, being in opposition to religious views and convictions.

November 10, Board's Order on above :—

Inform Mrs. Delamere that as it appears from this report that she declines to direct that the sign of the cross be discontinued by the children in accordance with strong conscientious convictions and religious views; and as the Commissioners have already informed her of their rule on this point, they will be under the necessity of removing the school from the roll on 30th inst., unless she in the meantime informs them that she feels at liberty to comply with the regulation as already explained. Written to 15, 11, '54.

November 26.—Letter from Mrs. M. C. Delamere, Manager.

Gentlemen,—I beg to acknowledge your communication of the 15th inst., stating the Inspector's report of the 13th ultimo, as follows :—"The sign of the cross when the clock strikes is still continued, and no promise made that it will be given up. I was accompanied in my visit by Mr. Kavanagh, the Head Inspector, who urged upon the ladies who manage this school the necessity of conforming to the regulation on this point. They seemed to regard any change in this respect as quite impracticable, being in opposition to religious views and convictions."

And, moreover, stating "that the grant of salary, &c., shall be withdrawn unless the practice in question be discontinued."

In reply, I have to state that those Inspectors had no conversation with me on the 13th ultimo, as I was then ill; and on Mr. Kavanagh sending a message to me on the matter in question, I replied I was unable to transact business of any kind. Still a decided report was sent by Mr. Hunter from the managers of the school! My answer in 1853 was that "I would consider the practice ere I would give a reply." But the Commissioners did not think well of giving me time to do so, as they forwarded different letters "compelling" me to yield. However, I thought well of taking time to consider, and on having done so I now say that I see nothing which makes it obligatory on me to require the children to make the sign of the cross when the clock strikes, nor do I mean to enforce it. I think it proper to observe that from inquiries which I have made of other communities that the rule, whatever may be its import, is sought to be enforced with special strictness here; and in conclusion I have to complain that Mr. Kavanagh, in his zeal for the enforcement of rule, exceeded both in manner and the tenor of his observations the moderation due to his office and to persons in our position.

I remain, &c., &c.,

M. C. Delamere.

December 12, Board's Order on above :—

Final decision on the case postponed for the present. Meantime a copy of the last paragraph in allusion to Mr. Kavanagh is to be sent to him (Mr. K.) for any observations he has to offer in explanation of this statement. Advised 6, 1, '55, to Mr. K.

1855, February 8.—Letter from Head Inspector Mr. Kavanagh.

Gentlemen,—I beg leave to submit the following reply to your letter of the 6th ult. in explanation of the complaint made against me by Mrs. Delamere in connexion with my visit to the Kells female (convent) National school in October last.

I deeply regret that, acting on incorrect information, arising doubtless from haste and over sensitiveness on the part of one of the ladies who accompanied me during my visit, and who alone can have made the report, Mrs. Delamere should credit such a statement. It is only not true, but the very reverse is the truth. I have had the pleasure of Mrs. Delamere's acquaintance for the last fifteen years, and it pains me to think that her health should be so delicate as to make her forget my unwearied exertions, official and extra-official, both for the Tullamore school and for the Kells school during that period, and also forget the pains and trouble I have taken to reconcile the community over which she presides, and the clergy connected therewith to the requirements of the Board's rules in the case of the Kells school.

I remain, gentlemen, your obedient servant,

J. W. Kavanagh.

The Secretaries, Education Office.

February 23rd.—Board's Order on letter 26, 11, '54, from Mrs. Delamere, with letter 8, 2, '55 from Head Inspector, Mr. Kavanagh.

Inform Mrs. Delamere that the Commissioners are of opinion Mr. Kavanagh did not act discourteously on the occasion referred to, nor had he any intention of treating the ladies with disrespect; that with reference to the recital of the prayer, &c., whenever the clock strikes, the rule of the Board prohibiting the practice except at the time set apart for religious instruction is of universal application, and that the Commissioners trust she will take steps to insure its faithful observance in the school under her charge, as otherwise they will be under the painful necessity of withdrawing the grant of salary.

Advised, 20, 3, '58.

April 13. Letter from Mrs. Delamere, Manager :—

Convent of Sisters of Mercy, Kells.

Gentlemen,—In reply to yours of the 20th March, I have merely to state that there is no public prayer recited in this school, but at the times stated in the "time table," namely, before and after school, and from a quarter to twelve to a quarter to one. As long as we shall leave the school connected with the Board, I do not mean to object to a rule of "universal application," consequently universal in practice. But, whilst connected with the Board I feel it my duty to save the members of this community from being offended by an Inspector, as I may expect a repetition of his expressions, from the Commissioners deciding that he did not act "discourteously."

Whilst I say so, I by no means wish to extort an apology, or to hear any more about the matter.

I remain, sincerely,

M. C. Delamere.

1856, December 12, Inspector reports :—No copy of "general lesson" in school—not used—no substitute. Pupils make the sign of the cross, and have mental prayer every time the clock strikes.

1857, January 9, Board's Order on above :—

Ordered, that after a careful review of the case, and under the circumstances now reported the school be removed from the roll of National schools, and all grants thereto cancelled from 1st February, 1857.

901.—Coote-street, Male—Queen's County.

1854, September 15.—Board's Order on quarterly return for quarter ended 31st March, 1854, notifying appointment of Mr. Delany, a monk, from 1st of March, 1854, in room of lay teacher.

Ordered, that the Commissioners decline to sanction the appointment of a monk as teacher of an ordinary National school, as contra-distinguished from a school conducted by a religious community.

Pay salary to 30th September, 1854.

Written to 2, 10, '54.

October 16.—Letter from manager, in reply to above order, sent to Inspector, with directions to wait on the writer, without delay, and acquaint that gentleman that the Secretaries are unable to decipher his writing; to request that manager will communicate to him (Inspector) the different points of the letter which he is to return to the office with the necessary information. Copy of Board's Order, 15th September, 1854, enclosed to Inspector.

October 28.—Letter from Mr. Molloy, District Inspector, Athy.

Gentlemen,—I beg to return the accompanying letter from Rev. P. Fitzpatrick of Mountrath, and to refer you to the following copy I have made of it, which will, I trust, enable you to deal with the matter without requiring a special visit on my part to that gentleman.

Mountrath, Queen's County,
October 4, 1854.

Gentlemen,—I regret very much to receive from you an ex parte statement of our National male school, in Coote-street; when built through my exertions and that of the monks of this town, not Jesuits, not Christian Brothers, but the sodality of St. Patrick, here and in Tullow, county Carlow, under the immediate charge of Dr. Haly, our Bishop, myself, P.P. here, his lordship in Tullow, in administration.

After the failure of your first class teachers in our school here I went over to Mr. Dawson, the principal of our schools, saying, I give it up to your establishment, you have Mr. Marshall, engineer, from Paris Irish College, Professor, Mr. Kennedy, classical teacher, and many others who attend that school; I merely mentioned S. Delany, one of the teachers who has been trained in your establishment, who is a constant fixture to call your attention; I am a correspondent or manager for the concern.

The Local Inspector, different from my friends, Messrs. Sheahan and Graham and many others since I came to the locality, made a report, without seeing me, or waiting even on me in common courtesy, or writing to me on the subject, made his report; now, I think, gentlemen, this is ex parte. There is not a better conducted school (than) that and the nuns' female school in all your different districts. I request an investigation on the whole matter; send a competent Inspector who will spend some day or time in our district; he can be the best judge.

As far as we can we clothe the children of both schools, they pay not a penny for the schooling; we attend there—myself, curate Rev. Mr. Dunn, monks, nuns, all I may say daily to our National schools. Dean Kennedy acts with us as manager to some of our schools; the rector at our parish and we pull well together, except the Kilbricken, Mooney's school—all Roman Catholic children, teachers same, no Catholic or religious instruction given—this I reported by direction of Dr. Haly; and regarding, some time back, also, John Crea, paid teacher of Coote-street National School, has not his pension for nearly the last twelve months—this, also, I cannot understand.

This report I now send in a rough way, being out all day on a severe duty. Delany's name was mentioned casually from what I expressed before; and I expect the pension will, on this explanation—will, in the same terms—be still continued. If not, with every deference to you, gentlemen—after receiving many kindnesses from your hands—I will refer the correspondence and the whole matter to my bishop. Pardon all the liberty I take with you in this hurried manner.

With much respect, I remain, gentlemen,

Your very obliged and humble servant,

P. FITZPATRICK, P.P.

Mountrath, 11 o'clock.

I will tire out your patience in this long letter.

The above on comparison will be found to be a fair copy of Mr. Fitzpatrick's letter; and now I beg to say in explanation of his charge, that I was "wanting in courtesy" to him, that I understood from both Mr. Dalton and Mr. Delany that Mr. F. was not at home, and therefore did not call. On the following day the superioress of the convent told me that he was at home, and I then signified to her my intention of calling in the evening on my return from Kilbricken. From these schools I did not get back until 5 o'clock or after, and then found I would not have time to wait on this gentleman, as I was obliged to catch the train for Maryboro', so as to get home that night for the inspection of the model schools following day; before leaving, however, I wrote in the most courteous terms I could command, a note of apology and explanation referring to the several statements of Messrs. Dalton, Delany, and the Superioress, and giving my reasons why I could not call on that occasion; I also referred to the fact of having found the Oak School, closed on the day before, and this letter I can prove came into Mr. Fitzpatrick's hands; so much then for my want of common courtesy.

My diary for that week, to which I beg to refer, will show how and when I was engaged, and in answer to the demand for an investigation, I beg to say that I am ready at a moment's warning.

Now, as regards Delany—my recollection of the account he gave me is that he was trained at his own expense in '39; after which he left for Chicago in America (still, if I mistake not, in connexion with this religious body). Having returned for some cause he was selected to conduct this school on the resignation of the former teacher.

Mr. Dalton, to whom reference has been made, is the head at Mountrath of these "Brothers of St. Patrick," and they all reside at the monastery lower down in the same street where they have a boarding school, and where Mr. Dalton, who was present at my inspection, asked me down to lunch in the absence of Mr. Fitzpatrick, which I respectfully declined.

With regard to the refusal of the Commissioners to sanction Delany's appointment, I beg to remind you that Bernard Holten, one of these same "Brothers of St. Patrick," has been receiving a salary as teacher of the Tullow National School, county Carlow, for several years; so, of course, Mr. Fitzpatrick judges he is entitled at Mountrath, when you give it to Dr. Haly, Roman Catholic Bishop, at Tullow.

I trust I have now met; and explained to your satisfaction everything in this letter, which would seem to inculpate me, and believing that I have not done anything to merit censure, I leave my case in your hands, when replying to Mr. Fitzpatrick.

I have the honour to be, Gentlemen,

Your obedient servant,

JOHN MOLLOY, District Inspector.

The Secretaries, &c., &c.

1855, March 21.—LETTER from Rev. P. FITZPATRICK, P.P.

GENTLEMEN,—From all this parish of Clonenagh we sent receipts and got stamps, and the money in the usual way, but No. 901 Male Coote-street National School—no reply to that. You have before you the report of Mr. Molloy, Inspector of the locality—and Mr. Wilson, I believe from their report—all right. This school I built myself, with the assistance of Mr. Dawson—daily attended by self and curate, and some of that establishment (the monks) joining that National school. Stephen J. Delany, the present man there during the harvest. From the report of your subalterns, you, gentlemen, may learn more.

If you wish I will (do) as in Tullow, in our diocese, transfer it to Mr. Dawson as manager.

If you wish to sever us from the National school establishment, send me a full reply, as I must furnish it to my bishop, Dr. Haly of Braganza, on that return, as he is general patron of all the schools in Kildare and Leighlin diocese. Be kind enough, gentlemen, to send the cause of the detachment of this school from your National Board at Marlborough-street, until I forward your document to him (the bishop)—Tullow, county Carlow, one of his parishes, is similarly circumstanced; so, gentlemen, whoever you appoint as guardian, whether Dr. Haly or Mr. Dawson a most working (man) who had a school under you; make the selection, as I want to reply to Bishop Haly's letter on the subject as soon as possible. I don't like him or myself to make any application just now to the Commissioners, as I am sure from this report and from the return of the Inspector you will give me a favourable reply. Now you know from former statements we do all in our power to clothe the poor children in both schools, so don't drive us to extremes.

P. FITZPATRICK, P.P.

May 9.—LETTER from Rev. P. FITZPATRICK, P.P.

GENTLEMEN,—I beg to remind you that the salary of the teacher of the Coote-street Male National school has been very irregularly paid for the last year and half. This school is and has been in constant connexion with the National Board for nearly twenty-five years. During that long period it has been in constant operation and maintained on high average; the rules of the Board have been exactly observed. The reports of Inspectors have been uniformly favourable and premiums been frequently granted for the cleanly and orderly manner in which the house has been kept and the school conducted.

The ordinary returns have been made by me every quarter, but I have not received for the last two quarters a blank receipt for salary of teacher as in the case of the other schools of which I am manager. There are, therefore, two quarters due, to which we are entitled according to the rules of the Board. This salary I look on as a right of the school, which I cannot consent to surrender without making every effort to retain it.

I have the honour to be,

Your obedient servant,

P. FITZPATRICK, P.P.

To Messrs. Cross, Kelly, } Secretaries.

September 12.—LETTER from Rev. P. FITZPATRICK, Manager.

GENTLEMEN,—You promised to write to me on the result of the inquiry of the male school in Coote-street, as on my late visit it was stated to me that it was against a recent regulation to allow a monk although trained in your establishment as Mr. Stephen Delany was (even at that time a monk) unless the school-house and premises was on their own holding. To obviate this objection, I have legally transferred this school-house to Mr. Bernard Kennedy, the superior of their community, the lease three young lives and thirty-one years, Lord Russboro' and the two youngest sons of Sir C. H. Coote, my neighbour and friend at Ballyfin-house.

Trusting that this regulation will satisfy the Board, and that they will allow the arrears due to the present teacher, S. Delany of the National school.

I remain, gentlemen,

Your very obliged and humble servant,

P. FITZPATRICK, P.P.

October 29.—Letter from Rev. James Dunn, c.c., Mountrath.

Gentlemen,—Some misunderstanding seems to exist between the National Board and the manager of Coote-street male National school.

The salary of this school has been withheld for some time. The precise cause of this measure is not known here.

I am aware that as I am not patron or manager, that I have not a right to ask the Commissioners for an explanation. However, as I feel an interest in the school, and have taken considerable pains to maintain its efficiency, and have the rules of the National Board exactly observed, I hope that my request to know the cause of withholding the salary will not be refused.

Very truly, your obedient servant,

James Dunn, c.c.

1856, February 1, Board's Order on the foregoing correspondence :—

Inform manager that it is against the rule of the Board to sanction the appointment of an individual member of a religious community as master of a school which had previously been in charge of a lay teacher. The Commissioners cannot depart from that rule in the present case, but under the peculiar circumstances they will pay Mr. Delany's salary from the 30th September, 1854, to 1st February, 1856, and no further. If the manager desires to have a teacher paid by the Board, such teacher must not be a monk, for, as already explained to him, a lay teacher only can be recognised in this school.

June 2.—Letter from Rev. P. Fitzpatrick, p.p., Manager, Mountrath.

Gentlemen,—In reference to the Coote-street male National school (the queries for which I return), I have to state for the information of the Commissioners of National Education, that the school is the property of and is conducted by a religious body. I cannot, therefore, deprive this body of their property—nor can with justice to them or the children exclude them from the school to substitute a lay teacher, as the Commissioners seem to desire.

Neither can I, nor will I consent that the school be deprived of the salary it has long possessed and deserved.

If this school—901—wants any of the conditions constituting it a convent school according to the rules of the National Board, I am ready and willing to have them supplied.

I have the honour to be, &c., &c.,

P. Fitzpatrick, p.p.

June 4.—Letter from Rev. P. Fitzpatrick, p.p., Manager.

The Coote-street male National school was in constant operation during the quarter ended 31st March, 1856, and the master was in constant attendance, I therefore return the enclosed receipt unsigned, because it supposes salary for only one month.

I beg further to refer you to a communication from me under date of 2nd inst.

June 16, on foregoing :—

Manager informed that the Board's order of 1st February, 1856, cannot be altered or rescinded, and if its terms be not complied with school must be struck off, receipt returned for signature.

October 24, Board's Order on Inspector's report, 25th September, 1856, giving S. J. Delany as teacher :—

Strike off roll No. 901, and cancel grants from 1st July, 1856, school being still retained in charge of Mr. Stephen J. Delany a monk.

November 19.—Letter from Rev. P. Fitzpatrick, p.p., Mountrath.

Gentlemen,—I have to request that the Commissioners of Education will take into connexion with the National Board a school in Coote-street, Mountrath. The school is intended for the education of male children—has been in operation for very many years, and has at present an average attendance of nearly one hundred. The school-house and grounds are the property of a community of monks, who are and will be the teachers. I wish, therefore, that it be taken into connexion as a convent school. It is the wish of the monks, who are the proprietors of the school, and teachers, that I should be manager and correspondent with the National Board.

I remain, gentlemen, your obedient servant,

P. Fitzpatrick.

December 12, Board's Order on above :—

Ordered, that the consideration of this application be deferred to next special Board.

1857, January 9—Board's Order on foregoing letter :—

Ordered, that the Commissioners cannot make a grant to this school, it being contrary to their revised rules to do so. Direct writer's attention to Part I., sect. vii., par. 11, and state that by convent schools the Commissioners understand female schools conducted by nuns.

6,838.—Loughcooter Female—County Galway.

1855, June 26—Inspector reports :—This school has not been in operation since the summer of 1854, when the house in which the school had been held was sold to Lord Gough. It is not likely that there will ever be a school in the same place again.

James Wilson, District Inspector.

August 24, Board's Order on above :—

Strike off school roll No. 6,838, and cancel grants from time up to which last payment was made, school having ceased. (30, 6, '54).

6,413.—Albano Female—County Galway.

1857, June 2, Inspector reports :—School closed, as the nuns have left the place and set it on lease to another party. School has not been in operation since December in 1856. At my previous inspection of this school I waited on manager in reference to re-opening it, but he curtly said he would give me no information, but would give his reply to the Secretaries directly. In consequence of this I did not think it necessary to repeat my visit to him. There is no probability of the school being re-opened, as the nuns have withdrawn from the place, and I see no reason for keeping it longer on the roll of National schools.

D. Wilson, District Inspector.

November 23, Board's Order on above :—

Strike off roll No. 6,413, and cancel grants from 30th June, 1856, school having ceased operation.

5,279.—Taylorshill—County Galway.

1859, June 30, Manager states on quarterly return, for quarter ended 30th June, 1859, school closed from 31st March to 30th June. No longer in connexion with the Board.

July 13, Inspector reports :—This school has been permanently closed since 31st March without any intention of re-opening it, and should therefore be struck off.

This school I found closed and sought an interview with the prioress, who informed me that the manager had intimated to the Secretaries the determination of withdrawing from connexion with the Board from 31st March last, but of this I knew nothing until I visited it. I believe this step was for some time in contemplation, as all the accommodation was required for other purposes. It is not intended to connect the school again with the Board, and it should therefore be struck off.

September 2, Board's Order on above :—

Strike off roll No. 5,279, and cancel all grants thereto from 31st March, 1859 ; school having ceased to be in operation.

1,187.—Mountbellew Male—County Galway.

1839, May 28, Superintendent reports :—Inscription "National School" has been taken down by the directions of Dr. MacHale. I understand school is no longer considered as National by the correspondent. It was, however, in operation. The teacher informed me that the free stock of books was locked up and should be taken care of.

I have considered it prudent to defer an examination of them until further orders.

Finding that the inscription was not on the school-house, and upon inquiry of the teacher was informed that it was removed about ten days or a fortnight by orders of Archbishop MacHale and all connexion with the Board dissolved : I called on Sir Michael Bellew. He told me that he had directed that the orders of Dr. MacHale were to be obeyed, as it was useless to oppose them. I am led to understand that the mandate of the Archbishop has extended to all the National schools in his diocese.

James Mahon.

School struck off the roll of National schools.

1,017.—Tuam, Male—County Galway.

1838, July 25, Superintendent reports :—I was not allowed to inspect this school. The opposition was conducted by the head master. He, on learning of what religion I was, ordered his scholars out of the school. This violent proceeding I checked by withdrawing myself, thereby leaving him no excuse for such a line of conduct as he attempted to pursue.

George Ness.

August 4, On above—Superintendent, requested to state all the circumstances under which he was prevented from inspecting school.

August 11.—Letter from Superintendent Mr. Ness, Castlereagh.

Sir,—With regard to the Tuam School, I was guarded in my conduct. Anxious, so far as I was personally concerned, to avoid acting in any way that by possibility might furnish an additional argument to the enemies of the National system—finding that the establishment was conducted by members of a religious order in their own house, and wishing to show all possible respect to the patrons and conductors, and, in this particular case, to the visitors also, I even went so far as to break through my established rule of visiting without previous notice. I accordingly left my card at the school on the evening prior to my intended inspection.

On the next day, 25th July, I entered the school-room and presented my certificate of appointment to the head master. He read it and then bluntly put the question—"Are you, sir, a Roman Catholic or a Protestant?" I informed him that I was a Protestant. "Then," said he, in a loud voice, turning to the children, "you may go home."

I instantly begged of him to suspend this order for a few minutes, and requested a short conversation with him in the garden. I there demanded of him whether the regulation that no Protestant Superintendent should inspect the school were positive. He answered in the affirmative. I inquired from whom the regulation emanated. He declared that to be "a matter of no importance."

Finding that without proceeding to actual violence I could not make even an attempt at inspection, and perceiving that a collision was expected, I mildly informed the teacher that I would withdraw, being very unwilling to create anything like disturbance or interruption in his school, and that nothing would give me greater pain than to be the cause of depriving such a number of children, as I observed in attendance, of the means of education even for a single day.

His manner, which at first had been haughty, now became quite the reverse. I had entered the school by the side gate along with the children, but he insisted on accompanying me to the front gate, which he unlocked, and in so doing took occasion to make some complimentary observations on my conduct.

I could not see Rev. Mr. M'Caffrey, the correspondent, but learning that a gentleman of the name of Brown was a manager, I called on him. He informed me that he was engaged, and referred me to the former gentleman.

To Thomas F. Kelly, esq.,
Secretary.

Education Office, Dublin,
September 3, 1838.

Sir,—The Superintendent has reported to the Commissioners of Education that, having, upon the 20th day of July, repaired to the Tuam National School for the purpose of inspecting it, and having, upon his entrance into the school-room, presented to the head master the certificate of his appointment as Superintendent, in order that there might be no doubt as to the nature of his office and visit, he was prevented by this person from proceeding to the performance of his duty, and, notwithstanding that he used every proper expostulation with him upon the effects of this prevention, was finally obliged to depart without being permitted to examine the school.

The Commissioners, therefore, direct me to inquire if the facts as stated be admitted by this teacher, and in case they be admitted, I am further to say that the Commissioners, considering such conduct to be a very gross violation of their rules, direct that he be forthwith removed, and that the payment of salary to this school be suspended until another and competent teacher be appointed to succeed him. May I hope for your reply at your earliest convenience ?

I am, sir, your obedient servant,
Thomas F. Kelly, Secretary.

Rev. Thomas M'Caffrey, Tuam.

Education Office, Dublin,
16th October, 1838.

Sir,—The Commissioners of Education being certified that you have not replied to their several communications concerning the Tuam National school, addressed to you upon the 3rd September and 2nd of this month, direct me now to say that, except you favour them with your answer on or before 31st instant, they will remove this school off the National roll.

I am, sir, your obedient servant,

Rev. Mr. M'Caffrey, Tuam.

Education Office, Dublin,
October 16th, 1838.

Sir,—I beg leave under this cover to forward to you copies of letters addressed to the Rev. Mr. M'Caffrey of the 3rd day of September and of the 2nd instant, and also a letter intended for him of this date.

These letters will best explain themselves, they had been addressed to the Rev. Mr. M'Caffrey, owing to the Superintendent having reported him as the manager of the Tuam National school at the time of his visit there, and when he made the report which has given rise to this correspondence. No reply having been received from Mr. M'Caffrey, I am to beg that you, who have been the manager of the school, will have the goodness now to take up this matter, and making inquiry into it, reply to the matter contained in my letter of the 3rd of September accordingly.

I am, sir, your obedient servant,
THOMAS F. KELLY, Secretary.

Thomas Browne, esq., Tuam.

1838, October 24.—Mr. Browne replies that he understood the master to act under the direction of the patron, Most Rev. Dr. MacHale.

(Above letter missing).

Education Office, Dublin,
26th October, 1838.

SIR,—I have submitted your letter of the 24th instant to the consideration of the Commissioners.

They direct me in reply to refer you to that rule in which they require, by themselves or their Inspectors, to be allowed to visit and examine the National schools whenever they see fit, and to state that they do not continue their grants to schools where this or any other of their rules is not submitted to.

I am therefore to acquaint you that they have ordered the Tuam National school to be removed off the roll of National schools from and after the 31st instant.

I am, sir, your obedient servant,
THOMAS F. KELLY, Secretary.

Thomas Browne, esq., Tuam.

Monastery, Roundstone,
December 8, 1858.

MY LORDS AND GENTLEMEN,—I beg most respectfully to inform you that I am willing to deliver up to you the suspended National school at Roundstone. It has been a male school for many years, and from the great necessity of a female school in Roundstone, I now give it up to you to be a female National school. Mr. Wilson the Inspector has advised me to do so, and to inform you of it. If you will be pleased to accept it for a female school, I request you will allow me to be the patron or manager thereof. Requesting an answer—

I have the honour to remain,
My lords and gentlemen,
Your humble and obedient servant,
AMBROSE KEARNS, O.S.F.

To the Commissioners of National Education, Ireland.

1858, December 24, Board's Order on foregoing :—

Ordered, that Mr. Kearns be informed that if he obtains the consent of trustees the Commissioners will recognise him as manager of the school. Remind him that, if this be done, it will devolve on him to put school into proper repair and to appoint a competent teacher. Advised 4, 1, '59.

Monastery, Roundstone,
January 11, 1859.

MY LORDS AND GENTLEMEN,—Circumstances have prevented me from replying before this to your official letter of the 4th instant.

The trustees mentioned therein are now dead. The Rev. P. Sheridan, who is the administrator of the parish, directed me to apply to you for the female school. Should you recognise me as manager, I shall put school in good repair and shall provide a competent teacher. Waiting an answer—

I have the honour to remain,
My lords and gentlemen,
Your humble and obedient servant,
AMBROSE KEARNS.

Monastery, Roundstone,
January 24, 1859.

MY LORDS AND GENTLEMEN,—Having received no answer to my letter of the 11th instant, I now take the liberty of writing to you again, stating that the trustees are dead. The Rev. P. Sheridan, who is the administrator of this parish, directed me to apply to you for the female school.

He and the parishioners wish I should have the management of the school. Should you recognise me as manager, I shall put the house in good repair, and shall provide a competent teacher. Requesting an answer with instructions how to act—

I have the honour to remain,
My lords and gentlemen,
Your humble and obedient servant,
AMBROSE KEARNS.

February 11, Board's Order on above :—

Ordered, that as it appears the trustees are dead the Commissioners will not object to writer becoming manager of the school on the conditions specified in this letter. Advised 17, 2, '59.

Monastery, Roundstone,
February 17, 1859.

MY LORDS AND GENTLEMEN,—I take the liberty of informing you that I have appointed a competent teacher for the female school, and that it is now in operation. She is a trained teacher and belongs to the second division of the second class. I hope there will be no disappointment with regard to her salary, and that a free stock of books will be sent. I wrote a letter some weeks since, but received no answer. I received a circular A, No. 62,259, acknowledging the receipt of it. Requesting an answer—

I have the honour to remain,
My lords and gentlemen,
Your humble and obedient servant,
AMBROSE KEARNS.

Commissioners of National Education, Ireland.

February 19, Inspector advised of Board's Order, 11th February, 1859, directed to report :—

If school-house and furniture are now in satisfactory repair, or about to be put in proper condition.

Is female teacher competent, her name, date of appointment, when she opened school, what National school she formerly taught, and when?

March 30, Inspector reports :—This school was vested in trustees who are now dead. It was for a long time in possession of the monks, who held a boys' school in it, and is still on the suspended list. In February the monks vacated it and appointed a female teacher, desiring to have it in connexion with the National Board. One of their number, Mr. A. Kearns, made an application, and, as instructed, I now make this report.

I beg to recommend the application to favourable consideration, and to urge the importance of an immediate grant of free stock as the school is without books or maps. I had an interview with the correspondent, who is anxious for its establishment, and evinces every desire to conduct it in conformity with the Board's rules.

DANIEL WILSON, District Inspector.

The members of the community may themselves discharge the office of teachers, with or without the aid of such other persons as they may see fit to employ; the salaries of the assistants to be defrayed by the community.

The amount of salary awarded to Convent schools is regulated by the average number of children in daily attendance, according to a scale laid down by the Commissioners.

* The estimated population of Ireland for 1866 is taken from Tables given at page 791 of Thom's Almanac and Official Directory for 1869.

‡ No returns of the number of Schools in operation or number of pupils on rolls were published in the Commissioners' Annual Reports until the year 1834.

§ The number of pupils on rolls as here given for 1841 and 1851 is for the half-year ended the 30th of September in these years respectively.

* The population of Ireland in 1861 is exclusive of 403 seamen and others enumerated on English Census forms not included in any particular locality in Ireland on the night of the 7th of April, 1861.

¶ The numbers here given vary slightly from those in the Census returns, but are the correct per-centages in whole numbers.

† These per-centages of the population refer to persons of 5 years old and upwards as given in the Census returns.

PARAGRAPH 4.—TABLE showing the Decrease (in per-centages) in Population in 1851 as compared with 1841; the Decrease (in per-centages) in Illiteracy in 1851 as compared with 1841; similar returns of the Decrease in Population and in Illiteracy in 1861 as compared with 1851; similar returns of the aggregate Decrease (in per-centages) in Population and Illiteracy in 1861 as compared with 1841.

	1851 compared with 1841.	1861 compared with 1851.	1861 compared with 1841.
Decrease per cent. in Population,	19·8	11·5	29·1
Decrease per cent. in Illiteracy,	6·	8·	14·

NOTE.—The return of Illiteracy refers to all persons of 5 years old and upwards.

PARAGRAPH 5.—RETURN of the total Population, and also of Children aged 5 to 15 years, by Religious Denomination, for each of the four Provinces in 1861, with the number of Pupils, according to the Report of the National Board, of each Creed in each Province on the Rolls of the National Schools that year, and the ratio, in per-centage, which the Pupils of each Creed on the Rolls bear to the whole of the Children, between the ages of 5 to 15 years, of that Creed. And assuming that the relative proportion of Children of from 5 to 15 years of age to the whole population have not materially altered since 1861—an assumption quite admissible—compute and tabulate the number of Children of each Creed, aged 5 to 15 years, in every county, in the estimated population of 1866, and place beside it the number of Children of that Creed on the Rolls of the National Schools for that year, giving the per-centage which the latter is of the former.

* The per-centages in columns 4 and 7 have been calculated upon an assumption laid down by the Royal Commissioners, and give sometimes a result that is practically unattainable. For instance, the number of Presbyterian children of from 5 to 15 years of age, according to the Census of 1861, in the County Roscommon, was 47. During the last quarter of that year there were 43 Presbyterian Pupils at National Schools in that county. The calculations required to be made under the conditions of the heading of this Return would give a per-centage for the whole year of 127·6 or a number greater than is possible. The results in this and in similar cases are not inserted.

SECTION XVII.

Model Schools—Agricultural Department.

PARAGRAPH 1.—DATE of INTRODUCTION of AGRICULTURAL INSTRUCTION as a SPECIAL FEATURE in the NATIONAL SYSTEM. BRIEF ACCOUNT of the different kinds and classes of Schools through which, from time to time, this INSTRUCTION was conveyed. NUMBER of SCHOOLS of each class for each year since the introduction of AGRICULTURAL SCHOOLS.

Agricultural instruction was first introduced as a special feature in the National system in the year 1837. In that year the Board granted aid towards the establishment of two agricultural schools, one in the county Donegal, and the other in the county Tyrone, both of which were under local management.

In the following year (1838) the Glasnevin* Model Farm and Garden, under the exclusive control of the Commissioners, was opened for the purpose of instructing the teachers in training in Dublin, in the principles and practice of improved agriculture; to afford literary and agricultural instruction to the pupils admitted to the institution, and to qualify them for the duties of agricultural teachers, land stewards, farmers, gardeners, &c.

On the first opening of the institution the Commissioners managed the farm on their own account, but in the year 1839 it was let to the agriculturist, which arrangement continued until the year 1847 when he resigned. On the appointment of his successor, the Board reverted to the former arrangement, and managed the farm themselves.

In the year 1848 the Commissioners appointed an Agricultural Inspector, who, in addition to inspecting the agricultural schools throughout the country, presided over the Glasnevin Institution, and superintended the management of the farm through the agriculturist, which arrangement has existed up to the present.

Originally the pupils were required to pay a fee of £10 per annum; but in the year 1844 the Commissioners decided that they should be admitted free, and that the places should be given to the most deserving boys in the agricultural schools in connexion with the Board, and enjoyed for two years. This practice continued until the year 1860, when, on the suggestion of the Right Honorable E. Cardwell, then Chief Secretary for Ireland, the Commissioners decided that admission to the Institution should, in future, be obtained by competitive examination, and that all well-conducted young men of the humbler ranks of life, whether educated at National schools or not, should be allowed to compete, due weight being attached to the physical capacity of the candidates for farm labour.

Another class of pupils also receive instruction at the farm, and compose what is called the "extern" class. These pupils board and lodge at their own expense, outside of the institution, and are required to take part in the business of the farm and attend punctually the lectures delivered to the intern pupils. Formerly, extern pupils paid a fee of only two guineas for their course of training; but it has recently been decided that they shall in future pay £2 per quarter.

Considerable changes have been made from time to time in the course of training at the institution, with the view to affording more time to the agricultural instruction of the pupils, and of exemplifying the different systems of cropping suitable for farms varying in extent.

In the year 1861 the Commissioners directed that five acres of the farm should be tilled so as to present an example of correct cultivation, and systematic cropping, suitable for small farms, and worked, as far as practicable, by manual labour.

In the year 1865 an intermediate farm of twenty-five acres was established in order to exemplify the best system of cropping for a farm of that extent. Recently a portion of ground has been set apart to be worked as a "market" garden. The farm and gardens at present comprise an area of 178 acres 3 roods and 24 perches (statute).

The number of agricultural schools throughout the country gradually increased each year. In the year 1844 there were five model and six ordinary agricultural schools in operation, under local management, in which literary and agricultural instruction were afforded to the pupils, together with practical instruction in farming on the land attached to the school. There were also several agricultural schools in progress of erection during that year, towards which the Commissioners had made building grants.

In the year 1846 the Commissioners established a school at Glasnevin, with a garden attached, to be cultivated by the advanced boys of the school, under the direction of the teacher, in order to illustrate to the teachers in training how a school ought to be conducted in a country district so as to combine both literary and agricultural instruction. A portion of the "garden" was divided into six allotments in the year 1850, to be cultivated by six of the advanced boys, under the teacher's superintendence, each being allowed to receive a portion of the profits. This experiment proved successful in affording a healthy stimulus to the exertion of the pupils, and the practice is continued up to the present.

In the year 1849, agricultural instruction was given in three classes of schools, exclusive of the Glasnevin Model Farm and the Glasnevin School Garden, viz.:—

Model Agricultural Schools,	.	Under the exclusive management of the Commissioners.
Ditto ditto	.	Under local management.
Ordinary ditto	.	Ditto.

The model agricultural schools under the exclusive management of the Commissioners, are built and furnished with the necessary stock, implements, &c., at the public expense. A considerable extent of land is attached to each school, and the salary paid to the agriculturist varies according to the circumstances of each case.

In model agricultural schools under local management, the Commissioners, in some cases, contribute a portion of the expense of erecting the buildings, but do not contribute towards the purchase of implements or stock, &c. The teacher rents the land, which varies from four to eighty acres, and a salary of £10 per annum is paid to him, in addition to his salary for conducting the literary department. An exception to this rule is made in the case of one of these schools—Loughashe—the teacher being paid a special salary for conducting the literary and agricultural departments.

* The name was changed to the "Albert" Model Farm in the year 1853 with the consent of His Royal Highness the late Prince Consort, who manifested the greatest interest in the welfare of the Institution.

In ordinary agricultural schools, the local parties undertake all the expense of erecting the farm offices, &c., the Board merely supplementing the teacher's salary by £5 per annum for instructing the pupils in agriculture.

Accommodation for agricultural boarders was supplied from time to time in both classes of model agricultural schools, and a certain number of paying and free pupils admitted. In the farms under the Board's management the free places are thrown open to competition, as at the Glasnevin farm. Paying pupils are admitted on a qualifying examination, and are allowed to remain at the farm for two years' training. Free pupils are allowed only one year's training.

By a recent order of the Commissioners extern pupils are now admitted to the Board's model farms on payment of £1 10*s.* per quarter in the larger farms, and £1 per quarter in the smaller farms. The extern pupils board and lodge at their own expense, outside of the farm.

Industrial classes have been also formed, from time to time, in the model and ordinary agricultural schools, and a limited number of the most deserving boys who work on the farm receive an allowance of 6*d.* per week from the Commissioners, where the local patrons or managers are willing to contribute the same amount weekly to an equal number of boys.

In the year 1850, the Commissioners, with a view to disseminating agricultural instruction amongst the pauper children in workhouse schools, where there was a sufficient portion of land available for cultivation, decided upon granting gratuities to such of the teachers of these schools as should distinguish themselves by their zeal and skill in the management of the land attached—the gratuities to be awarded on the recommendation of the Agricultural Inspector, and in no case to exceed £15 per annum to each teacher. The number of workhouse agricultural schools increased considerably; but the Commissioners were obliged to withdraw their aid from this class of schools in the year 1863, having been called upon by the Government to reduce the expenses of the agricultural department.

The number of school gardens increased to some extent, and the allotment principle, as carried out at the Glasnevin school garden, was introduced very successfully into other school farms connected with the Board.

The other classes of agricultural schools continued to increase; but in the year 1860 the Commissioners decided upon not adding to the number of model farms under their exclusive control, an unwillingness having been expressed by the Government towards any further extension of the agricultural department.

In the same year the Commissioners, with a view to reducing the expenses of the agricultural department, decided upon letting some of the farms under their exclusive control to the agriculturists in charge, and paying a certain sum to the agriculturist for the instruction of the boarders and agricultural pupils. There are at present five farms conducted on this principle.

The following table shows the number of schools of each class for each year since the introduction of agricultural instruction into National schools.
